

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM TO
THE TRADE ETC. IN DUAL-USE ITEMS AND FIREARMS ETC. (AMENDMENT)
(EU EXIT) REGULATIONS 2019

2019 No. 771

1. Introduction

1.1 This explanatory memorandum has been prepared by the Department for International Trade and is laid before Parliament by Act.

2. Purpose of the instrument

2.1 These Regulations are made to address inoperabilities and deficiencies of retained EU law arising from the withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the EU and to ensure EU-derived domestic export control legislation operates effectively post-exit.

Explanations

What did any relevant EU law do before exit day?

2.2 The Regulations amend provisions in the following domestic legislation:

2.3 The Export Control Act 2002 is primary legislation central to promoting global security through strategic export controls and facilitating responsible exporting. It provides the Secretary of State with powers to impose: export controls on goods, transfer controls in relation to technology, controls on technical assistance and trade controls on goods of any description.

2.4 The Regulations amend provisions in the following retained EU legislation:

2.5 Council Regulation (EC) No 428/2009 of 5 May 2009, (the Dual-Use Regulation) set up a Community regime for the control of exports, transfer, brokering and transfer, brokering and transit of dual-use items. Dual-use items are goods, software, technology, documents and diagrams which can be used for both civil and military applications. They can range from raw materials to components and complete systems, such as aluminium alloys, bearings, or lasers. They could also be items used in the production or development of military goods, such as machine tools, chemical manufacturing equipment and computers. The regulation requires export authorisations to export a dual-use item from the EU to a non-EU country.

2.6 Regulation (EU) No 258/2012 of the European Parliament and of the Council (the Firearms Regulation) lays down rules on exporting, importing and transporting firearms, their parts and components, and ammunition and therefore implements Article 10 of the United Nations Protocol against the illicit manufacturing of and trafficking in firearms, their parts and components and ammunition. The Regulation sets out a list of firearms, their parts and components, and the ammunition that require export authorisation. When exporting firearms, their parts and ammunition outside the EU, an exporter must provide the relevant authority in its own EU country with authorisation from the non-EU country receiving the shipment, and from any non-EU countries through which the shipment will pass.

Why is it being changed?

- 2.7 EU law retained on exit day will contain deficiencies arising out of the UK's exit from the EU which need to be corrected for the law to continue to function effectively. The changes are being made because the provisions either relate to reciprocal arrangements or are otherwise redundant upon exit from the EU. There are also amendments to references to EU instruments which are no longer appropriate.

What will it now do?

- 2.8 After EU exit the legislation will enable the Secretary of State to control the export from the UK of strategic items, control the brokering of strategic items, and to control the provision of technical assistance related to the goods and technology.
- 2.9 As far as possible the legislation will operate as it does now, but controls on the following items will apply when they are exported from the UK, rather than from the EU:
- goods, software, technology, documents and diagrams which can be used for both civil and military applications: and
 - firearms, their parts and components, and ammunition.
- 2.10 This instrument is dependent on the making of the Customs Tariff (Establishment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019.

- 5.1 The Minister for Investment, Graham Stuart has made the following statement regarding Human Rights:

“In my view the provisions of the Trade etc. in Dual-Use Items and Firearms etc. (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 are compatible with the Convention rights.”

6. Legislative Context

- 6.1 These regulations are made to address inoperabilities and deficiencies of retained EU and domestic law arising from the withdrawal on the United Kingdom from the EU.
- 6.2 The export control regime is made up of six pieces of legislation. Three are domestic (the Export Control Act 2002, the Export Control Order 2008 and Radioactive Sources (Control) Order 2006) and three are EU Regulations (Regulation (EU) 2019/125 concerning trade in goods which could be used for capital punishment, torture or other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment, the Dual-Use Regulation and the Firearms Regulation). All require amendment if they are to function after EU exit.

- 6.3 The Export Control Act 2002 and the Dual-Use and Firearms regulations are amended by this affirmative procedure instrument. The Export Control Order 2008 and the Radioactive Sources (Control) Order 2006 are amended by the Export Control (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019, which is a negative procedure instrument.

7. Policy background

What is being done and why?

- 7.1 It is necessary to amend domestic and directly applicable EU legislation for it to continue to function after EU exit. This instrument amends primary domestic legislation and two retained EU Regulations to prevent, remedy or mitigate deficiencies arising from withdrawal.
- 7.2 Regulation 2 omits provisions of the Export Control Act 2002 which will have no practical application once the United Kingdom has withdrawn from the EU.
- 7.3 Regulation 3 makes amendments to the retained EU Regulation governing exports, transfer, brokering and transit of “dual-use” items. Dual-use items can be used for both civil and military purposes.
- 7.4 Regulation 4 makes amendments to the retained EU regulation governing the export, import and transport of firearms, their parts and components, and ammunition.
- 7.5 The changes are made to ensure that these rules operate as UK rules after withdrawal, e.g. references to the supply of such goods and associated services to non-EU countries become references to the supply of such goods and associated services to all other countries; types of EU proforma licences are adjusted to become types of UK licence; powers on the part of the European Commission, to make EU legislation to amend relevant annexes to bring goods within scope of the Regulation, become powers for the Secretary of State to amend these annexes by domestic secondary legislation; and Member State notification requirements are omitted.
- 7.6 Regulations 5 and 6 make transitional provision in relation to Council Regulation (EC) No 428/2009 of 5 May 2009 and Regulation (EU) No 258/2012. These provisions ensure that export authorisation granted by the Secretary of State before exit day and which are in effect immediately before exit day continue to have effect after exit day. The transitional provisions also ensure that undetermined applications for export authorisations are treated as applications for the equivalent post-exit export authorisations and that an export authorisation in relation to which an appeal made before exit day is successful after exit day has effect as if it is the equivalent post-exit authorisation.

8. European Union (Withdrawal) Act/Withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union

This instrument is being made using the power in section 8 of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 in order to address failures of retained EU law to operate effectively or other deficiencies arising from the withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union. In accordance with the requirements of that Act the Minister has made the relevant statements as detailed in Part 2 of the Annex to this Explanatory Memorandum.

9. Consolidation

9.1 There are currently no plans to consolidate the legislation being amended by this statutory instrument.

10. Consultation outcome

10.1 This instrument provides for the technical amendment of deficiencies arising from withdrawal from the EU and the continued operation of the legislation being amended after the UK exits the EU. No consultation was necessary.

11. Guidance

11.1 The Government has published a technical notice to inform stakeholders how export controls would be affected if the UK leaves the EU with no deal. Further guidance will be published ahead of this legislation coming into force if the UK leaves the EU with no deal.

12. Impact

12.1 The impact on business, charities or voluntary bodies is a new requirement for dual-use export licences to the EU which will be mitigated for many exporters by an easily obtainable open general export licence, available for immediate use following registration.

12.2 There is no, or no significant, impact on the public sector.

12.3 An Impact Assessment has not been prepared for this instrument because it has no significant impact on the private or voluntary sector.

13. Regulating small business

13.1 The legislation applies to activities that are undertaken by small businesses.

13.2 To minimise the impact of the requirements on small businesses (employing up to 50 people), the approach taken is only to make changes required to prevent, remedy or mitigate deficiencies arising from the withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the EU.

14. Monitoring & review

14.1 The approach to monitoring of this legislation is to closely monitor any representations that are received. Any issues that are raised will be fully investigated with a view to finding an acceptable solution.

14.2 As this instrument is made under the EU Withdrawal Act 2018, no review clause is required in relation to the provisions made under the EU (Withdrawal) Act 2018.

15.1 Peter Monday at the Department for International Trade (Telephone: 0207 215 8810 or email: peter.monday@trade.gov.uk) can be contacted with any queries regarding the instrument.
