

SCHEDULES

FIRST SCHEDULE

PART III

FIRE-RESISTING STORE-ROOMS

- 10 Not more than one ton of celluloid and not more than five hundred and sixty reels or one ton of cinematograph film shall be kept in one store-room:

Provided that, where a store-room is divided into separate compartments by separate fire-resisting partitions without any openings therein, each such compartment may, for the purposes of this provision, be regarded as a separate store-room.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Uniformity of Laws Act (Northern Ireland) 1922, Paragraph 10.