

Equal Pay Act (Northern Ireland) 1970

1970 CHAPTER 32

<sup>F1</sup>6AB “Arrears date” in proceedings under section 6A(9) <sub>F2</sub>

(1) This section applies for the purpose of determining the arrears date, in relation to an award of any payment by way of arrears of pay or damages in proceedings on a complaint in respect of a woman's service in any of the armed forces, for the purposes of section 6A(9).

(2) In this section—

“concealment case” means a case where—

- (a) the employer deliberately concealed from the woman any fact—
  - (i) which is relevant to the contravention to which the proceedings relate, and
  - (ii) without knowledge of which the woman could not reasonably have been expected to institute the proceedings, and
- (b) the woman made a [<sup>F3</sup>service complaint] within six years of the day on which she discovered the fact (or could with reasonable diligence have discovered it);

“disability case” means a case where—

- (a) the woman was under a disability at the time of the contravention to which the proceedings relate, and
- (b) the woman made a [<sup>F4</sup>service complaint] within six years of the day on which she ceased to be under a disability;

“standard case” means a case which is not—

- (a) a concealment case,
- (b) a disability case, or
- (c) both.

(3) In a standard case, the arrears date is the date falling six years before the day on which the [<sup>F5</sup>service complaint] was made.

(4) In a case which is a concealment or a disability case or both, the arrears date is the date of the contravention.
