“210AA Extended sentences for certain other offenders

Where a person is convicted on indictment of abduction but the offence is other than is mentioned in paragraph (iii) of the definition of “sexual offence” in subsection (10) of section 210A of this Act, that section shall apply in relation to the person as it applies in relation to a person so convicted of a violent offence.”.

VALID FROM 03/11/2003

21 Sexual and certain other offences: reports

- (1) This section applies to any case where a person is convicted of—
 - (a) a sexual offence (as defined in section 210A(10) of the 1995 Act); or
 - (b) an offence the nature and circumstances of which disclose, in the opinion of the court, that there was a significant sexual aspect to the person’s behaviour in committing it.
- (2) In a case to which this section applies, the court must, before passing sentence—
 - (a) obtain from a relevant officer a report concerning the person’s circumstances and character; and
 - (b) if the conviction is on indictment, obtain from a chartered clinical psychologist or chartered forensic psychologist (that is to say from a person for the time being so described in the British Psychological Society’s Register of Chartered Psychologists) a psychological assessment of the person, and it must also take into account any information before it concerning the person’s physical and mental condition.

- (3) The Scottish Ministers may by order amend paragraph (b) of subsection (2) by adding, to the persons for the time being specified there as persons from one of whom a psychological assessment is to be obtained, such description of psychologist as they think fit.
- (4) Where in a case to which this section applies the person is tried, the presiding judge is, as soon as is reasonably practicable, to prepare a report in writing, in such form as may be prescribed by Act of Adjourn—
 - (a) as to the facts established by the evidence; and
 - (b) containing such other information as the judge considers appropriate.
