About this form

To vote in the referendum on Scottish independence, each person needs to be registered. People who are already 16 or older should be registered using the annual canvass form (which also registers them to vote in other elections once they turn 18). This form collects the information we need to register young people who are 15 at the moment, but will be 16 by the referendum on 18 September 2014. If you do not respond to this form, they may not be able to vote in the referendum.

This form will only register these young people to vote in the independence referendum: it will not register them to vote in any other election or referendum. To vote in most elections and referendums voters need to be 18.

Who can register to vote in the referendum?

Age: To vote in the referendum, voters must be 16 or older on 18 September 2014. This means that a person will be able to vote if their date of birth is 18 September 1998 or earlier.

Residence: People normally register at the address where they reside. You should include people who are temporarily away (for example, on holiday, at boarding school or in hospital). If in doubt, please get in touch with your Electoral Registration Officer using the contact details below.

Nationality: People are entitled to register to vote in the referendum if they are:

- A British citizen
- A citizen of another EU country
- A qualifying Commonwealth citizen. This means a Commonwealth citizen who has leave to enter or remain in the UK, or who does not require such leave.

Details of people at this address

For each 15 year old being registered, you need to include:

- Their surname, first name and any middle initials.
- Their nationality. This will usually be shown on the person's passport.

Status: Point in time view as at 08/08/2013.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Scottish Independence Referendum (Franchise) Act 2013 (repealed). (See end of Document for details)

- Their date of birth, in the format DD/MM/YY, so that we can confirm they will be 16 by the referendum. For example, 5 December 1997 should be entered as 05/12/97.
- Whether the person wants a postal vote application form.

What happens to the information I provide on this form?

The details of the people registered on this form will be placed on a “Register of Young Voters”, which will be used only for the referendum. Electoral Registration Officers and their staff will be the only people who are legally entitled to see the Register of Young Voters.

Some organisations will need the names and addresses of everyone who is registered to vote in the referendum, including those who are on the Register of Young Voters. These include people who administer the referendum (such as the staff at polling stations) and the official campaign groups, who may send information to everyone registered to vote. These organisations will be given a list of the names and addresses (but not the dates of birth) of everyone registered to vote in the referendum. They will not be told how old anyone on the list is, and it will be against the law for them to share or publish the list.

If there are any concerns that inclusion in the Register of Young Voters may affect the personal safety of the young voter, or they do not wish to register using their current address, other registration options may be available. They may be able to use a previous address or to register anonymously. Please contact us to discuss.
