57 Outcome of a review

- (1) On a review, the review panel appointed under section 55 to conduct it must consider—
 - (a) whether the panel appointed under section 35 to determine the application in question ought to have reached a different determination, and
 - (b) in a case where additional evidence is provided to or obtained by the review panel, whether the application ought to be determined differently as a result.
- (2) The review panel may not—
 - (a) reverse or vary a determination under section 36 that an applicant is eligible for a redress payment,
 - (b) determine that an applicant is to be offered a lower amount by way of an individually assessed payment than the applicant was offered under section 36, or
 - (c) determine that more is to be deducted in accordance with section 42 from the redress payment offered to the applicant than was determined under section 36.
- (3) But the review panel may otherwise uphold, reverse or vary any part of the determination (whether the request for a review relates to that part of it or not).
- (4) Subsections (4) and (7) of section 36 apply to a determination as upheld, reversed or varied as they apply to a determination made under section 36, subject to the modification that references to the panel appointed under section 35 to determine the application are to be read as references to the review panel appointed under section 55 to conduct the review.
- (5) Once the review panel has conducted the review, Redress Scotland must inform the Scottish Ministers who must, as soon as reasonably practicable—
 - (a) notify the applicant of the review panel's determination, and
 - (b) provide the applicant with—
 - (i) a summary, provided by Redress Scotland, of the review panel's reasons for reaching that determination, and
 - (ii) where an offer of a redress payment is made (whether by upholding, reversing or varying the determination of the panel appointed under section 35), information about the period for which the offer remains valid under section 58 and the options available to the applicant in respect of it.
- (6) The determination of the review panel under this section is final.
- (7) In this section, the “application in question” means the application under section 29, the determination of which is the subject of the request for a review.

58 Period for which offer valid following a review

- (1) An applicant to whom an offer of a redress payment is made on a review (whether by upholding, reversing or varying the determination of the panel appointed under section 35) may bring the application to an end by accepting the offer in accordance with section 50(1).
- (2) If the offer is not so accepted within the period for which the offer is valid, the application is to be treated as having been brought to an end by the offer being rejected unless it is continued by virtue of section 66(1).
- (3) The period for which the offer is valid is—
 - (a) the period of 6 months beginning with the date on which the offer was received by the applicant, or
 - (b) where the review panel appointed under section 55 to conduct the review is satisfied that there is a good reason why the applicant needs, or may need, longer to consider whether or not to accept the offer, such longer period as the review panel determines.
- (4) Where an application is treated as having been brought to an end by virtue of subsection (2), the review panel previously appointed under section 55 to conduct the review in relation to it, or such other panel as the chairing member of Redress Scotland determines, may revive the application if it considers that there are exceptional circumstances which merit it.
- (5) Where an application is revived by virtue of subsection (4)—
 - (a) the offer of a redress payment previously made on a review of the application is also revived, and
 - (b) the period for which the revived offer is valid is such period as the panel determines.

 - (a) beginning with the date on which the request for a review was made, and
 - (b) ending with the date on which the request is withdrawn.
