THE PERSONAL INJURY PRE-ACTION PROTOCOL

Application of the Protocol

1. This Protocol applies to claims for damages for, or arising from personal injuries, unless:
 - (a) the claimant reasonably estimates that the total liability value of the claim, exclusive of interest and expenses, exceeds £25,000;
 - (b) the accident or other circumstance giving rise to the liability occurred before 28th November 2016;
 - (c) the claimant is not represented by a solicitor during the stages of the Protocol; or
 - (d) the injuries for which damages are claimed—
 - (i) arise from alleged clinical negligence;
 - (ii) arise from alleged professional negligence; or
 - (iii) take the form of a disease.

In this paragraph—

“clinical negligence” has the same meaning as in rule 36.C1 of the Ordinary Cause Rules 1993; and

“disease” includes—

- (a) any illness, physical or psychological; and
- (b) any disorder, ailment, affliction, complaint, malady or derangement, other than a physical or psychological injury solely caused by an accident or other similar single event.

Definitions

2. In this Protocol:

“claimant” means the person who is seeking damages from the defender;

“defender” means the person against whom a claim is made.

“next-day postal service which records delivery” means a postal service which—

 - (a) seeks to deliver documents or other things by post no later than the next working day in all or the majority of cases; and
 - (b) provides for the delivery of documents or other things by post to be recorded.

Aims of the Protocol

3. The aims of the Protocol are to assist parties to avoid the need for, or mitigate the length and complexity of, civil proceedings by encouraging:
 - the fair, just and timely settlement of disputes prior to the commencement of proceedings; and
 - good practice, as regards:
 - early and full disclosure of information about the dispute;

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

- investigation of the circumstances surrounding the dispute; and
- the narrowing of issues to be determined through litigation in cases which do not reach settlement under the Protocol.

Protocol rules

4. Where, in the course of completing the stages of the Protocol, the claimant reasonably estimates that the total value of the claim, exclusive of interest and expenses, has increased beyond £25,000, the claimant must advise the defender that the Protocol threshold has been exceeded. Parties may agree to continue following the stages of the Protocol on a voluntary basis with a view to facilitating settlement before commencing proceedings.
5. Anything done or required to be done by a party under this Protocol may be done by a solicitor, insurer or other representative dealing with the claim for, or on behalf of, that party.
6. Where a party is required under this Protocol to intimate or send a document to another party, the document may be intimated or sent to the solicitor, insurer or other representative dealing with the claim for, or on behalf of, that party.
7. Documents that require to be intimated or sent under the Protocol, should, where possible, be intimated or sent by email using an email address supplied by the claimant or defender. Alternatively, such documents are to be sent or intimated using a next-day postal service which records delivery.
8. Where there is a number of days within which or a date by which something has to be done (including being sent or intimated), it must be done or sent so that it will be received before the end of that period or that day.
9. The claimant is expected to refrain from commencing proceedings unless:
 - all stages of the Protocol have been completed without reaching settlement;
 - the defender fails to complete a stage of the Protocol within the specified period;
 - the defender refuses to admit liability, or liability is admitted on the basis that the defender does not intend to be bound by the admission in any subsequent proceedings;
 - the defender admits liability but alleges contributory negligence and the fact or level of contributory negligence is disputed by the claimant (see paragraph 18).
 - settlement is reached but the defender fails to pay damages and agreed expenses/outlays within 5 weeks of settlement (see paragraph 35 below); or
 - it is necessary to do so for time-bar reasons (in which case, proceedings should be commenced and a sist applied for to allow the stages of the Protocol to be followed).
10. Parties are expected to co-operate generally with each other with a view to fulfilling the aims of the Protocol.

The stages of the Protocol

Stage 1 – issuing of Claim Form

11. The claimant must send a Claim Form to the defender as soon as sufficient information is available to substantiate a claim. The Claim Form should contain a clear summary of the facts on which the claim is based, including allegations of negligence, breaches of common law or statutory duty and an indication of injuries suffered and financial loss incurred. A suggested template for the Claim Form can be found in Annex A at the end of this Appendix.

Stage 2 – the defender’s acknowledgement of Claim Form

12. The defender must acknowledge the Claim Form within 21 days of receipt.

Stage 3 – the defender’s investigation of the claim and issuing of Response

13. The defender has a maximum of three months from receipt of the Claim Form to investigate the merits of the claim. The defender must send a reply during that period, stating whether liability is admitted or denied, giving reasons for any denial of liability, including any alternative version of events relied upon. The defender must confirm whether any admission made is intended to be a binding admission. Paragraph 9 above confirms that the claimant may raise proceedings if a non-binding admission is made.
14. If the defender denies liability, in whole or in part, they must disclose any documents which are relevant and proportionate to the issues in question at the same time as giving their decision on liability.
15. Paragraph 14 does not apply to documents that would never be recoverable in the course of proceedings, or that the defender would not be at liberty to disclose in the absence of an order from the court.
16. A suggested list of documents which are likely to be material in different types of claim is included in Annex B at the end of this Appendix.
17. If an admission of liability is made under this Protocol, parties will be expected to continue to follow the stages of the Protocol, where:
- the admission is made on the basis that the defender is to be bound by it (subject to the claim subsequently being proved to be fraudulent); and
 - the admission is accepted by the claimant.

Stage 4 – disclosure of documents and reports following admission of liability

18. Where the defender admits liability to make reparation under the Protocol but alleges contributory negligence, the defender must give reasons supporting the allegations and disclose the documents which are relevant and proportionate to the issue of contributory negligence. The claimant must respond to the allegation of contributory negligence before proceedings are raised.
19. Medical reports are to be instructed by the claimant at the earliest opportunity but no later than 5 weeks from the date the defender admits, in whole or part, liability (unless there is a valid reason for not obtaining a report at this stage).
20. Any medical report on which the claimant intends to rely must be disclosed to the other party within 5 weeks from the date of its receipt. Similarly, any medical report on which the defender intends to rely must be disclosed to the claimant within 5 weeks of receipt.
21. Parties may agree an extension to the issuing of medical reports if necessary.

Stage 5 – issuing of Statement of Valuation of Claim

22. The claimant must send a Statement of Valuation of Claim to the defender (in the same form as Form P16 in Appendix 1 of the Ordinary Cause Rules), together with supporting documents. The Statement of Valuation of Claim should be sent as soon as possible following receipt of all the other relevant information, including medical reports, wage slips, etc.
23. If the defender considers that additional information is required in order to consider whether to make an offer in settlement, the defender may request additional information from the claimant. Any such request is to be made promptly following receipt of the

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

Statement of Valuation of Claim and supporting documents. The claimant must provide the information requested within 14 days of receipt of the request.

Stage 6 – offer of settlement

24. Any offer in settlement to be made by the defender may be made within 5 weeks from the date of receipt of the Statement of Valuation of Claim, medical reports and supporting evidence (including any additional information requested under paragraph 23).
25. Where the claimant’s injuries are minor and no formal medical treatment is sought, a settlement offer may be made in the absence of medical evidence; otherwise, settlement offers may only be made following the submission of satisfactory medical evidence of injury.
26. An offer in settlement is only valid for the purposes of this Protocol if it includes an offer to pay expenses in accordance with the expenses provisions (at paragraphs 30-33) in the event of acceptance.

Stage 7 – claimant’s response to offer of settlement

27. If a settlement offer is made, the claimant must either accept the offer or issue a reasoned response within 14 days of receipt of the offer. Alternatively, if the claimant considers that additional information is required to allow full and proper consideration of the settlement offer, the claimant may make a request for additional information from the defender within 14 days of the receipt of the offer.
28. Where additional information or documentation is requested to allow the claimant to give full and proper consideration to the settlement offer, the claimant must accept the offer or issue a reasoned response within 21 days of receipt of the additional information or documentation.
29. In any reasoned response issued, the claimant must:
 - reject the offer outright, giving reasons for the rejection; or
 - reject the offer and make a counter-offer, giving reasons.
30. The expenses to be paid to the claimant in the event of settlement comprise—
 - (a) a payment in respect of the claimant’s liability for solicitors’ fees calculated in accordance with paragraph 31, and
 - (b) reimbursement of all other reasonably incurred outlays.
31. The payment in respect of liability for solicitors’ fees is the sum of—
 - (a) £546;
 - (b) 3.5% of the total amount of agreed damages up to £25,000;
 - (c) 25% of that part of the agreed damages up to £3,000;
 - (d) 15% of the excess of the agreed damages over £3,000 up to £6,000;
 - (e) 7.5% of the excess of the agreed damages over £6,000 up to £12,000;
 - (f) 5% of the excess of the agreed damages over £12,000 up to £18,000;
 - (g) 2.5% of the excess of the agreed damages over £18,000; and
 - (h) a figure corresponding to the VAT payable on the sum of the foregoing.
32. Where an expert report has been instructed, any associate agency fee is not a reasonably incurred outlay for the purpose of paragraph 30(b).

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

33. Any deduction from damages in accordance with section 7 of the Social Security (Recovery of Benefits) Act 1997 is to be disregarded for the purpose of paragraph 31.

Stage 8 – stocktaking period

34. The claimant must not raise proceedings until at least 14 days after the defender receives the claimant’s reasoned response (even in cases where the settlement offer is rejected outright). This period allows parties to take stock of their respective positions and to pursue further settlement negotiations if desired.

Stage 9 – payment

35. Damages and Protocol expenses must be paid within 5 weeks of settlement (with interest payable thereafter at the judicial rate).

Paragraph 3(3)

APPENDIX 1A

THE PERSONAL INJURY PRE-ACTION PROTOCOL

Application of the Protocol

1. This Protocol applies to claims for damages for, or arising from personal injuries, unless:
 - (a) the claimant reasonably estimates that the total liability value of the claim, exclusive of interest and expenses, exceeds £25,000;
 - (b) the accident or other circumstance giving rise to the liability occurred before 28th November 2016;
 - (c) the claimant is not represented by a solicitor during the stages of the Protocol; or
 - (d) the injuries for which damages are claimed—
 - (i) arise from alleged clinical negligence;
 - (ii) arise from alleged professional negligence; or
 - (iii) take the form of a disease.

In this paragraph—

“clinical negligence” has the same meaning as in rule 36.C1 of the Ordinary Cause Rules 1993; and

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

“disease” includes—

- (a) any illness, physical or psychological; and
- (b) any disorder, ailment, affliction, complaint, malady or derangement, other than a physical or psychological injury solely caused by an accident or other similar single event.

Definitions

2. In this Protocol:

“claimant” means the person who is seeking damages from the defender;

“defender” means the person against whom a claim is made.

“next-day postal service which records delivery” means a postal service which—

- (a) seeks to deliver documents or other things by post no later than the next working day in all or the majority of cases; and
- (b) provides for the delivery of documents or other things by post to be recorded.

Aims of the Protocol

3. The aims of the Protocol are to assist parties to avoid the need for, or mitigate the length and complexity of, civil proceedings by encouraging:

- the fair, just and timely settlement of disputes prior to the commencement of proceedings; and
- good practice, as regards:
 - early and full disclosure of information about the dispute;
 - investigation of the circumstances surrounding the dispute; and
 - the narrowing of issues to be determined through litigation in cases which do not reach settlement under the Protocol.

Protocol rules

4. Where, in the course of completing the stages of the Protocol, the claimant reasonably estimates that the total value of the claim, exclusive of interest and expenses, has increased beyond £25,000, the claimant must advise the defender that the Protocol threshold has been exceeded. Parties may agree to continue following the stages of the Protocol on a voluntary basis with a view to facilitating settlement before commencing proceedings.
5. Anything done or required to be done by a party under this Protocol may be done by a solicitor, insurer or other representative dealing with the claim for, or on behalf of, that party.
6. Where a party is required under this Protocol to intimate or send a document to another party, the document may be intimated or sent to the solicitor, insurer or other representative dealing with the claim for, or on behalf of, that party.
7. Documents that require to be intimated or sent under the Protocol, should, where possible, be intimated or sent by email using an email address supplied by the claimant or defender. Alternatively, such documents are to be sent or intimated using a next-day postal service which records delivery.
8. Where there is a number of days within which or a date by which something has to be done (including being sent or intimated), it must be done or sent so that it will be received before the end of that period or that day.

9. The claimant is expected to refrain from commencing proceedings unless:
- all stages of the Protocol have been completed without reaching settlement;
 - the defender fails to complete a stage of the Protocol within the specified period;
 - the defender refuses to admit liability, or liability is admitted on the basis that the defender does not intend to be bound by the admission in any subsequent proceedings;
 - the defender admits liability but alleges contributory negligence and the fact or level of contributory negligence is disputed by the claimant (see paragraph 18).
 - settlement is reached but the defender fails to pay damages and agreed expenses/ outlays within 5 weeks of settlement (see paragraph 35 below); or
 - it is necessary to do so for time-bar reasons (in which case, proceedings should be commenced and a sist applied for to allow the stages of the Protocol to be followed).
10. Parties are expected to co-operate generally with each other with a view to fulfilling the aims of the Protocol.

The stages of the Protocol

Stage 1 – issuing of Claim Form

11. The claimant must send a Claim Form to the defender as soon as sufficient information is available to substantiate a claim. The Claim Form should contain a clear summary of the facts on which the claim is based, including allegations of negligence, breaches of common law or statutory duty and an indication of injuries suffered and financial loss incurred. A suggested template for the Claim Form can be found in Annex A at the end of this Appendix.

Stage 2 – the defender’s acknowledgement of Claim Form

12. The defender must acknowledge the Claim Form within 21 days of receipt.

Stage 3 – the defender’s investigation of the claim and issuing of Response

13. The defender has a maximum of three months from receipt of the Claim Form to investigate the merits of the claim. The defender must send a reply during that period, stating whether liability is admitted or denied, giving reasons for any denial of liability, including any alternative version of events relied upon. The defender must confirm whether any admission made is intended to be a binding admission. Paragraph 9 above confirms that the claimant may raise proceedings if a non-binding admission is made.
14. If the defender denies liability, in whole or in part, they must disclose any documents which are relevant and proportionate to the issues in question at the same time as giving their decision on liability.
15. Paragraph 14 does not apply to documents that would never be recoverable in the course of proceedings, or that the defender would not be at liberty to disclose in the absence of an order from the court.
16. A suggested list of documents which are likely to be material in different types of claim is included in Annex B at the end of this Appendix.
17. If an admission of liability is made under this Protocol, parties will be expected to continue to follow the stages of the Protocol, where:
- the admission is made on the basis that the defender is to be bound by it (subject to the claim subsequently being proved to be fraudulent); and

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

- the admission is accepted by the claimant.

Stage 4 – disclosure of documents and reports following admission of liability

18. Where the defender admits liability to make reparation under the Protocol but alleges contributory negligence, the defender must give reasons supporting the allegations and disclose the documents which are relevant and proportionate to the issue of contributory negligence. The claimant must respond to the allegation of contributory negligence before proceedings are raised.
19. Medical reports are to be instructed by the claimant at the earliest opportunity but no later than 5 weeks from the date the defender admits, in whole or part, liability (unless there is a valid reason for not obtaining a report at this stage).
20. Any medical report on which the claimant intends to rely must be disclosed to the other party within 5 weeks from the date of its receipt. Similarly, any medical report on which the defender intends to rely must be disclosed to the claimant within 5 weeks of receipt.
21. Parties may agree an extension to the issuing of medical reports if necessary.

Stage 5 – issuing of Statement of Valuation of Claim

22. The claimant must send a Statement of Valuation of Claim to the defender (in the same form as Form P16 in Appendix 1 of the Ordinary Cause Rules), together with supporting documents. The Statement of Valuation of Claim should be sent as soon as possible following receipt of all the other relevant information, including medical reports, wage slips, etc.
23. If the defender considers that additional information is required in order to consider whether to make an offer in settlement, the defender may request additional information from the claimant. Any such request is to be made promptly following receipt of the Statement of Valuation of Claim and supporting documents. The claimant must provide the information requested within 14 days of receipt of the request.

Stage 6 – offer of settlement

24. Any offer in settlement to be made by the defender may be made within 5 weeks from the date of receipt of the Statement of Valuation of Claim, medical reports and supporting evidence (including any additional information requested under paragraph 23).
25. Where the claimant's injuries are minor and no formal medical treatment is sought, a settlement offer may be made in the absence of medical evidence; otherwise, settlement offers may only be made following the submission of satisfactory medical evidence of injury.
26. An offer in settlement is only valid for the purposes of this Protocol if it includes an offer to pay expenses in accordance with the expenses provisions (at paragraphs 30-33) in the event of acceptance.

Stage 7 – claimant's response to offer of settlement

27. If a settlement offer is made, the claimant must either accept the offer or issue a reasoned response within 14 days of receipt of the offer. Alternatively, if the claimant considers that additional information is required to allow full and proper consideration of the settlement offer, the claimant may make a request for additional information from the defender within 14 days of the receipt of the offer.
28. Where additional information or documentation is requested to allow the claimant to give full and proper consideration to the settlement offer, the claimant must accept the offer or issue a reasoned response within 21 days of receipt of the additional information or documentation.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

29. In any reasoned response issued, the claimant must:
- reject the offer outright, giving reasons for the rejection; or
 - reject the offer and make a counter-offer, giving reasons.
30. The expenses to be paid to the claimant in the event of settlement comprise—
- (a) a payment in respect of the claimant’s liability for solicitors’ fees calculated in accordance with paragraph 31, and
 - (b) reimbursement of all other reasonably incurred outlays.
31. The payment in respect of liability for solicitors’ fees is the sum of—
- (a) £546;
 - (b) 3.5% of the total amount of agreed damages up to £25,000;
 - (c) 25% of that part of the agreed damages up to £3,000;
 - (d) 15% of the excess of the agreed damages over £3,000 up to £6,000;
 - (e) 7.5% of the excess of the agreed damages over £6,000 up to £12,000;
 - (f) 5% of the excess of the agreed damages over £12,000 up to £18,000;
 - (g) 2.5% of the excess of the agreed damages over £18,000; and
 - (h) a figure corresponding to the VAT payable on the sum of the foregoing.
32. Where an expert report has been instructed, any associate agency fee is not a reasonably incurred outlay for the purpose of paragraph 30(b).
33. Any deduction from damages in accordance with section 7 of the Social Security (Recovery of Benefits) Act 1997 is to be disregarded for the purpose of paragraph 31.

Stage 8 – stocktaking period

34. The claimant must not raise proceedings until at least 14 days after the defender receives the claimant’s reasoned response (even in cases where the settlement offer is rejected outright). This period allows parties to take stock of their respective positions and to pursue further settlement negotiations if desired.

Stage 9 – payment

35. Damages and Protocol expenses must be paid within 5 weeks of settlement (with interest payable thereafter at the judicial rate).

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Act of Sederunt)

This Act of Sederunt amends the Ordinary Cause Rules and Summary Cause Rules in respect of personal injury actions. It introduces a requirement on parties to certain actions of damages for personal injury to follow a Personal Injury Pre-Action Protocol (“the Protocol”) with a view to settling the action before proceedings are raised.

Paragraph 2 inserts a new Chapter 3A into the Ordinary Cause Rules which introduces the new Protocol (the Protocol itself is set out in schedule 1 of this instrument and is inserted as Appendix 4 of the Ordinary Cause Rules). Chapter 3A provides that where the Protocol applies, the court will normally expect parties to have complied with the Protocol requirements before commencing proceedings. The Protocol will not apply where the total liability value of the claim is reasonably estimated to be more than £25,000, the claimant is not represented by a solicitor, or the injuries for which damages are claimed arise from clinical negligence, professional negligence or take the form of a disease (paragraph 1 of the Protocol).

Where proceedings are commenced and the sheriff considers that a party has failed to comply with the Protocol, or has unreasonably failed to accept a settlement offer made under the Protocol and subsequently lodged as a tender following the commencement of proceedings, the sheriff can take steps to do justice between the parties (rule 3A.3 as inserted by paragraph 2 of this instrument). In doing so, the sheriff must take into account the conduct of the parties during the stages of the Protocol and the nature of any breach of Protocol requirements.

Paragraph 3 inserts a new Chapter 4A into the Summary Cause Rules which applies the new Protocol to relevant Summary Cause cases (the Protocol itself is set out in schedule 2 of this instrument and is inserted as Appendix 3 of the Summary Cause Rules). The provision made in the new Chapter 4A and Appendix 3 of the Summary Cause Rules is in identical terms to that made in the Ordinary Cause Rules.

Saving provision is included in paragraph 4 to preserve the existing law as regards actions where the accident or circumstance giving rise to the claim for damages occurred before 28th November 2016; there will accordingly be no requirement to follow the Protocol prior to commencing proceedings in such cases.
