- (a) a property transfer instrument under section 12(2) or 12ZA(3),
- (b) a supplemental property transfer instrument under section 42 in relation to which the original instrument is—
  - (i) a property transfer instrument under section 12(2) or 12ZA(3), or
  - (ii) an onward property transfer instrument under section 43(2), or
- (c) an onward property transfer instrument under section 43(2), the power under subsection (1) to make the provision described in section 48B(1)(a) (see also rule 2(a) and (b) of section 48B(5)) includes power to make the provision referred to in subsection (4).

(4) The provision referred to in subsection (3) is provision replacing a transferred liability (of any form)—

- (a) of the third-country institution mentioned in subsection (1), in the case of instruments within subsection (3)(a) and (b)(i),
- (b) of the resolution company mentioned in section 43(1), in the case of instruments within subsection (3)(b)(ii) and (c),

(65) Section 44B was inserted, with sections 44A and 44C, by paragraph 5 of Schedule 2 to the Financial Services (Banking Reform) Act 2013 (c.33).

(66) Section 12ZA was inserted by S.I. 2014/3329.

with a relevant security (of any form or class).

(5) The following are relevant securities for the purpose of subsection (4)—

- (a) where the instrument within subsection (3)(a), or the original instrument, is made under section 12, a security of the bridge bank mentioned in section 12(1),
- (b) where the instrument within subsection (3)(a), or the original instrument, is made under section 12ZA, a security of the asset management vehicle mentioned in section 12ZA(1).

(6) In subsection (5), references to the original instrument are—

- (a) in relation to an instrument within subsection (3)(b), the original instrument referred to in that paragraph,
- (b) in relation to an instrument within subsection (3)(c), the original instrument as defined in section 43(1).

(7) Where securities of the bridge bank or asset management vehicle (“B”) are, as a result of subsection (3), held by a person other than the Bank of England, that does not prevent B from being regarded for the purposes of this Part (see particularly section 12(1A) and 12ZA(2)) as being wholly owned by the Bank of England, as long as the Bank of England is entitled to exercise, or control the exercise of, voting rights in respect of all the ordinary shares issued by B.”.

(8) For section 48B (special bail-in provision)(67), substitute—

“48B.—(1) “Special bail-in provision”, for the purposes of section 44B(1), means any of the following (or any combination of the following)—

- (a) provision modifying, or changing the form of, a relevant liability;
- (b) provision that a contract under which the relevant institution has a relevant liability is to have effect as if a specified right had been exercised under it.

(2) “Special bail-in provision”, for the purposes of section 44B, also includes any associated provision (see subsection (3)) that the Bank of England may think it appropriate to make in consequence of any provision under subsection (1) that—

- (a) is made in the same property transfer instrument, or
- (b) has been made in another property transfer instrument in respect of the UK branch, or (where the institution in relation to which special bail-in provision is made is a resolution company) in respect of the resolution company.

(3) “Associated provision” means provision modifying a contract under which a company which is a banking group company in relation to the third-country institution has a liability (whether or not the institution in relation to which special bail-in provision is made is the third-country institution).

(4) A power to make special bail-in provision—

- (a) may be exercised only for the purpose of, or in connection with, reducing or deferring a relevant liability of the relevant institution;
- (b) may not be exercised so as to affect any excluded liability.

(5) The following rules apply to the interpretation of subsection (1).

(67) Section 48B was inserted by paragraph 4 of Schedule 2 to the Financial Services (Banking Reform) Act 2013.

- 1 The reference to modifying a relevant liability includes a reference to modifying the terms (or the effect of the terms) of a contract under which the relevant institution has a liability.
- 2 The reference to changing the form of a relevant liability, includes, for example—
  - (a) converting an instrument under which the relevant institution owes a relevant liability from one form or class to another,
  - (b) replacing such an instrument with another instrument of a different form or class, or
  - (c) converting those liabilities into securities issued by a bridge bank or a UK parent undertaking.
- (6) For the purposes of rule 2 in subsection (5)—

“parent undertaking” has the meaning given by Article 4.1(15)(a) of the capital requirements regulation, and

“UK parent undertaking” means a parent undertaking that is incorporated in, or formed under the law of, any part of the United Kingdom.
- (7) Examples of special bail-in provision include—
  - (a) provision that transactions or events of any specified kind have or do not have (directly or indirectly) specified consequences or are to be treated in a specified manner for specified purposes;
  - (b) provision discharging persons from further performance of obligations under a contract and dealing with the consequences of persons being so discharged.
- (8) The form and class of the instrument (“the resulting instrument”) into which an instrument is converted, or with which it is replaced, do not matter for the purposes of paragraphs (a) and (b) of rule 2 in subsection (5); for instance, the resulting instrument may (if it is a security) fall within Class 1 or any other Class in section 14.
- (9) Liabilities of the relevant institution are “excluded liabilities” if they are—
  - (a) liabilities listed in subsection (10), or
  - (b) liabilities which the Bank of England has excluded under subsection (12) from the application of special bail-in provision.
- (10) The following liabilities of the relevant institution are the excluded liabilities referred to in subsection (9)(a)—
  - (a) liabilities representing protected deposits;
  - (b) any liability, so far as it is secured;
  - (c) liabilities that the relevant institution has by virtue of holding client assets;
  - (d) liabilities with an original maturity of less than 7 days owed by the relevant institution to a credit institution or investment firm;
  - (e) liabilities with a remaining maturity of less than 7 days arising from participation in designated settlement systems and owed to such systems or to operators of, or participants in, such systems;
  - (f) liabilities owed to an employee or former employee in relation to salary or other remuneration, except—
    - (i) variable remuneration that is not regulated by a collective bargaining agreement, and

- (ii) variable remuneration of material risk takers as referred to in Article 92(2) of Directive 2013/36/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 26th June 2013 on access to the activity of credit institutions and the prudential supervision of credit institutions and investment firms<sup>(68)</sup>;
  - (g) liabilities owed to a pension scheme, except for liabilities owed in connection with variable remuneration of the kind mentioned in paragraph (f)(i) or (ii);
  - (h) liabilities owed to creditors arising from the provision to the relevant institution of goods or services (other than financial services) that are critical to the daily functioning of the operations of the third-country institution or of its UK branch (or in the case of an instrument made in relation to a resolution company, of the resolution company);
  - (i) liabilities owed by the relevant institution to the scheme manager of the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (established under Part 15 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000) in relation to levies imposed by the scheme manager for the purpose of meeting expenses in relation to payments required to be made by Directive 2014/49/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16th April 2014 on deposit guarantee schemes<sup>(69)</sup>.
- (11) The following special rules apply in cases involving banking group companies (whether or not the institution in relation to which special bail-in provision is made is the third-country institution)—
- (a) a liability is not within subsection (10)(d) if the credit institution or investment firm to which the liability is owed is a banking group company in relation to the third-country institution (see section 81D);
  - (b) in subsection (10)(h) the reference to creditors does not include companies which are banking group companies in relation to the third-country institution.
- (12) The Bank of England may, in a property transfer instrument, exclude any eligible liability or class of eligible liabilities from the application of any special bail-in provision in relation to a relevant institution under section 44B if, and only if, the Bank of England—
- (a) thinks the exclusion is justified on one or more of the grounds set out in subsection (14), and
  - (b) notifies the European Commission of its intention to exclude the liabilities before making the instrument that gives effect to the exclusion.
- (13) The power conferred by subsection (12) may be exercised to exclude only part of an eligible liability, or part of each of the eligible liabilities of a particular class; and where it is so exercised that part is treated as an eligible liability excluded under that subsection and the remainder is treated as an eligible liability which has not been so excluded.
- (14) The grounds are—
- (a) that it is not reasonably possible to give effect to special bail-in provision in relation to the liability or class within a reasonable time;

- (b) that the exclusion is necessary and proportionate to achieve the continuity of critical functions and core business lines in a manner that maintains the ability of the third-country institution or its UK branch (or in the case of an instrument made in relation to a resolution company, of the resolution company) to continue key operations, services and transactions;
  - (c) that the exclusion is necessary and proportionate to avoid giving rise to widespread contagion, in particular as regards protected deposits held by natural persons or micro-enterprises, small enterprises or medium-sized enterprises, which would severely disrupt the functioning of financial markets, including financial market infrastructures, in a manner that could cause a serious disturbance to the economy of an EEA state;
  - (d) that the making of special bail-in provision in relation to the liability would cause a reduction in value such that the losses borne by other creditors would be higher than if the liability were excluded.
- (15) When deciding whether to exclude liabilities under subsection (12) or (13), the Bank of England must give due consideration to—
- (a) the principle that all the relevant liabilities of the relevant institution ought to be treated in accordance with the priority they would enjoy if the relevant institution went into insolvency proceedings, and
  - (b) the principle that any creditors who would have equal priority in insolvency proceedings ought to bear losses on an equal footing with each other,
- and for the purposes of this subsection “insolvency proceedings” means such insolvency proceedings (whether or not under the law of a third country) as the Bank of England, after consultation with the Treasury, considers relevant.
- (17) For the purposes of subsection (14)—
- “protected deposit” has the meaning given by section 48C, and
- “micro-enterprise”, “small-enterprise” and “medium-sized enterprise” have the meaning given by Article 2.1(107) of the recovery and resolution directive.
- (18) For the purposes of this section—
- (a) “relevant liability” means a liability of a third-country institution or resolution company which is transferred in the property transfer instrument which makes special bail-in provision,
  - (b) “relevant institution” means the third-country institution or resolution company whose liabilities are so transferred.”.
- (9) For section 48X (replacement of Bank’s provisional valuation)(70), substitute—
- “48X.—(1) Where the Bank of England has carried out a provisional valuation under section 6E(3) before making a property transfer instrument in relation to a UK branch, the Bank must arrange for the appointment of an independent valuer in accordance with section 62A to carry out a full valuation in accordance with this section as soon as reasonably practicable.
- (2) The purpose of the valuation carried out under subsection (1) is to—
- (a) ensure the full extent of any losses on the property and rights of the third-country institution which formed part of the business of the UK branch is recognised in the accounting records of the third-country institution, and
  - (b) inform a decision by the Bank as to whether—

(70) Section 48X was inserted, with section 48Y, by S.I. 2014/3329.

- (i) additional consideration should be paid by a bridge bank or asset management vehicle for any property, rights or liabilities transferred by the property transfer instrument, or
  - (ii) the Bank should exercise the power under section 48Y(1) to increase a liability which has been reduced by the property transfer instrument.
- (3) A valuation carried out under subsection (1) must comply with subsections (5) and (6) of section 6E, and be accompanied by the information required in subsection (7) of that section.”
- (10) For section 48Y (consequences of a replacement valuation)—
- “48Y.—(1) Where the independent valuation carried out under section 48X(1) produces a higher valuation of the net asset value of the business of the UK branch transferred by the property transfer instrument than the provisional valuation carried out under section 6E(3), the Bank of England may—
- (a) modify any liability of the third-country institution which has been reduced or deferred by the property transfer instrument so as to increase or reinstate that liability; or
  - (b) instruct a resolution company to pay additional consideration to the third-country institution for any property, rights or liabilities transferred to the resolution company by a property transfer instrument.
- (2) The power in subsection (1)(a)—
- (a) may not be exercised so as to increase the value of the liability beyond the value it would have had if the property transfer instrument which reduced or deferred it had not been made, and
  - (b) must be exercised by a supplemental property transfer instrument (whether or not that instrument contains any other provision authorised by this Part).”

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order implements in part Directive 2014/59/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15th May 2014 establishing a framework for the recovery and resolution of credit institutions and investment firms (OJ L173, 12.6.2014, p.190) (“recovery and resolution directive”). The recovery and resolution directive requires EEA states to have powers to manage the failure of credit institutions and investment firms and their group companies as an alternative to insolvency, in order to ensure that critical functions continue to be performed.

Part 2 of the Order amends the Banking Act 2009 \(c.1\) (“the Act”) to complete the implementation of the recovery and resolution directive.

Articles 3 to 4 make minor amendments to the overview and interpretation provisions in the Act. Article 5 amends the definition of “institution” in section 3A. Articles 6 and 7 remove references to the valuation carried out under section 6E from the conditions for mandatory reduction instruments and the general conditions for exercise of a stabilisation power.

Article 8 sets out the requirements for marketing property of a bank, or securities issued by a bank which are to be transferred by the Bank of England (“the Bank”) to a private sector purchaser using its powers under Part 1 of the Act.

Article 9 extends the Bank’s powers to make onward share transfer instruments in relation to securities issued by a bank in relation to which the Bank has already made a share transfer instrument, to deal with those shares which were transferred by the original share transfer instrument, or which have been issued by the bank after the date on which that instrument was made.

Article 10 extends the Bank’s existing power to make reverse share transfer instruments so that it also applies where the Bank has made an onward share transfer instrument.

Article 11 extends the category of property transfer instruments which are able to make special bail-in provision under section 44B to include onward property transfer instruments and bridge bank supplemental transfer instruments.

Article 12 ensures that the specified provisions apply to property transfer instruments which make special bail-in provision as well as to resolution instruments.

Article 13 gives the Bank power to make a property transfer instrument in relation to a bank after the Bank has made a share transfer instrument in relation to securities issued by that bank (see new section 44D), and then a supplemental reverse property transfer instrument in relation to the property, rights and liabilities which have been transferred under that initial property transfer instrument (see new section 44E), and makes consequential amendments.

Article 14 gives the Bank and the Treasury power to recover the expenses which they have incurred where the Bank has exercised the bail-in option in relation to a bank from that bank.

Article 15 amends the definition of “crisis prevention measure” for the purposes of section 48Z to ensure that the appointment by the Prudential Regulation Authority (“PRA”) or the Financial Conduct Authority (“FCA”) of a temporary manager under 71C of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 \(c.8\) (“FSMA”) does not trigger contractual termination rights. It also gives the Bank power to provide that certain contractual termination rights may take effect in accordance with the terms of the contract notwithstanding section 48Z(6).

Article 16 adds onward share transfer instruments, bridge bank supplemental property transfer instruments and bridge bank supplemental reverse property transfer instruments to the list of instruments in relation to which the Treasury may make a compensation scheme order and a third party compensation scheme order.

Article 17 amends section 62A to ensure that the Bank may recover the costs of conducting an independent valuation from the bank which is being valued.

Article 18 amends section 81AA(8)(b) to remove any reference to the valuation carried out under section 6E of the Act.

Articles 20 and 21 give the Bank power to make share transfer instruments in relation to building societies, by converting the building society into a company. New section 84ZA identifies some of the provision which may be made by the Bank in a share transfer instrument which relates to a building society. Article 21 amends section 84D to modify provisions in Part 1 of the Act related to share transfer instruments so far as they apply to building societies.

Article 23 makes a minor amendment to section 89A.

Article 24 ensures that the amendments made by this Order do not apply in relation to recognised central counterparties.

Article 25 ensures that someone who is appointed by the Bank to make a report under section 83ZB of the Act is treated as a “primary recipient” in relation to section 348 of FSMA, and so subject to the prohibition on disclosure of confidential information provided for in that section.

Article 26 amends Part 3 of the Act to replace references to bridge banks by references to resolution companies (which include both bridge banks and asset management vehicles).

Article 27 amends the index of defined terms in section 261 of the Act.

Article 28 ensures charges over property which is acquired by the successor company of a building society when the building society is converted to a company under section 84ZA will be registered under the Companies Act 2006 (c.46), and makes consequential amendments.

Part 3 of the Order amends the Act to provide for the resolution of UK branches of third-country institutions. Article 29 inserts a new Chapter 6A into Part 1 of the Act, comprising new section 89JA.

Subsection (1) applies Part 1 of the Act to UK branches subject to the modifications made in the rest of new section 89JA.

Subsection (4) modifies section 6E to set out how the rules on valuation will apply in relation to UK branches.

Subsection (5) modifies section 7 to set out the conditions which must be satisfied before the Bank may make a property transfer instrument in relation to a UK branch.

Subsection (6) modifies section 7A to set out the factors to which the Bank must have regard before making a property transfer instrument in relation to a UK branch.

Subsection (7) modifies section 44B, to ensure that property transfer instruments made by the Bank in relation to a UK branch can make special bail-in provision in relation to any liabilities which are being transferred by the instrument.

Subsection (8) modifies section 48B, which defines “special bail-in provision” for the purposes of section 44B.

Subsection (9) modifies section 48X, which requires the Bank to obtain an independent valuation where the Bank has made a property transfer instrument in relation to a UK branch in reliance on a provisional valuation, and subsection (10) modifies section 48Y, which provides for the consequences where the independent valuation differs from the provisional valuation.

Subsection (11) contains a table of further modifications of Part 1 of the Act as it applies to UK branches of third-country institutions.

Part 4 of the Order amends FSMA. Article 31 gives the PRA and the FCA power to summon a general meeting of a company in their own right where the company has, inter alia, failed to comply with a requirement that it should do so.

Article 32 provides for removal of directors and senior executives of a relevant firm, and for the appointment of a temporary manager to run the firm, inserting new sections 71B to 71I into FSMA.

New section 71B gives the PRA and the FCA power to remove directors and senior executives, and new section 71C gives the PRA and the FCA power to appoint a temporary manager and sets out what the functions of the temporary manager are.

New section 71D sets out the conditions which must be satisfied before the powers in sections 71B and 71C may be exercised.

New section 71E makes further provision in relation to the qualifications and term of the temporary manager, and new section 71F makes provision in relation to the instrument appointing the temporary manager.

New section 71G provides rights for the relevant firm, the parent undertaking, and any directors or senior executives affected by requirements imposed under sections 71B or 71C to refer the matter to the Tribunal, new section 71H sets out the procedure which is to apply on the removal of directors or senior managers or the appointment of a temporary manager, and new section 71I makes contains the interpretation provisions for these new sections.

Article 33 inserts new section 190A into FSMA, which sets out what happens when the regulators receive a notice under section 178 of FSMA in connection with a transfer made by the Bank using its powers under Part 1 of the Act, which leads to an acquisition or increase of control over a company in the financial services sector, where the regulator concerned was unable to complete its assessment of the proposed acquisition before the transfer proceeded under the Act.

Article 34 amends section 348(5) of FSMA to ensure that temporary managers are subject to the prohibition on the disclosure of confidential information in section 348.

Article 35 amends section 395 of FSMA to ensure that notices issued by the regulators under section 71H are treated as supervisory notices.

Part 5 of the Order amends a number of statutory instruments.

Article 36 amends the Banking Act (Restriction of Partial Property Transfers) Order 2009 (S.I. 2009/322), so that third-country institutions come within the definition of “banking institutions” for the purposes of that Order, and ensures that eligible deposits may, if necessary, be transferred separately from any liability which they are securing.

Article 37 amends the description of those firms which are excluded from the “investment firm” for the purposes of the Act.

Articles 38, 39 and 40 ensure that a third-country institution comes within the definition of “banking institution” for the purposes of the Banking Act 2009 (Third Party Compensation Arrangements for Partial Property Transfers) Regulations 2009 (S.I. 2009/319), the Banking Act 2009 (Restriction of Special Bail-in Provision, etc) Order 2014 (S.I. 2014/3350) and the Banking Act 2009 (Mandatory Compensation Arrangements Following Bail-in) Regulations 2014 (2014/3330) respectively.
