EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of these Regulations)

These Regulations amend provisions in the Social Security (General Benefit) Regulations 1982, the Income Support (General) Regulations 1987, the State Pension Credit Regulations 2002 and the Employment and Support Allowance Regulations 2008 relating to persons serving sentences of imprisonment who are detained in hospital.

Regulation 3 amends paragraph 2A of Schedule 7 to the Income Support (General) Regulations 1987 so that the applicable amount is nil for a “person serving a sentence of imprisonment detained in hospital”. This term is defined in a new provision added to regulation 21 of those Regulations. In England and Wales the definition covers a person detained in a hospital under section 45A or 47 of the Mental Health Act 1983 on or before the date which the Secretary of State certifies is their “release date” within the meaning of section 50(3) of that Act (in cases where there is such a date). The effect of these amendments is that a person serving an indeterminate sentence will not receive income support until they are actually released from detention. This is because such persons do not have a “release date” within the meaning of section 50(3). In Scotland the definition covers a person who is detained under section 59A of the Criminal Procedure (Scotland) Act 1995 or section 136 of the Mental Health (Care and Treatment) (Scotland) Act 2003.

Regulation 2 amends regulation 2(3) and (4) of the Social Security (General Benefit) Regulations 1982, which already provide for a similar rule in relation to entitlement to benefits to which those Regulations apply, so as to bring the wording into line with that used in the Income Support Regulations.

Regulations 4 and 5 make equivalent amendments to the State Pension Credit Regulations 2002 and the Employment and Support Allowance Regulations 2008.
