

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This order amends the Environment Agency (Inland Waterways) Order 2010 (“the Order”).

Article 2 deletes wording in the order to ensure that the definition of the River Medway in the Order refers to the whole of section 32 of the Southern Water Authority Act 1982 not just section 32(a) of the Southern Water Authority Act 1982. The effect is to allow the Environment Agency to regulate the safety of boats moored in marinas on the River Medway.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the The Environment Agency (Inland Waterways) (Amendment) Order 2013.
