OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITIES

2395/67

REGULATION No 137/67/EEC OF THE COUNCIL of 13 June 1967

laying down general rules for the system of 'pilot products and derived products' allowing additional amounts to be fixed for pigmeat

THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN ECONOMIC COMMUNITY,

Having regard to the Treaty establishing the European Economic Community;

Having regard to Council Regulation No 121/67/EEC¹ of 13 June 1967 on the common organisation of the market in pigmeat, and in particular Article 13 (4) thereof;

Having regard to the proposal from the Commission;

Whereas in accordance with Article 12 of Regulation No 121/67/EEC sluice-gate prices are fixed only for certain pigmeat products; whereas these products are listed in Article 1 of Council Regulation No 134/67/EEC² of 13 June 1967 establishing the list of products for which sluice-gate prices are fixed and adopting the rules for fixing the sluice-gate price for pig carcasses;

Whereas Article 13 of Regulation No 121/67/EEC provides for the establishment of a system of 'pilot products and derived products' allowing additional amounts to be fixed for 'derived products', namely those for which sluice-gate prices are not fixed;

Whereas the derived products consist of pigmeat or contain cuts of pigmeat in varying proportions; whereas, therefore, their prices normally stand in a certain relationship to the price of pigmeat or cuts of pigmeat; whereas this relationship is reflected in the ratio existing between the levies applicable to them;

Whereas, consequently, the additional amount for the derived product can be derived from the additional amount for the pilot product with which the above-mentioned price relationship normally exists by means of a coefficient expressing that ratio; whereas it is necessary to apply this derived additional amount when the free-at-frontier offers for the derived product follow the same trend as those for the pilot product;

Whereas, because of the composition of certain derived products, provision should be made for several pilot products for them; whereas, in order to prevent the protection afforded by the additional amount for the pilot product from being ineffective, when additional amounts are being fixed for several pilot products, the highest derived additional amount should be applied; whereas for derived products containing a substantial proportion of pig fat the additional amount derived on the basis of the fat and the additional amount derived on the basis of some other pilot product should, however, be combined, and the derivation coefficients should be so fixed as to take account of the fact that the derived product is composed of pig fat and meat;

Whereas the system of pilot products and derived products should not exclude the possibility of fixing an additional amount for the derived product when the price level for the pilot product does not warrant the fixing of such an amount for the latter; whereas the derived product may well be offered at a price lower than that resulting from the normal price relationship between the pilot products and the derived products;

Whereas it is not advisable to fix additional amounts for certain pigmeat products either because of their small economic importance or because of the binding of the rate of customs duty within GATT;

HAS ADOPTED THIS REGULATION:

Article 1

Pilot products and derived products related to each of these products shall be as shown in Annex I. They are taken from the list in Annex II, which contains the detailed nomenclature of products listed in Article 1 (1) of Regulation No 121/67/EEC.

² OJ No 120, 21.6.1967, p. 2367/67.

Article 2

1. Where an additional amount is fixed for a pilot product, the levy on the derived product shall be increased by an additional amount when the free-at-community frontier offers for the derived product follow the same trend as those for the pilot product.

2. The additional amount shall be determined by multiplying the additional amount for the pilot product by the coefficient applicable to the derived product, calculated in accordance with the provisions of Article 3.

3. If there are several pilot products other than pig fat for a derived product, the additional amount for the derived product shall be equal to the highest of the amounts obtained by multiplying the additional amount for each of the pilot products in question by the coefficient applicable in each case.

Where for a derived product pig fat is one of the pilot products, the additional amount for the derived product shall be equal to the sum of:

- the amount obtained by multiplying the additional amount for pig fat by the applicable coefficient;
- the highest of the amounts obtained by multiplying the additional amount for each of the pilot products other than pig fat by the coefficient applicable in each case.

4. Where an additional amount has not been fixed for the pilot product, an additional amount may be fixed for a derived product if the free-at-frontier offers for this product do not correspond to the normal relationship between the price for the pilot product and that of the derived product.

In that case the additional amount shall be the amount required to restore the relationship between the price of the pilot product and that of the derived product.

Article 3

1. With regard to those of the products listed in Article 1 (1) (b) of Regulation No 121/67/EEC which are derived products, the coefficient shall be obtained by dividing the coefficient used for calculating the levy for the derived product in question by the coefficient used for the pilot product.

2. The coefficient for the products listed in Article 1 (1) (c) of Regulation No 121/67/EEC shall be calculated in terms of the ratio between the levy for the derived product and the levy for the pilot product and, as necessary, the composition of the derived product.

Article 4

This Regulation shall enter into force on 1 July 1967.

This Regulation shall be binding in its entirety and directly applicable in all Member States.

Done at Brussels, 13 June 1967.

For the Council

The President

Ch. HEGER
