

REGULATION (EEC) No 166/71 OF THE COUNCIL of 26 January 1971

laying down common marketing standards for shrimps of the genus Crangon sp. p.

THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITIES,

Having regard to the Treaty establishing the European Economic Community;

Having regard to Council Regulation (EEC) No 2142/70¹ of 20 October 1970 on the common organisation of the market in fishery products, and in particular Article 2 (3) thereof;

Having regard to the proposal from the Commission;

Whereas Regulation (EEC) No 2142/70 provides for the possibility of determining common marketing standards; whereas the application of such standards should help to improve the quality of shrimps marketed and thus facilitate their sale;

Whereas one way of improving quality is to prevent shrimps which are not of a given degree of freshness or of a given size category being marketed for human consumption;

Whereas virtually all Community shrimps are boiled in water immediately after being caught to prevent any deterioration in their freshness; whereas it is therefore advisable as a first priority to lay down standards for shrimps simply boiled in water;

Whereas, in almost all Member States engaged in sea fishing, shrimps which have been judged fit for human consumption under national regulations are offered for sale after grading by size; whereas shrimps are also graded according to degree of freshness;

Whereas the adoption of standards for shrimps has assumed particular importance in view of the measures on the determination and formation of prices provided for in Regulation (EEC) No 2142/70; whereas the grading hitherto carried out at national level should therefore be standardised;

Whereas shrimps have hitherto been graded only before being sold for the first time since a large proportion of these shrimps are immediately shelled or otherwise processed; whereas application of common standards should therefore be limited to the first marketing stage in the Community;

Whereas the standards must apply to all shrimps, including imported shrimps, marketed on the territory of the Member States of the Community; whereas it seems necessary, however, to exclude certain direct sales of small quantities to retailers or consumers from their field of application; whereas grading should also be dispensed with for shrimps which are proved not to be intended for human consumption;

Whereas freshness is a decisive factor in assessing the quality of shrimps; whereas grading by size is also essential because of the diversity of consumers' buying habits and the processing methods normally used in the Community;

Whereas there is at present no objective method of assessing the freshness of shrimps both rapidly and cheaply; whereas only organoleptic examination, which is, moreover, in use in the Member States, meets this requirement and constitutes an acceptable method;

Whereas, in view of normal practice in most Member States, it is advisable that the industry should grade shrimps for freshness and size; whereas, with a view in particular to assessing freshness by organoleptic criteria, provision should be made for the collaboration of experts appointed for this purpose by the trade organisations concerned;

Whereas, in order to keep each other informed, each Member State should supply the other Member States and the Commission with a list of the names and addresses of the experts and trade organisations concerned;

Whereas it is essential that shrimps imported from third countries should conform to Community standards;

Whereas the application of Community standards to these shrimps means that additional information must be given on packages; whereas, however, this information is not necessary in the case of shrimps landed in the Community direct from the fishing grounds from third country vessels, it being understood however that these shrimps may only be marketed in accordance with the provisions applicable to Community catches;
