APPENDIX A: WAIVER OF RIGHTS

I.

Introduction

1. The Labour Relations Agency Arbitration Scheme (“the Scheme”) is implemented pursuant to Article 84A of the Industrial Relations (Northern Ireland) Order 1992 (“the 1992 Order”), as inserted by Part III, Article 8, of the Employment Rights (Dispute Resolution) (Northern Ireland) Order 1998.

2. The Scheme provides a voluntary alternative to an industrial tribunal for the resolution of unfair dismissal disputes, in the form of arbitration.

3. Resolution of disputes under the Scheme is intended to be confidential, informal, relatively fast and cost efficient. Procedures under the Scheme are non-legalistic, and more flexible than an industrial tribunal or the courts. For example (as explained in more detail below), the Scheme avoids the use of formal pleadings, formal witness and documentary procedures. Strict rules of evidence do not apply, and, as far as possible, instead of applying strict law or legal precedent, general principles of fairness and good conduct are taken into account including, for example, principles referred to in any relevant Code of Practice. Arbitral decisions, including “awards”, are final. There are limited opportunities to appeal or otherwise challenge the result.

4. The Scheme also caters for requirements imposed as a matter of law (e.g. the Human Rights Act 1998, existing domestic law in the field of arbitration and European Community (hereafter referred to as EC) law).

II.

The Role of the LRA

5. As more fully explained below, cases enter the Scheme by reference to the Labour Relations Agency (hereafter referred to as “the LRA”), which appoints an arbitrator from a panel (see paragraphs 35-37 below) to determine the dispute. The LRA provides administrative assistance during the proceedings. The LRA may scrutinise awards and refer any clerical or other similar errors back to the arbitrator. Disputes are determined, however, by arbitrators and not by the LRA.

Routing of communications

6. All communications between either party and the arbitrator shall be sent via the LRA, other than in the course of a hearing.

7. Paragraph 172 below sets out the manner in which any document, notice or communication must be served on, or transmitted to, the LRA.

III.

Terms and Abbreviations

8. The term “employee” is used to denote the claimant (i.e. the former employee), including any person entitled to pursue a claim arising out of a contravention, or alleged contravention, of Part XI of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

9. The term “employer” is used to denote the respondent.

10. The term “EC law” means:

- (i) any provision in the domestic legislation of Northern Ireland giving effect to rights, powers, liabilities, obligations and restrictions from time to time created or arising by or under the European Community Treaties; and
- (ii) any such rights, powers, liabilities, obligations and restrictions which are not given effect by any such provision.

11. With the exception of paragraph 21(i) below (“Requirements for entry into the Scheme”) references to anything being written or in writing include its being recorded by any means so as to be usable for subsequent reference.

IV.

Arbitrator’s Terms of Reference

12. Every agreement to refer a dispute to arbitration under this Scheme shall be taken to be an agreement that the arbitrator decide the dispute according to the following Terms of Reference:

In deciding whether the dismissal was fair or unfair, the arbitrator:

- (i) shall have regard to general principles of fairness and good conduct in employment relations (including, for example, principles referred to in any relevant codes of practice, instead of applying legal tests or rules (e.g. court decisions or legislation);
- (ii) shall apply EC law;
- (iii) may make recommendations, as appropriate, within the remit of promoting the improvement of employment relations.

The arbitrator shall not decide the case by substituting what s/he would have done for the actions taken by the employer.

If the arbitrator finds the dismissal unfair, s/he shall determine the appropriate remedy under the terms of this Scheme.

Nothing in the Terms of Reference affects the operation of the Human Rights Act 1998 in so far as this is applicable and relevant and (with respect to procedural matters) has not been waived by virtue of the provisions of this Scheme.

V.

Scope of the Scheme

Cases that are covered by the Scheme

13. This Scheme only applies to cases of alleged unfair dismissal (i.e. disputes involving proceedings, or claims which could be the subject of proceedings, before an industrial tribunal arising out of a contravention, or alleged contravention, of Part XI of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996).

14. The Scheme does not extend to other kinds of claim which are often related to, or raised at the same time as, a claim of unfair dismissal. For example, sex discrimination cases, religious and political discrimination cases and claims for unpaid wages are not covered by the Scheme.

15. If a claim of unfair dismissal has been referred for resolution under the Scheme, any other claim, even if part of the same dispute, must be settled separately, or referred to an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland, or withdrawn. In the event that different aspects of the same dispute are being heard in an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland as well as under the Scheme, the arbitrator may decide, if appropriate or convenient, to postpone the arbitration proceedings pending a determination by an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland.

Waiver of jurisdictional issues

16. The Scheme is not designed for disputes that raise jurisdictional issues, for example:

- whether or not the employee was employed by the employer;
- whether or not the employee had the necessary period of continuous service to bring the claim;
- whether or not time limits have expired and/or should be extended.

17. Accordingly, when agreeing to refer a dispute to arbitration under the Scheme, both parties will be taken to have accepted as a condition of the Scheme that no jurisdictional issue is in dispute between them. The arbitrator will not therefore deal with such issues during the arbitration process, even if they are raised by the parties, and the parties will be taken to have waived any rights in that regard.

18. In particular, in agreeing to arbitration under the Scheme, the parties will be treated as having agreed that a dismissal has taken place.

Inappropriate cases

19. The Scheme is not intended for disputes involving complex legal issues. Whilst such cases will be accepted for determination (subject to the Terms of Reference), parties are advised, where appropriate, to consider applying to an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland or settling their dispute by other means.

VI.

Access to the Scheme

20. The Scheme is an entirely voluntary system of dispute resolution, it will only apply if parties have so agreed.

Requirements for entry into the Scheme

21. Any agreement to submit a dispute to arbitration under the Scheme must satisfy the following requirements (an “Arbitration Agreement”):

- (i) the agreement must be in writing;
- (ii) the agreement must concern an existing dispute;
- (iii) the agreement must not seek to alter or vary any provision of the Scheme;
- (iv) the agreement must have been reached either:
 - (a) where the LRA has taken action under Article 20 of the Industrial Tribunals (Northern Ireland) Order 1996⁽¹⁾ and/or Article 88 of the

(1) S.I. 1996/1921 \(N.I. 18\)

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

Fair Employment and Treatment (Northern Ireland) Order 1998(2) (a “Conciliated Settlement”); or

(b) through a compromise agreement, where the conditions regulating such agreements under the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996 are satisfied (a “Compromise Agreement”).

(v) the agreement must be accompanied by a completed Waiver Form for each party, in the form of Appendix A.

22. Where an agreement fails to satisfy any one of these requirements, no valid reference to the Scheme will have been made, and the parties will have to settle their dispute by other means or have recourse to an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland.

23. Where:

(i) a dispute concerning unfair dismissal claims as well as other claims has been referred to an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland; and

(ii) the parties have agreed to settle the other claims and refer the unfair dismissal claim to arbitration under the Scheme, a separate settlement must be reached referring the unfair dismissal claim to arbitration which satisfies all the requirements listed above (although it may form part of one overall settlement document).

Notification to the LRA of an Arbitration Agreement

24. All Arbitration Agreements must be notified to the LRA within six weeks of their conclusion, by either of the parties or their independent advisers or representatives, or an LRA conciliator, sending a copy of the agreement and Waiver Forms, together with IT1/FET1 and IT3/FET3 forms if these have been completed, to the LRA.

25. For the purposes of the previous paragraph, an Arbitration Agreement is treated as “concluded” on the date it is signed, or if signed by different people at different times, on the date of the last signature.

26. Where an Arbitration Agreement is not notified to the LRA within six weeks, the LRA will not arrange for the appointment of an arbitrator under the Scheme, unless notification within that time was not reasonably practicable. Any party seeking to notify the LRA of an Arbitration Agreement outside this period must explain in writing to the LRA the reason for the delay. The LRA shall appoint an arbitrator, in accordance with the appointment provisions below, to consider the explanation, and that arbitrator may seek the views of the other party, and may call both parties to a hearing to establish the reasons for the delay. The arbitrator shall then rule in an award on whether or not the agreement can be accepted for hearing under the Scheme.

27. Any such hearing and award will be governed by the provisions of this Scheme.

Consolidation of proceedings

28. Where all parties so agree in writing, the LRA may consolidate, as appropriate, arbitral proceedings under the Scheme.

(2) S.I. 1998/3162 \(N.I. 21\)

VII.

Settlement and withdrawal from the Scheme

Withdrawal by the employee

29. At any stage of the arbitration process, once an Arbitration Agreement has been concluded and the reference has been accepted by the LRA, the party bringing the unfair dismissal claim (the employee) may withdraw from the Scheme, provided that any such withdrawal is in writing. Such a withdrawal shall constitute a dismissal of the claim.

Withdrawal by the employer

30. Once an Arbitration Agreement has been concluded and the reference has been accepted by the LRA, the party against whom a claim is brought (the employer) cannot unilaterally withdraw from the Scheme.

Settlement

31. Parties are free to reach an agreement settling the dispute at any stage.

32. If such an agreement is reached:

- (i) upon the joint written request of the parties to the LRA, the arbitrator (if appointed) or the LRA (if no arbitrator has been appointed) shall terminate the arbitration proceedings;
- (ii) if so requested by the parties, and where an arbitrator has been appointed, the arbitrator may record the settlement in the form of an agreed award (on a covering proforma). The LRA, on the request of the parties, will appoint an arbitrator to record the settlement in the form of an agreed award (on a covering proforma).

33. An agreed award shall state that it is an award of the arbitrator by consent and shall have the same status and effect as any other award on the merits of the case.

34. In rendering an agreed award, the arbitrator:

- (i) may only record the parties' agreed wording;
- (ii) may not approve, vary, transcribe, interpret or ratify a settlement in any way;
- (iii) may not record any settlement beyond the scope of the Scheme, the Arbitration Agreement or the reference to the Scheme as initially accepted by the LRA.

VIII.

Appointment of Arbitrators

The LRA Arbitration Panel

35. Arbitrators are selected to serve on the LRA Arbitration Panel on the basis of their practical knowledge and experience of discipline and dismissal issues in the workplace and good employment relations practice. They are recruited through an open recruitment exercise, and appointed to the Panel on the basis of standard terms of appointment. It is a condition of their appointment that they exercise their duties in accordance with the terms of this Scheme. Each appointment is initially for a period of three years, although it may be renewed by the LRA, at the latter's discretion. Payment is made by the LRA on the basis of a fee for each case heard.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

Appointment to a case

36. Arbitral appointments are made exclusively by the LRA from the LRA Arbitration Panel. Parties will have no choice of arbitrator.

37. Once the LRA has been notified of a valid Arbitration Agreement, it will select and appoint an arbitrator, and notify all parties of the name of the arbitrator so appointed. In making or reviewing an appointment the LRA will take into account matters such as conflicts of interest.

Arbitrators' duty of disclosure

38. Arbitrators have a continuing duty to disclose to the LRA any matter relating to the appropriateness, propriety, impartiality or conflict of interest concerning their appointment to hear a case. In support of this arbitrators will be required to disclose their interests to the LRA. The LRA will hold a register of arbitrators' interests. Notwithstanding arbitrators disclosing their continuing interests, the register will be formally updated on an annual basis.

39. Once appointed, and until the arbitration is concluded, every arbitrator shall be under a continuing duty forthwith to disclose to the LRA any such interests which may have arisen since appointment.

Removal of an arbitrator

40. Arbitrators may only be removed by the LRA or the court (under the provisions in paragraphs 41 to 43 below).

41. Applications under the Scheme to remove an arbitrator on any of the grounds set out in sections 24(1)(a) and (c) of the Arbitration Act 1996 shall be made in the first instance to the LRA.

42. If the LRA refuses such an application, a party may thereafter apply to the court.

43. Sections 24(1)(a) and (c), 24(2), 24(3), 24(5) and 24(6) of the Arbitration Act 1996(3) shall apply to arbitrations conducted in accordance with the Scheme, subject to the following modifications—

(a) in subsection (1), for “(upon notice to the other parties, to the arbitrator concerned and to any other arbitrator) apply to the court” substitute “(upon notice to the other party, to the arbitrator concerned and to the Labour Relations Agency apply to the High Court or the Belfast Recorder’s Court”; and

(b) in subsection (2)—

(i) omit “If there is an arbitral or other institution or person vested by the parties with power to remove an arbitrator”; and

(ii) for “that institution or person” substitute “the Labour Relations Agency”.

44. The arbitrator may continue the proceedings and make an award while an application to the LRA (as well as the court) to remove her/him is pending.

Death of an arbitrator

45. The authority of an arbitrator is personal and ceases on her/his death.

Replacement of an arbitrator

46. Where an arbitrator ceases to hold an appointment for any reason, s/he shall be replaced by the LRA in accordance with the appointment provisions above.

47. Once appointed, the replacement arbitrator shall determine whether and, if so, to what extent the previous proceedings should stand.

IX.

General Duty of the Arbitrator

48. The arbitrator shall:

- (i) act fairly and impartially as between the parties, giving each party a reasonable opportunity of putting her/his case and dealing with that of the other party; and
- (ii) adopt procedures suitable to the circumstances of the particular case, avoiding unnecessary delay or expense, so as to provide a fair means for the resolution of the matters to be determined.

49. The arbitrator shall comply with the general duty (see paragraph 48 above) in conducting the arbitral proceedings, in her/his decisions on matters of procedure and evidence and in the exercise of all other powers conferred on her/him.

X.

General Duty of the Parties

50. The parties shall do all things necessary for the proper and expeditious conduct of the arbitral proceedings. This includes (without limitation) complying without delay with any determination of the arbitrator as to procedural or evidential matters, or with any order or directions of the arbitrator, and co-operating in the arrangement of any hearing.

XI.

Confidentiality and Privacy

51. Arbitrations, and all associated procedures under the Scheme, are strictly private and confidential.

52. The arbitrator, the parties and an officer of the LRA will attend the hearings. In addition only the representatives of the parties, any interpreters, witnesses and a legal adviser, if appointed, (para.92) may attend hearings. If the parties so agree, an arbitrator and/or an LRA officer in training may also attend.

XII.

Arrangements for the Hearing

Initial arrangements

53. A hearing must be held in every case, notwithstanding any agreement between the parties to a purely written procedure.

54. Once an arbitrator has been appointed a hearing shall be arranged as soon as reasonably practicable by the LRA.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

55. The LRA, in conjunction with the arbitrator, shall decide the date and venue for the hearing.

56. The LRA shall contact all parties with details of the date and venue for the hearing.

Expedited hearings

57. If:

- (i) before the parties have agreed to refer a dispute to arbitration under the Scheme, an industrial tribunal makes an order under interim relief provisions;

or

- (ii) in the arbitrator's discretion, other relevant circumstances exist, the LRA may expedite the hearing, on the application of any party.

Venue

58. Hearings will be held in the LRA Head or Regional Office. In exceptional circumstances alternative venues may be considered. Any formal application for a venue other than the LRA offices must be made, in writing, with reasons, to the LRA within 14 days of the date of the letter notifying of the hearing arrangements. Such applications will be determined by the LRA after all parties have received a copy of the formal application and been given a reasonable opportunity to respond.

59. Where premises have to be hired for a hearing, the LRA shall meet the reasonable costs of so doing.

Assistance

60. Where a party needs the services of an interpreter, signer or communicator at the hearing, the LRA should be so informed well in advance of the hearing. Where such assistance is required, the LRA shall meet the reasonable costs of providing this.

Travelling expenses/loss of earnings

61. Every party shall meet its own travelling expenses and those of its representatives and witnesses.

62. No loss of earnings is payable by the LRA to anyone involved in the arbitration. However, where an arbitrator rules that a dismissal was unfair, s/he may include in the calculation of any compensation a sum to cover reasonable travelling expenses and loss of earnings incurred by the employee personally in attending the hearing.

Applications for postponements of initial hearings

63. Any application for a postponement of an initial hearing must be made in writing, with reasons, to the LRA within 14 days of the date of the letter notifying the hearing arrangements. Such applications will be determined by the arbitrator without an oral hearing after all parties have received a copy of the application and been given a reasonable opportunity to respond.

64. If the application is rejected, the initial hearing will be held on the original date.

65. This provision does not affect the arbitrator's general discretion (set out below) with respect to postponements after an initial hearing has been fixed, or with respect to other aspects of the procedure. In particular, procedural applications may be made to the arbitrator at the hearing itself.

XIII.

Non-compliance with Procedure

66. If a party fails to comply with any aspect of the procedure set out in this Scheme, or any order or direction by the arbitrator, or fails to comply with the general duty in section X above, the arbitrator may (in addition to any other power set out in this Scheme):

- (i) adjourn any hearing, where it would be unfair on any party to proceed; and/or
- (ii) draw such inferences from the act of non-compliance as the circumstances justify.

XIV.

Outline of procedure before the Hearing

67. Once a hearing has been fixed, the following procedure shall apply, subject to any direction by the arbitrator.

Written materials

68. At least 14 days before the date of the hearing, each party shall send to the LRA (for forwarding to the arbitrator and the other party, and for retention by the LRA Arbitration Section) three copies of a written statement of case, together with three copies of:

- (i) any supporting documentation or other material to be relied upon at the hearing; and where appropriate
- (ii) a list of the names and title/role of all those persons who will accompany each party to the hearing or be called as a witness.

69. Written statements of case should briefly set out the main particulars of each party's case, which can then be expanded upon if necessary at the hearing itself. The statement should include an explanation of the events leading to the dismissal, including an account of the sequence and outcome of any relevant meetings, interviews or discussions. The parties should come to the hearing prepared to address the practicability of reinstatement or re-engagement, in so far as the employee seeks such remedies.

70. Supporting documentation or other material may include (without limitation) copies of:

- (i) contracts of employment;
- (ii) letters of appointment;
- (iii) written statement of particulars of employment;
- (iv) time sheets and attendance records;
- (v) performance appraisal reports;
- (vi) warning and dismissal letters;
- (vii) written reasons for dismissal, where these have been given;
- (viii) company handbooks, rules and procedures;
- (ix) any information which will help the arbitrator to assess compensation, including (without limitation):
 - (a) pay slips, P60s or wage records;
 - (b) details of benefits paid to the employee such as travelling expenses and free or subsidised accommodation;

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

- (c) guidance about, and (if available) actuarial assessments of, pension entitlements;
 - (d) details of any welfare benefits received;
 - (e) evidence of attempts to find other work, or otherwise mitigate the loss arising from the dismissal.
- (x) signed statements of any witnesses or outlines of evidence to be given by witnesses at the hearing.

71. The parties must also supply details of any relevant awards of compensation that may have been made by any other tribunal or court in connection with the subject matter of the claim.

72. Legible copies of documents must be supplied to the LRA even if they have already been supplied to an LRA conciliator before the Arbitration Agreement was concluded.

73. No information on the conciliation process, if any, in respect of the case to be heard by the arbitrator shall be disclosed by the LRA to the arbitrator.

Submissions, evidence and witnesses not previously notified

74. Written statements of case and documentary or other material that have not been provided to the LRA prior to the hearing (in accordance with paragraph 68 above) may only be relied upon at the hearing with the arbitrator's permission.

75. All representatives and witnesses who have been listed as accompanying a party at the hearing should be present at the start of the hearing. Witnesses who have not been included in a list submitted to the LRA prior to the hearing may only be called with the arbitrator's permission.

Requests for documents

76. Any party may request the other party to include in their submission, or submit through the LRA or the arbitrator (as appropriate), copies of relevant documents that are not in the requesting party's possession, custody or control. Although the LRA and the arbitrator have no power to compel a party to comply, the arbitrator may draw an inference from a party's failure to comply with a reasonable request.

Requests for attendance of witnesses

77. Although the arbitrator has no power to compel the attendance of any person at the hearing, the arbitrator may draw an inference if an employer who is a party to the arbitration fails or refuses to allow current employees or other workers (who have relevant evidence to give) time off from work to attend the hearing, should such an employer be so requested.

Preliminary hearings and directions

78. Where the arbitrator believes that there may be considerable differences between the parties over any issue, including the availability or exchange of documents, or the availability of witnesses, the arbitrator may call, through the LRA, the parties to a preliminary hearing to address such issues, or s/he may determine procedural directions.

79. In the course of a preliminary hearing and/or through the LRA, the arbitrator may express views on the desirability of information and/or evidence being available at the hearing.

XV.

Outline of Procedure at the Hearing

Arbitrator's overall discretion

80. Subject to the arbitrator's general duty (Section IX above), and subject to the provisions set out below, the conduct of the hearing and all procedural and evidential matters (including applications for adjournments) shall be for the arbitrator to decide.

Administration

81. The LRA shall provide administrative services to the arbitrator during the course of the hearing. However, no formal minute of the proceedings will be kept.

Witnesses

82. No party or witness shall be cross-examined by a party or representative, or examined on oath or affirmation.

Examination by the arbitrator

83. The arbitrator shall have the right to address questions directly to either party or to any other person attending the hearing, and to take the initiative in ascertaining the facts and (where applicable) the law.

Representatives

84. The parties may be accompanied by any person chosen by them to help them to present their case at the hearing, although no special status will be accorded to legally qualified persons. Each party is liable for any fees or expenses incurred by any person attending on their behalf.

Strict rules of evidence

85. The arbitrator will not apply strict rules of evidence (or any other rules) as to the admissibility, relevance or weight of any material (oral, written or other) sought to be tendered on any matters of fact or opinion.

Interim relief

86. The arbitrator shall have no power to order provisional or interim relief.

Non-attendance at the hearing

87. If, without showing sufficient cause, a party fails to attend or be represented at a hearing, the arbitrator may:

- (i) continue the hearing in that party's absence or in the absence of that party's representative, and in such a case shall take into account any written submissions and documents that have already been submitted by that party;

or

- (ii) adjourn the hearing.

88. In the case of the non-attendance of the employee, if the arbitrator decides to adjourn the hearing, s/he may request, in writing, through the LRA that the employee provides an explanation for the non-attendance. If the arbitrator decides that the employee has not demonstrated sufficient cause for the non-attendance, s/he may rule in an award that the claim be treated as dismissed.

Post-hearing written materials

89. No further submissions or evidence will be accepted after the end of the substantive hearing without the arbitrator's permission, which will only be granted in exceptional circumstances. Where permission is granted, any material is to be sent to the LRA, to be forwarded to the arbitrator and all other parties.

XVI.

Questions of EC Law and the Human Rights Act 1998

Appointment of legal adviser

90. The arbitrator shall have the power, on the application of any party or of her/his own volition, to require the appointment of a legal adviser to assist with respect to any issue of EC law or the Human Rights Act 1998 that, in the arbitrator's view and subject to paragraph 12 above (Arbitrator's Terms of Reference), might be involved and be relevant to the resolution of the dispute.

91. The legal adviser will be appointed by the LRA, to report to the arbitrator and the parties, and shall be subject to the duty of disclosure set out in paragraphs 38 and 39 above.

92. The arbitrator shall allow the legal adviser to attend the proceedings, and may order an adjournment to facilitate this.

93. The parties shall be given a reasonable opportunity to comment to the arbitrator on any information, opinion or advice offered by the legal adviser, following which the arbitrator shall take such information, opinion or advice into account in determining the dispute.

Court determination of preliminary points

94. Section 45 of the Arbitration Act 1996(4) shall apply to arbitrations conducted in accordance with the Scheme, subject to the following modifications –

(a) in subsection (1)–

(i) for “Unless otherwise agreed by the parties, the court” substitute “The High Court or the Belfast Recorder’s Court”;

(ii) for “any question of law” substitute “any question (a) of EC law, or (b) concerning the application of the Human Rights Act 1998”; and

(iii) omit “An agreement to dispense with reasons for the tribunal’s award shall be considered an agreement to exclude the court’s jurisdiction under this section.”;

(b) omit sub-paragraph (i) from subsection (2)(b);

(c) omit subsection (4); and

(d) after subsection (6), insert–

“(7) In this section, “EC law” means–

(a) any provision in the domestic legislation of Northern Ireland giving effect to rights, powers, liabilities, obligations and restrictions from time to time created or arising by or under the European Community Treaties, and

- (b) any such rights, powers, liabilities, obligations and restrictions which are not given effect by any such provision.”

XVII.

Automatic Unfairness

95. In deciding whether the dismissal was fair or unfair, subject to paragraph 12 above (Arbitrator’s Terms of Reference), the arbitrator shall have regard to:

- (i) any provision of Part XI of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996 (as amended from time to time) requiring a dismissal for a particular reason to be regarded as unfair; and
- (ii) any other legislative provision requiring a dismissal for a particular reason to be regarded as unfair for the purpose of Part XI of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996.

XVIII.

Awards

Form of the award

96. The award shall be in writing, signed by the arbitrator.

97. The award (unless it is an agreed award) shall:

- (i) identify the reason (or, if more than one, the principal reason) for the dismissal (or, in a redundancy case, the reason for which the employee was selected for dismissal);
- (ii) contain the main considerations which were taken into account in reaching the decision that the dismissal was fair or unfair;
- (iii) state the decision(s) of the arbitrator;
- (iv) state the remedy awarded, together with an explanation;
- (v) state the date when it was made.

Awards on different issues

98. The arbitrator may make more than one award at different times on different aspects of the matters to be determined.

99. The arbitrator may, in particular, make an award relating:

- (i) to an issue affecting the whole claim; or
- (ii) to a part only of the claim submitted to her/him for a decision.

100. If the arbitrator does so, s/he shall specify in her/his award the issue, or the claim or part of a claim, which is the subject matter of the award.

Remedies

101. In every case, the arbitrator shall:

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

- (i) explain to the employee what orders for reinstatement or re-engagement may be made in an award and under what circumstances these may be granted; and
- (ii) ask the employee whether, in the event that the arbitrator finds the dismissal is unfair, s/he wishes the arbitrator to make such an award.

102. In the event that the arbitrator finds that the dismissal was unfair:

- (i) if the employee expresses such a wish, the arbitrator may make, in an award, an order for reinstatement or re-engagement (in accordance with the provisions below); or
- (ii) if no such order for reinstatement or re-engagement is made, the arbitrator shall make an award of compensation (calculated in accordance with the provisions below) to be paid by the employer to the employee.

103. In cases where the arbitrator finds that the dismissal was unfair by reason of the operation of EC law, the arbitrator shall apply the relevant provisions of Northern Ireland law with respect to remedies for unfair dismissal, in so far as these may differ from sections XIX and XX of the Scheme.

XIX.

Awards of Reinstatement or Re-engagement

Definitions

104. An order for reinstatement (which must be in the form of an award) is an order that the employer shall treat the employee in all respects as if s/he had not been dismissed.

105. An order for re-engagement (which must be in the form of an award) is an order, on such terms as the arbitrator may decide, that the employee be engaged by the employer, or by a successor of the employer or by an associated employer, in employment comparable to that from which s/he was dismissed or in other suitable employment.

Choice of remedy

106. In exercising her/his discretion with respect to the remedy to be awarded under paragraph 102(i) above, the arbitrator shall first consider whether to make an order for reinstatement, and in so doing shall take into account:

- (i) whether the employee wishes to be reinstated;
- (ii) whether it is practicable for the employer to comply with an order for reinstatement; and
- (iii) where the employee caused or contributed to some extent to the dismissal, whether it would be just to order her/his reinstatement.

107. If the arbitrator decides not to make an order for reinstatement, s/he shall then consider whether to make an order for re-engagement and, if so, on what terms. In so doing, the arbitrator shall take into account:

- (i) any wish expressed by the employee as to the nature of the order to be made;
- (ii) whether it is practicable for the employer (or a successor or an associated employer) to comply with an order for re-engagement; and
- (iii) where the employee caused or contributed to some extent to the dismissal, whether it would be just to order her/his re-engagement and (if so) on what terms.

108. If ordering re-engagement, the arbitrator shall do so on terms which are, so far as is reasonably practicable, as favourable as an order for reinstatement (with the exception of cases where contributory fault has been taken into account under paragraph 107(iii) above).

Permanent replacements

109. Where in any case an employer has engaged a permanent replacement for a dismissed employee, the arbitrator shall not take that fact into account in determining, for the purposes of paragraphs 106(ii) and 107(ii) above, whether it is practicable to comply with an order for reinstatement or re-engagement. This does not apply, however, where the employer shows:

- (i) that it was not practicable for her/him to arrange for the dismissed employee's work to be done without engaging a permanent replacement;

or

- (ii) that—

- (a) s/he engaged the replacement after the lapse of a reasonable period, without having heard from the dismissed employee that s/he wished to be reinstated or re-engaged, and
 - (b) when the employer engaged the replacement it was no longer reasonable for her/him to arrange for the dismissed employee's work to be done except by a permanent replacement.

Reinstatement

110. On making an order for reinstatement, the arbitrator shall specify:

- (i) any amount payable by the employer in respect of any benefit which the employee might reasonably be expected to have had but for the dismissal (including arrears of pay) for the period between the date of termination of employment and the date of reinstatement;
- (ii) any rights and privileges (including seniority and pension rights) which must be restored to the employee; and
- (iii) the date by which the order must be complied with.

111. If the employee would have benefited from an improvement in her/his terms and conditions of employment had s/he not been dismissed, an order for reinstatement shall require her/him to be treated as if s/he had benefited from that improvement from the date on which s/he would have done so but for being dismissed.

112. In calculating for the purposes of paragraph 110(i) above any amount payable by the employer, the arbitrator shall take into account, so as to reduce the employer's liability, any sums received by the employee in respect of the period between the date of termination of employment and the date of reinstatement by way of:

- (i) wages in lieu of notice or ex gratia payments paid by the employer; or
- (ii) remuneration paid in respect of employment with another employer, and such other benefits as the arbitrator thinks appropriate in the circumstances.

Re-engagement

113. On making an order for re-engagement the arbitrator shall specify the terms on which re-engagement is to take place, including:

- (i) the identity of the employer;

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

- (ii) the nature of the employment;
- (iii) the remuneration for the employment;
- (iv) any amount payable by the employer in respect of any benefit which the employee might reasonably be expected to have had but for the dismissal (including arrears of pay) for the period between the date of termination of employment and the date of re-engagement;
- (v) any rights and privileges (including seniority and pension rights) which must be restored to the employee; and
- (vi) the date by which the order must be complied with.

114. In calculating, for the purposes of paragraph 113(iv) above, any amount payable by the employer, the arbitrator shall take into account, so as to reduce the employer's liability, any sums received by the employee in respect of the period between the date of termination of employment and the date of re-engagement by way of:

- (i) wages in lieu of notice or ex gratia payments paid by the employer; or
- (ii) remuneration paid in respect of employment with another employer, and such other benefits as the arbitrator thinks appropriate in the circumstances.

Continuity of employment

115. The employee's continuity of employment will be preserved in the same way as it would be under an award of an industrial tribunal.

XX.

Awards of Compensation

116. When an arbitrator makes an award of compensation, instead of an award for reinstatement or re-engagement, such compensation shall consist of a basic amount and a compensatory amount.

117. Where paragraph 142 below applies, an award of compensation shall also include a supplementary amount.

The basic amount

118. Subject to the following provisions the basic amount shall be calculated by:

- (i) determining the period, ending with the effective date of termination (see paragraph 119 below), during which the employee has been continuously employed (see paragraph 120 below);
- (ii) reckoning backwards from the end of that period the number of years of employment falling within that period; and
- (iii) allowing the appropriate amount (see paragraph 121 below) for each of those years of employment.

119. As to the "effective date of termination":

- (i) the "effective date of termination" means:
 - (a) in relation to an employee whose contract of employment is terminated by notice, whether given by her/his employer or by the employee, the date on which the notice expires;

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

- (b) in relation to an employee whose contract of employment is terminated without notice, the date on which the termination takes effect; and
- (c) in relation to an employee who is employed under a contract for a fixed term which expires without being renewed under the same contract, the date on which the term expires.

(ii) Where:

- (a) the contract of employment is terminated by the employer; and
- (b) the notice required by Article 118 of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996 (as amended from time to time) to be given by an employer would, if duly given on the material date, expire on a date later than the effective date of termination (as defined in paragraph 119 (i) above), the later date is the effective date of termination.

(iii) In paragraph 119(ii)(b) above, “the material date” means:

- (a) the date when notice of termination was given by the employer; or
- (b) where no notice was given, the date when the contract of employment was terminated by the employer.

(iv) Where:

- (a) the contract of employment is terminated by the employee; and
- (b) the material date does not fall during a period of notice given by the employer to terminate that contract; and
- (c) had the contract been terminated not by the employee but by notice given on the material date by the employer, that notice would have been required by Article 118 of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996 (as amended from time to time) to expire on a date later than the effective date of termination (as defined in paragraph 119(i) above), the later date is the effective date of termination.

(v) In paragraph 119 (iv) above, “the material date” means:

- (a) the date when notice of termination was given by the employee; or
- (b) where no notice was given, the date when the contract of employment was terminated by the employee.

120. In determining “continuous employment”, the arbitrator shall have regard to Chapter III of Part I of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996 (as amended from time to time).

121. The “appropriate amount” means:

- (i) one and a half weeks' pay for a year of employment in which the employee was aged forty-one or over;
- (ii) one week's pay for a year of employment (not within sub-paragraph (i) above) in which s/he was not below the age of twenty-two; and
- (iii) half a week's pay for a year of employment not within sub-paragraphs (i) or (ii) above.

122. In calculating the amount of a week's pay of an employee, the arbitrator shall have regard to Chapter IV of Part I of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996 (as amended from time to time), or any other relevant statutory provision applicable to the calculation of a week's pay.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

123. Where twenty years of employment have been reckoned under paragraph 118 above, no account shall be taken under that paragraph of any year of employment earlier than those twenty years.

124. Where the effective date of termination is after the sixty-fourth anniversary of the day of the employee's birth, the amount arrived at under paragraphs 118, 121 and 123 above shall be reduced by the "appropriate fraction" (see paragraph 125 below).

125. The "appropriate fraction" means the fraction of which:

- (i) the numerator is the number of whole months reckoned from the sixty-fourth anniversary of the day of the employee's birth in the period beginning with that anniversary and ending with the effective date of termination (see paragraph 119 above); and
- (ii) the denominator is twelve.

Minimum basic amounts in certain cases

126. A "minimum basic amount" shall apply where the arbitrator has found that the dismissal was unfair, and where the reason (or, if more than one, the principal reason):

- (i) in a redundancy case (see paragraph 129(i) below), for selecting the employee for dismissal; or
- (ii) otherwise, for the dismissal was one of the following:
 - (i) Health and safety cases
having been designated by the employer to carry out activities in connection with preventing or reducing risks to health and safety at work, the employee carried out (or proposed to carry out) any such activities;
 - (ii) being a representative of workers on matters of health and safety at work or member of a safety committee:
 - (a) in accordance with arrangements established under or by virtue of any statutory provision; or
 - (b) by reason of being acknowledged as such by the employer, the employee performed (or proposed to perform) any functions as such a representative or a member of such a committee;
 - (iii) Working time cases
being:
 - (a) a representative of members of the workforce for the purposes of Schedule 1 to the Working Time Regulations Order (Northern Ireland) 1998⁽⁵⁾ (as amended from time to time); or
 - (b) a candidate in an election in which any person elected will, on being elected, be such a representative, the employee performed (or proposed to perform) any functions or activities as such a representative or candidate;
 - (iv) Trustees of occupational pension schemes
being a trustee of a relevant occupational pension scheme which relates to her/his employment, the employee performed (or proposed to perform) any functions as such a trustee;

(5) S.R. 1998/386 as amended by S.R. 1998/422 and S.R. 2000/7

(v) Employee representatives

being:

- (a) an employee representative for the purposes of Part XIII of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996 (redundancies) or regulations 10 and 11 of the Transfer of Undertakings (Protection of Employment) Regulations 1981(6) (as amended from time to time); or
- (b) a candidate in an election in which any person elected will, on being elected, be such an employee representative, the employee performed (or proposed to perform) any functions or activities as such an employee representative or candidate;

- (vi) the employee took part in an election of employee representatives for the purposes of Part XIII of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996 (redundancies) or regulations 10 and 11 of the Transfer of Undertakings (Protection of Employment) Regulations 1981 (as amended from time to time);

(vii) Union membership or activities

the employee:

- (a) was, or proposed to become, a member of an independent trade union; or
- (b) had taken part, or proposed to take part, in the activities of an independent trade union at an appropriate time; or
- (c) was not a member of any trade union, or of a particular trade union, or of one of a number of particular trade unions, or had refused, or proposed to refuse, to become or remain a member.

- (viii) For the purposes of paragraphs (vii) above to (xi) below, in defining the terms “trade union” and “independent trade union”, the arbitrator shall have regard to Articles 2 and 3 of the Industrial Relations (Northern Ireland) Order 1992, (as amended from time to time).

- (ix) For the purposes of paragraph (vii)(b) above, an “appropriate time” means:

- (a) a time outside the employee’s working hours; or
- (b) a time within her/his working hours at which, in accordance with arrangements agreed with or consent given by her/his employer, it is permissible for her/him to take part in the activities of a trade union; and for this purpose “working hours”, in relation to an employee, means any time when, in accordance with her/his contract of employment, s/he is required to be at work.

- (x) Where the reason, or one of the reasons, for the dismissal was:

- (a) the employee’s refusal, or proposed refusal, to comply with a requirement (whether or not imposed by her/his contract of employment or in writing) that, in the event of her/his not being a member of any trade union, or of a particular trade union, or of one of a number of particular trade unions, s/he must make one or more payments; or
- (b) her/his objection, or proposed objection, (however expressed) to the operation of a provision (whether or not forming part of her/his contract of employment or in writing) under which, in the event mentioned in paragraph (x)(a) above, her/his employer is entitled to deduct one or more sums from the remuneration payable to her/him in respect of her/his employment; the reason shall be treated as falling within paragraph (vii)(c) above.

- (xi) References in paragraphs (vii) to (x) above to being, becoming or ceasing to remain a member of a trade union include references to being, becoming or ceasing to remain a member of a particular branch or section of that union or of one of a number of particular branches or sections of that trade union; and references to taking part in the activities of a trade union shall be similarly construed.

(xii) Other categories

Where the reason or principal reason for the dismissal of the employee qualifies under any other applicable legislative provision for a minimum basic award.

127. Before any reductions are taken into account under paragraphs 130-134 below (“Reductions to the basic amount”), the “minimum basic amount” shall not be less than:

- (i) in cases within paragraph 126(i), (ii), (iii), (iv), (v), (vi) and (vii) above, the amount provided for in Article 154(1) of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996, (as amended from time to time);
- (ii) in cases within paragraph 126(xii) above, the amount provided for in the relevant legislation.

Basic amount of two weeks' pay in certain cases

128. Where:

- (i) the arbitrator finds that the reason (or, where there is more than one, the principal reason) for the dismissal of the employee is that s/he was redundant; and
- (ii) the employee:
 - (a) by virtue of Article 173 of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996, (as amended from time to time), is not regarded as dismissed for the purposes of Part XII of that Order; or
 - (b) by virtue of Article 176 of that Order, (as amended from time to time), is not, or (if s/he were otherwise entitled) would not be, entitled to a redundancy payment, the basic amount shall be two weeks' pay (for the definition of “week's pay”, see paragraph 122 above).

129. For the purposes of this Scheme:

- (i) for the definition of “redundancy”, the arbitrator shall have regard to Article 174 of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996, (as amended from time to time);
- (ii) for the definition of “redundancy payment”, the arbitrator shall have regard to Part XII of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996, (as amended from time to time).

Reductions to the basic amount

130. Where the arbitrator finds that the employee has unreasonably refused an offer by the employer which (if accepted) would have the effect of reinstating the employee in her/his employment in all respects as if s/he had not been dismissed, the arbitrator shall reduce or further reduce the basic amount to such extent as s/he considers just and equitable having regard to that finding.

131. Where the arbitrator considers that any conduct of the employee before the dismissal (or, where the dismissal was with notice, before the notice was given) was such that it would be just and equitable to reduce or further reduce the basic amount to any extent, the arbitrator shall reduce or further reduce that amount accordingly. In assessing such conduct, the arbitrator shall disregard (if relevant) those matters set out in Article 161 of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996, (as amended from time to time).

132. The preceding paragraph does not apply in a redundancy case (see paragraph 129(i) above) unless the reason for selecting the employee for dismissal was one of those specified in paragraph 126 above (“Minimum basic amounts in certain cases”), and in such a case, the preceding paragraph applies only to so much of the basic amount as is payable because of paragraph 126 above.

133. Where the employee has been awarded any amount in respect of the dismissal under a dismissal procedures agreement designated under Article 142 of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996 (as amended from time to time), the arbitrator shall reduce or further reduce the amount of the basic award to such extent as s/he considers just and equitable having regard to that award.

134. The basic amount shall be reduced or further reduced by the amount of any payment made by the employer to the employee on the ground that the dismissal was by reason of redundancy (whether in pursuance of Part XII of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996, (as amended from time to time), or otherwise).

The compensatory amount

135. Subject to the following provisions the compensatory amount shall be such as the arbitrator considers just and equitable in all the circumstances having regard to the loss sustained by the employee in consequence of the dismissal, in so far as that loss is attributable to action taken by the employer.

136. The loss referred to in paragraph 135 above shall be taken to include:

- (i) any expenses reasonably incurred by the employee in consequence of the dismissal; and
- (ii) (subject to (iii) below) loss of any benefit which s/he might reasonably be expected to have had but for the dismissal;
- (iii) in respect of any loss of:
 - any entitlement or potential entitlement to a payment on account of dismissal by reason of redundancy (whether in pursuance of Part XII of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996, (as amended from time to time), or otherwise; or
 - any expectation of such a paymentonly the loss referable to the amount (if any) by which such a payment would have exceeded the basic amount in respect of the same dismissal (as calculated under the provisions set out above, but excluding any reductions under paragraphs 130-134 above (“Reductions to the basic amount”)).

137. In ascertaining the loss referred to in paragraph 135 above, the arbitrator shall apply the principle that a person has a duty to mitigate her/his loss.

138. In determining, for the purposes of paragraph 135 above, how far any loss sustained by the employee was attributable to action taken by the employer, no account shall be taken of any pressure which by:

- (i) calling, organising, procuring or financing a strike or other industrial action;

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

or

(ii) threatening to do so,

was exercised on the employer to dismiss the employee; and that question shall be determined as if no such pressure had been exercised.

Reductions to the compensatory amount

139. Where the arbitrator finds that the dismissal was to any extent caused or contributed to by any conduct of the employee, s/he shall reduce the compensatory amount by such proportion as s/he considers just and equitable having regard to that finding. In assessing such conduct, the arbitrator shall disregard (if relevant) those matters set out in Article 161 of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996, (as amended from time to time).

140. If:

- (i) any payment was made by the employer to the employee on the ground that the dismissal was by reason of redundancy (whether in pursuance of Part XII of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996, (as amended from time to time), or otherwise); and
- (ii) the amount of such a payment exceeds the basic amount that would have been payable (under the provisions set out above, excluding for this purpose reductions on account of redundancy payments (see paragraph 129 above)), that excess goes to reduce the compensatory amount.

Internal appeal procedures

141. Where an award of compensation is to be made, and the arbitrator finds that:

- (i) the employer provided a procedure for appealing against dismissal; and
- (ii) the employee was, at the time of the dismissal or within a reasonable period afterwards, given written notice stating that the employer provided the procedure and including details of it; but
- (iii) the employee did not appeal against the dismissal under the procedure (otherwise than because the employer prevented her/him from doing so), the arbitrator shall reduce the compensatory amount included in an award of compensation by such amount (if any) as s/he considers just and equitable.

142. Where an award of compensation is to be made, and the arbitrator finds that:

- (i) the employer provided a procedure for appealing against dismissal; but
- (ii) the employer prevented the employee from appealing against the dismissal under the procedure, the award of compensation shall include a supplementary amount, being such amount (if any) as the arbitrator considers just and equitable.

143. In determining the amount of a reduction under paragraph 141 above or a supplementary amount under paragraph 142 above, the arbitrator shall have regard to all the circumstances of the case, including in particular the chances that an appeal under the procedure provided by the employer would have been successful.

144. The amount of such a reduction or supplementary amount shall not exceed the amount of two weeks' pay (for the definition of "week's pay", see paragraph 122 above).

Limits on the compensatory amount

145. With the exception of:

- (i) cases falling within Articles 132 or 137(3) of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996, (as amended from time to time) (Health and Safety Cases); and
- (ii) cases where the reason (or, if more than one, the principal reason):
 - (a) in a redundancy case, for selecting the employee for dismissal; or
 - (b) otherwise for the dismissal,was that the employee made a protected disclosure (within the meaning of Part VA of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996), (as amended from time to time); and
- (iii) cases falling within any other exception to the statutory limit, no compensatory amount awarded by an arbitrator shall exceed the statutory limit provided for in Article 158 of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996, (as amended from time to time).

146. The limit referred to above applies to the amount which the arbitrator would award (apart from paragraph 145 above) in respect of the subject matter of the complaint, after taking into account:

- (i) any payment made by the employer to the employee in respect of that matter; and
- (ii) any reduction in the amount of the award required by any statutory provision or case law.

Double recovery

147. Where the same acts of the employer are relied upon by the employee:

- (i) to ground a claim for unfair dismissal in arbitration; as well as
- (ii) to ground a claim in an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland for discrimination (under the Sex Discrimination (Northern Ireland) Order 1976(7) and/or the Race Relations (Northern Ireland) Order 1997(8) and/or the Disability Discrimination Act 1995(9) and/or the Fair Employment and Treatment (Northern Ireland) Order 1998(10), or any other relevant statute), the arbitrator shall not award compensation in respect of any loss or other matter which is to be or has been taken into account by an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland in awarding compensation with respect to the discrimination claim.

In this regard, the arbitrator shall have regard to any information supplied by the parties under paragraph 71 above.

XXI.

Issue of Awards and Confidentiality

148. The arbitrator's award shall be sent by the LRA to both parties.

(7) S.I. 1976/1042 (N.I. 15)

(8) S.I. 1997/869 (N.I. 6)

(9) 1995 c. 50

(10) S.I. 1998/3162 (N.I. 21)

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

149. The award shall be confidential, and shall only be issued to the parties or to their nominated advisers or representatives. Awards will not be published by the LRA, or lodged with an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland by the LRA, although awards may be retained by the LRA for monitoring and evaluation purposes, and, from time to time, the LRA may publish general summary information concerning cases heard under the Scheme, without identifying any individual cases.

XXII.

Correction of Awards

Scrutiny of awards by the LRA

150. Before being sent to the parties, awards may be scrutinised by the LRA to check for clerical or computational mistakes, errors arising from accidental slips or omissions, ambiguities, or errors of form. Without affecting the arbitrator's liberty of decision, the LRA may refer the award back to the arbitrator (under the provisions below) in order to draw her/his attention to any such point.

Correction by the arbitrator

151. The arbitrator may, on her/his own initiative or on the application of the LRA or of a party:

- (i) correct the award so as to remove any clerical or computational mistake, or error arising from an accidental slip or omission, or to clarify or remove any ambiguity in the award; or
- (ii) make an additional award in respect of any part of the claim which was presented to the arbitrator but was not dealt with in the award.

152. In so far as any such correction or additional award involves a new issue that was not previously before the parties, this power shall not be exercised without first affording the parties a reasonable opportunity to make written representations to the arbitrator.

153. Any application by a party for the exercise of this power must be made via the LRA within 28 days of the date the award was dispatched to the applying party by the LRA.

154. Any correction of the award shall be made within 28 days of the date the application was received by the arbitrator or, where the correction is made by the arbitrator on her/his own initiative, within 28 days of the date of the award.

155. Any additional award shall be made within 56 days of the date of the original award.

156. Any correction of the award shall form part of the award.

XXIII.

Effect of Awards, Enforcement and Interest

Effect of awards

157. Awards made by arbitrators under this Scheme are final and binding both on the parties and on any persons claiming through or under them.

158. This does not affect the right of a person to challenge an award under the provisions of the Arbitration Act 1996 as applied to this Scheme.

Enforcement

159.—(1) Section 66 of the Arbitration Act 1996(11) shall apply to arbitrations conducted in accordance with the Scheme, subject to the following modifications:

(2) In subsection (1) for “tribunal pursuant to an arbitration agreement” substitute “arbitrator pursuant to the Scheme (except for an award of reinstatement or re-engagement)”;

(3) In subsection (3) for “(see section 73)” substitute “(see section XXV of the Scheme)”;

(4) After subsection (4) insert—

“(5) In this section—

“the court” means the High Court or the Belfast Recorder’s Court; and

“the Scheme” means the arbitration scheme set out in the Schedule to the Labour Relations Agency Arbitration Scheme Order (Northern Ireland) 2002.”

160. Awards of reinstatement or re-engagement will be enforced by an industrial tribunal in accordance with Article 151 of the Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996 (enforcement by award of compensation), (as amended from time to time).

Interest

161. Awards of compensation that are not paid within 42 days of the date on which the award was dispatched by the LRA to the employer will attract interest on the same basis as for industrial tribunal awards.

XXIV.

Challenging the Award

Challenges on grounds of substantive jurisdiction

162.—(1) Section 67 of the Arbitration Act 1996(12) shall apply to arbitrations conducted in accordance with the Scheme, subject to the following modifications.

(2) In subsection (1)—

(2) In subsection (1)—

- (a) omit “Unless otherwise agreed by the parties”;

(13) 1996 c. 23

(14) 1996 c. 23

- (b) for “(upon notice to the other parties and to the tribunal) appeal to the court” substitute “(upon notice to the other party, to the arbitrator and to the Labour Relations Agency) appeal to the High Court or the Belfast Recorders Court”;
 - (c) for “a question of law” substitute “a question (a) of EC law, or (b) concerning the application of the Human Rights Act 1998”;
 - (d) omit “An agreement to dispense with reasons for the tribunal’s award shall be considered an agreement to exclude the court’s jurisdiction under this section”.
- (3) In subsection (2) after “section 70(2) and (3)” insert “as modified for the purposes of the Scheme”.
- (4) In subsection (3)—
- (a) omit paragraph (b);
 - (b) in paragraph (c) after the words “on the basis of the findings of fact in the award” insert, “in so far as the question for appeal raises a point of EC law, the point is capable of serious argument, and in so far as the question for appeal does not raise a point of EC law”.
- (5) In subsection (7) omit “The court shall not exercise its power to set aside an award, in whole or in part, unless it is satisfied that it would be inappropriate to remit the matters in question to the tribunal for reconsideration”.
- (6) After subsection (8) insert—
- “(9) In this section—
- “EC law” means—
- (a) any provision in the domestic legislation of Northern Ireland and giving effect to rights, powers, liabilities, obligations and restrictions from time to time created or arising by or under the European Community Treaties, and
 - (b) any such rights, powers, liabilities, obligations and restrictions which are not given effect by any such provision; and
- “the Scheme” means the arbitration scheme set out in the Schedule to the Labour Relations Agency Arbitration Scheme Order (Northern Ireland) 2002.”

Time limits and other procedural restrictions on challenges to awards

165.—(1) Section 70 of the Arbitration Act 1996⁽¹⁵⁾ shall apply to arbitrations conducted in accordance with the Scheme, subject to the following modifications.

- (2) In subsection (1) after “section 67, 68 or 69” insert “(as modified for the purposes of the Scheme)”.
- (3) In subsection (2)—
- (a) omit paragraph (a);
 - (b) in paragraph (b) for “section 57 (correction of award or additional award)” substitute “section XXII of the Scheme (Correction of Awards)”.
- (4) In subsection (3) for “of the award or, if there has been any arbitral process of appeal or review, of the date when the applicant or appellant was notified of the result of that process” substitute “the award was dispatched to the applicant or appellant by the Labour Relations Agency”.
- (5) Omit subsection (5).
- (6) After subsection (8) insert—

(15) 1996 c. 23

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

“(9) In this section “the Scheme” means the arbitration scheme set out in the Schedule to the Labour Relations Agency Arbitration Scheme Order (Northern Ireland) 2002”.

Common law challenges and saving

166. Sections 81(1)(c) and 81(2) of the Arbitration Act 1996⁽¹⁶⁾ shall apply to arbitrations conducted in accordance with the Scheme.

Challenge or appeal: effect of order of the court

167.—(1) Section 71 of the Arbitration Act 1996⁽¹⁷⁾ shall apply to arbitrations conducted in accordance with the Scheme, subject to the following modifications .

(2) In subsection (1) after “section 67, 68 and 69” insert “(as modified for the purposes of the Scheme)”.

(3) After subsection (3) insert—

“(3A) In this section, “the Scheme” means the arbitration scheme set out in the Schedule to the Labour Relations Agency Arbitration Scheme Order (Northern Ireland) 2002.”

(4) Omit subsection (4).

XXV.

Loss of right to Object

168. If a party to arbitral proceedings under this Scheme takes part, or continues to take part, in the proceedings without making, either forthwith or within such time as is allowed by the arbitrator or by any provision in this Scheme, any objection:

- (i) that the arbitrator lacks substantive jurisdiction (as defined in paragraph 162 above), aside from any jurisdictional objection with respect to the circumstances of the dismissal, which will be waived in any event, as set out in paragraphs 16-18 above;
- (ii) that the proceedings have been improperly conducted;
- (iii) that there has been a failure to comply with the Arbitration Agreement or any provision of this Scheme; or
- (iv) that there has been any other irregularity affecting the arbitrator or the proceedings,

s/he may not raise that objection later, before the arbitrator or the court, unless s/he shows that, at the time s/he took part or continued to take part in the proceedings, s/he did not know and could not with reasonable diligence have discovered the grounds for the objection.

XXVI.

Immunity

169. An arbitrator under this Scheme is not liable for anything done or omitted in the discharge or purported discharge of her/his functions as arbitrator unless the act or omission is shown to have been in bad faith. This applies to a legal adviser appointed by the LRA as it applies to the arbitrator her/himself.

⁽¹⁶⁾ 1996 c. 23

⁽¹⁷⁾ 1996 c. 23

170. The LRA, by reason of having appointed an arbitrator or nominated a legal adviser, is not liable for anything done or omitted by the arbitrator or legal adviser in the discharge or purported discharge of her/his functions.

XXVII.

Miscellaneous Provisions

Requirements in connection with legal proceedings

171.—(1) Sections 80(1), (2), (4), (5), (6) and (7) of the Arbitration Act 1996(18) shall apply to arbitrations conducted in accordance with the Scheme, subject to the following modification.

(2) In subsection (1) for “to the other parties to the arbitral proceedings, or to the tribunal” substitute “to the other party to the arbitral proceedings, or to the arbitrator; or to the Labour Relations Agency”.

Service of documents and notices on the LRA

172. Any notice or other document required or authorised to be given or served on the LRA for the purposes of the arbitral proceedings shall be sent by pre-paid post to the following address:

The Arbitration Secretary

Labour Relations Agency

2-8 Gordon Street

Belfast

BT1 2LG

or transmitted by facsimile, addressed to the Arbitration Secretary, at the number stipulated in the LRA Guide to the Scheme, or by electronic mail, at the address stipulated in the LRA Guide to the Scheme.

173. Paragraph 172 above does not apply to the service of documents on the LRA for the purposes of legal proceedings.

Service of documents or notices on any other person or entity (other than the LRA)

174. Any notice or other document required or authorised to be given or served on any person or entity (other than the LRA) for the purposes of the arbitral proceedings may be served by any effective means.

175. If such a notice or other document is addressed, pre-paid and delivered by post:

- (i) to the addressee’s last known principal residence or, if s/he is or has been carrying on a trade, profession or business, her/his last known principal business address; or
- (ii) where the address is a body corporate, to the body’s registered or principal office, it shall be treated as effectively served.

176. Paragraphs 174 and 175 above do not apply to the service of documents for the purposes of legal proceedings, for which provision is made by rules of court.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

Powers of court in relation to service of documents

177.—(1) Section 77 of the Arbitration Act 1996(19) shall apply to arbitrations conducted in accordance with the Scheme, subject to the following modifications:

(2) In subsection (1) omit “in the manner agreed by the parties, or in accordance with provisions of section 76 having effect in default of agreement”.

(3) In subsection (2) for “Unless otherwise agreed by the parties, the court” substitute “the High Court or the Belfast Recorder’s Court”.

(4) In subsection (3) for “Any party to the arbitration agreement may apply” substitute “The Labour Relations Agency or any party to the arbitration agreement may apply”.

Reckoning periods of time

178.—(1) Sections 78(2), (3), (4) and (5) of the Arbitration Act 1996(20) shall apply to arbitrations conducted in accordance with the Scheme, subject to the following modification:

(2) In subsection (2)—

(a) omit “If or to the extent that there is no such agreement,”;

(b) after “periods of time” insert “provided for in any provision of this Part”.

XXVIII.

Territorial Operation of the Scheme

Territorial Application

179. The Scheme applies to disputes involving an employer who resides or carries on business in Northern Ireland.

Appendix A Waiver of Rights

(19) 1996 c. 23

(20) 1996 c. 23

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

The Labour Relations Agency Arbitration Scheme ("the Scheme") is entirely voluntary. In agreeing to refer a dispute to arbitration under the Scheme, both parties agree to waive rights that they would otherwise have if, for example, they had referred their dispute to an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland. This follows from the informal nature of the Scheme, which is designed to be a confidential, relatively fast, cost-efficient and non-legalistic process.

As required by section VI of the Scheme, as a confirmation of the parties' agreement to waive their rights, this form must be completed by each party and submitted to the LRA together with the agreement to arbitration.

A detailed description of the informal nature of arbitration under the Scheme, and the important differences between this and an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland, is contained in the LRA Guide to the Scheme ("the LRA Guide"), which should be read by each party before completing this form.

The Scheme is not intended for disputes involving complex legal issues, or questions of EC law. Parties to such disputes are strongly advised to consider applying to an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland, or settling their dispute by other means.

This form does not list all the differences between the Scheme and an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland, or all of the features of the Scheme to which each party agrees in referring their dispute to arbitration.

I, the Applicant / Respondent / Respondent's duly authorised representative [delete as appropriate] confirm my agreement to each of the following conditions.

1. Unlike proceedings in an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland, all proceedings under the Scheme, including all hearings, are conducted in private. There are no public hearings, and the final award will be confidential.
2. All arbitrators under the Scheme are appointed by the LRA from the LRA Unfair Dismissal Arbitration Panel (which is a panel of impartial, mainly non-lawyer, arbitrators appointed by the LRA on fixed, but renewable, terms). The appointment process and the LRA Unfair Dismissal Arbitration Panel is described in the Scheme and the LRA Guide. Neither party will have any choice of arbitrator.
3. Proceedings under the Scheme are conducted differently from an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland. In particular:
 - arbitrators will conduct proceedings in an informal manner in all cases;
 - the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents cannot be compelled (although failure to co-operate may be taken into account by the arbitrator);
 - there will be no oaths or affirmations, and no cross-examination of witnesses by parties or their representatives;

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

the arbitrator will take the initiative in asking questions and ascertaining the facts (with the aim of ensuring that all relevant issues are considered), as well as hearing each side's statements;

the arbitrator's decision will only contain the main considerations that have led to the result; it will not contain full or detailed reasons;

— the arbitrator has no power to order interim relief.

4. In deciding whether or not the dismissal was fair or unfair, the arbitrator shall have regard to general principles of fairness and good conduct in employment relations (including, for example, principles referred to in any relevant Codes of Practice). Unlike an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland, the arbitrator will not apply strict legal tests or rules (e.g. court decisions or legislation), with certain limited exceptions set out in the Scheme (see e.g. paragraph 12). Similarly, in cases that do not involve EC law, the arbitrator will calculate compensation or award any other remedy in accordance with the terms of the Scheme, instead of applying strict legal tests or rules.
5. Unlike an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland, there is no right of appeal from awards of arbitrators under the Scheme (except for a limited right to appeal questions of EC law and, aside from procedural matters set out in the Scheme, questions concerning the Human Rights Act 1998).
6. Unlike an industrial tribunal or the Fair Employment Tribunal for Northern Ireland, in agreeing to arbitration under the Scheme, parties agree that there is no jurisdictional argument, i.e. no reason why the claim cannot be heard and determined by the arbitrator. In particular, the arbitrator will assume that a dismissal has taken place, and will only consider whether or not this was unfair. This is explained further in the Scheme and in the LRA Guide.
