STEP ONE – DEVELOP A CLEAR UNDERSTANDING OF YOUR OBJECTIVES

What are the intended impacts or outcomes?	The intended outcome of adding trade union nominees to college boards is to implement one of the recommendations of the Good College Governance Taskforce that were made in 2016 to improve governance of colleges by adding two trade union nominees to college boards.
How do these impacts potentially differ as between mainland and Island communities?	There are no identified differences in impact of the policy across the mainland and the islands.

STEP TWO – GATHER YOUR DATA AND IDENTIFY YOUR STAKEHOLDERS

What data is available about the current situation in the islands?	Data on the gender representation of college boards.
Do you need to consult?	The Scottish Government has consulted on this proposal, running an 8 week consultation, from 1 December 2022 to 27 January 2023.
Who are your key Stakeholders?	College boards, Good Governance Steering Group and trade unions.
How does any existing data differ between islands?	Data on the board composition by gender is available for all of Scotland's colleges.

You should now determine whether, in your opinion, your policy, strategy or service is likely to have an effect on an island community which is significantly different from its effect on other communities (including other island communities). To form your opinion, the following questions should be considered:

Are there mitigations in place for the impacts identified and noted above from stakeholders and community consultations? (If further ICIA action is not required, complete the section below and publish).	N/A
Does the evidence show different circumstances or different expectations or needs, or different experiences or outcomes as between whom? (such as levels of satisfaction, or different rates of participation)?	No
Are these different effects likely?	N/A
Are these effects significantly different?	No
Could the effect amount to a disadvantage for an island community compared to the mainland or between island groups?	No
If your answer is 'no' to the above questions, please complete the box below.

If the answer is 'yes', an ICIA must be prepared and you should proceed to Step 5.
