The Disability Assistance for Older
People (Scotland) Regulations 2024

PART 4

Pension Age Disability Payment after an interval

Pension Age Disability Payment after an interval

8.—(1) Where an individual makes an application for Pension Age Disability Payment and that individual had a previous award of Attendance Allowance or Pension Age Disability Payment which ended not more than two years before the date on which that application is made, regulation 5(6) (required period) does not apply to that individual.

(2) Paragraph (1) applies only where the determination of the application mentioned in paragraph (1) results in an award of Pension Age Disability Payment at the same rate as, or a lower rate than, the previous award.
