

SCHEDULE

RULES OF THE SCOTTISH LAND COURT 2014

Transition and citation

Transitional provision

117. The Principal Clerk shall give such directions in relation to any individual case or type of case as appear necessary to allow a smooth transition to use of these rules and, in particular, may excuse compliance with such provision of these rules as may appear to conflict with the reasonable expectations of parties as to procedure in respect of cases which commenced before the coming into effect of these rules.

Citation

118. These rules may be cited as the Rules of the Scottish Land Court 2014.
