

Church of England (Miscellaneous Provisions) Measure 2018

2018 No. 7

Church services

4 Funerals: conduct

- (1) A clerk in Holy Orders who is authorised to officiate in accordance with the Canons of the Church of England may perform a funeral service in a crematorium, cemetery or other place which is not a church or churchyard, and in which the clerk would not otherwise be entitled to perform the service, if—
- the persons concerned have asked the clerk to perform the service, and
 - the clerk has, so far as practicable, informed the relevant minister and sought his or her goodwill.

[^{F1}(1A) A duly authorised deaconess, reader or lay worker (a “lay office-holder”) may, with the consent of the incumbent or priest-in-charge of the benefice or parish to which the lay office-holder is licensed, perform a funeral service in a crematorium, cemetery or other place which is not a church or churchyard, and in which the lay office-holder would not otherwise be entitled to perform the service, if—

- the persons concerned have asked the lay office-holder to perform the service, and
- the lay office-holder has, so far as practicable, informed the relevant minister and sought his or her goodwill.

(1B) The reference in subsection (1A) to the incumbent or priest-in-charge of the benefice or parish is, where there is no such person, to be read as a reference to the rural dean of the deanery in which the benefice or parish is situated.]

- (2) The “relevant minister” is—
- the minister of the parish on whose electoral roll the deceased's name was entered, or
