

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM TO
THE POOLE (ELECTORAL CHANGES) ORDER 2015

2015 No. [XXXX]

1. This explanatory memorandum has been prepared by the Local Government Boundary Commission for England (the Commission) and is laid before Parliament by Command of Her Majesty.

2. Purpose of the instrument

2.1. The Order provides for new district wards and numbers of district councillors for the district of Poole at the district elections in 2015 and thereafter.

3. Matters of special interest to the Joint Committee on Statutory Instruments

3.1. None.

4. Legislative context

4.1. The Commission has power under section 59 of the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 (the 2009 Act) to make an order giving effect to recommendations contained in a report, prepared under section 58(4) of the 2009 Act, after conducting an electoral review under section 56(1) of that Act. This instrument is being made to give effect to the Commission's recommendations for new electoral arrangements set out in its report prepared following an electoral review of Poole Borough.

5. Territorial extent and application

5.1. This instrument applies to England.

6. European Convention on Human Rights

6.1. As the instrument is subject to the negative resolution procedure and does not amend primary legislation, no statement is required.

7. Policy background

- What is being done and why

7.1. The purpose of an electoral review is to decide on the appropriate electoral arrangements including the number of councillors and the names, number and boundaries of wards or divisions for a specific local authority. The Commission began the electoral review of Poole on 9th July 2013. The Commission decided to conduct the review as based on the December 2011 electorate figures, the numbers of electors per councillor in 35% of wards varied from the average by 10%.

7.2. An electoral review aims to ensure that the number of electors represented by each county or district councillor is as close to equal as possible, but the recommendations must also have regard to community identities and interests and the need for effective and convenient local government. To achieve these aims, the Commission tries to ensure that the number of electors per councillor in every division or ward is as close as possible to the average for the authority, but is happy to show flexibility in moving away from the average based on the evidence provided during the consultation stages of the review. Following a four-stage review process the Commission published its 'Final recommendations - New electoral arrangements for Poole Borough Council'¹ on 23rd September 2014.

7.3. The Order provides for changes to the electoral arrangements for the district of Poole at the district elections in 2015 as recommended by the Commission. The existing wards of the district will be replaced by sixteen new ones. Ten wards will return three councillors and six wards will each return two councillors. The Commission considered that the evidence received justified one ward having a variance predicted to vary by more than 10% from the authority average by 2019.

- Consolidation

7.4. The Order does not amend or revoke any legislation.

8. Consultation outcome

8.1. The Order gives effect to recommendations that were consulted on during the review of electoral arrangements from July 2013 until June 2014. There was an initial six week consultation, during which the Commission asked for proposals on the most appropriate number of councillors and a second 11 week consultation, during which the Commission asked for proposals on ward boundaries for the district. Having considered the submissions received, the Commission published its 'Draft recommendations - New electoral arrangements for Poole Borough Council'² on 15th April 2014. Following a further ten week consultation on the draft recommendations, the Commission considered the further evidence received and published its final recommendations.

8.2. During the course of the review, the Commission received over 450 representations. The consultations involved Poole Borough Council, local MPs and other interested parties. The Commission considered that a council size of 42 would ensure effective and convenient local government for the district. The Commission based its draft recommendations on the evidence received during the public consultation.

- 8.3. In response to the consultation on the draft recommendations, the Commission modified its recommendations in the Broadstone and Creekmoor areas. The Commission sought to address evidence received during consultation and achieve good levels of electoral equality while reflecting community identities and interests.
- 8.4. The Commission also received submissions opposing its proposed boundaries in some areas of Poole. In each of these cases, the Commission did not consider that satisfactory evidence had been received for it to alter its draft recommendations. The Commission therefore confirmed the remainder of its draft recommendations for the district as final.
- 8.5. A detailed analysis of the outcome of the consultation is set out in the report 'Final recommendations - New electoral arrangements for Poole Borough Council' which is available at <http://www.lgbce.org.uk/current-reviews/south-west/dorset/poole-fer>.

9. Guidance

- 9.1. The Commission does not intend to issue any guidance alongside this instrument. This is not considered necessary as the Order is self-explanatory and gives effect to recommendations following consultation with interested parties as to the changes to electoral arrangements.
- 9.2. Once the Order has been made, the Commission will publish a press release and distribute to local media advising that new electoral arrangements will be implemented at the next local elections. The press release will also direct interested parties to the Commission's website where the final recommendations will be available in detail.

10. Impact

- 10.1. No impact assessment has been prepared because no impact on the private sector or the voluntary sector is foreseen.
- 10.2. The impact on the public sector will be limited to the area for which the Order makes provision. The one-off cost of producing the map referred to by the instrument is to be funded by the Commission. The one-off cost of amending the electoral register to reflect the new district wards and parish wards is to be funded by Poole Borough Council.

11. Regulating small business

- 11.1. The Order does not apply to small business.

12. Monitoring and review

- 12.1. The Commission will have no role in monitoring Poole Borough Council's implementation of the Poole (Electoral Changes) Order 2015. The Commission is not required to undertake such monitoring; that is a matter for the relevant officers of Poole Borough Council.

- 12.2. The Order will be reviewed insofar as the Commission continually monitors local authorities in England to identify any that meet its criteria for electoral reviews.

13. Contact

- 13.1. Marcus Bowell at the Commission (Tel: 0207 664 8530 or email: marcus.bowell@lgbce.org.uk) can answer any queries regarding the instrument.
