2023 No.

The Electricity and Gas (Energy
Company Obligation) Order 2023

PART 10

Amendment of the 2022 Order

Saving provisions

50.—(1) With the exception of the amendments made by articles 40(a)(iii) and 49(b), the 2022 Order shall continue to have effect in relation to a measure completed before the day on which this Part comes into force as if the 2022 Order had not been amended by this Part.

(2) Where an assessment of the energy efficiency of domestic premises is performed using the Reduced Data Standard Assessment Procedure for Energy Rating of Dwellings (2012 Edition, version 9.92)(1) before the day on which this Part comes into force and is relied on by a participant for the purposes of the 2022 Order in relation to a measure installed at the domestic premises, the 2022 Order shall continue to have effect in relation to that measure as if the 2022 Order had not been amended by article 40(a)(iii).

(3) For the purposes of paragraph (1), a measure is completed when the installation of the measure is completed.

(4) In this article, “domestic premises” and “participant” have the meanings given in article 2(1) of the 2022 Order.
