- (a) that there will be adequate means of access for the fire brigade to the building or, as the case may be, to the building as extended; and
- (b) that the building or, as the case may be, the extension of the building will not render inadequate existing means of access for the fire brigade to a neighbouring building.

(2) (a) No requirement concerning means of access to a building or to a neighbouring building shall be made under this section in the case of a building to be erected or extended in pursuance of a planning permission granted upon an application made under the Act of 1971, unless notice of the provisions of this section is endorsed on or accompanies the planning permission.

the district council shall reject the plans unless they are satisfied, after consultation with the fire authority, that they may properly consent to the construction, extension, alteration or, as the case may be, the change of use of the building, either unconditionally, or subject to compliance with any conditions, specified in their consent, with respect to the matters mentioned in subsection (2) below for preventing the outbreak or spread of fire in or from the building or reducing danger from fire in the building.

(2) The conditions subject to compliance with which plans may be passed under subsection (1) above are conditions with respect to the provision and maintenance of such of the following as may, after consultation with the fire authority, appear to the district council to be necessary:—
