VICTORIÆ REGINÆ.

Cap. c.

An Act for improving the Site of the Royal Exchange in the City of London and the Avenues adjoining thereto. [10th August 1838.]

WHEREAS the Royal Exchange in the City of London has been recently destroyed by Fire: And whereas the Site of the said Royal Exchange is vested in the Mayor and Commonalty and Citizens of the City of London, and in the Wardens and Commonalty of the Mystery of Mercers of the City of London, upon certain Trusts declared by the Will of Sir Thomas Gresham, principally to provide Salaries for the Maintenance of Seven Lecturers in the several Sciences of Divinity, Astronomy, Music, Geometry, Law, Physic, and Rhetoric: And whereas the said Trustees are willing to rebuild the Royal Exchange upon the present Site, or upon an enlarged and improved Site: And whereas by an Act passed in the Eighth Year of the Reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled An Act for carrying into execution an Agreement made between the Mayor and Commonalty and Citizens of the City of London and the Wardens and Commonalty of the Mystery of Mercers of the said City and Stamp Brooksbank Esquire, Secretary to the Commissioners of His Majesty's Revenue of Excise, for the Purchase of Gresham College and the Ground and Buildings thereunto belonging, and for vesting the same unalienably in the Crown for the Purpose of erecting and building an Excise Office there; and 8 G. 3. c. 32.

for enabling the Lecturers of the said College to marry, notwithstanding any Restriction contained in the Will of Sir Thomas Gresham Knight, deceased, the College provided for the said Lecturers by Sir Thomas Gresham became, for the Consideration therein mentioned, unalienably vested in the Crown; and the said Mayor and Commonalty and Citizens of the City of London, and Wardens and Commonalty of the Mystery of Mercers of the City of London, being thereby required to provide some other sufficient and proper Place for the said Lecturers, did thereupon provide for this Purpose certain Rooms in the Royal Exchange, where the said Lecturers read their Lectures and had their Library until its recent Destruction by Fire: And whereas it would be of great Advantage to the Public if an enlarged Site were provided for the said Royal Exchange, and if the Streets and Avenues adjoining the same were widened and otherwise improved; and it is expedient that an adequate Sum not exceeding One hundred and fifty thousand Pounds should be raised as hereinafter provided for that Purpose: And whereas a Fund, called the Fund for improving the Approaches to London Bridge, was created by an Act passed in the Tenth Year of the Reign of King George the Fourth, intituled An Act for improving the Approaches to London Bridge, and thereby certain Tolls, Rates, and Duties therein mentioned were authorized to be raised and continued for a Term of Twenty-one Years, which will expire on the Fifth Day of July One thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, unless the Sums of Money charged thereon should be sooner paid off and discharged: And whereas by an Act passed in the Eleventh Year of the Reign of King George the Fourth, intituled An Act to make further Provision for defraying the Expences of making the Approaches to London Bridge, and the Removal of Fleet Market, the said Fund was increased, and all such several and respective Parts thereof as were not permanent were continued, and the whole thereof made applicable to the Purposes of the said Acts, until the Sums charged and to be charged thereon by virtue of the said Acts respectively should be paid off and discharged: And whereas the Income of the said Fund hath so much increased as to render it probable that if the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London in Common Council assembled were enabled to raise the said Sum of One hundred and fifty thousand Pounds on the Credit thereof the Surpluses of the said Fund would be amply sufficient to pay the Interest thereof, and also to pay off on or before the Fifth Day of July One thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight the Principal thereof, as well as the said Principal Sums of Money and Interest now remaining charged thereon: And whereas the South End of Bartholomew Lane, opposite the South-east Corner of the Bank of England and immediately fronting the North Gate of the said Royal Exchange, is very narrow and incommodious: And whereas by an Act passed in the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Years of the Reign of King George the Third, intituled An Act to empower the Governor and Company of the Bank of England to purchase certain Houses and Ground contiguous to the Bank of England, and to enable them to improve certain Avenues adjacent thereto, the said Governor and Company of the Bank of England were empowered to improve the said Southern End of Bartholomew Lane, and for that Purpose to treat and agree with the Reverend Graham Hanmer Clerk, Clerk, the then Rector of the said Parish of Saint Bartholomew, under the Sanction and Authority of the Surveyor General of His Majesty's Land Revenues and the Surveyor General of His Majesty's Works for the Time being, on behalf of His Majesty, the Patron of the said Rectory, and the Right Reverend Beilby then Lord Bishop of London, the Ordinary of the Diocese, and also with the Lessee and Lessees, Occupier and Occupiers, for the Purchase of Four Houses and Buildings forming the South-east Corner of Bartholomew Lane, which were Part of the Glebe belonging to the said Rectory; and also to make or cause to be made a Foot Passage through the lower Part of the Tower of Saint Bartholomew Church to lead from Threadneedle Street to Bartholomew Lane aforesaid: And whereas in consequence of the Death of the said Beilby Lord Bishop of London the Provisions contained in the said last-mentioned Act for the Improvement of the Southern End of Bartholomew Lane aforesaid could not be carried into effect, and it is expedient that the said Improvement should be made, and that the said Provisions should be revived for that Purpose; but as the Purposes aforesaid cannot be effected without the Aid of Parliament, may it please Your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That it shall be lawful for the said Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the said City of London, in Common Council assembled, and they are hereby authorized and empowered, to enlarge and improve the Site of the Royal Exchange, and to make spacious and convenient Streets around or adjoining to the same, according to such Plan as they shall think proper and as shall be approved of as herein-after is mentioned: Provided always, that in the first instance the Plan of the Site of the said Royal Exchange shall be approved in Writing by the Mayor and Commonalty and Citizens of the City of London and the Wardens and Commonalty of the Mystery of Mercers as Trustees of the Gresham Estates.
