

Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act 1919

1919 CHAPTER 57

4 Consolidation of proceedings on claims for compensation in respect of various interests in the same land

Where notices to treat have been served for the acquisition of the several interests in the land to be acquired, the claims of the persons entitled to such interests shall, so far as practicable, and so far as not agreed and if the acquiring authority so desire, be heard and determined by the same official arbitrator, and the Reference Committee may make rules providing that such claims shall be heard together, but the value of the several interests in the land having a market value shall be separately assessed.
