

SCHEDULES

SCHEDULE 5

POWERS AND DUTIES OF ASSAY OFFICES

Submission of new wares for assaying and hallmarking

- 1
- An assay office may refuse to assay or mark any new ware if it is submitted at a stage of its manufacture which is unreasonable for assaying of and striking of marks on the new ware.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Hallmarking Act 1973, Cross Heading:
Submission of new wares for assaying and hallmarking.