

Law Reform (Parent and Child) (Scotland) Act 1986

1986 CHAPTER 9

An Act to make fresh provision in the law of Scotland with respect to the consequences of birth out of wedlock, the rights and duties of parents, the determination of parentage and the taking of blood samples in relation to the determination of parentage; to amend the law as to guardianship; and for connected purposes. [26th March 1986]

Be it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

1 Legal equality of children.

- (1) The fact that a person's parents are not or have not been married to one another shall be left out of account in establishing the legal relationship between the person and any other person; and accordingly any such relationship shall have effect as if the parents were or had been married to one another.
- (2) Subject to subsection (4) below, any reference (however expressed) in any enactment or deed to any relative shall, unless the contrary intention appears in the enactment or deed, be construed in accordance with subsection (1) above.
- (3) Subsection (1) above is subject to the following provisions of this Act—
  - (a) subsection (4) below;
  - (b) section 2(1)(b); and
  - (c) section 9(1).
- (4) Nothing in this section shall apply to the construction or effect of—
  - (a) any enactment passed or made before the commencement of this Act unless the enactment is amended by Schedule 1 to this Act and, as so amended, otherwise provides;
  - (b) any deed executed before such commencement;

Status: Point in time view as at 01/02/1991.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Law Reform (Parent and Child) (Scotland) Act 1986. (See end of Document for details)

- (c) any reference (however expressed) in any deed executed after such commencement to a legitimate or illegitimate person or relationship.

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1 S. 1(3) excluded by Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 \(c. 1, SIF 63:1\), s. 831(4)

2 Parental rights and their exercise.

- (1) Subject to sections 3 and 4 of this Act—
- (a) a child's mother shall have parental rights whether or not she is or has been married to the child's father;
  - (b) a child's father shall have parental rights only if he is married to the child's mother or was married to her at the time of the child's conception or subsequently.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1)(b) above, the father shall be regarded as having been married to the mother at any time when he was a party to a purported marriage with her which was—
- (a) voidable, or
  - (b) void, but believed by him in good faith at that time to be valid, whether that belief was due to an error of fact or an error of law.
- (3) Nothing in this section shall affect any enactment or rule of law by virtue of which a parent may be granted or deprived of parental rights.
- (4) Where two or more persons have any parental right, each of them may exercise that right without the consent of the other person or, as the case may be, any of the other persons unless any decree or deed conferring the right otherwise provides.

3 Orders as to parental rights.

- (1) Any person claiming interest may make an application to the court for an order relating to parental rights and the court may make such order relating to parental rights as it thinks fit.
- (2) In any proceedings relating to parental rights the court shall regard the welfare of the child involved as the paramount consideration and shall not make any order relating to parental rights unless it is satisfied that to do so will be in the interests of the child.
- (3) Any person appointed by a court to be a tutor to a child shall, unless the court otherwise orders, become curator to the child when the child attains the age of minority.

4 Power of parent to appoint tutor or curator.

- (1) The parent of a child may appoint any person to be tutor or curator of the child after his death, but any such appointment shall be of no effect unless—
  - (a) the appointment is in writing and signed by the parent; and
  - (b) the parent at the time of his death was tutor or curator of the child or would have been such tutor if he had survived until after the birth of the child.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/02/1991.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Law Reform (Parent and Child) (Scotland) Act 1986. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) Any person appointed under subsection (1) above to be tutor to a child shall, unless the appointment otherwise specifically provides, become curator to the child when the child attains the age of minority.
- (3) Nothing in this section shall affect any power to appoint, or any appointment of, a tutor for the purposes of the administration of any property given or bequeathed to a child.

5 Presumptions.

- (1) A man shall be presumed to be the father of a child—
  - (a) if he was married to the mother of the child at any time in the period beginning with the conception and ending with the birth of the child;
  - (b) where paragraph (a) above does not apply, if both he and the mother of the child have acknowledged that he is the father and he has been registered as such in any register kept under section 13 (register of births and still-births) or section 44 (register of corrections, etc.) of the <sup>M1</sup>Registration of Births, Deaths and Marriages (Scotland) Act 1965 or in any corresponding register kept under statutory authority in any part of the United Kingdom other than Scotland.
- (2) Subsection (1)(a) above shall apply in the case of a void, voidable or irregular marriage as it applies in the case of a valid and regular marriage.
- (3) Without prejudice to the effect under any rule of law which a decree of declarator in an action to which section 7 of this Act applies may have in relation to the parties, a decree of declarator in such an action shall give rise to a presumption to the same effect as the decree; and any such presumption shall displace any contrary presumption howsoever arising.
- (4) Any presumption under this section may be rebutted by proof on a balance of probabilities.

6 Determination of parentage by blood sample.

- (1) This section applies where, for the purpose of obtaining evidence relating to the determination of parentage in civil proceedings, a [<sup>F1</sup>sample of blood or other body fluid or of body tissue] is sought by a party to the proceedings or by a curator ad litem.
- (2) Where [<sup>F2</sup>such a] sample is sought from a pupil child, consent to the taking of the sample may be given by his tutor or any person having custody or care and control of him.
- (3) Where [<sup>F2</sup>such a] sample is sought from any person who is incapable of giving consent, the court may consent to the taking of the sample where—
  - (a) there is no person who is entitled to give such consent, or
  - (b) there is such a person, but it is not reasonably practicable to obtain his consent in the circumstances, or he is unwilling to accept the responsibility of giving or withholding consent.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/02/1991.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Law Reform (Parent and Child) (Scotland) Act 1986. (See end of Document for details)

- (4) The court shall not consent under subsection (3) above to the taking of [F<sup>2</sup>such a] sample from any person unless the court is satisfied that the taking of the sample would not be detrimental to the person's health.

7 Actions for declarator.

- (1) An action for declarator of parentage, non-parentage, legitimacy, legitimation or illegitimacy may be brought in the Court of Session or the sheriff court.
- (2) Such an action may be brought in the Court of Session if and only if the child was born in Scotland or the alleged or presumed parent or the child—
- (a) is domiciled in Scotland on the date when the action is brought;
  - (b) was habitually resident in Scotland for not less than one year immediately preceding that date; or
  - (c) died before that date and either—
    - (i) was at the date of death domiciled in Scotland; or
    - (ii) had been habitually resident in Scotland for not less than one year immediately preceding the date of death.
- (3) Such an action may be brought in the sheriff court if and only if—
- (a) the child was born in the sheriffdom, or
  - (b) an action could have been brought in the Court of Session under subsection (2) above and the alleged or presumed parent or the child was habitually resident in the sheriffdom on the date when the action is brought or on the date of his death.
- (4) ..... F<sup>3</sup>
- (5) Nothing in any rule of law or enactment shall prevent the court making in any proceedings an incidental finding as to parentage, non-parentage, legitimacy, legitimation or illegitimacy for the purposes of those proceedings.
- (6) In this section “the alleged or presumed parent” includes a person who claims or is alleged to be or not to be the parent.
