

Pensions (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1990

1990 CHAPTER 7

Pensions increase

4 Employers' contributions towards cost of pensions increase for teachers and persons engaged in the health services etc.

- (1) In section 9 of the ^{M1}Superannuation Act 1972 (in this Act referred to as “the 1972 Act”) after subsection (3) there shall be inserted—

“(3A) Notwithstanding anything in the Pensions (Increase) Act 1971, regulations under this section may provide that the cost of increases under that Act of such of the pensions, allowances or gratuities payable under the regulations as may be prescribed by the regulations, or such part of those increases as may be so prescribed, shall be defrayed—

- (a) by contributions from employers of teachers or from such other persons or classes of person (apart from teachers) as the Secretary of State may consider appropriate and may specify in the regulations; or
- (b) by contributions from such of those employers or other persons as may be so specified;

and any provisions of the said Act of 1971, or of regulations made under section 5 thereof, relating to liability for the cost of increases under that Act of pensions, allowances or gratuities payable under the regulations shall have effect subject to the provisions of any regulations made by virtue of this subsection and for the time being in force.”

- (2) In section 10 of that Act (persons engaged in health services etc) in subsection (1), after the words “as may be so prescribed” there shall be inserted the words “ (in this section referred to as “health staff”)” and after subsection (3) there shall be inserted—

“(3A) Notwithstanding anything in the Pensions (Increase) Act 1971, regulations under this section may provide that the cost of increases under that Act of such of the pensions, allowances or gratuities payable under the regulations as may

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Pensions (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1990, Section 4. (See end of Document for details)

be prescribed by the regulations, or such part of those increases as may be so prescribed, shall be defrayed—

- (a) by contributions from employers of health staff or from such other persons or classes of person (apart from health staff) as the Secretary of State may consider appropriate and may specify in the regulations; or
- (b) by contributions from such of those employers or other persons as may be so specified;

and any provisions of the said Act of 1971, or of regulations made under section 5 thereof, relating to liability for the cost of increases under that Act of pensions, allowances or gratuities payable under the regulations shall have effect subject to the provisions of any regulations made by virtue of this subsection and for the time being in force.”

Marginal Citations

M1 1972 c. 11.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Pensions (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1990, Section 4.