

Cardiff Bay Barrage Act 1993

1993 CHAPTER 42

PART V

MISCELLANEOUS, GENERAL AND SUPPLEMENTARY

Miscellaneous and general

29 Arbitration.

Where under any provision of this Act any difference is to be determined by arbitration it shall be referred to and settled by an arbitrator appointed by agreement between the parties or, in default of agreement, by an arbitrator appointed on the application of either party (after giving to the other not less than one week's notice in writing) by the President of the Institution of Civil Engineers.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Cardiff Bay Barrage Act 1993, Section 29.