

---

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the International Criminal Court Act 2001, Paragraph 3. (See end of Document for details)

---

SCHEDULES

SCHEDULE 5

INVESTIGATION OF PROCEEDS OF ICC CRIME

PART 1

PRODUCTION OR ACCESS ORDERS

Production or access orders: standard orders

- 3 (1) The judge may order a specified person who appears to have in his possession, custody or power specified material, or material of a specified description, to which the application relates, either—
- (a) to produce the material to a constable within a specified period for the constable to take away (a “production order”), or
  - (b) to give a constable access to the material within a specified period (an “access order”).
- (2) The specified period shall be seven days beginning with the date of the order unless it appears to the judge making the order that a longer or shorter period would be appropriate in the particular circumstances of the application.
- (3) Where the judge makes an access order in relation to material on any premises he may, on the application of a constable, order any person who appears to him to be entitled to grant entry to the premises to allow a constable to enter the premises to obtain access to the material.
- (4) In this paragraph “specified” means specified in the order.
- (5) Where a production or access order is made by virtue of paragraph 4 (special orders), the provisions of this paragraph have effect subject to the modifications specified in that paragraph.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the International Criminal Court Act 2001, Paragraph 3.