694 Authority for off-market purchase

- (1) [^{F983}Subject to section 693A,] A company may only make an off-market purchase of its own shares in pursuance of a contract approved prior to the purchase in accordance with this section.
- (2) Either—
 - (a) the terms of the contract must be authorised by a ^{F984} . . . resolution of the company before the contract is entered into, or
 - (b) the contract must provide that no shares may be purchased in pursuance of the contract until its terms have been authorised by a ^{F985} . . . resolution of the company.
- (3) The contract may be a contract, entered into by the company and relating to shares in the company, that does not amount to a contract to purchase the shares but under which the company may (subject to any conditions) become entitled or obliged to purchase the shares.
- (4) The authority conferred by a resolution under this section may be varied, revoked or from time to time renewed by a ^{F986} . . . resolution of the company.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (5) In the case of a public company a resolution conferring, varying or renewing authority must specify a date on which the authority is to expire, which must not be later than [^{F987}five years] after the date on which the resolution is passed.
- (6) A resolution conferring, varying, revoking or renewing authority under this section is subject to—
 - section 695 (exercise of voting rights), and
 - section 696 (disclosure of details of contract).

- (2) A copy of the contract (if it is in writing) or a memorandum setting out its terms (if it is not) must be made available to members—
 - (a) in the case of a written resolution, by being sent or submitted to every eligible member at or before the time at which the proposed resolution is sent or submitted to him;
 - (b) in the case of a resolution at a meeting, by being made available for inspection by members of the company both—
 - (i) at the company's registered office for not less than 15 days ending with the date of the meeting, and
 - (ii) at the meeting itself.
- (3) A memorandum of contract terms so made available must include the names of the members holding shares to which the contract relates.
- (4) A copy of the contract so made available must have annexed to it a written memorandum specifying such of those names as do not appear in the contract itself.
- (5) The resolution is not validly passed if the requirements of this section are not complied with

697 Variation of contract for off-market purchase

- (1) A company may only agree to a variation of a contract authorised under section 694 (authority for off-market purchase) if the variation is approved in advance in accordance with this section.
- (2) The terms of the variation must be authorised by a ^{F988} . . . resolution of the company before it is agreed to.
- (3) That authority may be varied, revoked or from time to time renewed by a ^{F989} . . . resolution of the company.
- (4) In the case of a public company a resolution conferring, varying or renewing authority must specify a date on which the authority is to expire, which must not be later than [^{F990}five years] after the date on which the resolution is passed.

- (a) acquiring any right with respect to the purchase of its own shares in pursuance of a contingent purchase contract approved under section 694 (authorisation of off-market purchase),
 - (b) the variation of any contract approved under that section, or
 - (c) the release of any of the company's obligations with respect to the purchase of any of its own shares under a contract—
 - (i) approved under section 694, or
 - (ii) authorised under section 701 (authorisation of market purchase),
- must be made out of the company's distributable profits.
- (2) If this requirement is not met in relation to a contract, then—
- (a) in a case within subsection (1)(a), no purchase by the company of its own shares in pursuance of that contract may be made under this Chapter;
 - (b) in a case within subsection (1)(b), no such purchase following the variation may be made under this Chapter;
 - (c) in a case within subsection (1)(c), the purported release is void.

706 Treatment of shares purchased

Where a limited company makes a purchase of its own shares in accordance with this Chapter, then—

- (a) if section 724 (treasury shares) applies, the shares may be held and dealt with in accordance with Chapter 6;
- (b) if that section does not apply—
 - (i) the shares are treated as cancelled, and
 - (ii) the amount of the company's issued share capital is diminished accordingly by the nominal value of the shares cancelled.

707 Return to registrar of purchase of own shares

- (1) Where a company purchases shares under this Chapter, it must deliver a return to the registrar within the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the shares are delivered to it.
- (2) The return must distinguish—
- (a) shares in relation to which section 724 (treasury shares) applies and shares in relation to which that section does not apply, and
 - (b) shares in relation to which that section applies—
 - (i) that are cancelled forthwith (under section 729 (cancellation of treasury shares)), and
 - (ii) that are not so cancelled.
- (3) The return must state, with respect to shares of each class purchased—
- (a) the number and nominal value of the shares, and
 - (b) the date on which they were delivered to the company.
- (4) In the case of a public company the return must also state—
- (a) the aggregate amount paid by the company for the shares, and
 - (b) the maximum and minimum prices paid in respect of shares of each class purchased.

Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (5) Particulars of shares delivered to the company on different dates and under different contracts may be included in a single return.

In such a case the amount required to be stated under subsection (4)(a) is the aggregate amount paid by the company for all the shares to which the return relates.

- (6) If default is made in complying with this section an offence is committed by every officer of the company who is in default.

- (7) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable—

- (a) on conviction on indictment, to a fine;
- (b) on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding [^{F996}one-tenth of the statutory maximum][^{F996}one-tenth of the greater of £5,000 or the amount corresponding to level 4 on the standard scale for summary offences].

CHAPTER 5

REDEMPTION OR PURCHASE BY PRIVATE COMPANY OUT OF CAPITAL

Introductory

709 Power of private limited company to redeem or purchase own shares out of capital

(1) A private limited company may in accordance with this Chapter, but subject to any restriction or prohibition in the company's articles, make a payment in respect of the redemption or purchase of its own shares otherwise than out of distributable profits or the proceeds of a fresh issue of shares.

(2) References below in this Chapter to payment out of capital are to any payment so made, whether or not it would be regarded apart from this section as a payment out of capital.

[^{F1000}(3) This Chapter is subject to section 692(1ZA) (purchase of own shares up to annual limit).]

The permissible capital payment

710 The permissible capital payment

- (1) The payment that may, in accordance with this Chapter, be made by a company out of capital in respect of the redemption or purchase of its own shares is such amount as, after applying for that purpose—
 - (a) any available profits of the company, and
 - (b) the proceeds of any fresh issue of shares made for the purposes of the redemption or purchase, is required to meet the price of redemption or purchase.
- (2) That is referred to below in this Chapter as “the permissible capital payment” for the shares.

711 Available profits

- (1) For the purposes of this Chapter the available profits of the company, in relation to the redemption or purchase of any shares, are the profits of the company that are available for distribution (within the meaning of Part 23).
- (2) But the question whether a company has any profits so available, and the amount of any such profits, shall be determined in accordance with section 712 instead of in accordance with sections 836 to 842 in that Part.

712 Determination of available profits

- (1) The available profits of the company are determined as follows.
- (2) First, determine the profits of the company by reference to the following items as stated in the relevant accounts—
 - (a) profits, losses, assets and liabilities,
 - (b) provisions of the following kinds—
 - (i) where the relevant accounts are Companies Act accounts, provisions of a kind specified for the purposes of this subsection by regulations under section 396;
 - (ii) where the relevant accounts are IAS accounts, provisions of any kind;
 - (c) share capital and reserves (including undistributable reserves).
- (3) Second, reduce the amount so determined by the amount of—
 - (a) any distribution lawfully made by the company, and
 - (b) any other relevant payment lawfully made by the company out of distributable profits, after the date of the relevant accounts and before the end of the relevant period.
- (4) For this purpose “other relevant payment lawfully made” includes—
 - (a) financial assistance lawfully given out of distributable profits in accordance with Chapter 2,
 - (b) payments lawfully made out of distributable profits in respect of the purchase by the company of any shares in the company, and

- (c) payments of any description specified in section 705 (payments other than purchase price to be made out of distributable profits) lawfully made by the company.
- (5) The resulting figure is the amount of available profits.
- (6) For the purposes of this section “the relevant accounts” are any accounts that—
 - (a) are prepared as at a date within the relevant period, and
 - (b) are such as to enable a reasonable judgment to be made as to the amounts of the items mentioned in subsection (2).
- (7) In this section “the relevant period” means the period of three months ending with the date on which [^{F1001}the solvency statement is made in accordance with section 720A or] the directors' statement is made in accordance with section 714.

Requirements for payment out of capital

713 Requirements for payment out of capital

- (1) A payment out of capital by a private company for the redemption or purchase of its own shares is not lawful unless the requirements of the following sections are met—
 - section 714 (directors' statement and auditor's report);
 - section 716 (approval by special resolution);
 - section 719 (public notice of proposed payment);
 - section 720 (directors' statement and auditor's report to be available for inspection).
- (2) This is subject [^{F1002}to section 720A and] to any order of the court under section 721 (power of court to extend period for compliance on application by persons objecting to payment).

- (a) as regards its initial situation immediately following the date on which the payment out of capital is proposed to be made, that there will be no grounds on which the company could then be found unable to pay its debts, and
- (b) as regards its prospects for the year immediately following that date, that having regard to—
 - (i) their intentions with respect to the management of the company's business during that year, and
 - (ii) the amount and character of the financial resources that will in their view be available to the company during that year, the company will be able to continue to carry on business as a going concern (and will accordingly be able to pay its debts as they fall due) throughout that year.
- (4) In forming their opinion for the purposes of subsection (3)(a), the directors must take into account all of the company's liabilities (including any contingent or prospective liabilities).
- (5) The directors' statement must be in the prescribed form and must contain such information with respect to the nature of the company's business as may be prescribed.
- (6) It must in addition have annexed to it a report addressed to the directors by the company's auditor stating that—
 - (a) he has inquired into the company's state of affairs,
 - (b) the amount specified in the statement as the permissible capital payment for the shares in question is in his view properly determined in accordance with sections 710 to 712, and
 - (c) he is not aware of anything to indicate that the opinion expressed by the directors in their statement as to any of the matters mentioned in subsection (3) above is unreasonable in all the circumstances.

- (ii) in Scotland or Northern Ireland, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum (or both).

716 Payment to be approved by special resolution

- (1) The payment out of capital must be approved by a special resolution of the company.
- (2) The resolution must be passed on, or within the week immediately following, the date on which the directors make the statement required by section 714.
- (3) A resolution under this section is subject to—
 - section 717 (exercise of voting rights), and
 - section 718 (disclosure of directors' statement and auditors' report).

717 Resolution authorising payment: exercise of voting rights

- (1) This section applies to a resolution under section 716 (authority for payment out of capital for redemption or purchase of own shares).
- (2) Where the resolution is proposed as a written resolution, a member who holds shares to which the resolution relates is not an eligible member.
- (3) Where the resolution is proposed at a meeting of the company, it is not effective if—
 - (a) any member of the company holding shares to which the resolution relates exercises the voting rights carried by any of those shares in voting on the resolution, and
 - (b) the resolution would not have been passed if he had not done so.
- (4) For this purpose—
 - (a) a member who holds shares to which the resolution relates is regarded as exercising the voting rights carried by those shares not only if he votes in respect of them on a poll on the question whether the resolution shall be passed, but also if he votes on the resolution otherwise than on a poll;
 - (b) any member of the company may demand a poll on that question;
 - (c) a vote and a demand for a poll by a person as proxy for a member are the same respectively as a vote and a demand by the member.

718 Resolution authorising payment: disclosure of directors' statement and auditor's report

- (1) This section applies to a resolution under section 716 (resolution authorising payment out of capital for redemption or purchase of own shares).
- (2) A copy of the directors' statement and auditor's report under section 714 must be made available to members—
 - (a) in the case of a written resolution, by being sent or submitted to every eligible member at or before the time at which the proposed resolution is sent or submitted to him;
 - (b) in the case of a resolution at a meeting, by being made available for inspection by members of the company at the meeting.
- (3) The resolution is ineffective if this requirement is not complied with.

- (1) Within the week immediately following the date of the resolution under section 716 the company must cause to be published in the Gazette a notice—
 - (a) stating that the company has approved a payment out of capital for the purpose of acquiring its own shares by redemption or purchase or both (as the case may be),
 - (b) specifying—
 - (i) the amount of the permissible capital payment for the shares in question, and
 - (ii) the date of the resolution,
 - (c) stating where the directors' statement and auditor's report required by section 714 are available for inspection, and
 - (d) stating that any creditor of the company may at any time within the five weeks immediately following the date of the resolution apply to the court under section 721 for an order preventing the payment.
- (2) Within the week immediately following the date of the resolution the company must also either—
 - (a) cause a notice to the same effect as that required by subsection (1) to be published in an appropriate national newspaper, or
 - (b) give notice in writing to that effect to each of its creditors.
- (3) “An appropriate national newspaper” means a newspaper circulating throughout the part of the United Kingdom in which the company is registered.
- (4) Not later than the day on which the company—
 - (a) first publishes the notice required by subsection (1), or
 - (b) if earlier, first publishes or gives the notice required by subsection (2), the company must deliver to the registrar a copy of the directors' statement and auditor's report required by section 714.

720 Directors' statement and auditor's report to be available for inspection

- (1) The directors' statement and auditor's report must be kept available for inspection throughout the period—
 - (a) beginning with the day on which the company—
 - (i) first publishes the notice required by section 719(1), or
 - (ii) if earlier, first publishes or gives the notice required by section 719(2),
 and
 - (b) ending five weeks after the date of the resolution for payment out of capital.
- (2) They must be kept available for inspection—
 - (a) at the company's registered office, or
 - (b) at a place specified in regulations under section 1136.
- (3) The company must give notice to the registrar—
 - (a) of the place at which the statement and report are kept available for inspection, and
 - (b) of any change in that place,
 unless they have at all times been kept at the company's registered office.

- (4) They must be open to the inspection of any member or creditor of the company without charge.
- (5) If default is made for 14 days in complying with subsection (3), or an inspection under subsection (4) is refused, an offence is committed by—
 - (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- (6) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale.
- (7) In the case of a refusal of an inspection required by subsection (4), the court may by order compel an immediate inspection.

720A Reduced requirements for payment out of capital for purchase of own shares for the purposes of or pursuant to an employees' share scheme

- (1) Section 713(1) does not apply to the purchase out of capital by a private company of its own shares for the purposes of or pursuant to an employees' share scheme when approved by special resolution supported by a solvency statement.
- (2) For the purposes of this section a resolution is supported by a solvency statement if—
 - (a) the directors of the company make a solvency statement (see section 643) not more than 15 days before the date on which the resolution is passed, and
 - (b) the resolution and solvency statement are registered in accordance with section 720B.
- (3) Where the resolution is proposed as a written resolution, a copy of the solvency statement must be sent or submitted to every eligible member at or before the time at which the proposed resolution is sent or submitted to the member.
- (4) Where the resolution is proposed at a general meeting, a copy of the solvency statement must be made available for inspection by members of the company throughout that meeting.
- (5) The validity of a resolution is not affected by a failure to comply with subsection (3) or (4).

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (6) Section 717 (resolution authorising payment: exercise of voting rights) applies to a resolution under this section as it applies to a resolution under section 716.

720B Registration of resolution and supporting documents for purchase of own shares for the purposes of or pursuant to an employees' share scheme

- (1) Within 15 days after the passing of the resolution for a payment out of capital by a private company for the purchase of its own shares for the purposes of or pursuant to an employees' share scheme the company must deliver to the registrar—
- (a) a copy of the solvency statement,
 - (b) a copy of the resolution, and
 - (c) a statement of capital.
- (2) The statement of capital must state with respect to the company's share capital as reduced by the resolution—
- (a) the total number of shares of the company,
 - (b) the aggregate nominal value of those shares,
 - ^{F1004}(ba) [the aggregate amount (if any) unpaid on those shares (whether on account of their nominal value or by way of premium), and]
 - (c) for each class of shares—
 - (i) prescribed particulars of the rights attached to the shares,
 - (ii) the total number of shares of that class, and
 - (iii) the aggregate nominal value of shares of that class, ^{F1005} ...
 - ^{F1005}(d)
- (3) The registrar must register the documents delivered to him under subsection (1) on receipt.
- (4) The resolution does not take effect until those documents are registered.
- (5) The company must also deliver to the registrar, within 15 days after the resolution is passed, a statement by the directors confirming that the solvency statement was—
- (a) made not more than 15 days before the date on which the resolution was passed, and
 - (b) provided to members in accordance with section 720A(3) or (4).
- (6) The validity of a resolution is not affected by—
- (a) a failure to deliver the documents required to be delivered to the registrar under subsection (1) within the time specified in that subsection, or
 - (b) a failure to comply with subsection (5).
- (7) If the company delivers to the registrar a solvency statement that was not provided to members in accordance with section 720A(3) or (4), an offence is committed by every officer of the company who is in default.
- (8) If default is made in complying with this section, an offence is committed by—
- (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- (9) A person guilty of an offence under subsection (7) or (8) is liable—
- (a) on conviction on indictment, to a fine;

Objection to payment by members or creditors

721 Application to court to cancel resolution

- (1) Where a private company passes a special resolution approving a payment out of capital for the redemption or purchase of any of its shares—
- (a) any member of the company (other than one who consented to or voted in favour of the resolution), and
 - (b) any creditor of the company,
- may apply to the court for the cancellation of the resolution.
- (2) The application—
- (a) must be made within five weeks after the passing of the resolution, and
 - (b) may be made on behalf of the persons entitled to make it by such one or more of their number as they may appoint in writing for the purpose.
- (3) On an application under this section the court may if it thinks fit—
- (a) adjourn the proceedings in order that an arrangement may be made to the satisfaction of the court—
 - (i) for the purchase of the interests of dissentient members, or
 - (ii) for the protection of dissentient creditors, and
 - (b) give such directions and make such orders as it thinks expedient for facilitating or carrying into effect any such arrangement.
- (4) Subject to that, the court must make an order either cancelling or confirming the resolution, and may do so on such terms and conditions as it thinks fit.
- (5) If the court confirms the resolution, it may by order alter or extend any date or period of time specified—
- (a) in the resolution, or
 - (b) in any provision of this Chapter applying to the redemption or purchase to which the resolution relates.
- (6) The court's order may, if the court thinks fit—
- (a) provide for the purchase by the company of the shares of any of its members and for the reduction accordingly of the company's capital, and
 - (b) make any alteration in the company's articles that may be required in consequence of that provision.
- (7) The court's order may, if the court thinks fit, require the company not to make any, or any specified, amendments of its articles without the leave of the court.

722 Notice to registrar of court application or order

- (1) On making an application under section 721 (application to court to cancel resolution) the applicants, or the person making the application on their behalf, must immediately give notice to the registrar.

This is without prejudice to any provision of rules of court as to service of notice of the application.

- (2) On being served with notice of any such application, the company must immediately give notice to the registrar.
- (3) Within 15 days of the making of the court's order on the application, or such longer period as the court may at any time direct, the company must deliver to the registrar a copy of the order.
- (4) If a company fails to comply with subsection (2) or (3) an offence is committed by—
- (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- (5) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale.

Supplementary provisions

723 ^[F1006]Time when payment out of capital to be made or shares to be surrendered]

- (1) The payment out of capital ^[F1007], if made in accordance with a resolution under section 716] must be made—

726 Treasury shares: exercise of rights

- (1) This section applies where shares are held by a company as treasury shares.
- (2) The company must not exercise any right in respect of the treasury shares, and any purported exercise of such a right is void.

This applies, in particular, to any right to attend or vote at meetings.

- (3) No dividend may be paid, and no other distribution (whether in cash or otherwise) of the company's assets (including any distribution of assets to members on a winding up) may be made to the company, in respect of the treasury shares.
- (4) Nothing in this section prevents—
 - (a) an allotment of shares as fully paid bonus shares in respect of the treasury shares, or
 - (b) the payment of any amount payable on the redemption of the treasury shares (if they are redeemable shares).
- (5) Shares allotted as fully paid bonus shares in respect of the treasury shares are treated as if purchased by the company, at the time they were allotted, in circumstances in which section 724(1) (treasury shares) applied.

727 Treasury shares: disposal

- (1) Where shares are held as treasury shares, the company may at any time—
 - (a) sell the shares (or any of them) for a cash consideration, or
 - (b) transfer the shares (or any of them) for the purposes of or pursuant to an employees' share scheme.
- (2) In subsection (1)(a) “cash consideration” means—
 - (a) cash received by the company, or
 - (b) a cheque received by the company in good faith that the directors have no reason for suspecting will not be paid, or
 - (c) a release of a liability of the company for a liquidated sum, or
 - (d) an undertaking to pay cash to the company on or before a date not more than 90 days after the date on which the company agrees to sell the shares, or
 - (e) payment by any other means giving rise to a present or future entitlement (of the company or a person acting on the company's behalf) to a payment, or credit equivalent to payment, in cash.

For this purpose “cash” includes foreign currency.

- (3) The Secretary of State may by order provide that particular means of payment specified in the order are to be regarded as falling within subsection (2)(e).
- (4) If the company receives a notice under section 979 (takeover offers: right of offeror to buy out minority shareholders) that a person desires to acquire shares held by the company as treasury shares, the company must not sell or transfer the shares to which the notice relates except to that person.
- (5) An order under this section is subject to negative resolution procedure.

- (a) the shares are redeemed or purchased wholly or partly out of the proceeds of a fresh issue, and
- (b) the aggregate amount of the proceeds is less than the aggregate nominal value of the shares redeemed or purchased, the amount of the difference must be transferred to the capital redemption reserve.

This does not apply in the case of a private company if, in addition to the proceeds of the fresh issue, the company applies a payment out of capital under Chapter 5 ^{F1019} or under section 692(1ZA)] in making the redemption or purchase.

- (4) The amount by which a company's share capital is diminished in accordance with section 729(4) (on the cancellation of shares held as treasury shares) must be transferred to the capital redemption reserve.
- (5) The company may use the capital redemption reserve to pay up new shares to be allotted to members as fully paid bonus shares.
- (6) Subject to that, the provisions of the Companies Acts relating to the reduction of a company's share capital apply as if the capital redemption reserve were part of its paid up share capital.

735 Effect of company's failure to redeem or purchase

- (1) This section applies where a company—
- (a) issues shares on terms that they are or are liable to be redeemed, or
 - (b) agrees to purchase any of its shares.
- (2) The company is not liable in damages in respect of any failure on its part to redeem or purchase any of the shares.

This is without prejudice to any right of the holder of the shares other than his right to sue the company for damages in respect of its failure.

- (3) The court shall not grant an order for specific performance of the terms of redemption or purchase if the company shows that it is unable to meet the costs of redeeming or purchasing the shares in question out of distributable profits.
- (4) If the company is wound up and at the commencement of the winding up any of the shares have not been redeemed or purchased, the terms of redemption or purchase may be enforced against the company.

When shares are redeemed or purchased under this subsection, they are treated as cancelled.

- (5) Subsection (4) does not apply if—
- (a) the terms provided for the redemption or purchase to take place at a date later than that of the commencement of the winding up, or
 - (b) during the period—
 - (i) beginning with the date on which the redemption or purchase was to have taken place, and
 - (ii) ending with the commencement of the winding up,the company could not at any time have lawfully made a distribution equal in value to the price at which the shares were to have been redeemed or purchased.
- (6) There shall be paid in priority to any amount that the company is liable under subsection (4) to pay in respect of any shares—

- (a) all other debts and liabilities of the company (other than any due to members in their character as such), and
- (b) if other shares carry rights (whether as to capital or as to income) that are preferred to the rights as to capital attaching to the first-mentioned shares, any amount due in satisfaction of those preferred rights.

Subject to that, any such amount shall be paid in priority to any amounts due to members in satisfaction of their rights (whether as to capital or income) as members.

736 Meaning of “distributable profits”

In this Part (except in Chapter 2 (financial assistance): see section 683) “distributable profits”, in relation to the making of any payment by a company, means profits out of which the company could lawfully make a distribution (within the meaning given by section 830) equal in value to the payment.

737 General power to make further provision by regulations

- (1) The Secretary of State may by regulations modify the provisions of this Part.
- (2) The regulations may—
 - (a) amend or repeal any of the provisions of this Part, or
 - (b) make such other provision as appears to the Secretary of State appropriate in place of any of the provisions of this Part.
- (3) Regulations under this section may make consequential amendments or repeals in other provisions of this Act, or in other enactments.
- (4) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.

745 Register of debenture holders: response to request for inspection or copy

- (1) Where a company receives a request under section 744 (register of debenture holders: right to inspect and require copy), it must within five working days either—
 - (a) comply with the request, or
 - (b) apply to the court.
- (2) If it applies to the court it must notify the person making the request.
- (3) If on an application under this section the court is satisfied that the inspection or copy is not sought for a proper purpose—
 - (a) it shall direct the company not to comply with the request, and
 - (b) it may further order that the company's costs (in Scotland, expenses) on the application be paid in whole or in part by the person who made the request, even if he is not a party to the application.
- (4) If the court makes such a direction and it appears to the court that the company is or may be subject to other requests made for a similar purpose (whether made by the same person or different persons), it may direct that the company is not to comply with any such request.

The order must contain such provision as appears to the court appropriate to identify the requests to which it applies.

- (5) If on an application under this section the court does not direct the company not to comply with the request, the company must comply with the request immediately upon the court giving its decision or, as the case may be, the proceedings being discontinued.

747 Register of debenture holders: offences in connection with request for or disclosure of information

- (1) It is an offence for a person knowingly or recklessly to make in a request under section 744 (register of debenture holders: right to inspect and require copy) a statement that is misleading, false or deceptive in a material particular.
- (2) It is an offence for a person in possession of information obtained by exercise of either of the rights conferred by that section—
- (a) to do anything that results in the information being disclosed to another person, or
 - (b) to fail to do anything with the result that the information is disclosed to another person,
- knowing, or having reason to suspect, that person may use the information for a purpose that is not a proper purpose.
- (3) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable—
- (a) on conviction on indictment, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or a fine (or both);
 - (b) on summary conviction—
 - (i) in England and Wales, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding twelve months or to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum (or both);
 - (ii) in Scotland or Northern Ireland, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, or to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum (or both).

748 Time limit for claims arising from entry in register

- (1) Liability incurred by a company—
- (a) from the making or deletion of an entry in the register of debenture holders, or
 - (b) from a failure to make or delete any such entry,
- is not enforceable more than ten years after the date on which the entry was made or deleted or, as the case may be, the failure first occurred.

- (a) a release otherwise validly given in respect of anything done or omitted to be done by a trustee before the giving of the release;
 - (b) any provision enabling such a release to be given—
 - (i) on being agreed to by a majority of not less than 75% in value of the debenture holders present and voting in person or, where proxies are permitted, by proxy at a meeting summoned for the purpose, and
 - (ii) either with respect to specific acts or omissions or on the trustee dying or ceasing to act.
- (3) This section is subject to section 751 (saving for certain older provisions).

751 Liability of trustees of debentures: saving for certain older provisions

- (1) Section 750 (liability of trustees of debentures) does not operate—
- (a) to invalidate any provision in force on the relevant date so long as any person—
 - (i) then entitled to the benefit of the provision, or
 - (ii) afterwards given the benefit of the provision under subsection (3) below,remains a trustee of the deed in question, or
 - (b) to deprive any person of any exemption or right to be indemnified in respect of anything done or omitted to be done by him while any such provision was in force.
- (2) The relevant date for this purpose is—
- (a) 1st July 1948 in a case where section 192 of the Companies Act 1985 (c. 6) applied immediately before the commencement of this section;
 - (b) 1st July 1961 in a case where Article 201 of the Companies (Northern Ireland) Order 1986 (S.I. 1986/1032 (N.I. 6)) then applied.
- (3) While any trustee of a trust deed remains entitled to the benefit of a provision saved by subsection (1) above the benefit of that provision may be given either—
- (a) to all trustees of the deed, present and future, or
 - (b) to any named trustees or proposed trustees of it,
- by a resolution passed by a majority of not less than 75% in value of the debenture holders present in person or, where proxies are permitted, by proxy at a meeting summoned for the purpose.
- (4) A meeting for that purpose must be summoned in accordance with the provisions of the deed or, if the deed makes no provision for summoning meetings, in a manner approved by the court.

752 Power to re-issue redeemed debentures

- (1) Where a company has redeemed debentures previously issued, then unless—

- (a) provision to the contrary (express or implied) is contained in the company's articles or in any contract made by the company, or
- (b) the company has, by passing a resolution to that effect or by some other act, manifested its intention that the debentures shall be cancelled, the company may re-issue the debentures, either by re-issuing the same debentures or by issuing new debentures in their place.

This subsection is deemed always to have had effect.

- (2) On a re-issue of redeemed debentures the person entitled to the debentures has (and is deemed always to have had) the same priorities as if the debentures had never been redeemed.
- (3) The re-issue of a debenture or the issue of another debenture in its place under this section is treated as the issue of a new debenture for the purposes of stamp duty.

It is not so treated for the purposes of any provision limiting the amount or number of debentures to be issued.

- (4) A person lending money on the security of a debenture re-issued under this section which appears to be duly stamped may give the debenture in evidence in any proceedings for enforcing his security without payment of the stamp duty or any penalty in respect of it, unless he had notice (or, but for his negligence, might have discovered) that the debenture was not duly stamped.

In that case the company is liable to pay the proper stamp duty and penalty.

CHAPTER 1

PROHIBITION OF PUBLIC OFFERS BY PRIVATE COMPANIES

755 Prohibition of public offers by private company

- (1) A private company limited by shares or limited by guarantee and having a share capital must not—
- offer to the public any securities of the company, or
 - allot or agree to allot any securities of the company with a view to their being offered to the public.
- (2) Unless the contrary is proved, an allotment or agreement to allot securities is presumed to be made with a view to their being offered to the public if an offer of the securities (or any of them) to the public is made—
- within six months after the allotment or agreement to allot, or

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) before the receipt by the company of the whole of the consideration to be received by it in respect of the securities.
- (3) A company does not contravene this section if—
 - (a) it acts in good faith in pursuance of arrangements under which it is to re-register as a public company before the securities are allotted, or
 - (b) as part of the terms of the offer it undertakes to re-register as a public company within a specified period, and that undertaking is complied with.
- (4) The specified period for the purposes of subsection (3)(b) must be a period ending not later than six months after the day on which the offer is made (or, in the case of an offer made on different days, first made).
- (5) In this Chapter “securities” means shares or debentures.

756 Meaning of “offer to the public”

- (1) This section explains what is meant in this Chapter by an offer of securities to the public.
- (2) An offer to the public includes an offer to any section of the public, however selected.
- (3) An offer is not regarded as an offer to the public if it can properly be regarded, in all the circumstances, as—
 - (a) not being calculated to result, directly or indirectly, in securities of the company becoming available to persons other than those receiving the offer, or
 - (b) otherwise being a private concern of the person receiving it and the person making it.
- (4) An offer is to be regarded (unless the contrary is proved) as being a private concern of the person receiving it and the person making it if—
 - (a) it is made to a person already connected with the company and, where it is made on terms allowing that person to renounce his rights, the rights may only be renounced in favour of another person already connected with the company; or
 - (b) it is an offer to subscribe for securities to be held under an employees' share scheme and, where it is made on terms allowing that person to renounce his rights, the rights may only be renounced in favour of—
 - (i) another person entitled to hold securities under the scheme, or
 - (ii) a person already connected with the company.
- (5) For the purposes of this section “person already connected with the company” means—
 - (a) an existing member or employee of the company,
 - (b) a member of the family of a person who is or was a member or employee of the company,
 - (c) the widow or widower, or surviving civil partner, of a person who was a member or employee of the company,
 - (d) an existing debenture holder of the company, or
 - (e) a trustee (acting in his capacity as such) of a trust of which the principal beneficiary is a person within any of paragraphs (a) to (d).

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (6) For the purposes of subsection (5)(b) the members of a person's family are the person's spouse or civil partner and children (including step-children) and their descendants.

757 Enforcement of prohibition: order restraining proposed contravention

- (1) If it appears to the court—
- (a) on an application under this section, or
 - (b) in proceedings under Part 30 (protection of members against unfair prejudice), that a company is proposing to act in contravention of section 755 (prohibition of public offers by private companies), the court shall make an order under this section.
- (2) An order under this section is an order restraining the company from contravening that section.
- (3) An application for an order under this section may be made by—
- (a) a member or creditor of the company, or
 - (b) the Secretary of State.

758 Enforcement of prohibition: orders available to the court after contravention

- (1) This section applies if it appears to the court—
- (a) on an application under this section, or
 - (b) in proceedings under Part 30 (protection of members against unfair prejudice), that a company has acted in contravention of section 755 (prohibition of public offers by private companies).
- (2) The court must make an order requiring the company to re-register as a public company unless it appears to the court—
- (a) that the company does not meet the requirements for re-registration as a public company, and
 - (b) that it is impractical or undesirable to require it to take steps to do so.
- (3) If it does not make an order for re-registration, the court may make either or both of the following—
- (a) a remedial order (see section 759), or
 - (b) an order for the compulsory winding up of the company.
- (4) An application under this section may be made by—
- (a) a member of the company who—
 - (i) was a member at the time the offer was made (or, if the offer was made over a period, at any time during that period), or
 - (ii) became a member as a result of the offer,
 - (b) a creditor of the company who was a creditor at the time the offer was made (or, if the offer was made over a period, at any time during that period), or
 - (c) the Secretary of State.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

759 Enforcement of prohibition: remedial order

- (1) A “remedial order” is an order for the purpose of putting a person affected by anything done in contravention of section 755 (prohibition of public offers by private company) in the position he would have been in if it had not been done.
- (2) The following provisions are without prejudice to the generality of the power to make such an order.
- (3) Where a private company has—
 - (a) allotted securities pursuant to an offer to the public, or
 - (b) allotted or agreed to allot securities with a view to their being offered to the public, a remedial order may require any person knowingly concerned in the contravention of section 755 to offer to purchase any of those securities at such price and on such other terms as the court thinks fit.
- (4) A remedial order may be made—
 - (a) against any person knowingly concerned in the contravention, whether or not an officer of the company;
 - (b) notwithstanding anything in the company's constitution (which includes, for this purpose, the terms on which any securities of the company are allotted or held);
 - (c) whether or not the holder of the securities subject to the order is the person to whom the company allotted or agreed to allot them.
- (5) Where a remedial order is made against the company itself, the court may provide for the reduction of the company's capital accordingly.

760 Validity of allotment etc not affected

Nothing in this Chapter affects the validity of any allotment or sale of securities or of any agreement to allot or sell securities.

CHAPTER 2

MINIMUM SHARE CAPITAL REQUIREMENT FOR PUBLIC COMPANIES

761 Public company: requirement as to minimum share capital

- (1) A company that is a public company (otherwise than by virtue of re-registration as a public company) must not do business or exercise any borrowing powers unless the registrar has issued it with a certificate under this section (a “trading certificate”).
- (2) The registrar shall issue a trading certificate if, on an application made in accordance with section 762, he is satisfied that the nominal value of the company's allotted share capital is not less than the authorised minimum.
- (3) For this purpose a share allotted in pursuance of an employees' share scheme shall not be taken into account unless paid up as to—
 - (a) at least one-quarter of the nominal value of the share, and
 - (b) the whole of any premium on the share.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (4) A trading certificate has effect from the date on which it is issued and is conclusive evidence that the company is entitled to do business and exercise any borrowing powers.

762 Procedure for obtaining certificate

- (1) An application for a certificate under section 761 must—
- state that the nominal value of the company's allotted share capital is not less than the authorised minimum,
 - specify the amount, or estimated amount, of the company's preliminary expenses,
 - specify any amount or benefit paid or given, or intended to be paid or given, to any promoter of the company, and the consideration for the payment or benefit,^{F1023} ...
 - be accompanied by a statement of compliance [^{F1024}and
 - be accompanied by a statement of the aggregate amount paid up on the shares of the company on account of their nominal value.]
- (2) The statement of compliance is a statement that the company meets the requirements for the issue of a certificate under section 761.
- (3) The registrar may accept the statement of compliance as sufficient evidence of the matters stated in it.

763 The authorised minimum

- (1) “The authorised minimum”, in relation to the nominal value of a public company's allotted share capital is—
- £50,000, or
 - the prescribed euro equivalent.
- (2) The Secretary of State may by order prescribe the amount in euros that is for the time being to be treated as equivalent to the sterling amount of the authorised minimum.
- (3) This power may be exercised from time to time as appears to the Secretary of State to be appropriate.
- (4) The amount prescribed shall be determined by applying an appropriate spot rate of exchange to the sterling amount and rounding to the nearest 100 euros.
- (5) An order under this section is subject to negative resolution procedure.
- (6) This section has effect subject to any exercise of the power conferred by section 764 (power to alter authorised minimum).

764 Power to alter authorised minimum

- (1) The Secretary of State may by order—
 - (a) alter the sterling amount of the authorised minimum, and
 - (b) make a corresponding alteration of the prescribed euro equivalent.
- (2) The amount of the prescribed euro equivalent shall be determined by applying an appropriate spot rate of exchange to the sterling amount and rounding to the nearest 100 euros.
- (3) An order under this section that increases the authorised minimum may—
 - (a) require a public company having an allotted share capital of which the nominal value is less than the amount specified in the order to—
 - (i) increase that value to not less than that amount, or
 - (ii) re-register as a private company;
 - (b) make provision in connection with any such requirement for any of the matters for which provision is made by this Act relating to—
 - (i) a company's registration, re-registration or change of name,
 - (ii) payment for shares comprised in a company's share capital, and
 - (iii) offers to the public of shares in or debentures of a company, including provision as to the consequences (in criminal law or otherwise) of a failure to comply with any requirement of the order;
 - (c) provide for any provision of the order to come into force on different days for different purposes.
- (4) An order under this section is subject to affirmative resolution procedure.

775 Certification of instrument of transfer

- (1) The certification by a company of an instrument of transfer of any shares in, or debentures of, the company is to be taken as a representation by the company to any person acting on the faith of the certification that there have been produced to the company such documents as on their face show a prima facie title to the shares or debentures in the transferor named in the instrument.
- (2) The certification is not to be taken as a representation that the transferor has any title to the shares or debentures.
- (3) Where a person acts on the faith of a false certification by a company made negligently, the company is under the same liability to him as if the certification had been made fraudulently.
- (4) For the purposes of this section—
 - (a) an instrument of transfer is certificated if it bears the words “certificate lodged” (or words to the like effect);
 - (b) the certification of an instrument of transfer is made by a company if—
 - (i) the person issuing the instrument is a person authorised to issue certificated instruments of transfer on the company's behalf, and
 - (ii) the certification is signed by a person authorised to certificate transfers on the company's behalf or by an officer or employee either of the company or of a body corporate so authorised;
 - (c) a certification is treated as signed by a person if—
 - (i) it purports to be authenticated by his signature or initials (whether handwritten or not), and
 - (ii) it is not shown that the signature or initials was or were placed there neither by himself nor by a person authorised to use the signature or initials for the purpose of certifying transfers on the company's behalf.

Issue of certificates etc on transfer

776 Duty of company as to issue of certificates etc on transfer

- (1) A company must, within two months after the date on which a transfer of any of its shares, debentures or debenture stock is lodged with the company, complete and have ready for delivery—
 - (a) the certificates of the shares transferred,
 - (b) the debentures transferred, or
 - (c) the certificates of the debenture stock transferred.
- (2) For this purpose a “transfer” means—
 - (a) a transfer duly stamped and otherwise valid, or
 - (b) an exempt transfer within the Stock Transfer Act 1982 (c. 41),

but does not include a transfer that the company is for any reason entitled to refuse to register and does not register.

- (3) Subsection (1) does not apply—
- (a) if the conditions of issue of the shares, debentures or debenture stock provide otherwise,
 - (b) in the case of a transfer to a financial institution (see section 778), or
 - (c) in the case of a transfer of shares if, following the transfer, the company has issued a share warrant in respect of the shares (see section 779).
- (4) Subsection (1) has effect subject to section 777 (cases where the Stock Transfer Act 1982 applies).
- (5) If default is made in complying with subsection (1) an offence is committed by every officer of the company who is in default.
- (6) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale.

777 Issue of certificates etc: cases within the Stock Transfer Act 1982

- (1) Section 776(1) (duty of company as to issue of certificates etc on transfer) does not apply in the case of a transfer to a person where, by virtue of regulations under section 3 of the Stock Transfer Act 1982, he is not entitled to a certificate or other document of or evidencing title in respect of the securities transferred.
- (2) But if in such a case the transferee—
- (a) subsequently becomes entitled to such a certificate or other document by virtue of any provision of those regulations, and
 - (b) gives notice in writing of that fact to the company,
- section 776 (duty to company as to issue of certificates etc) has effect as if the reference in subsection (1) of that section to the date of the lodging of the transfer were a reference to the date of the notice.

CHAPTER 2

EVIDENCING AND TRANSFER OF TITLE TO SECURITIES WITHOUT WRITTEN INSTRUMENT

Introductory

783 Scope of this Chapter

In this Chapter—

- (a) “securities” means shares, debentures, debenture stock, loan stock, bonds, units of a collective investment scheme within the meaning of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (c. 8) and other securities of any description;
- (b) references to title to securities include any legal or equitable interest in securities;
- (c) references to a transfer of title include a transfer by way of security;
- (d) references to transfer without a written instrument include, in relation to bearer securities, transfer without delivery.

784 Power to make regulations

- (1) The power to make regulations under this Chapter is exercisable by the Treasury and the Secretary of State, either jointly or concurrently.
- (2) References in this Chapter to the authority having power to make regulations shall accordingly be read as references to both or either of them, as the case may require.
- (3) Regulations under this Chapter are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.

- (a) for procedures for recording and transferring title to securities, and
 - (b) for the regulation of those procedures and the persons responsible for or involved in their operation.
- (3) The regulations must contain such safeguards as appear to the authority making the regulations appropriate for the protection of investors and for ensuring that competition is not restricted, distorted or prevented.
- (4) The regulations may, for the purpose of enabling or facilitating the operation of the procedures provided for by the regulations, make provision with respect to the rights and obligations of persons in relation to securities dealt with under the procedures.
- (5) The regulations may include provision for the purpose of giving effect to—
- (a) the transmission of title to securities by operation of law;
 - (b) any restriction on the transfer of title to securities arising by virtue of the provisions of any enactment or instrument, court order or agreement;
 - (c) any power conferred by any such provision on a person to deal with securities on behalf of the person entitled.
- (6) The regulations may make provision with respect to the persons responsible for the operation of the procedures provided for by the regulations—
- (a) as to the consequences of their insolvency or incapacity, or
 - (b) as to the transfer from them to other persons of their functions in relation to those procedures.
- [^{F1040}(7) The regulations may confer functions on any person, including—
- (a) the function of giving guidance or issuing a code of practice in relation to any provision made by the regulations, and
 - (b) the function of making rules for the purposes of any provision made by the regulations.
- (8) The regulations may, in prescribed cases, confer immunity from liability in damages.]

- (b) requiring companies, or any designated class of companies, to adopt such arrangements.
- (2) The regulations may make such provision—
 - (a) in respect of all securities issued by a company, or
 - (b) in respect of all securities of a specified description.
- (3) The arrangements provided for by regulations making such provision as is mentioned in subsection (1)—
 - (a) must not be such that a person who but for the arrangements would be entitled to have his name entered in the company's register of members [^{F1041} [^{F1042} (or, as the case may be, delivered to the registrar under Chapter 2A of Part 8)]] ceases to be so entitled, and
 - (b) must be such that a person who but for the arrangements would be entitled to exercise any rights in respect of the securities continues to be able effectively to control the exercise of those rights.
- (4) The regulations may—
 - (a) prohibit the issue of any certificate by the company in respect of the issue or transfer of securities,
 - (b) require the provision by the company to holders of securities of statements (at specified intervals or on specified occasions) of the securities held in their name, and
 - (c) make provision as to the matters of which any such certificate or statement is, or is not, evidence.
- (5) In this section—
 - (a) references to a designated class of companies are to a class designated in the regulations or by order under section 787; and
 - (b) “specified” means specified in the regulations.

790D [^{F1060}Company's duty to investigate and obtain information][^{F1060}Company's duty to give notices to persons with significant control]

[A company to which this Part applies must give a notice to a person under this section ^{F1060}(1) if—

- (a) the company knows or has cause to believe that the person is a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company, but
 - (b) the company has not had confirmation of the person's status as a registrable person or registrable relevant legal entity or has not had confirmation of all of the required particulars of the person (see section 790K).
- (2) The notice must require the person—
- (a) to inform the company whether the person is a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company, and
 - (b) if they are, to give the company all of the required particulars of the person (see section 790K).
- (3) The notice must require the person to whom it is given to comply with the notice by no later than the end of the period of one month beginning with the day on which it is given.
- (4) The company must give the notice—
- (a) as soon as reasonably practicable after the company becomes subject to the duty to give a notice under this section, and
 - (b) in any event before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the company becomes so subject.
- (5) A company is not required to give a notice under this section to a person if—
- (a) the application for the registration of the company contained a statement of initial significant control naming the person as someone who would, on the company's incorporation, become a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company, and

Obtaining information from third parties

F1060790DA

- (1) A company to which this Part applies may give a notice to a person under this section if it knows or has cause to believe that the person—
 - (a) knows the identity of someone who falls within subsection (2), or
 - (b) knows the identity of someone likely to have that knowledge.
- (2) The persons who fall within this subsection are—
 - (a) a registrable person in relation to the company;
 - (b) a relevant legal entity in relation to the company;
 - (c) an entity which would be a relevant legal entity in relation to the company but for the fact that section 790C(6)(b) does not apply in respect of it.
- (3) A company must give a notice under subsection (1) to a person (“a third party”) if the company—
 - (a) knows or has cause to believe that a person is a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company (“a suspected PSC”),
 - (b) is under a duty to give the suspected PSC a notice under section 790D but does not have the information that it needs in order to contact them, and
 - (c) knows or has cause to believe that the third party—
 - (i) knows the identity of the suspected PSC, or
 - (ii) knows the identity of someone likely to have that knowledge.
- (4) A notice under subsection (1) must require the person to whom it is given (“the recipient”)—

- (a) to inform the company whether the recipient knows the identity of any person who—
 - (i) falls within subsection (2), or
 - (ii) is likely to know the identity of anyone who falls within subsection (2), and
 - (b) if the recipient does, to give the company any information within the recipient's knowledge that would allow the company to contact each such person.
- (5) The notice must require the person to whom it is given to comply with the notice by no later than the end of the period of one month beginning with the day on which it is given.
- (6) A person to whom a notice under subsection (1) is given is not required by that notice to disclose any information in respect of which a claim to legal professional privilege (in Scotland, to confidentiality of communications) could be maintained in legal proceedings.
- (7) The Secretary of State may by regulations make further provision about the giving of notices under this section, including provision about their form and content and the manner in which they must be given.
- (8) Regulations under subsection (7) are subject to negative resolution procedure.
- (9) In this section a reference to knowing the identity of a person includes knowing information from which that person can be identified.]

790IA Power to impose further duties involving nominee shareholders

- (1) The Secretary of State may by regulations make further provision for the purpose of enabling a company to which this Part applies to find out about anyone who has become or ceased to be a person who is—
 - (a) a registrable person in relation to the company by virtue of shares being held by a nominee, or
 - (b) a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company by virtue of shares being held by a nominee.
- (2) The regulations may, in particular—
 - (a) impose obligations on a company with a view to obtaining—
 - (i) information about whether a person has become or ceased to be a nominee shareholder;
 - (ii) if they have, information about: (A) the shareholding; (B) the nominee; (C) the person for whom the nominee holds or held the shares;
 - (iii) any other information required by the regulations;
 - (b) impose obligations on others (including nominees or former nominees) with a view to providing the company with—
 - (i) information of a kind described in paragraph (a)(i) or (ii);
 - (ii) any other information required by the regulations.
- (3) The regulations may, in particular, make provision similar or corresponding to any of the preceding provisions of this Chapter.
- (4) The provision that may be made by regulations under subsection (1) includes provision amending this Chapter.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. (5) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.]

Exemption from information and registration requirements

790J Power to make exemptions

- (1) The Secretary of State may exempt a person (whether an individual or a legal entity) under this section.
- (2) The effect of an exemption is—
 - (a) the person is not required to comply with any notice under section [F1068790D(2) or 790E][F1068790D, 790E or 790EA] (but if a notice is received, the person must bring the existence of the exemption to the attention of the company that sent it),
 - (b) companies are not obliged to take steps or give notice under those sections to or with respect to that person,
 - (c) notices under section [F1069790D(5)][F1069790DA] do not require anyone else to give any information about that person,
 - (d) the duties imposed by sections 790G [F1070] and 790H[F1070790H and 790HA] do not apply to that person, and
 - (e) the person does not count for the purposes of [F1071section 790M][F1071any of sections 12A, 790LA, 790LC, 790LD, 790LE, 790LF, 790LG, 790LH][F1072and 790LM to 790LS] as a registrable person or, as the case may be, a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to any company.
- (3) The Secretary of State must not grant an exemption under this section unless the Secretary of State is satisfied that, having regard to any undertaking given by the person to be exempted, there are special reasons why that person should be exempted.

Duty to notify registrar of persons with significant control

790LA Duty to notify registrar of confirmed persons with significant control

- (1) A company must give a notice to the registrar if it has had confirmation of—
 - (a) a person’s status as a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company, and
 - (b) the required particulars of the person (see section 790K).
- (2) A notice under subsection (1) must contain a statement of the required particulars.
- (3) A notice under subsection (1) must be given within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the company had confirmation as mentioned in that subsection.
- (4) A company is not required to give a notice under this section in relation to a person if—
 - (a) the application for the registration of the company contained a statement of initial significant control naming the person as someone who would, on the company’s incorporation, become a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company, and
 - (b) the company has no cause to believe that at any time since its incorporation the person has ceased to be a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company.
- (5) Nothing in section 126 (notice of trusts not receivable by registrar) affects the duty to give a notice under this section (or the receipt of that notice by the registrar).

790LB Option to provide ID verification information in notice of change

- (1) A notice under section 790LA\(1\) that relates to a registrable person may include a statement that the person’s identity is verified (see section 1110A).
- (2) A notice under section 790LA\(1\) that relates to a registrable relevant legal entity may include a statement that—

- (a) specifies the name of one of its relevant officers (within the meaning given by section 790LO(6)) who is an individual and whose identity is verified, and
 - (b) confirms that the individual’s identity is verified.
- (3) If the notice includes a statement under subsection (2), it must be accompanied by a statement by the individual confirming that the individual is a relevant officer of the registrable relevant legal entity.
- (4) To find out what happens if the option in subsection (1) or (2) is not exercised, see sections 790LM and 790LO.
- (5) In subsection (1) “registrable person” does not include a person mentioned in section 790C(12)(a) to (d).

790LC Duty to notify registrar of unconfirmed persons with significant control

- (1) A company must give a notice to the registrar if—
- (a) it knows or has cause to believe that a person has become a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company, but
 - (b) it has not yet had confirmation as mentioned in section 790LA(1).
- (2) The notice must state that fact.
- (3) A notice under subsection (1) must be given within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the company first knows or has cause to believe that the person has become a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company.
- (4) Nothing in this section requires a company, on its incorporation, to give a notice in relation to a person included in the statement of initial significant control under section 12A.

Duty to notify registrar of changes in required particulars

790LD Duties to notify of changes in required particulars

- (1) A company must give a notice to the registrar if it—
- (a) has had confirmation that there has been a change in the required particulars of a registrable person, or a registrable relevant legal entity, in relation to the company (see section 790K), and
 - (b) has had confirmation of how the required particulars have changed and the date on which they changed.
- (2) The notice must state—
- (a) the change in the required particulars, and
 - (b) the date on which the change occurred.
- (3) A notice under subsection (1) must be given within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the company had confirmation as mentioned in that subsection.
- (4) Nothing in section 126 (notice of trusts not receivable by registrar) affects the duty to give a notice under this section (or the receipt of that notice by the registrar).

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

790LE Duty to notify of pre-incorporation changes in required particulars

- (1) A company must give a notice to the registrar if it—
 - (a) has had confirmation that there was a pre-incorporation change in the required particulars of a proposed PSC (see section 790K), and
 - (b) has had confirmation of how the required particulars have changed and the date on which they changed.
- (2) But a company is not required to give a notice under subsection (1) in respect of a person if it has given a notice under section 790LG in respect of the person.
- (3) A notice under subsection (1) must state—
 - (a) the change in the required particulars, and
 - (b) the date on which the change occurred.
- (4) A notice under subsection (1) must be given within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the company had confirmation as mentioned in that subsection.
- (5) In this section—
 - “pre-incorporation change” means a change that occurred—
 - (a) after the application for the registration of the company was delivered to the registrar, but
 - (b) before the company was incorporated;
 - “proposed PSC”, in relation to a company, means a person who was named in a statement under section 12A(1)(a) as a person who would, on the company’s incorporation, become a registrable person or registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company.

Duty to notify registrar of person ceasing to be person with significant control etc

790LF Duty to notify registrar when person ceases to have significant control

- (1) A company must give a notice to the registrar if it—
 - (a) has had confirmation that a person has ceased to be a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to it, and
 - (b) has had confirmation of the date on which the person so ceased.
- (2) A notice under subsection (1) must state—
 - (a) the person’s name and service address, and
 - (b) the date on which the person ceased to be a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company.
- (3) A notice under subsection (1) must be given within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the company had confirmation as mentioned in that subsection.

790LG Notification of someone not becoming person with significant control on incorporation

- (1) A company must give a notice to the registrar if it knows that a person named in the statement under section 12A(1)(a) as a person who would, on the company’s incorporation, become a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity did not so become.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) A notice under subsection (1) must be given within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the company has the knowledge mentioned there.

790LH Duty to notify registrar if company ceases to have persons with significant control

- (1) A company must give a notice to the registrar if it knows or has cause to believe that—
- (a) there has at some time been a person who is a registrable person or registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company, and
 - (b) there has ceased to be anyone who is a registrable person or registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company.
- (2) A notice under subsection (1) must —
- (a) state that the company has that knowledge or cause to believe, and
 - (b) specify the date on which the company first had that knowledge or cause to believe.
- (3) A notice under subsection (1) must be given within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the company first had the knowledge or cause to believe mentioned in that subsection.

790LI Power to create further duties to notify information

- (1) The Secretary of State may by regulations impose further duties on a company to deliver information to the registrar about—
- (a) registrable persons, or registrable relevant legal entities, in relation to the company (including information about whether it has any);
 - (b) compliance with Chapter 2 by the company or any person to whom the company has given a notice under that Chapter (including provision requiring a company to provide the registrar with a copy of any such notice, whether on request or otherwise).
- (2) The provision that may be made by regulations under subsection (1) includes provision amending this Part.
- (3) The consequential provision that may be made by regulations under subsection (1) by virtue of section 1292(1) also includes provision amending any other provision of this Act.
- (4) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.

790LJ Persons with significant control: offence of failure to notify

- (1) If a company fails, without reasonable excuse, to comply with section 790LA, 790LC, 790LD, 790LE, 790LF, 790LG or 790LH, or regulations under section 790LI, an offence is committed by—
- (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- (2) For this purpose a shadow director is treated as an officer of the company.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (3) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale.

790LK Power of court to order company to remedy defaults or delay

- (1) Where a company makes default in complying with section 790LA, 790LC, 790LD, 790LE, 790LF, 790LG or 790LH, or regulations under section 790LI, an application may be made to the court for an order requiring the company to deliver to the registrar the information (or statements) necessary to rectify the position.
- (2) The application may be made by—
- (a) any person aggrieved by the default,
 - (b) any member of the company, or
 - (c) any person who is a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company.
- (3) On an application under subsection (1) the court may either refuse the application or may make the order and order the company to pay any damages sustained by any party aggrieved.
- (4) On an application under subsection (1) the court may decide—
- (a) any question as to whether the name of any person who is a party to the application should or should not be included in or omitted from information delivered to the registrar under this Chapter about persons who are a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company, and
 - (b) any question necessary or expedient to be decided for rectifying the position.
- (5) Nothing in this section affects a person's rights under section 1094 or 1096 (rectification of register).

790LL Information as to whether information has been delivered

- (1) A person may request a company to tell the person whether all of the information that it is required to deliver to the registrar under this Chapter has been delivered.
- (2) The company must comply with the request within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the request is made.
- (3) If the company fails, without reasonable excuse, to do so, an offence is committed by—
- (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- (4) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale.
- (5) Subsection (1) does not apply in relation to information if the company is aware that, by virtue of regulations under section 1088, the registrar is required to refrain from making that information available for public inspection.]

^{F1080}Identity verification obligations for persons with significant control

Textual Amendments

F1080Ss. 790LM-790LT and cross-heading inserted (26.10.2023 but only so far as it confers a power to make regulations or relates to the exercise of the power, otherwise prosp.) by Economic Crime and Corporate Transparency Act 2023 \(c. 56\), ss. 64(3), 219(1)(2)(b)

790LM Initial identity verification: registrable persons

- (1) This section applies in the following cases.
 - Case 1 is where—
 - (a) a company is incorporated in pursuance of an application for registration containing a statement under section 12A(1)(a) naming a person as someone who will, on the company’s incorporation, become a registrable person (“the registrable person”),
 - (b) the application does not include a statement under section 12B(2) in respect of the registrable person or it appears to the registrar that the statement is false, and
 - (c) the company has not given a notice under section 790LG(1) in respect of the person.
 - Case 2 is where—
 - (a) the registrar is notified under section 790LF that a person has become a registrable person in relation to a company (“the registrable person”), and
 - (b) the notice does not include a statement under section 790LB(1) or it appears to the registrar that the statement is false.
- (2) The registrar must direct the registrable person to deliver to the registrar, within the period of 14 days beginning with the date of the direction, a statement confirming that the person’s identity is verified (see section 1110A).
- (3) The registrar may by further direction extend that period by up to 14 days at a time.
- (4) A direction under this section must be in writing.
- (5) A direction given to a person under this section lapses if notice is later given under section 790LG(1) in respect of that person.
- (6) In this section “registrable person” does not include a person mentioned in section 790C(12)(a) to (d).

790LN Initial identity verification for registrable persons: transitional cases

- (1) A person must deliver to the registrar the statement required by this section if the person—
 - (a) is a registrable person in relation to a company at any time during the appointed day, and
 - (b) either—
 - (i) became a registrable person on the incorporation of the company in pursuance of an application for registration delivered before section 12B(2) came fully into force, or

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (ii) became a registrable person, otherwise than on the incorporation of the company, before the day on which section 790LB(1) came fully into force.
- (2) The statement required by this section is a statement confirming that person’s identity is verified (see section 1110A).
- (3) A statement required by this section must be delivered within the period of 14 days beginning with the appointed day.
- (4) But the registrar may by direction in writing extend that period by up to 14 days at a time.
- (5) In this section—
 - “the appointed day” means such day as the Secretary of State may by regulations appoint for the purposes of this section;
 - “registrable person” does not include a person mentioned in section 790C(12)(a) to (d).
- (6) The appointed day must not be before sections 12B(2) and 790LB(1) have been brought fully into force.

790LO Initial identity verification: registrable relevant legal entities

- (1) This section applies in the following cases.
 - Case 1 is where—
 - (a) a company is incorporated in pursuance of an application for registration containing a statement under section 12A(1)(a) naming a person as a person who will, on the company’s incorporation become a registrable relevant legal entity (“the entity”),
 - (b) the application does not include a statement under section 12B(3) in respect of the entity, or is not accompanied by a statement under section 12B(4) by the person whose name is specified in the statement under section 12B(3), or it appears to the registrar that either statement is false, and
 - (c) the company has not given a notice under section 790LG(1) in respect of the entity.
 - Case 2 is where—
 - (a) the registrar is notified under section 790LA that a person has become a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to a company (“the entity”), and
 - (b) the notice does not include a statement under section 790LB(2), or it is not accompanied by a statement under section 790LB(3), or it appears to the registrar that either statement is false.
- (2) The registrar must direct the entity to deliver to the registrar, within the period of 28 days beginning with the date of the direction—
 - (a) a statement by the entity that—
 - (i) specifies the name of one of its relevant officers who is an individual and whose identity is verified, and
 - (ii) confirms that the individual’s identity is verified, and

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) a statement by the individual confirming that the individual is a relevant officer of the entity.
- (3) The registrar may by further direction extend that period by up to 28 days at a time.
- (4) A direction under this section must be in writing.
- (5) A direction given to an entity under this section lapses if notice is later given under section 790LG(1) in respect of that entity.
- (6) In subsection (2) “relevant officer”—
 - (a) in relation to a company, means a director;
 - (b) in relation to a legal entity the affairs of which are managed by its members, means one of those members;
 - (c) in relation to any other legal entity, means an officer of the entity whose functions correspond to that of a director of a company.

790LP Initial identity verification in respect of registrable relevant legal entities: transitional cases

- (1) A person must deliver to the registrar the statements required by this section if the person—
 - (a) is a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to a company at any time during the appointed day, and
 - (b) either—
 - (i) became a registrable relevant legal entity on the incorporation of the company in pursuance of an application for registration delivered before section 12B(3) and (4) came fully into force, or
 - (ii) became a registrable relevant legal entity, otherwise than on the incorporation of the company, before section 790LB(2) and (3) came fully into force.
- (2) The statements are—
 - (a) a statement by the entity that—
 - (i) specifies the name of one of its relevant officers who is an individual and whose identity is verified, and
 - (ii) confirms that the individual’s identity is verified, and
 - (b) a statement by the individual confirming that the individual is a relevant officer of the entity.
- (3) The statements required by this section must be delivered within the period of 28 days beginning with the appointed day.
- (4) But the registrar may by direction in writing extend that period by up to 28 days at a time.
- (5) In this section—
 - “the appointed day” means such day as the Secretary of State may by regulations appoint for the purposes of this section;
 - “relevant officer” has the meaning given by section 790LO(6).
- (6) The appointed day must not be before sections 12B(3) and (4) and 790LB(2) and (3) have been brought fully into force.

790LQ Registrable persons: duty to maintain verified identity status

- (1) A registrable person in relation to a company must ensure that, throughout the relevant period, they maintain the status of a person whose identity is verified (see section 1110A).
- (2) In this section “the relevant period” means the period—
 - (a) beginning with—
 - (i) the incorporation of the company, in a case where the person became a registrable person on its incorporation and the application for registration of the company included a statement under section 12B(2) in respect of the person,
 - (ii) the delivery to the registrar of a statement in respect of the person under section 790LB(1), in a case where the person became a registrable person after the incorporation of the company and such a statement was delivered to the registrar,
 - (iii) the expiry of the period for complying with the direction under section 790LM, in a case where a direction under that section is given to the person, and
 - (iv) the expiry of the period for complying with section 790LN, in a case where that section applies to the person, and
 - (b) ending on the giving of a notice to the registrar under section 790LF that the person has ceased to be a registrable person in relation to the company.
- (3) In this section “registrable person” does not include a person mentioned in section 790C(12)(a) to (d).

790LR Registrable relevant legal entities: duty to maintain registered officer whose identity is verified

- (1) A registrable relevant legal entity in relation to a company must ensure that, throughout the relevant period, its registered officer—
 - (a) is a relevant officer of the entity, and
 - (b) is an individual whose identity is verified (see section 1110A).
- (2) In this section “registered officer”, in relation to a registrable relevant legal entity, means—
 - (a) the person whose name is specified in—
 - (i) a statement delivered to the registrar in respect of the entity under section 12B(3) or 790LB(2),
 - (ii) a statement delivered to the registrar by the entity in pursuance of a direction under section 790LO(2), or
 - (iii) a statement delivered to the registrar under section 790LP(2), unless the entity has changed its registered officer under section 790LS, or
 - (b) if the entity has changed its registered officer under section 790LS, the person specified in the latest notice under that section.
- (3) In this section “the relevant period” means the period—
 - (a) beginning with—
 - (i) the incorporation of the company, in a case where the entity became a relevant registrable legal entity on the incorporation of the company and the application for registration of the company included a statement under section 12B(3) in respect of the entity,

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (ii) the delivery to the registrar of a statement in respect of the registrable relevant legal entity under section 790LB(2), in a case where the entity became a relevant registrable legal entity after the incorporation of the company and such a statement was delivered to the registrar,
- (iii) the expiry of the period for complying with the direction 790LO, in a case where the entity is given a direction under that section, and
- (iv) the expiry of the period for complying with section 790LP, where that section applies to the entity, and

- (b) ending with the giving of a notice to the registrar under section 790LF that the entity has ceased to be a relevant registrable legal entity in relation to the company, but see subsection (4).

- (4) If the registered officer of a registrable relevant legal entity ceases to be a relevant officer of that entity, “the relevant period” does not include the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the person so ceases.
- (5) In this section “relevant officer” has the meaning given by section 790LO(6).

790LS Registrable relevant legal entities: change of registered relevant officer

- (1) A registrable relevant legal entity may change its registered officer for the purposes of section 790LR by giving notice to the registrar.
- (2) The notice must include a statement by the entity that the new registered officer—
 - (a) is a relevant officer of the entity, and
 - (b) is an individual whose identity is verified (see section 1110A).
- (3) The notice must be accompanied by a statement by the individual who is the new registered officer confirming that the individual is a relevant officer of the registrable relevant legal entity.
- (4) In this section “relevant officer” has the meaning given by section 790LO(6).

790LT Offence of failing to comply with sections 790LM to 790LR

- (1) It is an offence for a person to fail, without reasonable excuse, to comply with—
 - (a) any of the following sections—
 - section 790LN;
 - section 790LP;
 - section 790LQ;
 - section 790LR;
 - (b) a direction under section 790LM or 790LO.
- (2) Where an offence under this section is committed by a registrable relevant legal entity, every officer of the entity who is in default also commits the offence.
- (3) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction—
 - (a) in England and Wales, to a fine;

790M Duty to keep register

- (1) A company to which this Part applies must keep a register of people with significant control over the company.
- (2) The required particulars of any individual with significant control over the company who is “registrable” in relation to the company must be entered in the register [^{F1082}before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day after all the required particulars of that individual are first confirmed].
- (3) The company must not enter any of the individual's particulars in the register until they have all been confirmed.
- (4) Particulars of any individual with significant control over the company who is “non-registrable” in relation to the company must not be entered in the register.
- [^{F1083}(5) The required particulars of any entity that is a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company must be entered in the register before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day after the company first has all the required particulars of that entity.]
- (6) If the company becomes aware of a relevant change (within the meaning of section 790E) with respect to a registrable person ^{F1084}... whose particulars are stated in the register [^{F1085}, the company must enter in the register—
 - (a) the changes to the required particulars resulting from the relevant change, and
 - (b) the date on which the relevant change occurred, before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day after all of those changes and that date are first confirmed.]
- [^{F1086}(6A) If the company becomes aware of a relevant change (within the meaning of section 790E) with respect to a registrable relevant legal entity whose particulars are stated in the register, the company must enter in the register—

- (b) the date on which the relevant change occurred, before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day after the company first has details of all of those changes and that date.]
- (7) The Secretary of State may by regulations require additional matters to be noted in a company's PSC register.
- [^{F1087}(7A) If a company is required by regulations made under subsection (7) to note an additional matter in its PSC register, the company must note the additional matter before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day after the requirement arises.]
- (8) Regulations under subsection (7) are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.
- (9) A person's required particulars, [^{F1088}a change to such particulars and the date of any relevant change with respect to a person], are considered for the purposes of this section to have been “confirmed” if—
- (a) the person supplied or confirmed them to the company (whether voluntarily, pursuant to a duty imposed by this Part or otherwise),
 - (b) another person did so but with that person's knowledge, or
 - (c) they were included in a statement of initial significant control delivered to the registrar under section 9 by subscribers wishing to form the company.
- (10) In the case of someone who was a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company on its incorporation—
- (a) the date to be entered in the register as the date on which the individual became a registrable person, or the entity became a registrable relevant legal entity, is to be the date of incorporation, and
 - (b) in the case of a registrable person, that particular is deemed to have been “confirmed”.
- (11) For the purposes of this section—
- (a) if a person's usual residential address is the same as his or her service address, the entry for him or her in the register may state that fact instead of repeating the address (but this does not apply in a case where the service address is stated to be “The company's registered office”);
 - (b) nothing in section 126 (trusts not to be entered on register) affects what may be entered in a company's PSC register or is receivable by the registrar in relation to people with significant control over a company (even if they are members of the company);
 - (c) see section 790J (exemptions) for cases where a person does not count as a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity.
- (12) If a company makes default in complying with this section, an offence is committed by—
- (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- (13) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale.
- (14) A company to which this Part applies is not by virtue of anything done for the purposes of this section affected with notice of, or put upon inquiry as to, the rights of any person in relation to any shares or rights in or with respect to the company.

[^{F1090}ALTERNATIVE METHOD OF RECORD-KEEPING

Textual Amendments

F1090Pt. 21A Ch. 4 omitted (26.10.2023 but only so far as it confers a power to make regulations or relates to the exercise of the power, otherwise prosp.) by virtue of Economic Crime and Corporate Transparency Act 2023 \(c. 56\), s. 219(1)(2)(b), Sch. 2 para. 19

790W Introductory

- (1) This Chapter sets out rules allowing private companies to keep information on the register kept by the registrar instead of entering it in their PSC register.
- (2) The register kept by the registrar (see section 1080) is referred to in this Chapter as “the central register”.
- (3) Chapter 3 must be read with this Chapter.
- (4) Nothing in this Chapter affects the duties imposed by Chapter 2.
- (5) Where an election under section 790X is in force in respect of a company, references in Chapter 2 to the company's PSC register are to be read as references to the central register.

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1199Ss. 790W-790ZD applied (with modifications) by S.I. 2009/1804, reg. 31K (as inserted (30.6.2016) by The Limited Liability Partnerships \(Register of People with Significant Control\) Regulations 2016 \(S.I. 2016/340\), regs. 1(2)(b), 3, Sch. 1)

790X Right to make an election

- (1) An election may be made under this section—
 - (a) by the subscribers wishing to form a private company under this Act, or
 - (b) by the private company itself once it is formed and registered.
- (2) The election is of no effect unless—
 - (a) notice of the intention to make the election was given to each eligible person at least 14 days before the day on which the election was made, and
 - (b) no objection was received by the subscribers or, as the case may be, the company from any eligible person within that notice period.
- (3) A person is an “eligible person” if—
 - (a) in a case of an election by the subscribers wishing to form a private company, the person's particulars would, but for the election, be required to be entered in the company's PSC register on its incorporation, and
 - (b) in the case of an election by the company itself—
 - (i) the person is a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company, and

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (ii) the person's particulars are stated in the company's PSC register.
- (4) An election under this section is made by giving notice of election to the registrar.
- (5) If the notice is given by subscribers wishing to form a private company—
- (a) it must be given when the documents required to be delivered under section 9 are delivered to the registrar, and
 - (b) it must be accompanied by a statement confirming that no objection was received as mentioned in subsection (2).
- (6) If the notice is given by the company, it must be accompanied by—
- (a) a statement confirming that no objection was received as mentioned in subsection (2), and
 - (b) a statement containing all the information that is required to be contained in the company's PSC register as at the date of the notice in respect of matters that are current as at that date.
- (7) The company must where necessary update the statement sent under subsection (6)(b) to ensure that the final version delivered to the registrar contains all the information that is required to be contained in the company's PSC register as at the time immediately before the election takes effect (see section 790Y) in respect of matters that are current as at that time.
- (8) The obligation in subsection (7) to update the statement includes an obligation to rectify it (where necessary) in consequence of the company's PSC register being rectified (whether before or after the election takes effect).
- (9) If default is made in complying with subsection (7), an offence is committed by—
- (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- For this purpose a shadow director is treated as an officer of the company.
- (10) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale.
- (11) A reference in this Chapter to matters that are current as at a given date or time is a reference to—
- (a) persons who are a registrable person or registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company as at that date or time and whose particulars are required to be contained in the company's PSC register as at that date or time, and
 - (b) any other matters that are current as at that date or time.

790Y Effective date of election

- (1) An election made under section 790X takes effect when the notice of election is registered by the registrar.
- (2) The election remains in force until either—
 - (a) the company ceases to be a private company, or
 - (b) a notice of withdrawal sent by the company under section 790ZD is registered by the registrar,whichever occurs first.

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1199Ss. 790W-790ZD applied (with modifications) by S.I. 2009/1804, reg. 31K (as inserted (30.6.2016) by The Limited Liability Partnerships \(Register of People with Significant Control\) Regulations 2016 (S.I. 2016/340), regs. 1(2)(b), 3, Sch. 1)

790Z Effect of election on obligations under Chapter 3

- (1) The effect of an election under section 790X on a company's obligations under Chapter 3 is as follows.
- (2) The company's obligation to maintain a PSC register does not apply with respect to the period when the election is in force.
- (3) This means that, during that period—
 - (a) the company must continue to keep a PSC register in accordance with Chapter 3 (a “historic” register) containing all the information that was required to be stated in that register as at the time immediately before the election took effect, but
 - (b) the company does not have to update that register to reflect any changes that occur after that time.
- (4) The provisions of Chapter 3 (including the rights to inspect or require copies of the PSC register) continue to apply to the historic register during the period when the election is in force.
- (5) The company must place a note in its historic register—
 - (a) stating that an election under section 790X is in force,
 - (b) recording when that election took effect, and
 - (c) indicating that up-to-date information about people with significant control over the company is available for public inspection on the central register.
- (6) Subsections (12) and (13) of section 790M apply if a company makes default in complying with subsection (5) as they apply if a company makes default in complying with that section.
- (7) The obligations under this section with respect to a historic register do not apply in a case where the election was made by subscribers wishing to form a private company.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

790ZA Duty to notify registrar of changes

- (1) The duty under subsection (2) applies during the period when an election under section 790X is in force.
- (2) The company must deliver to the registrar any information that the company would during that period have been obliged under Chapter 3 to enter in its PSC register, had the election not been in force.
- (3) The information must be delivered as soon as reasonably practicable after the company becomes aware of it and, in any event, no later than the time by which the company would have been required to enter the information in its PSC register.
- (4) If default is made in complying with this section, an offence is committed by—
 - (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.

For this purpose a shadow director is treated as an officer of the company.

- (5) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale.

790ZB Information as to state of central register

- (1) When a person inspects or requests a copy of material on the central register relating to a company in respect of which an election under section 790X is in force, the person may ask the company to confirm that all information that the company is required to deliver to the registrar under this Chapter has been delivered.
- (2) If a company fails to respond to a request under subsection (1), an offence is committed by—
 - (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- (3) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale.

790ZC Power of court to order company to remedy default or delay

- (1) This section applies if—
 - (a) the name of a person is without sufficient cause included in, or omitted from, information that a company delivers to the registrar under this Chapter concerning persons who are a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company, or
 - (b) default is made or unnecessary delay takes place in informing the registrar under this Chapter that a person—
 - (i) has become a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company, or
 - (ii) has ceased to be a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to it.
- (2) The person aggrieved, or any other interested party, may apply to the court for an order requiring the company to deliver to the registrar the information (or statements) necessary to rectify the position.
- (3) The court may either refuse the application or may make the order and order the company to pay any damages sustained by any party aggrieved.
- (4) On such an application the court may decide—
 - (a) any question as to whether the name of any person who is a party to the application should or should not be included in or omitted from information delivered to the registrar under this Chapter about persons who are a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company, and
 - (b) any question necessary or expedient to be decided for rectifying the position.
- (5) Nothing in this section affects a person's rights under section 1095 or 1096 (rectification of register on application to registrar or under court order).
- (6) The reference in this section to “any other interested party” is to—
 - (a) any member of the company, and
 - (b) any other person who is a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company.

790ZD Withdrawing the election

- (1) A company may withdraw an election made by or in respect of it under section 790X.
- (2) Withdrawal is achieved by giving notice of withdrawal to the registrar.
- (3) The withdrawal takes effect when the notice is registered by the registrar.
- (4) The effect of withdrawal is that the company's obligation under Chapter 3 to maintain a PSC register applies from then on with respect to the period going forward.
- (5) This means that, when the withdrawal takes effect—
 - (a) the company must enter in its PSC register all the information that is required to be contained in that register in respect of matters that are current as at that time,
 - (b) the company must also retain in its register all the information that it was required under section 790Z(3)(a) to keep in a historic register while the election was in force, but
 - (c) the company is not required to enter in its register information relating to the period when the election was in force that is no longer current.
- (6) The company must place a note in its PSC register—
 - (a) stating that the election under section 790X has been withdrawn,
 - (b) recording when that withdrawal took effect, and
 - (c) indicating that information about people with significant control over the company relating to the period when the election was in force that is no longer current is available for public inspection on the central register.
- (7) Subsections (12) and (13) of section 790M apply if a company makes default in complying with subsection (6) as they apply if a company makes default in complying with that section.

790ZE Power to extend option to public companies

- (1) The Secretary of State may by regulations amend this Act—
 - (a) to extend this Chapter (with or without modification) to public companies or public companies of a class specified in the regulations, and
 - (b) to make such other amendments as the Secretary of State thinks fit in consequence of that extension.
- (2) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.]

CHAPTER 5

PROTECTION FROM DISCLOSURE

790ZF Protection of information as to usual residential address

- (1) The provisions of sections 240 to 244 (directors' residential addresses: protection from disclosure) apply to information within subsection (2) as to protected information within the meaning of those sections.
- (2) The information within this subsection is—
 - (a) information as to the usual residential address of a person with significant control over a company, and
 - (b) the information that such a person's service address is his or her usual residential address.
- (3) [^{F1091}Subsection (1) does not apply to information relating to a person if an application under regulations made under section 790ZG has been granted with respect to that information and not been revoked.]

790ZG Power to make regulations protecting material

- [The Secretary of State may by regulations—
- ^{F1092}(1) (a) require a company to refrain from using, or refrain from disclosing, relevant PSC particulars except in circumstances specified in the regulations;
 - (b) confer power on the registrar, on application, to make an order requiring a company to refrain from using, or refrain from disclosing, relevant PSC particulars except in circumstances specified in the regulations.
- (2) “Relevant PSC particulars” means such particulars of a person with significant control over the company as may be prescribed.
 - (3) The reference in subsection (2) to a person with significant control over the company—
 - (a) includes a person who used to be such a person, but
 - (b) does not include any person in relation to which this Part has effect by virtue of section 790C(12) as if the person were an individual.

- (4) Regulations under subsection (1)(b) may make provision as to—
- (a) who may make an application;
 - (b) the grounds on which an application may be made;
 - (c) the information to be included in and documents to accompany an application;
 - (d) how an application is to be determined;
 - (e) the notice to be given of an application and its outcome;
 - (f) the duration of and procedures for revoking the restrictions on use and disclosure.
- (5) Provision under subsection (4) may in particular—
- (a) confer a discretion on the registrar;
 - (b) provide for a question to be referred to a person other than the registrar for the purposes of determining the application or revoking the restrictions.
- (6) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.
- (7) Nothing in this section or in regulations made under it affects the use or disclosure of particulars of a person in any other capacity (for example, the use or disclosure of particulars of a person in that person’s capacity as a member or director of the company).]

792 Shares to which this Part applies

- (1) References in this Part to a company's shares are to the company's issued shares of a class carrying rights to vote in all circumstances at general meetings of the company (including any shares held as treasury shares).
- (2) The temporary suspension of voting rights in respect of any shares does not affect the application of this Part in relation to interests in those or any other shares.

Commencement Information

I259 S. 792 wholly in force at 20.1.2007, see s. 1300 and S.I. 2006/3428, art. 3\(1\)\(d\) (subject to art. 5, Sch. 1 and with arts. 6, 8, Sch. 5)

Notice requiring information about interests in shares

793 Notice by company requiring information about interests in its shares

- (1) A public company may give notice under this section to any person whom the company knows or has reasonable cause to believe—

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) to be interested in the company's shares, or
 - (b) to have been so interested at any time during the three years immediately preceding the date on which the notice is issued.
- (2) The notice may require the person—
- (a) to confirm that fact or (as the case may be) to state whether or not it is the case, and
 - (b) if he holds, or has during that time held, any such interest, to give such further information as may be required in accordance with the following provisions of this section.
- (3) The notice may require the person to whom it is addressed to give particulars of his own present or past interest in the company's shares (held by him at any time during the three year period mentioned in subsection (1)(b)).
- (4) The notice may require the person to whom it is addressed, where—
- (a) his interest is a present interest and another interest in the shares subsists, or
 - (b) another interest in the shares subsisted during that three year period at a time when his interest subsisted,
- to give, so far as lies within his knowledge, such particulars with respect to that other interest as may be required by the notice.
- (5) The particulars referred to in subsections (3) and (4) include—
- (a) the identity of persons interested in the shares in question, and
 - (b) whether persons interested in the same shares are or were parties to—
 - (i) an agreement to which section 824 applies (certain share acquisition agreements), or
 - (ii) an agreement or arrangement relating to the exercise of any rights conferred by the holding of the shares.
- (6) The notice may require the person to whom it is addressed, where his interest is a past interest, to give (so far as lies within his knowledge) particulars of the identity of the person who held that interest immediately upon his ceasing to hold it.
- (7) The information required by the notice must be given within such reasonable time as may be specified in the notice.

Commencement Information

I260 S. 793 wholly in force at 20.1.2007, see s. 1300 and S.I. 2006/3428, art. 3(1)(d) (subject to art. 5, Sch. 1 and with arts. 6, 8, Sch. 5)

794 Notice requiring information: order imposing restrictions on shares

- (1) Where—
- (a) a notice under section 793 (notice requiring information about interests in company's shares) is served by a company on a person who is or was interested in shares in the company, and
 - (b) that person fails to give the company the information required by the notice within the time specified in it, the company may apply to the court for an order directing that the shares in question be subject to restrictions.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

For the effect of such an order see section 797.

(2) If the court is satisfied that such an order may unfairly affect the rights of third parties in respect of the shares, the court may, for the purpose of protecting those rights and subject to such terms as it thinks fit, direct that such acts by such persons or descriptions of persons and for such purposes as may be set out in the order shall not constitute a breach of the restrictions.

(3) On an application under this section the court may make an interim order.

Any such order may be made unconditionally or on such terms as the court thinks fit.

(4) Sections 798 to 802 make further provision about orders under this section.

Commencement Information

I261 S. 794 wholly in force at 20.1.2007, see s. 1300 and S.I. 2006/3428, art. 3(1)(d) (subject to art. 5, Sch. 1 and with arts. 6, 8, Sch. 5)

795 Notice requiring information: offences

(1) A person who—

(a) fails to comply with a notice under section 793 (notice requiring information about interests in company's shares), or

(b) in purported compliance with such a notice—

(i) makes a statement that he knows to be false in a material particular, or

(ii) recklessly makes a statement that is false in a material particular,

commits an offence.

(2) A person does not commit an offence under subsection (1)(a) if he proves that the requirement to give information was frivolous or vexatious.

(3) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable—

(a) on conviction on indictment, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or a fine (or both);

(b) on summary conviction—

(i) in England and Wales, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding twelve months or to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum (or both);

(ii) in Scotland or Northern Ireland, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, or to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum (or both).

Commencement Information

I262 S. 795 wholly in force at 20.1.2007, see s. 1300 and S.I. 2006/3428, art. 3(1)(d) (subject to art. 5, Sch. 1 and with arts. 6, 8, Sch. 5)

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

796 Notice requiring information: persons exempted from obligation to comply

- (1) A person is not obliged to comply with a notice under section 793 (notice requiring information about interests in company's shares) if he is for the time being exempted by the Secretary of State from the operation of that section.
- (2) The Secretary of State must not grant any such exemption unless—
 - (a) he has consulted the Governor of the Bank of England, and
 - (b) he (the Secretary of State) is satisfied that, having regard to any undertaking given by the person in question with respect to any interest held or to be held by him in any shares, there are special reasons why that person should not be subject to the obligations imposed by that section.

Commencement Information

I263 S. 796 wholly in force at 20.1.2007, see s. 1300 and S.I. 2006/3428, art. 3(1)(d) (subject to art. 5, Sch. 1 and with arts. 6, 8, Sch. 5)

Orders imposing restrictions on shares

797 Consequences of order imposing restrictions

- (1) The effect of an order under section 794 that shares are subject to restrictions is as follows—
 - (a) any transfer of the shares is void;
 - (b) no voting rights are exercisable in respect of the shares;
 - (c) no further shares may be issued in right of the shares or in pursuance of an offer made to their holder;
 - (d) except in a liquidation, no payment may be made of sums due from the company on the shares, whether in respect of capital or otherwise.

- (2) Where shares are subject to the restriction in subsection (1)(a), an agreement to transfer the shares is void.

This does not apply to an agreement to transfer the shares on the making of an order under section 800 made by virtue of subsection (3)(b) (removal of restrictions in case of court-approved transfer).

- (3) Where shares are subject to the restriction in subsection (1)(c) or (d), an agreement to transfer any right to be issued with other shares in right of those shares, or to receive any payment on them (otherwise than in a liquidation), is void.

This does not apply to an agreement to transfer any such right on the making of an order under section 800 made by virtue of subsection (3)(b) (removal of restrictions in case of court-approved transfer).

- (4) The provisions of this section are subject—
 - (a) to any directions under section 794(2) or section 799(3) (directions for protection of third parties), and
 - (b) in the case of an interim order under section 794(3), to the terms of the order.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

Commencement Information

I264 S. 797 wholly in force at 20.1.2007, see s. 1300 and S.I. 2006/3428, art. 3(1)(d) (subject to art. 5, Sch. 1 and with arts. 6, 8, Sch. 5)

798 Penalty for attempted evasion of restrictions

- (1) This section applies where shares are subject to restrictions by virtue of an order under section 794.
- (2) A person commits an offence if he—
 - (a) exercises or purports to exercise any right—
 - (i) to dispose of shares that to his knowledge, are for the time being subject to restrictions, or
 - (ii) to dispose of any right to be issued with any such shares, or
 - (b) votes in respect of any such shares (whether as holder or proxy), or appoints a proxy to vote in respect of them, or
 - (c) being the holder of any such shares, fails to notify of their being subject to those restrictions a person whom he does not know to be aware of that fact but does know to be entitled (apart from the restrictions) to vote in respect of those shares whether as holder or as proxy, or
 - (d) being the holder of any such shares, or being entitled to a right to be issued with other shares in right of them, or to receive any payment on them (otherwise than in a liquidation), enters into an agreement which is void under section 797(2) or (3).
- (3) If shares in a company are issued in contravention of the restrictions, an offence is committed by—
 - (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- (4) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable—
 - (a) on conviction on indictment, to a fine;
 - (b) on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum.
- (5) The provisions of this section are subject—
 - (a) to any directions under—
 - section 794(2) (directions for protection of third parties), or
 - section 799 or 800 (relaxation or removal of restrictions), and
 - (b) in the case of an interim order under section 794(3), to the terms of the order.

Commencement Information

I265 S. 798 wholly in force at 20.1.2007, see s. 1300 and S.I. 2006/3428, art. 3(1)(d) (subject to art. 5, Sch. 1 and with arts. 6, 8, Sch. 5)

799 Relaxation of restrictions

- (1) An application may be made to the court on the ground that an order directing that shares shall be subject to restrictions unfairly affects the rights of third parties in respect of the shares.
- (2) An application for an order under this section may be made by the company or by any person aggrieved.
- (3) If the court is satisfied that the application is well-founded, it may, for the purpose of protecting the rights of third parties in respect of the shares, and subject to such terms as it thinks fit, direct that such acts by such persons or descriptions of persons and for such purposes as may be set out in the order do not constitute a breach of the restrictions.

800 Removal of restrictions

- (1) An application may be made to the court for an order directing that the shares shall cease to be subject to restrictions.
- (2) An application for an order under this section may be made by the company or by any person aggrieved.
- (3) The court must not make an order under this section unless—
 - (a) it is satisfied that the relevant facts about the shares have been disclosed to the company and no unfair advantage has accrued to any person as a result of the earlier failure to make that disclosure, or
 - (b) the shares are to be transferred for valuable consideration and the court approves the transfer.
- (4) An order under this section made by virtue of subsection (3)(b) may continue, in whole or in part, the restrictions mentioned in section 797(1)(c) and (d) (restrictions on issue of further shares or making of payments) so far as they relate to a right acquired or offer made before the transfer.
- (5) Where any restrictions continue in force under subsection (4)—
 - (a) an application may be made under this section for an order directing that the shares shall cease to be subject to those restrictions, and
 - (b) subsection (3) does not apply in relation to the making of such an order.

801 Order for sale of shares

- (1) The court may order that the shares subject to restrictions be sold, subject to the court's approval as to the sale.
- (2) An application for an order under subsection (1) may only be made by the company.
- (3) Where the court has made an order under this section, it may make such further order relating to the sale or transfer of the shares as it thinks fit.
- (4) An application for an order under subsection (3) may be made—
 - (a) by the company,
 - (b) by the person appointed by or in pursuance of the order to effect the sale, or
 - (c) by any person interested in the shares.
- (5) On making an order under subsection (1) or (3) the court may order that the applicant's costs (in Scotland, expenses) be paid out of the proceeds of sale.

802 Application of proceeds of sale under court order

- (1) Where shares are sold in pursuance of an order of the court under section 801, the proceeds of the sale, less the costs of the sale, must be paid into court for the benefit of the persons who are beneficially interested in the shares.
- (2) A person who is beneficially interested in the shares may apply to the court for the whole or part of those proceeds to be paid to him.
- (3) On such an application the court shall order the payment to the applicant of—
 - (a) the whole of the proceeds of sale together with any interest on them, or
 - (b) if another person had a beneficial interest in the shares at the time of their sale, such proportion of the proceeds and interest as the value of the applicant's interest in the shares bears to the total value of the shares.

This is subject to the following qualification.

- (4) If the court has ordered under section 801(5) that the costs (in Scotland, expenses) of an applicant under that section are to be paid out of the proceeds of sale, the applicant is entitled to payment of his costs (or expenses) out of those proceeds before any person interested in the shares receives any part of those proceeds.

Power of members to require company to act

803 Power of members to require company to act

- (1) The members of a company may require it to exercise its powers under section 793 (notice requiring information about interests in shares).
- (2) A company is required to do so once it has received requests (to the same effect) from members of the company holding at least 10% of such of the paid-up capital of the company as carries a right to vote at general meetings of the company (excluding any voting rights attached to any shares in the company held as treasury shares).
- (3) A request—
 - (a) may be in hard copy form or in electronic form,
 - (b) must—
 - (i) state that the company is requested to exercise its powers under section 793,
 - (ii) specify the manner in which the company is requested to act, and
 - (iii) give reasonable grounds for requiring the company to exercise those powers in the manner specified, and
 - (c) must be authenticated by the person or persons making it.

805 Report to members on outcome of investigation

- (1) On the conclusion of an investigation carried out by a company in pursuance of a requirement under section 803 the company must cause a report of the information received in pursuance of the investigation to be prepared.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

The report must be made available for inspection within a reasonable period (not more than 15 days) after the conclusion of the investigation.

- (2) Where—
- (a) a company undertakes an investigation in pursuance of a requirement under section 803, and
 - (b) the investigation is not concluded within three months after the date on which the company became subject to the requirement,
- the company must cause to be prepared in respect of that period, and in respect of each succeeding period of three months ending before the conclusion of the investigation, an interim report of the information received during that period in pursuance of the investigation.
- (3) Each such report must be made available for inspection within a reasonable period (not more than 15 days) after the end of the period to which it relates.
- (4) The reports must be retained by the company for at least six years from the date on which they are first made available for inspection and must be kept available for inspection during that time—
- (a) at the company's registered office, or
 - (b) at a place specified in regulations under section 1136.
- (5) The company must give notice to the registrar—
- (a) of the place at which the reports are kept available for inspection, and
 - (b) of any change in that place,
- unless they have at all times been kept at the company's registered office.
- (6) The company must within three days of making any report prepared under this section available for inspection, notify the members who made the requests under section 803 where the report is so available.
- (7) For the purposes of this section an investigation carried out by a company in pursuance of a requirement under section 803 is concluded when—
- (a) the company has made all such inquiries as are necessary or expedient for the purposes of the requirement, and
 - (b) in the case of each such inquiry—
 - (i) a response has been received by the company, or
 - (ii) the time allowed for a response has elapsed.

Register of interests disclosed

808 Register of interests disclosed

- (1) The company must keep a register of information received by it in pursuance of a requirement imposed under section 793 (notice requiring information about interests in company's shares).
- (2) A company which receives any such information must, within three days of the receipt, enter in the register—
 - (a) the fact that the requirement was imposed and the date on which it was imposed, and
 - (b) the information received in pursuance of the requirement.
- (3) The information must be entered against the name of the present holder of the shares in question or, if there is no present holder or the present holder is not known, against the name of the person holding the interest.
- (4) The register must be made up so that the entries against the names entered in it appear in chronological order.
- (5) If default is made in complying with this section an offence is committed by—
 - (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- (6) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale.
- (7) The company is not by virtue of anything done for the purposes of this section affected with notice of, or put upon inquiry as to, the rights of any person in relation to any shares.

812 Court supervision of purpose for which rights may be exercised

- (1) Where a company receives a request under section 811 (register of interests disclosed: right to inspect and require copy), it must—
 - (a) comply with the request if it is satisfied that it is made for a proper purpose, and
 - (b) refuse the request if it is not so satisfied.
- (2) If the company refuses the request, it must inform the person making the request, stating the reason why it is not satisfied.
- (3) A person whose request is refused may apply to the court.
- (4) If an application is made to the court—
 - (a) the person who made the request must notify the company, and
 - (b) the company must use its best endeavours to notify any persons whose details would be disclosed if the company were required to comply with the request.
- (5) If the court is not satisfied that the inspection or copy is sought for a proper purpose, it shall direct the company not to comply with the request.
- (6) If the court makes such a direction and it appears to the court that the company is or may be subject to other requests made for a similar purpose (whether made by the same person or different persons), it may direct that the company is not to comply with any such request.

The order must contain such provision as appears to the court appropriate to identify the requests to which it applies.

- (7) If the court does not direct the company not to comply with the request, the company must comply with the request immediately upon the court giving its decision or, as the case may be, the proceedings being discontinued.

813 Register of interests disclosed: refusal of inspection or default in providing copy

- (1) If an inspection required under section 811 (register of interests disclosed: right to inspect and require copy) is refused or default is made in providing a copy required under that section, otherwise than in accordance with [^{F1093}section 812], an offence is committed by—
- (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- (2) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale.
- (3) In the case of any such refusal or default the court may by order compel an immediate inspection or, as the case may be, direct that the copy required be sent to the person requesting it.

818 Adjustment of entry relating to share acquisition agreement

- (1) If a person who is identified in the register kept by a company under section 808 (register of interests disclosed) as being a party to an agreement to which section 824 applies (certain share acquisition agreements) ceases to be a party to the agreement, he may apply to the company for the inclusion of that information in the register.
- (2) If the company is satisfied that he has ceased to be a party to the agreement, it shall record that information (if not already recorded) in every place where his name appears in the register as a party to the agreement.
- (3) If an application under this section is refused (otherwise than on the ground that the information has already been recorded), the applicant may apply to the court for an order directing the company to include the information in question in the register.

The court may make such an order if it thinks fit.

819 Duty of company ceasing to be public company

- (1) If a company ceases to be a public company, it must continue to keep any register kept under section 808 (register of interests disclosed), and any associated index, until the end of the period of six years after it ceased to be such a company.
- (2) If default is made in complying with this section, an offence is committed by—
 - (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- (3) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale.

Meaning of interest in shares

820 Interest in shares: general

- (1) This section applies to determine for the purposes of this Part whether a person has an interest in shares.
- (2) In this Part—
 - (a) a reference to an interest in shares includes an interest of any kind whatsoever in the shares, and
 - (b) any restraints or restrictions to which the exercise of any right attached to the interest is or may be subject shall be disregarded.
- (3) Where an interest in shares is comprised in property held on trust, every beneficiary of the trust is treated as having an interest in the shares.
- (4) A person is treated as having an interest in shares if—
 - (a) he enters into a contract to acquire them, or
 - (b) not being the registered holder, he is entitled—
 - (i) to exercise any right conferred by the holding of the shares, or
 - (ii) to control the exercise of any such right.
- (5) For the purposes of subsection (4)(b) a person is entitled to exercise or control the exercise of a right conferred by the holding of shares if he—
 - (a) has a right (whether subject to conditions or not) the exercise of which would make him so entitled, or
 - (b) is under an obligation (whether subject to conditions or not) the fulfilment of which would make him so entitled.
- (6) A person is treated as having an interest in shares if—
 - (a) he has a right to call for delivery of the shares to himself or to his order, or
 - (b) he has a right to acquire an interest in shares or is under an obligation to take an interest in shares.

This applies whether the right or obligation is conditional or absolute.
- (7) Persons having a joint interest are treated as each having that interest.
- (8) It is immaterial that shares in which a person has an interest are unidentifiable.

822 Interest in shares: family interests

- (1) For the purposes of this Part a person is taken to be interested in shares in which—
 - (a) his spouse or civil partner, or
 - (b) any infant child or step-child of his,
 is interested.
- (2) In relation to Scotland “infant” means a person under the age of 18 years.

823 Interest in shares: corporate interests

- (1) For the purposes of this Part a person is taken to be interested in shares if a body corporate is interested in them and—
 - (a) the body or its directors are accustomed to act in accordance with his directions or instructions, or
 - (b) he is entitled to exercise or control the exercise of one-third or more of the voting power at general meetings of the body.
- (2) For the purposes of this section a person is treated as entitled to exercise or control the exercise of voting power if—
 - (a) another body corporate is entitled to exercise or control the exercise of that voting power, and
 - (b) he is entitled to exercise or control the exercise of one-third or more of the voting power at general meetings of that body corporate.
- (3) For the purposes of this section a person is treated as entitled to exercise or control the exercise of voting power if—
 - (a) he has a right (whether or not subject to conditions) the exercise of which would make him so entitled, or
 - (b) he is under an obligation (whether or not subject to conditions) the fulfilment of which would make him so entitled.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. 824 Interest in shares: agreement to acquire interests in a particular company

- (1) For the purposes of this Part an interest in shares may arise from an agreement between two or more persons that includes provision for the acquisition by any one or more of them of interests in shares of a particular public company (the “target company” for that agreement).
- (2) This section applies to such an agreement if—
 - (a) the agreement includes provision imposing obligations or restrictions on any one or more of the parties to it with respect to their use, retention or disposal of their interests in the shares of the target company acquired in pursuance of the agreement (whether or not together with any other interests of theirs in the company's shares to which the agreement relates), and
 - (b) an interest in the target company's shares is in fact acquired by any of the parties in pursuance of the agreement.
- (3) The reference in subsection (2) to the use of interests in shares in the target company is to the exercise of any rights or of any control or influence arising from those interests (including the right to enter into an agreement for the exercise, or for control of the exercise, of any of those rights by another person).
- (4) Once an interest in shares in the target company has been acquired in pursuance of the agreement, this section continues to apply to the agreement so long as the agreement continues to include provisions of any description mentioned in subsection (2).

This applies irrespective of—

- (a) whether or not any further acquisitions of interests in the company's shares take place in pursuance of the agreement;
- (b) any change in the persons who are for the time being parties to it;
- (c) any variation of the agreement.

References in this subsection to the agreement include any agreement having effect (whether directly or indirectly) in substitution for the original agreement.

- (5) In this section—
 - (a) “agreement” includes any agreement or arrangement, and
 - (b) references to provisions of an agreement include—
 - (i) undertakings, expectations or understandings operative under an arrangement, and
 - (ii) any provision whether express or implied and whether absolute or not.

References elsewhere in this Part to an agreement to which this section applies have a corresponding meaning.

- (6) This section does not apply—
 - (a) to an agreement that is not legally binding unless it involves mutuality in the undertakings, expectations or understandings of the parties to it; or

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) to an agreement to underwrite or sub-underwrite an offer of shares in a company, provided the agreement is confined to that purpose and any matters incidental to it.

Commencement Information

I289 S. 824 wholly in force at 20.1.2007, see s. 1300 and S.I. 2006/3428, art. 3(1)(d) (subject to art. 5, Sch. 1 and with arts. 6, 8, Sch. 5)

825 Extent of obligation in case of share acquisition agreement

- (1) For the purposes of this Part each party to an agreement to which section 824 applies is treated as interested in all shares in the target company in which any other party to the agreement is interested apart from the agreement (whether or not the interest of the other party was acquired, or includes any interest that was acquired, in pursuance of the agreement).
- (2) For those purposes an interest of a party to such an agreement in shares in the target company is an interest apart from the agreement if he is interested in those shares otherwise than by virtue of the application of section 824 (and this section) in relation to the agreement.
- (3) Accordingly, any such interest of the person (apart from the agreement) includes for those purposes any interest treated as his under section 822 or 823 (family or corporate interests) or by the application of section 824 (and this section) in relation to any other agreement with respect to shares in the target company to which he is a party.
- (4) A notification with respect to his interest in shares in the target company made to the company under this Part by a person who is for the time being a party to an agreement to which section 824 applies must—
 - (a) state that the person making the notification is a party to such an agreement,
 - (b) include the names and (so far as known to him) the addresses of the other parties to the agreement, identifying them as such, and
 - (c) state whether or not any of the shares to which the notification relates are shares in which he is interested by virtue of section 824 (and this section) and, if so, the number of those shares.

828 Power to make further provision by regulations

- (1) The Secretary of State may by regulations amend—
- (a) the definition of shares to which this Part applies (section 792),
 - (b) the provisions as to notice by a company requiring information about interests in its shares (section 793), and
 - (c) the provisions as to what is taken to be an interest in shares (sections 820 and 821).
- (2) The regulations may amend, repeal or replace those provisions and make such other consequential amendments or repeals of provisions of this Part as appear to the Secretary of State to be appropriate.

CHAPTER 1

RESTRICTIONS ON WHEN DISTRIBUTIONS MAY BE MADE

Introductory

829 Meaning of “distribution”

- (1) In this Part “distribution” means every description of distribution of a company's assets to its members, whether in cash or otherwise, subject to the following exceptions.
- (2) The following are not distributions for the purposes of this Part—
 - (a) an issue of shares as fully or partly paid bonus shares;
 - (b) the reduction of share capital—
 - (i) by extinguishing or reducing the liability of any of the members on any of the company's shares in respect of share capital not paid up, or
 - (ii) by repaying paid-up share capital;
 - (c) the redemption or purchase of any of the company's own shares out of capital (including the proceeds of any fresh issue of shares) or out of unrealised profits in accordance with Chapter 3, 4 or 5 of Part 18;
 - (d) a distribution of assets to members of the company on its winding up.

General rules

830 Distributions to be made only out of profits available for the purpose

- (1) A company may only make a distribution out of profits available for the purpose.
- (2) A company's profits available for distribution are its accumulated, realised profits, so far as not previously utilised by distribution or capitalisation, less its accumulated,

831 Net asset restriction on distributions by public companies

- (1) A public company may only make a distribution—
- (a) if the amount of its net assets is not less than the aggregate of its called-up share capital and undistributable reserves, and
 - (b) if, and to the extent that, the distribution does not reduce the amount of those assets to less than that aggregate.
- (2) For this purpose a company's “net assets” means the aggregate of the company's assets less the aggregate of its liabilities.
- (3) “Liabilities” here includes—
- (a) where the relevant accounts are Companies Act accounts, provisions of a kind specified for the purposes of this subsection by regulations under section 396;
 - (b) where the relevant accounts are IAS accounts, provisions of any kind.
- (4) A company's undistributable reserves are—
- (a) its share premium account;
 - (b) its capital redemption reserve;
 - (c) the amount by which its accumulated, unrealised profits (so far as not previously utilised by capitalisation) exceed its accumulated, unrealised losses (so far as not previously written off in a reduction or reorganisation of capital duly made);
 - (d) any other reserve that the company is prohibited from distributing—
 - (i) by any enactment (other than one contained in this Part), or
 - (ii) by its articles.

The reference in paragraph (c) to capitalisation does not include a transfer of profits of the company to its capital redemption reserve.

- (5) A public company must not include any uncalled share capital as an asset in any accounts relevant for purposes of this section.

832 Distributions by investment companies out of accumulated revenue profits

- (1) An investment company may make a distribution out of its accumulated, realised revenue profits if the following conditions are met.
- (2) It may make such a distribution only if, and to the extent that, its accumulated, realised revenue profits, so far as not previously utilised by a distribution or capitalisation, exceed its accumulated revenue losses (whether realised or unrealised), so far as not previously written off in a reduction or reorganisation of capital duly made.
- (3) It may make such a distribution only—
 - (a) if the amount of its assets is at least equal to one and a half times the aggregate of its liabilities to creditors, and
 - (b) if, and to the extent that, the distribution does not reduce that amount to less than one and a half times that aggregate.
- (4) For this purpose a company's liabilities to creditors include—
 - (a) in the case of Companies Act accounts, provisions of a kind specified for the purposes of this subsection by regulations under section 396;
 - (b) in the case of IAS accounts, provisions for liabilities to creditors.
- (5) The following conditions must also be met—
 - ^{F1097}(a) the company's shares must be shares admitted to trading on a [^{F1098}UK regulated market];
 - (b) during the relevant period it must not have—
 - (i) ^{F1099}.....
 - (ii) applied any unrealised profits ^{F1100} . . . in paying up debentures or amounts unpaid on its issued shares;
 - (c) it must have given notice to the registrar under section 833(1) (notice of intention to carry on business as an investment company)—
 - (i) before the beginning of the relevant period, or
 - (ii) as soon as reasonably practicable after the date of its incorporation.

^{F1107} 833 Distributions by insurance companies authorised under the Solvency 2 Directive

- (1) This section applies in relation to any authorised insurance company carrying on long-term business that is authorised in accordance with Article 14 of the Solvency 2 Directive.
- (2) For the purposes of section 830(2), the realised profit or loss of the company for the period in respect of which its relevant accounts (within the meaning of section 836) are prepared is taken to be the amount given by the formula in subsection (4) (with a positive figure taken to be a realised profit and a negative figure taken to be a realised loss).
- (3) But the company's profits available for distribution are limited to an amount that does not exceed its accumulated profits (whether realised or not), so far as not previously utilised by distribution or capitalisation, less its accumulated losses (whether realised or not), so far as not previously written off in a reduction or reorganisation of capital duly made.
- (4) The formula is

where—

“A” is the total value of the company's assets;

“L” is the total value of the company's liabilities; and

“D” is the total value of the items within subsection (5) relating to the company;

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. and, in each case, the value is to be determined as at the date of the company's balance sheet that forms part of the accounts mentioned in subsection (2).

- (5) The items within this subsection are—
- (a) if the value of shares held by the company in a qualifying investment subsidiary exceeds the value of the consideration given by it for their acquisition, the amount of that excess;
 - (b) any asset of the company representing a surplus in a defined benefit pension scheme;
 - (c) if the value of the assets held by the company in a ring-fenced fund exceeds the value of the liabilities incurred by the company in respect of that fund, the amount of that excess;
 - (d) the amount of any liability of the company in respect of deferred tax shown in the company's balance sheet that relates to any asset within paragraph (a), (b) or (c);
 - (e) if—
 - (i) the company has permission under regulation 42 of the Solvency 2 Regulations 2015 to apply a matching adjustment to a relevant risk-free interest rate term structure to calculate the best estimate of a portfolio of the company's life insurance or reinsurance obligations, and
 - (ii) the value of the portfolio of the company's assets assigned by the company to cover the best estimate exceeds the value of the portfolio of the company's life insurance or reinsurance obligations,the amount of that excess; and
 - (f) the following capital items of the company—
 - (i) paid-in ordinary share capital together with any related share premium account;
 - (ii) paid-in preference shares which are not liabilities of the company together with any related share premium account;
 - (iii) capital redemption reserve; and
 - (iv) any other reserve that the company is prohibited from distributing (ignoring this Part for this purpose).
- (6) So far as anything falls within more than one of the above paragraphs of subsection (5), its value is to be taken into account only once.
- (7) The company's assets and liabilities must be valued in accordance with—
- (a) rules made by the Prudential Regulation Authority under Part 9A of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 implementing Articles 75 to 85, and 308b to 308e, of the Solvency 2 Directive; and
 - (b) Articles 7 to 61 of Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2015/35 supplementing that directive.
- (8) If the company carries on both long-term business and other insurance business—
- (a) this section is to be applied on the assumption that the company carries on only the long-term business; and
 - (b) the remainder of this Part is to be applied on the assumption that the company carries on only that other insurance business; and, in applying paragraph (a) or (b), such apportionments of amounts referable to the long-term business or other insurance business are to be made as are just and reasonable.

(9) In this section—

“best estimate”, “paid-in ordinary share capital”, “paid-in preference shares”, “relevant risk-free interest rate term structure” and “ring-fenced fund” have the same meaning as in the Solvency 2 Directive and any directly applicable regulations made under it;

“defined benefit pension scheme” means a pension scheme (as defined by section 1(5) of the Pension Schemes Act 1993) which is a defined benefits scheme within the meaning given by section 2 of the Pension Schemes Act 2015;

“long-term business” means business that consists of effecting or carrying out contracts of long-term insurance (and this definition must be read with section 22 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000, any relevant order under that section and Schedule 2 to that Act);

“qualifying investment subsidiary” means an undertaking in which the company holds a participation within the meaning given by Article 13(20) of the Solvency 2 Directive and which is not held by the company as part of its portfolio of investments;

“Solvency 2 Directive” means Directive 2009/138/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council on the taking-up and pursuit of the business of Insurance and Reinsurance (Solvency II).]

CHAPTER 2

JUSTIFICATION OF DISTRIBUTION BY REFERENCE TO ACCOUNTS

Justification of distribution by reference to accounts

836 Justification of distribution by reference to relevant accounts

- (1) Whether a distribution may be made by a company without contravening this Part is determined by reference to the following items as stated in the relevant accounts—
 - (a) profits, losses, assets and liabilities;
 - (b) provisions of the following kinds—
 - (i) where the relevant accounts are Companies Act accounts, provisions of a kind specified for the purposes of this subsection by regulations under section 396;
 - (ii) where the relevant accounts are IAS accounts, provisions of any kind;
 - (c) share capital and reserves (including undistributable reserves).
- (2) The relevant accounts are the company's last annual accounts, except that—
 - (a) where the distribution would be found to contravene this Part by reference to the company's last annual accounts, it may be justified by reference to interim accounts, and
 - (b) where the distribution is proposed to be declared during the company's first accounting reference period, or before any accounts have been circulated in respect of that period, it may be justified by reference to initial accounts.
- (3) The requirements of—
 - section 837 (as regards the company's last annual accounts),
 - section 838 (as regards interim accounts), and
 - section 839 (as regards initial accounts),must be complied with, as and where applicable.
- (4) If any applicable requirement of those sections is not complied with, the accounts may not be relied on for the purposes of this Part and the distribution is accordingly treated as contravening this Part.

Requirements applicable in relation to relevant accounts

837 Requirements where last annual accounts used

- (1) The company's last annual accounts means the company's individual accounts—
 - (a) that were last circulated to members in accordance with section 423 (duty to circulate copies of annual accounts and reports), or

Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

F1110(b)

- (2) The accounts must have been properly prepared in accordance with this Act, or have been so prepared subject only to matters that are not material for determining (by reference to the items mentioned in section 836(1)) whether the distribution would contravene this Part.
- (3) Unless the company is exempt from audit and the directors take advantage of that exemption, the auditor must have made his report on the accounts.
- (4) If that report was qualified—
 - (a) the auditor must have stated in writing (either at the time of his report or subsequently) whether in his opinion the matters in respect of which his report is qualified are material for determining whether a distribution would contravene this Part, and
 - (b) a copy of that statement must—
 - (i) in the case of a private company, have been circulated to members in accordance with section 423, or
 - (ii) in the case of a public company, have been laid before the company in general meeting.
- (5) An auditor's statement is sufficient for the purposes of a distribution if it relates to distributions of a description that includes the distribution in question, even if at the time of the statement it had not been proposed.

838 Requirements where interim accounts used

- (1) Interim accounts must be accounts that enable a reasonable judgment to be made as to the amounts of the items mentioned in section 836(1).
- (2) Where interim accounts are prepared for a proposed distribution by a public company, the following requirements apply.
- (3) The accounts must have been properly prepared, or have been so prepared subject to matters that are not material for determining (by reference to the items mentioned in section 836(1)) whether the distribution would contravene this Part.
- (4) “Properly prepared” means prepared in accordance with sections 395 to 397 (requirements for company individual accounts), applying those requirements with such modifications as are necessary because the accounts are prepared otherwise than in respect of an accounting reference period.

839 Requirements where initial accounts used

- (1) Initial accounts must be accounts that enable a reasonable judgment to be made as to the amounts of the items mentioned in section 836(1).
- (2) Where initial accounts are prepared for a proposed distribution by a public company, the following requirements apply.
- (3) The accounts must have been properly prepared, or have been so prepared subject to matters that are not material for determining (by reference to the items mentioned in section 836(1)) whether the distribution would contravene this Part.
- (4) “Properly prepared” means prepared in accordance with sections 395 to 397 (requirements for company individual accounts), applying those requirements with such modifications as are necessary because the accounts are prepared otherwise than in respect of an accounting reference period.
- (5) The company's auditor must have made a report stating whether, in his opinion, the accounts have been properly prepared.
- (6) If that report was qualified—
 - (a) the auditor must have stated in writing (either at the time of his report or subsequently) whether in his opinion the matters in respect of which his report is qualified are material for determining whether a distribution would contravene this Part, and
 - ^{F1111}(b) a copy of that statement must have been laid before the company in general meeting.]

Application of provisions to successive distributions etc

840 Successive distributions etc by reference to the same accounts

- (1) In determining whether a proposed distribution may be made by a company in a case where—
 - (a) one or more previous distributions have been made in pursuance of a determination made by reference to the same relevant accounts, or
 - (b) relevant financial assistance has been given, or other relevant payments have been made, since those accounts were prepared, the provisions of this Part apply as if the amount of the proposed distribution was increased by the amount of the previous distributions, financial assistance and other payments.
- (2) The financial assistance and other payments that are relevant for this purpose are—
 - (a) financial assistance lawfully given by the company out of its distributable profits;
 - (b) financial assistance given by the company in contravention of section 678 or 679 (prohibited financial assistance) in a case where the giving of that assistance reduces the company's net assets or increases its net liabilities;
 - (c) payments made by the company in respect of the purchase by it of shares in the company, except a payment lawfully made otherwise than out of distributable profits;
 - (d) payments of any description specified in section 705 (payments apart from purchase price of shares to be made out of distributable profits).
- (3) In this section “financial assistance” has the same meaning as in Chapter 2 of Part 18 (see section 677).
- (4) For the purpose of applying subsection (2)(b) in relation to any financial assistance—
 - (a) “net assets” means the amount by which the aggregate amount of the company's assets exceeds the aggregate amount of its liabilities, and
 - (b) “net liabilities” means the amount by which the aggregate amount of the company's liabilities exceeds the aggregate amount of its assets, taking the amount of the assets and liabilities to be as stated in the company's accounting records immediately before the financial assistance is given.
- (5) For this purpose a company's liabilities include any amount retained as reasonably necessary for the purposes of providing for any liability—
 - (a) the nature of which is clearly defined, and
 - (b) which is either likely to be incurred or certain to be incurred but uncertain as to amount or as to the date on which it will arise.

CHAPTER 3

SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS

Accounting matters

841 Realised losses and profits and revaluation of fixed assets

- (1) The following provisions have effect for the purposes of this Part.
- (2) The following are treated as realised losses—
 - (a) in the case of Companies Act accounts, provisions of a kind specified for the purposes of this paragraph by regulations under section 396 (except revaluation provisions);
 - (b) in the case of IAS accounts, provisions of any kind (except revaluation provisions).
- (3) A “revaluation provision” means a provision in respect of a diminution in value of a fixed asset appearing on a revaluation of all the fixed assets of the company, or of all of its fixed assets other than goodwill.
- (4) For the purpose of subsections (2) and (3) any consideration by the directors of the value at a particular time of a fixed asset is treated as a revaluation provided—
 - (a) the directors are satisfied that the aggregate value at that time of the fixed assets of the company that have not actually been revalued is not less than the aggregate amount at which they are then stated in the company's accounts, and
 - (b) it is stated in a note to the accounts—
 - (i) that the directors have considered the value of some or all of the fixed assets of the company without actually revaluing them,
 - (ii) that they are satisfied that the aggregate value of those assets at the time of their consideration was not less than the aggregate amount at which they were then stated in the company's accounts, and
 - (iii) that accordingly, by virtue of this subsection, amounts are stated in the accounts on the basis that a revaluation of fixed assets of the company is treated as having taken place at that time.
- (5) Where—
 - (a) on the revaluation of a fixed asset, an unrealised profit is shown to have been made, and
 - (b) on or after the revaluation, a sum is written off or retained for depreciation of that asset over a period,an amount equal to the amount by which that sum exceeds the sum which would have been so written off or retained for the depreciation of that asset over that period, if that profit had not been made, is treated as a realised profit made over that period.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. 842 Determination of profit or loss in respect of asset where records incomplete

In determining for the purposes of this Part whether a company has made a profit or loss in respect of an asset where—

- (a) there is no record of the original cost of the asset, or
- (b) a record cannot be obtained without unreasonable expense or delay, its cost is taken to be the value ascribed to it in the earliest available record of its value made on or after its acquisition by the company.

843 Realised profits and losses of long-term insurance business [^{F1112}of certain insurance companies]

[^{F1113}(1) The provisions of this section have effect for the purposes of this Part as it applies in relation to an authorised insurance company carrying on long-term business, other than—

- (a) a person to whom section 833A applies; or
- (b) an insurance special purpose vehicle.]

(2) An amount included in the relevant part of the company's balance sheet that—

- (a) represents a surplus in the fund or funds maintained by it in respect of its long-term business, and
- (b) has not been allocated to policy holders or, as the case may be, carried forward unappropriated in accordance with asset identification rules made under [^{F1114}Part 9A] of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (c. 8), is treated as a realised profit.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2)—

- (a) the relevant part of the balance sheet is that part of the balance sheet that represents accumulated profit or loss;
- (b) a surplus in the fund or funds maintained by the company in respect of its long-term business means an excess of the assets representing that fund or those funds over the liabilities of the company attributable to its long-term business, as shown by an actuarial investigation.

(4) A deficit in the fund or funds maintained by the company in respect of its long-term business is treated as a realised loss.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. For this purpose a deficit in any such fund or funds means an excess of the liabilities of the company attributable to its long-term business over the assets representing that fund or those funds, as shown by an actuarial investigation.

- (5) Subject to subsections (2) and (4), any profit or loss arising in the company's long-term business is to be left out of account.
- (6) For the purposes of this section an “actuarial investigation” means an investigation made into the financial condition of an authorised insurance company in respect of its long-term business—
- (a) carried out once in every period of twelve months in accordance with rules made under [F1115Part 9A] of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000, or
 - (b) carried out in accordance with a requirement imposed under section 166 of that Act,
- by an actuary appointed as actuary to the company.
- (7) In this section “long-term business” means business that consists of effecting or carrying out contracts of long-term insurance.

This definition must be read with section 22 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000, any relevant order under that section and Schedule 2 to that Act.

- [F1116(8) In this section “ insurance special purpose vehicle ” means a special purpose vehicle within the meaning of [F1117Article 13(26) of Directive 2009/138/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 25 November 2009 on the taking-up and pursuit of the business of Insurance and Reinsurance (Solvency II)] .]

844 Treatment of development costs

- (1) Where development costs are shown or included as an asset in a company's accounts, any amount shown or included in respect of those costs is treated—

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) for the purposes of section 830 (distributions to be made out of profits available for the purpose) as a realised loss, and
- (b) for the purposes of section 832 (distributions by investment companies out of accumulated revenue profits) as a realised revenue loss.

This is subject to the following exceptions.

- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to any part of that amount representing an unrealised profit made on revaluation of those costs.
- (3) Subsection (1) does not apply if—
 - (a) there are special circumstances in the company's case justifying the directors in deciding that the amount there mentioned is not to be treated as required by subsection (1),
 - (b) it is stated—
 - (i) in the case of Companies Act accounts, in the note required by regulations under section 396 as to the reasons for showing development costs as an asset, or
 - (ii) in the case of IAS accounts, in any note to the accounts, that the amount is not to be so treated, and
 - (c) the note explains the circumstances relied upon to justify the decision of the directors to that effect.

Distributions in kind

845 Distributions in kind: determination of amount

- (1) This section applies for determining the amount of a distribution consisting of or including, or treated as arising in consequence of, the sale, transfer or other disposition by a company of a non-cash asset where—
 - (a) at the time of the distribution the company has profits available for distribution, and
 - (b) if the amount of the distribution were to be determined in accordance with this section, the company could make the distribution without contravening this Part.
- (2) The amount of the distribution (or the relevant part of it) is taken to be—
 - (a) in a case where the amount or value of the consideration for the disposition is not less than the book value of the asset, zero;
 - (b) in any other case, the amount by which the book value of the asset exceeds the amount or value of any consideration for the disposition.
- (3) For the purposes of subsection (1)(a) the company's profits available for distribution are treated as increased by the amount (if any) by which the amount or value of any consideration for the disposition exceeds the book value of the asset.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (4) In this section “book value”, in relation to an asset, means—
 - (a) the amount at which the asset is stated in the relevant accounts, or
 - (b) where the asset is not stated in those accounts at any amount, zero.
- (5) The provisions of Chapter 2 (justification of distribution by reference to accounts) have effect subject to this section.

846 Distributions in kind: treatment of unrealised profits

- (1) This section applies where—
 - (a) a company makes a distribution consisting of or including, or treated as arising in consequence of, the sale, transfer or other disposition by the company of a non-cash asset, and
 - (b) any part of the amount at which that asset is stated in the relevant accounts represents an unrealised profit.
- (2) That profit is treated as a realised profit—
 - (a) for the purpose of determining the lawfulness of the distribution in accordance with this Part (whether before or after the distribution takes place), and
 - (b) for the purpose of the application, in relation to anything done with a view to or in connection with the making of the distribution, of any provision of regulations under section 396 under which only realised profits are to be included in or transferred to the profit and loss account.

Consequences of unlawful distribution

847 Consequences of unlawful distribution

- (1) This section applies where a distribution, or part of one, made by a company to one of its members is made in contravention of this Part.
- (2) If at the time of the distribution the member knows or has reasonable grounds for believing that it is so made, he is liable—
 - (a) to repay it (or that part of it, as the case may be) to the company, or
 - (b) in the case of a distribution made otherwise than in cash, to pay the company a sum equal to the value of the distribution (or part) at that time.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (3) This is without prejudice to any obligation imposed apart from this section on a member of a company to repay a distribution unlawfully made to him.
- (4) This section does not apply in relation to—
- (a) financial assistance given by a company in contravention of section 678 or 679, or
 - (b) any payment made by a company in respect of the redemption or purchase by the company of shares in itself.

Other matters

848 Saving for certain older provisions in articles

- (1) Where immediately before the relevant date a company was authorised by a provision of its articles to apply its unrealised profits in paying up in full or in part unissued shares to be allotted to members of the company as fully or partly paid bonus shares, that provision continues (subject to any alteration of the articles) as authority for those profits to be so applied after that date.
- (2) For this purpose the relevant date is—
- (a) for companies registered in Great Britain, 22nd December 1980;
 - (b) for companies registered in Northern Ireland, 1st July 1983.

850 Treatment of certain older profits or losses

- (1) Where the directors of a company are, after making all reasonable enquiries, unable to determine whether a particular profit made before the relevant date is realised or unrealised, they may treat the profit as realised.
- (2) Where the directors of a company, after making all reasonable enquiries, are unable to determine whether a particular loss made before the relevant date is realised or unrealised, they may treat the loss as unrealised.
- (3) For the purposes of this section the relevant date is—
 - (a) for companies registered in Great Britain, 22nd December 1980;
 - (b) for companies registered in Northern Ireland, 1st July 1983.

851 Application of rules of law restricting distributions

- (1) Except as provided in this section, the provisions of this Part are without prejudice to any rule of law restricting the sums out of which, or the cases in which, a distribution may be made.
- (2) For the purposes of any rule of law requiring distributions to be paid out of profits or restricting the return of capital to members—
 - (a) section 845 (distributions in kind: determination of amount) applies to determine the amount of any distribution or return of capital consisting of or including, or treated as arising in consequence of the sale, transfer or other disposition by a company of a non-cash asset; and
 - (b) section 846 (distributions in kind: treatment of unrealised profits) applies as it applies for the purposes of this Part.
- (3) In this section references to distributions are to amounts regarded as distributions for the purposes of any such rule of law as is referred to in subsection (1).

853 Minor definitions

- (1) The following provisions apply for the purposes of this Part.
- (2) References to profit or losses of any description—
 - (a) are to profits or losses of that description made at any time, and
 - (b) except where the context otherwise requires, are to profits or losses of a revenue or capital character.
- (3) “Capitalisation”, in relation to a company's profits, means any of the following operations (whenever carried out)—
 - (a) applying the profits in wholly or partly paying up unissued shares in the company to be allotted to members of the company as fully or partly paid bonus shares, or
 - (b) transferring the profits to capital redemption reserve.
- (4) References to “realised profits” and “realised losses”, in relation to a company's accounts, are to such profits or losses of the company as fall to be treated as realised in accordance with principles generally accepted at the time when the accounts are prepared, with respect to the determination for accounting purposes of realised profits or losses.
- (5) Subsection (4) is without prejudice to—
 - (a) the construction of any other expression (where appropriate) by reference to accepted accounting principles or practice, or
 - (b) any specific provision for the treatment of profits or losses of any description as realised.
- (6) “Fixed assets” means assets of a company which are intended for use on a continuing basis in the company's activities.

Company charges

859A Charges created by a company

- (1) Subject to subsection (6), this section applies where a company creates a charge.
- (2) The registrar must register the charge if, before the end of the period allowed for delivery, the company or any person interested in the charge delivers to the registrar for registration a section 859D statement of particulars.
- (3) Where the charge is created or evidenced by an instrument, the registrar is required to register it only if a certified copy of the instrument is delivered to the registrar with the statement of particulars.
- (4) “The period allowed for delivery” is 21 days beginning with the day after the date of creation of the charge (see section 859E), unless an order allowing an extended period is made under section 859F(3).
- (5) Where an order is made under section 859F(3) a copy of the order must be delivered to the registrar with the statement of particulars.
- (6) This section does not apply to—
 - (a) a charge in favour of a landlord on a cash deposit given as a security in connection with the lease of land;

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) a charge created by a member of Lloyd's (within the meaning of the Lloyd's Act 1982 ^{F1153}) to secure its obligations in connection with its underwriting business at Lloyd's;
- (c) a charge excluded from the application of this section by or under any other Act.

(7) In this Part—

“cash” includes foreign currency,

“charge” includes—

- (a) a mortgage;
- (b) a standard security, assignation in security, and any other right in security constituted under the law of Scotland, including any heritable security, but not including a pledge, and “company” means a UK-registered company.

859B Charge in series of debentures

(1) This section applies where—

- (a) a company creates a series of debentures containing a charge, or giving a charge by reference to another instrument, and
- (b) debenture holders of that series are entitled to the benefit of the charge pari passu.

(2) The registrar must register the charge if, before the end of the period allowed for delivery, the company or any person interested in the charge delivers to the registrar for registration, a section 859D statement of particulars which also contains the following—

- (a) either—
 - (i) the name of each of the trustees for the debenture holders, or
 - (ii) where there are more than four such persons, the names of any four persons listed in the charge instrument as trustees for the debenture holders, and a statement that there are other such persons;
- (b) the dates of the resolutions authorising the issue of the series;

- (c) the date of the covering instrument (if any) by which the series is created or defined.
- (3) Where the charge is created or evidenced by an instrument, the registrar is required to register it only if a certified copy of the instrument is delivered to the registrar with the statement of particulars.
- (4) Where the charge is not created or evidenced by an instrument, the registrar is required to register it only if a certified copy of one of the debentures in the series is delivered to the registrar with the statement of particulars.
- (5) For the purposes of this section a statement of particulars is taken to be a section 859D statement of particulars even if it does not contain the names of the debenture holders.
- (6) “The period allowed for delivery” is—
- (a) if there is a deed containing the charge, 21 days beginning with the day after the date on which the deed is executed;
 - (b) if there is no deed containing the charge, 21 days beginning with the day after the date on which the first debenture of the series is executed.
- (7) Where an order is made under section 859F(3) a copy of the order must be delivered to the registrar with the statement of particulars.
- (8) In this section “ deed ” means—
- (a) a deed governed by the law of England and Wales or Northern Ireland, or
 - (b) an instrument governed by a law other than the law of England and Wales or Northern Ireland which requires delivery under that law in order to take effect.

859F Extension of period allowed for delivery

- (1) Subsection (3) applies if the court is satisfied that—
 - (a) neither the company nor any other person interested in the charge has delivered to the registrar the documents required under section 859A or (as the case may be) 859B before the end of the period allowed for delivery under the section concerned, and
 - (b) the requirement in subsection (2) is met.
- (2) The requirement is—
 - (a) that the failure to deliver those documents—
 - (i) was accidental or due to inadvertence or to some other sufficient cause, or
 - (ii) is not of a nature to prejudice the position of creditors or shareholders of the company, or
 - (b) that on other grounds it is just and equitable to grant relief.
- (3) The court may, on the application of the company or a person interested, and on such terms and conditions as seem to the court just and expedient, order that the period allowed for delivery be extended.

CHAPTER 3

POWERS OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE

893 Power to make provision for effect of registration in special register

- (1) In this section a “special register” means a register, other than [^{F1159}the register], in which a charge to which [^{F1160}Chapter A1] applies is required or authorised to be registered.
- (2) The Secretary of State may by order make provision for facilitating the making of information-sharing arrangements between the person responsible for maintaining a special register (“the responsible person”) and the registrar that meet the requirement in subsection (4).

“Information-sharing arrangements” are arrangements to share and make use of information held by the registrar or by the responsible person.
- (3) If the Secretary of State is satisfied that appropriate information-sharing arrangements have been made, he may by order provide that—
 - (a) the registrar is authorised not to register a charge of a specified description under [^{F1161}Chapter A1],
 - (b) a charge of a specified description that is registered in the special register within a specified period is to be treated as if it had been registered (and certified by the registrar as registered) in accordance with the requirements of [^{F1162}Chapter A1], and
 - (c) the other provisions of [^{F1163}Chapter A1] apply to a charge so treated with specified modifications.
- (4) The information-sharing arrangements must ensure that persons inspecting the [^{F1164}register]—
 - (a) are made aware, in a manner appropriate to the inspection, of the existence of charges in the special register which are treated in accordance with provision so made, and
 - (b) are able to obtain information from the special register about any such charge.
- (5) An order under this section may—
 - (a) modify any enactment or rule of law which would otherwise restrict or prevent the responsible person from entering into or giving effect to information-sharing arrangements,
 - (b) authorise the responsible person to require information to be provided to him for the purposes of the arrangements,
 - (c) make provision about—
 - (i) the charging by the responsible person of fees in connection with the arrangements and the destination of such fees (including provision modifying any enactment which would otherwise apply in relation to fees payable to the responsible person), and
 - (ii) the making of payments under the arrangements by the registrar to the responsible person,
 - (d) require the registrar to make copies of the arrangements available to the public (in hard copy or electronic form).
- (6) In this section “specified” means specified in an order under this section.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (7) A description of charge may be specified, in particular, by reference to one or more of the following—
- (a) the type of company by which it is created,
 - (b) the form of charge which it is,
 - (c) the description of assets over which it is granted,
 - (d) the length of the period between the date of its registration in the special register and the date of its creation.
- (8) Provision may be made under this section relating to registers maintained under the law of a country or territory outside the United Kingdom.
- (9) An order under this section is subject to negative resolution procedure.

897 Statement to be circulated or made available

- (1) Where a meeting is summoned under section 896—
 - (a) every notice summoning the meeting that is sent to a creditor or member must be accompanied by a statement complying with this section, and
 - (b) every notice summoning the meeting that is given by advertisement must either—
 - (i) include such a statement, or
 - (ii) state where and how creditors or members entitled to attend the meeting may obtain copies of such a statement.
- (2) The statement must—
 - (a) explain the effect of the compromise or arrangement, and
 - (b) in particular, state—
 - (i) any material interests of the directors of the company (whether as directors or as members or as creditors of the company or otherwise), and
 - (ii) the effect on those interests of the compromise or arrangement, in so far as it is different from the effect on the like interests of other persons.
- (3) Where the compromise or arrangement affects the rights of debenture holders of the company, the statement must give the like explanation as respects the trustees of any deed for securing the issue of the debentures as it is required to give as respects the company's directors.
- (4) Where a notice given by advertisement states that copies of an explanatory statement can be obtained by creditors or members entitled to attend the meeting, every such creditor or member is entitled, on making application in the manner indicated by the notice, to be provided by the company with a copy of the statement free of charge.
- (5) If a company makes default in complying with any requirement of this section, an offence is committed by—
 - (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.

This is subject to subsection (7) below.

- (6) For this purpose the following are treated as officers of the company—
 - (a) a liquidator or administrator of the company, and
 - (b) a trustee of a deed for securing the issue of debentures of the company.
- (7) A person is not guilty of an offence under this section if he shows that the default was due to the refusal of a director or trustee for debenture holders to supply the necessary particulars of his interests.
- (8) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable—
 - (a) on conviction on indictment, to a fine;
 - (b) on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum.

Reconstructions and amalgamations

900 Powers of court to facilitate reconstruction or amalgamation

- (1) This section applies where application is made to the court under section 899 to sanction a compromise or arrangement and it is shown that—

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) the compromise or arrangement is proposed for the purposes of, or in connection with, a scheme for the reconstruction of any company or companies, or the amalgamation of any two or more companies, and
 - (b) under the scheme the whole or any part of the undertaking or the property of any company concerned in the scheme (“a transferor company”) is to be transferred to another company (“the transferee company”).
- (2) The court may, either by the order sanctioning the compromise or arrangement or by a subsequent order, make provision for all or any of the following matters—
- (a) the transfer to the transferee company of the whole or any part of the undertaking and of the property or liabilities of any transferor company;
 - (b) the allotting or appropriation by the transferee company of any shares, debentures, policies or other like interests in that company which under the compromise or arrangement are to be allotted or appropriated by that company to or for any person;
 - (c) the continuation by or against the transferee company of any legal proceedings pending by or against any transferor company;
 - (d) the dissolution, without winding up, of any transferor company;
 - (e) the provision to be made for any persons who, within such time and in such manner as the court directs, dissent from the compromise or arrangement;
 - (f) such incidental, consequential and supplemental matters as are necessary to secure that the reconstruction or amalgamation is fully and effectively carried out.
- (3) If an order under this section provides for the transfer of property or liabilities—
- (a) the property is by virtue of the order transferred to, and vests in, the transferee company, and
 - (b) the liabilities are, by virtue of the order, transferred to and become liabilities of that company.
- (4) The property (if the order so directs) vests freed from any charge that is by virtue of the compromise or arrangement to cease to have effect.
- (5) In this section—
- “property” includes property, rights and powers of every description; and
 - “liabilities” includes duties.
- (6) Every company in relation to which an order is made under this section must cause a copy of the order to be delivered to the registrar within seven days after its making.
- (7) If default is made in complying with subsection (6) an offence is committed by—
- (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- (8) A person guilty of an offence under subsection (7) is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale.

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1308Pt. 26A applied (with modifications) by S.I. 2014/229, art. 2(4), Sch. 2A (as inserted (18.7.2020) by The Co-operative and Community Benefit Societies and Credit Unions \(Arrangements, Reconstructions and Administration\) \(Amendment\) and Consequential Amendments Order 2020 \(S.I. 2020/744\), arts. 1, 7(c), 12)

Application of this Part

901A Application of this Part

- (1) The provisions of this Part apply where conditions A and B are met in relation to a company.
- (2) Condition A is that the company has encountered, or is likely to encounter, financial difficulties that are affecting, or will or may affect, its ability to carry on business as a going concern.
- (3) Condition B is that—
 - (a) a compromise or arrangement is proposed between the company and—
 - (i) its creditors, or any class of them, or
 - (ii) its members, or any class of them, and
 - (b) the purpose of the compromise or arrangement is to eliminate, reduce or prevent, or mitigate the effect of, any of the financial difficulties mentioned in subsection (2).
- (4) In this Part—

“arrangement” includes a reorganisation of the company’s share capital by the consolidation of shares of different classes or by the division of shares into shares of different classes, or by both of those methods;

“company”—

 - (a) in section 901J (powers of court to facilitate reconstruction or amalgamation) means a company within the meaning of this Act, and
 - (b) elsewhere in this Part means any company liable to be wound up under the Insolvency Act 1986 or the Insolvency (Northern Ireland) Order 1989 (S.I. 1989/2405 \(N.I. 19\)).
- (5) The provisions of this Part have effect subject to Part 27 (mergers and divisions of public companies) where that Part applies (see sections 902 and 903).

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. 901B Power to exclude companies providing financial services, etc

- (1) The Secretary of State may by regulations provide that this Part does not apply—
- (a) where the company in respect of which a compromise or arrangement is proposed is an authorised person, or an authorised person of a specified description;
 - (b) where—
 - (i) a compromise or arrangement is proposed between a company, or a company of a specified description, and any creditors of the company, and
 - (ii) those creditors consist of or include creditors of a specified description.
- (2) In this section—
- “authorised person” has the same meaning as in the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (see section 31 of that Act);
- “specified” means specified in the regulations.
- (3) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.

Meeting of creditors or members

901C Court order for holding of meeting

- (1) The court may, on an application under this subsection, order a meeting of the creditors or class of creditors, or of the members of the company or class of members (as the case may be), to be summoned in such manner as the court directs.
- (2) An application under subsection (1) may be made by—
- (a) the company,
 - (b) any creditor or member of the company,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. - (c) if the company is being wound up, the liquidator, or
 - (d) if the company is in administration, the administrator.
- (3) Every creditor or member of the company whose rights are affected by the compromise or arrangement must be permitted to participate in a meeting ordered to be summoned under subsection (1).
- (4) But subsection (3) does not apply in relation to a class of creditors or members of the company if, on an application under this subsection, the court is satisfied that none of the members of that class has a genuine economic interest in the company.
- (5) An application under subsection (4) is to be made by the person who made the application under subsection (1) in respect of the compromise or arrangement.
- (6) Section 323 (representation of corporations at meetings) applies to a meeting of creditors under this section as to a meeting of the company (references to a member of the company being read as references to a creditor).
- (7) This section is subject to section 901H (moratorium debts, etc).

901D Statement to be circulated or made available

- (1) Where a meeting is summoned under section 901C—
- (a) every notice summoning the meeting that is sent to a creditor or member must be accompanied by a statement complying with this section, and
 - (b) every notice summoning the meeting that is given by advertisement must either—
 - (i) include such a statement, or
 - (ii) state where and how creditors or members entitled to attend the meeting may obtain copies of such a statement.
- (2) The statement must—
- (a) explain the effect of the compromise or arrangement, and
 - (b) in particular, state—
 - (i) any material interests of the directors of the company (whether as directors or as members or as creditors of the company or otherwise), and
 - (ii) the effect on those interests of the compromise or arrangement, in so far as it is different from the effect on the like interests of other persons.

- (3) Where the compromise or arrangement affects the rights of debenture holders of the company, the statement must give the like explanation as respects the trustees of any deed for securing the issue of the debentures as it is required to give as respects the company's directors.
- (4) Where a notice given by advertisement states that copies of an explanatory statement can be obtained by creditors or members entitled to attend the meeting, every such creditor or member is entitled, on making application in the manner indicated by the notice, to be provided by the company with a copy of the statement free of charge.
- (5) If a company makes default in complying with any requirement of this section, an offence is committed by—
 - (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.

This is subject to subsection (7).

- (6) For this purpose the following are treated as officers of the company—
 - (a) a liquidator or administrator of the company, and
 - (b) a trustee of a deed for securing the issue of debentures of the company.
- (7) A person is not guilty of an offence under this section if the person shows that the default was due to the refusal of a director or trustee for debenture holders to supply the necessary particulars of the director's or (as the case may be) the trustee's interests.
- (8) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable—
 - (a) on conviction on indictment, to a fine;
 - (b) on summary conviction in England and Wales, to a fine;
 - (c) on summary conviction in Scotland or Northern Ireland, to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum.

 - (b) any creditor or member of the company,
 - (c) if the company is being wound up, the liquidator, or
 - (d) if the company is in administration, the administrator.
- (4) Where the court makes an order under this section in relation to a company that is in administration or is being wound up, the court may by the order—
- (a) provide for the appointment of the administrator or liquidator to cease to have effect;
 - (b) stay or sist all proceedings in the administration or the winding up;
 - (c) impose any requirements with respect to the conduct of the administration or the winding up which the court thinks appropriate for facilitating the compromise or arrangement.
- (5) A compromise or arrangement sanctioned by the court is binding—
- (a) on all creditors or the class of creditors or on the members or class of members (as the case may be), and
 - (b) on the company or, in the case of a company in the course of being wound up, the liquidator and contributories of the company.

901G Sanction for compromise or arrangement where one or more classes dissent

- (1) This section applies if the compromise or arrangement is not agreed by a number representing at least 75% in value of a class of creditors or (as the case may be) of members of the company (“the dissenting class”), present and voting either in person or by proxy at the meeting summoned under section 901C.
- (2) If conditions A and B are met, the fact that the dissenting class has not agreed the compromise or arrangement does not prevent the court from sanctioning it under section 901F.
- (3) Condition A is that the court is satisfied that, if the compromise or arrangement were to be sanctioned under section 901F, none of the members of the dissenting class would be any worse off than they would be in the event of the relevant alternative (see subsection (4)).
- (4) For the purposes of this section “the relevant alternative” is whatever the court considers would be most likely to occur in relation to the company if the compromise or arrangement were not sanctioned under section 901F.
- (5) Condition B is that the compromise or arrangement has been agreed by a number representing 75% in value of a class of creditors or (as the case may be) of members, present and voting either in person or by proxy at the meeting summoned under section 901C, who would receive a payment, or have a genuine economic interest in the company, in the event of the relevant alternative.
- (6) The Secretary of State may by regulations amend this section for the purpose of—
 - (a) adding to the conditions that must be met for the purposes of this section;
 - (b) removing or varying any of those conditions.
- (7) Regulations under subsection (6) are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.

Special cases

901H Moratorium debts, etc

- (1) This section applies where—
- (a) an application under section 901C(1) in respect of a compromise or arrangement is made before the end of the period of 12 weeks beginning with the day after the end of any moratorium for the company under Part A1 of the Insolvency Act 1986 or Part 1A of the Insolvency (Northern Ireland) Order 1989 (S.I. 1989/2405 (N.I. 19)), and
 - (b) the creditors with whom the compromise or arrangement is proposed include any relevant creditors (see subsection (2)).
- (2) In this section “relevant creditor” means—
- (a) a creditor in respect of a moratorium debt, or
 - (b) a creditor in respect of a priority pre-moratorium debt.
- (3) The relevant creditors may not participate in the meeting summoned under section 901C.
- (4) For the purposes of section 901D (statement to be circulated or made available)—
- (a) the requirement in section 901D(1)(a) is to be read as including a requirement to send each relevant creditor a statement complying with section 901D;
 - (b) any reference to creditors entitled to attend the meeting summoned under section 901C includes a reference to relevant creditors.
- (5) The court may not sanction the compromise or arrangement under section 901F if it includes provision in respect of any relevant creditor who has not agreed to it.
- (6) In this section—
- “moratorium debt”—
- (a) in the case of a moratorium under Part A1 of the Insolvency Act 1986, has the same meaning as in section 174A of that Act;
 - (b) in the case of a moratorium under Part 1A of the Insolvency (Northern Ireland) Order 1989, has the same meaning as in Article 148A of that Order;
- “priority pre-moratorium debt”—
- (a) in the case of a moratorium under Part A1 of the Insolvency Act 1986, has the same meaning as in section 174A of that Act;
 - (b) in the case of a moratorium under Part 1A of the Insolvency (Northern Ireland) Order 1989, has the same meaning as in Article 148A of that Order.

901I Pension schemes

- (1) In a case where the company in respect of which a compromise or arrangement is proposed is or has been an employer in respect of an occupational pension scheme that is not a money purchase scheme, any notice or other document required to be sent to a creditor of the company must also be sent to the Pensions Regulator.
- (2) In a case where the company in respect of which a compromise or arrangement is proposed is an employer in respect of an eligible scheme, any notice or other document required to be sent to a creditor of the company must also be sent to the Board of the Pension Protection Fund (“the Board”).
- (3) The Secretary of State may by regulations provide that, in a case where—
 - (a) the company in respect of which a compromise or arrangement is proposed is an employer in respect of an eligible scheme, and
 - (b) the trustees or managers of the scheme are a creditor of the company,the Board may exercise any rights, or any rights of a specified description, that are exercisable under this Part by the trustees or managers as a creditor of the company.
- (4) Regulations under this section may provide that the Board may exercise any such rights—
 - (a) to the exclusion of the trustees or managers of the scheme, or
 - (b) in addition to the exercise of those rights by the trustees or managers of the scheme.
- (5) Regulations under this section—
 - (a) may specify conditions that must be met before the Board may exercise any such rights;
 - (b) may provide for any such rights to be exercisable by the Board for a specified period;
 - (c) may make provision in connection with any such rights ceasing to be so exercisable at the end of such a period.
- (6) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure (but see subsection (7)).
- (7) During the period of six months beginning with the day on which this section comes into force, regulations under this section are subject to approval after being made (and subsection (6) does not apply).
- (8) For the purposes of subsection (7), section 1291 has effect as if any reference in that section to a period of 28 days were to a period of 40 days.
- (9) In this section—

Reconstructions and amalgamations

901J Powers of court to facilitate reconstruction or amalgamation

(1) This section applies where application is made to the court under section 901F to sanction a compromise or arrangement and it is shown that—

(a) the compromise or arrangement is proposed in connection with a scheme for the reconstruction of any company or companies, or the amalgamation of any two or more companies, and

(b) under the scheme the whole or any part of the undertaking or the property of any company concerned in the scheme (a “transferor company”) is to be transferred to another company (“the transferee company”).

(2) The court may, either by the order sanctioning the compromise or arrangement or by a subsequent order, make provision for all or any of the following matters—

(a) the transfer to the transferee company of the whole or any part of the undertaking and of the property or liabilities of any transferor company;

- (b) the allotting or appropriation by the transferee company of any shares, debentures, policies or other like interests in that company which under the compromise or arrangement are to be allotted or appropriated by that company to or for any person;
 - (c) the continuation by or against the transferee company of any legal proceedings pending by or against any transferor company;
 - (d) the dissolution, without winding up, of any transferor company;
 - (e) the provision to be made for any persons who, within such time and in such manner as the court directs, dissent from the compromise or arrangement;
 - (f) such incidental, consequential and supplemental matters as are necessary to secure that the reconstruction or amalgamation is fully and effectively carried out.
- (3) If an order under this section provides for the transfer of property or liabilities—
- (a) the property is by virtue of the order transferred to, and vests in, the transferee company, and
 - (b) the liabilities are, by virtue of the order, transferred to and become liabilities of that company.
- (4) The property (if the order so directs) vests freed from any charge that is by virtue of the compromise or arrangement to cease to have effect.
- (5) In this section—
- “property” includes property, rights and powers of every description; and
 - “liabilities” includes duties.
- (6) Every company in relation to which an order is made under this section must cause a copy of the order to be delivered to the registrar within seven days after its making.
- (7) If default is made in complying with subsection (6) an offence is committed by—
- (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- (8) A person guilty of an offence under subsection (7) is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale.

CHAPTER 1

INTRODUCTORY

902 Application of this Part

- (1) This Part applies where—
- (a) a compromise or arrangement is proposed between a public company and—
 - (i) its creditors or any class of them, or
 - (ii) its members or any class of them,for the purposes of, or in connection with, a scheme for the reconstruction of any company or companies or the amalgamation of any two or more companies,
 - (b) the scheme involves—
 - (i) a merger (as defined in section 904), or
 - (ii) a division (as defined in section 919), and
 - (c) the consideration for the transfer (or each of the transfers) envisaged is to be shares in the transferee company (or one or more of the transferee companies) receivable by members of the transferor company (or transferor companies), with or without any cash payment to members.
- (2) In this Part—
- (a) a “new company” means a company formed for the purposes of, or in connection with, the scheme, and
 - (b) an “existing company” means a company other than one formed for the purposes of, or in connection with, the scheme.
- (3) This Part does not apply where the company in respect of which the compromise or arrangement is proposed is being wound up.

MERGER

Introductory

904 Mergers and merging companies

- (1) The scheme involves a merger where under the scheme—
- (a) the undertaking, property and liabilities of one or more public companies, including the company in respect of which the compromise or arrangement is proposed, are to be transferred to another existing public company (a “merger by absorption”), or
 - (b) the undertaking, property and liabilities of two or more public companies, including the company in respect of which the compromise or arrangement is proposed, are to be transferred to a new company, whether or not a public company, (a “merger by formation of a new company”).
- (2) References in this Part to “the merging companies” are—
- (a) in relation to a merger by absorption, to the transferor and transferee companies;
 - (b) in relation to a merger by formation of a new company, to the transferor companies.

CHAPTER 3

DIVISION

Introductory

919 Divisions and companies involved in a division

- (1) The scheme involves a division where under the scheme the undertaking, property and liabilities of the company in respect of which the compromise or arrangement is proposed are to be divided among and transferred to two or more companies each of which is either—
 - (a) an existing public company, or
 - (b) a new company (whether or not a public company).
- (2) References in this Part to the companies involved in the division are to the transferor company and any existing transferee companies.

Requirements to be complied with in case of division

920 Draft terms of scheme (division)

- (1) A draft of the proposed terms of the scheme must be drawn up and adopted by the directors of each of the companies involved in the division.
- (2) The draft terms must give particulars of at least the following matters—
 - (a) in respect of the transferor company and each transferee company—
 - (i) its name,
 - (ii) the address of its registered office, and

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (iii) whether it is a company limited by shares or a company limited by guarantee and having a share capital;
 - (b) the number of shares in a transferee company to be allotted to members of the transferor company for a given number of their shares (the “share exchange ratio”) and the amount of any cash payment;
 - (c) the terms relating to the allotment of shares in a transferee company;
 - (d) the date from which the holding of shares in a transferee company will entitle the holders to participate in profits, and any special conditions affecting that entitlement;
 - (e) the date from which the transactions of the transferor company are to be treated for accounting purposes as being those of a transferee company;
 - (f) any rights or restrictions attaching to shares or other securities in a transferee company to be allotted under the scheme to the holders of shares or other securities in the transferor company to which any special rights or restrictions attach, or the measures proposed concerning them;
 - (g) any amount of benefit paid or given or intended to be paid or given—
 - (i) to any of the experts referred to in section 924 (expert's report), or
 - (ii) to any director of a company involved in the division,and the consideration for the payment of benefit.
- (3) The draft terms must also—
- (a) give particulars of the property and liabilities to be transferred (to the extent that these are known to the transferor company) and their allocation among the transferee companies;
 - (b) make provision for the allocation among and transfer to the transferee companies of any other property and liabilities that the transferor company has acquired or may subsequently acquire; and
 - (c) specify the allocation to members of the transferor company of shares in the transferee companies and the criteria upon which that allocation is based.

921 Publication of draft terms ^{F1228}by registrar

- (1) The directors of each company involved in the division must deliver a copy of the draft terms to the registrar.
- (2) The registrar must publish in the Gazette notice of receipt by him from that company of a copy of the draft terms.
- (3) That notice must be published at least one month before the date of any meeting of that company summoned for the purposes of approving the scheme.
- (4) The requirements in this section are subject to [^{F1229}section 921A (publication of draft terms on company website) and] section 934 (power of court to exclude certain requirements).

If no such appointment is made, there must be a separate expert's report to the members of each company involved in the division drawn up by a separate expert appointed on behalf of that company.

- (4) The expert must be a person who—
 - (a) is eligible for appointment as a statutory auditor (see section 1212), and
 - (b) meets the independence requirement in section 936.
- (5) The expert's report must—
 - (a) indicate the method or methods used to arrive at the share exchange ratio;
 - (b) give an opinion as to whether the method or methods used are reasonable in all the circumstances of the case, indicate the values arrived at using each such method and (if there is more than one method) give an opinion on the relative importance attributed to such methods in arriving at the value decided on;
 - (c) describe any special valuation difficulties that have arisen;
 - (d) state whether in the expert's opinion the share exchange ratio is reasonable; and
 - (e) in the case of a valuation made by a person other than himself (see section 935), state that it appeared to him reasonable to arrange for it to be so made or to accept a valuation so made.
- (6) The expert (or each of them) has—
 - (a) the right of access to all such documents of the companies involved in the division, and
 - (b) the right to require from the companies' officers all such information, as he thinks necessary for the purposes of making his report.
- (7) The requirement in this section is subject to section 933 (agreement to dispense with reports etc) [^{F1236} and section 933A (certain requirements excluded where shareholders given proportional rights)].

CHAPTER 4

SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS

Expert's report and related matters

935 Expert's report: valuation by another person

- (1) Where it appears to an expert—
- (a) that a valuation is reasonably necessary to enable him to draw up his report, and
 - (b) that it is reasonable for that valuation, or part of it, to be made by (or for him to accept a valuation made by) another person who—
 - (i) appears to him to have the requisite knowledge and experience to make the valuation or that part of it, and
 - (ii) meets the independence requirement in section 936,
 he may arrange for or accept such a valuation, together with a report which will enable him to make his own report under section 909 or 924.
- (2) Where any valuation is made by a person other than the expert himself, the latter's report must state that fact and must also—
- (a) state the former's name and what knowledge and experience he has to carry out the valuation, and
 - (b) describe so much of the undertaking, property and liabilities as was valued by the other person, and the method used to value them, and specify the date of the valuation.

936 Experts and valuers: independence requirement

- (1) A person meets the independence requirement for the purposes of section 909 or 924 (expert's report) or section 935 (valuation by another person) only if—

Liability of transferee companies

940 Liability of transferee companies for each other's defaults

- (1) In the case of a division, each transferee company is jointly and severally liable for any liability transferred to any other transferee company under the scheme to the extent that the other company has made default in satisfying that liability.

This is subject to the following provisions.

- (2) If^{F1267}, in the case of a compromise or arrangement to be sanctioned under Part 26,] a majority in number representing 75% in value of the creditors or any class of creditors of the transferor company, present and voting either in person or by proxy at a meeting summoned for the purposes of agreeing to the scheme, so agree, subsection (1) does not apply in relation to the liabilities owed to the creditors or that class of creditors.
- ^{F1268}(2A) If, in the case of a compromise or arrangement to be sanctioned under Part 26A, a number representing 75% in value of the creditors or any class of creditors of the transferor company, present and voting either in person or by proxy at a meeting summoned for the purposes of agreeing to the scheme, so agree, subsection (1) does not apply in relation to the liabilities owed to the creditors or that class of creditors.]
- (3) A transferee company is not liable under this section for an amount greater than the net value transferred to it under the scheme.

The “net value transferred” is the value at the time of the transfer of the property transferred to it under the scheme less the amount at that date of the liabilities so transferred.

The Panel and its rules

942 The Panel

- (1) The body known as the Panel on Takeovers and Mergers (“the Panel”) is to have the functions conferred on it by or under this Chapter.
- (2) The Panel may do anything that it considers necessary or expedient for the purposes of, or in connection with, its functions.
- (3) The Panel may make arrangements for any of its functions to be discharged by—
 - (a) a committee or sub-committee of the Panel, or
 - (b) an officer or member of staff of the Panel, or a person acting as such.

This is subject to section 943(4) and (5).

943 Rules

[^{F1270}(1) The Panel must make rules—

- (a) giving effect to the general principles in Part 1 of Schedule 1C, and
- (b) in accordance with Part 2 of that Schedule.]

[^{F1271}(1A) Rules must specify the percentage of voting rights that gives a person control of a company for the purposes of this Chapter and how it is to be calculated.]

- (2) Rules made by the Panel may also make other provision—

944 Further provisions about rules

- (1) Rules may—
- (a) make different provision for different purposes;
 - (b) make provision subject to exceptions or exemptions;
 - (c) contain incidental, supplemental, consequential or transitional provision;
 - (d) authorise the Panel to dispense with or modify the application of rules in particular cases and by reference to any circumstances.

Rules made by virtue of paragraph (d) must require the Panel to give reasons for acting as mentioned in that paragraph.

- (2) Rules must be made by an instrument in writing.
- (3) Immediately after an instrument containing rules is made, the text must be made available to the public, with or without payment, in whatever way the Panel thinks appropriate.
- (4) A person is not to be taken to have contravened a rule if he shows that at the time of the alleged contravention the text of the rule had not been made available as required by subsection (3).
- (5) The production of a printed copy of an instrument purporting to be made by the Panel on which is endorsed a certificate signed by an officer of the Panel authorised by it for that purpose and stating—
- (a) that the instrument was made by the Panel,
 - (b) that the copy is a true copy of the instrument, and
 - (c) that on a specified date the text of the instrument was made available to the public as required by subsection (3),
- is evidence (or in Scotland sufficient evidence) of the facts stated in the certificate.
- (6) A certificate purporting to be signed as mentioned in subsection (5) is to be treated as having been properly signed unless the contrary is shown.
- (7) A person who wishes in any legal proceedings to rely on an instrument by which rules are made may require the Panel to endorse a copy of the instrument with a certificate of the kind mentioned in subsection (5).

945 Rulings

- (1) The Panel may give rulings on the interpretation, application or effect of rules.
- (2) To the extent and in the circumstances specified in rules, and subject to any review or appeal, a ruling has binding effect.

946 Directions

Rules may contain provision conferring power on the Panel to give any direction that appears to the Panel to be necessary in order—

- (a) to restrain a person from acting (or continuing to act) in breach of rules;
- (b) to restrain a person from doing (or continuing to do) a particular thing, pending determination of whether that or any other conduct of his is or would be a breach of rules;
- (c) otherwise to secure compliance with rules.

Information

947 Power to require documents and information

- (1) The Panel may by notice in writing require a person—
 - (a) to produce any documents that are specified or described in the notice;
 - (b) to provide, in the form and manner specified in the notice, such information as may be specified or described in the notice.
- (2) A requirement under subsection (1) must be complied with—
 - (a) at a place specified in the notice, and
 - (b) before the end of such reasonable period as may be so specified.
- (3) This section applies only to documents and information reasonably required in connection with the exercise by the Panel of its functions.
- (4) The Panel may require—
 - (a) any document produced to be authenticated, or
 - (b) any information provided (whether in a document or otherwise) to be verified, in such manner as it may reasonably require.
- (5) The Panel may authorise a person to exercise any of its powers under this section.
- (6) A person exercising a power by virtue of subsection (5) must, if required to do so, produce evidence of his authority to exercise the power.
- (7) The production of a document in pursuance of this section does not affect any lien that a person has on the document.
- (8) The Panel may take copies of or extracts from a document produced in pursuance of this section.
- (9) A reference in this section to the production of a document includes a reference to the production of—
 - (a) a hard copy of information recorded otherwise than in hard copy form, or
 - (b) information in a form from which a hard copy can be readily obtained.
- (10) A person is not required by this section to disclose documents or information in respect of which a claim to legal professional privilege (in Scotland, to confidentiality of communications) could be maintained in legal proceedings.

948 Restrictions on disclosure

- (1) This section applies to information (in whatever form)—
 - (a) relating to the private affairs of an individual, or
 - (b) relating to any particular business, that is provided to the Panel in connection with the exercise of its functions.
- (2) No such information may, during the lifetime of the individual or so long as the business continues to be carried on, be disclosed without the consent of that individual or (as the case may be) the person for the time being carrying on that business.

Hearings and appeals

951 Hearings and appeals

- (1) Rules must provide for a decision of the Panel to be subject to review by a committee of the Panel (the “Hearings Committee”) at the instance of such persons affected by the decision as are specified in the rules.
- (2) Rules may also confer other functions on the Hearings Committee.
- (3) Rules must provide for there to be a right of appeal against a decision of the Hearings Committee to an independent tribunal (the “Takeover Appeal Board”) in such circumstances and subject to such conditions as are specified in the rules.
- (4) Rules may contain—
 - (a) provision as to matters of procedure in relation to proceedings before the Hearings Committee (including provision imposing time limits);
 - (b) provision about evidence in such proceedings;
 - (c) provision as to the powers of the Hearings Committee dealing with a matter referred to it;
 - (d) provision about enforcement of decisions of the Hearings Committee and the Takeover Appeal Board.
- (5) Rules must contain provision—
 - (a) requiring the Panel, when acting in relation to any proceedings before the Hearings Committee or the Takeover Appeal Board, to do so by an officer or member of staff of the Panel (or a person acting as such);
 - (b) preventing a person who is or has been a member of the committee mentioned in section 943(5) from being a member of the Hearings Committee or the Takeover Appeal Board;
 - (c) preventing a person who is a member of the committee mentioned in section 943(5), of the Hearings Committee or of the Takeover Appeal Board from acting as mentioned in paragraph (a).

Contravention of rules etc

952 Sanctions

- (1) Rules may contain provision conferring power on the Panel to impose sanctions on a person who has—
 - (a) acted in breach of rules, or

- (b) failed to comply with a direction given by virtue of section 946.
- (2) Subsection (3) applies where rules made by virtue of subsection (1) confer power on the Panel to impose a sanction of a kind not provided for by the City Code on Takeovers and Mergers as it had effect immediately before the passing of this Act.
- (3) The Panel must prepare a statement (a “policy statement”) of its policy with respect to—
 - (a) the imposition of the sanction in question, and
 - (b) where the sanction is in the nature of a financial penalty, the amount of the penalty that may be imposed.

An element of the policy must be that, in making a decision about any such matter, the Panel has regard to the factors mentioned in subsection (4).

- (4) The factors are—
 - (a) the seriousness of the breach or failure in question in relation to the nature of the rule or direction contravened;
 - (b) the extent to which the breach or failure was deliberate or reckless;
 - (c) whether the person on whom the sanction is to be imposed is an individual.
- (5) The Panel may at any time revise a policy statement.
- (6) The Panel must prepare a draft of any proposed policy statement (or revised policy statement) and consult such persons about the draft as the Panel considers appropriate.
- (7) The Panel must publish, in whatever way it considers appropriate, any policy statement (or revised policy statement) that it prepares.
- (8) In exercising, or deciding whether to exercise, its power to impose a sanction within subsection (2) in the case of any particular breach or failure, the Panel must have regard to any relevant policy statement published and in force at the time when the breach or failure occurred.

953 Failure to comply with rules about bid documentation

- (1) This section applies where a takeover bid is made for a company that has securities carrying voting rights admitted to trading on a regulated market in the United Kingdom.
- (2) Where an offer document published in respect of the bid does not comply with offer document rules, an offence is committed by—
 - (a) the person making the bid, and
 - (b) where the person making the bid is a body of persons, any director, officer or member of that body who caused the document to be published.
- (3) A person commits an offence under subsection (2) only if—
 - (a) he knew that the offer document did not comply, or was reckless as to whether it complied, and
 - (b) he failed to take all reasonable steps to secure that it did comply.
- (4) Where a response document published in respect of the bid does not comply with response document rules, an offence is committed by any director or other officer of the company referred to in subsection (1) who—

- (a) knew that the response document did not comply, or was reckless as to whether it complied, and
 - (b) failed to take all reasonable steps to secure that it did comply.
- (5) Where an offence is committed under subsection (2)(b) or (4) by a company or other body corporate (“the relevant body”)—
- (a) subsection (2)(b) has effect as if the reference to a director, officer or member of the person making the bid included a reference to a director, officer or member of the relevant body;
 - (b) subsection (4) has effect as if the reference to a director or other officer of the company referred to in subsection (1) included a reference to a director, officer or member of the relevant body.
- (6) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable—
- (a) on conviction on indictment, to a fine;
 - (b) on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum.
- (7) Nothing in this section affects any power of the Panel in relation to the enforcement of its rules.
- (8) Section 1 (meaning of “company”) does not apply for the purposes of this section.
- (9) In this section—
- “designated” means designated in rules;
 - “offer document” means a document required to be published by rules ^{F1281}made in accordance with paragraph 12(1) to (3) of Schedule 1C;]
 - ^{F1282}“offer document rules” means rules under section 943(1) designated as rules made in accordance with paragraph 12(4) of Schedule 1C;]
 - “response document” means a document required to be published by rules ^{F1283}made in accordance with paragraph 18 of Schedule 1C;]
 - ^{F1284}“response document rules” means rules under section 943(1) designated as rules made in accordance with paragraph 18(1) of Schedule 1C;]
 - “securities” means shares or debentures;
 - “takeover bid” has the ^{F1285}meaning given by paragraph 20(1) of Schedule 1C;]
 - “voting rights” means rights to vote at general meetings of the company in question, including rights that arise only in certain circumstances.

954 Compensation

- (1) Rules may confer power on the Panel to order a person to pay such compensation as it thinks just and reasonable if he is in breach of a rule the effect of which is to require the payment of money.
- (2) Rules made by virtue of this section may include provision for the payment of interest (including compound interest).

955 Enforcement by the court

- (1) If, on the application of the Panel, the court is satisfied—
 - (a) that there is a reasonable likelihood that a person will contravene a rule-based requirement, or
 - (b) that a person has contravened a rule-based requirement or a disclosure requirement, the court may make any order it thinks fit to secure compliance with the requirement.
- (2) In subsection (1) “the court” means the High Court or, in Scotland, the Court of Session.
- (3) Except as provided by subsection (1), no person—
 - (a) has a right to seek an injunction, or
 - (b) in Scotland, has title or interest to seek an interdict or an order for specific performance, to prevent a person from contravening (or continuing to contravene) a rule-based requirement or a disclosure requirement.
- (4) In this section—
 - “contravene” includes fail to comply;
 - “disclosure requirement” means a requirement imposed under section 947;
 - “rule-based requirement” means a requirement imposed by or under rules.

956 No action for breach of statutory duty etc

- (1) Contravention of a rule-based requirement or a disclosure requirement does not give rise to any right of action for breach of statutory duty.
- (2) Contravention of a rule-based requirement does not make any transaction void or unenforceable or (subject to any provision made by rules) affect the validity of any other thing.
- (3) In this section—
 - (a) “contravention” includes failure to comply;
 - (b) “disclosure requirement” and “rule-based requirement” have the same meaning as in section 955.

Funding

957 Fees and charges

- (1) Rules may provide for fees or charges to be payable to the Panel for the purpose of meeting any part of its expenses.
- (2) A reference in this section or section 958 to expenses of the Panel is to any expenses that have been or are to be incurred by the Panel in, or in connection with, the discharge of its functions, including in particular—
 - (a) payments in respect of the expenses of the Takeover Appeal Board;
 - (b) the cost of repaying the principal of, and of paying any interest on, any money borrowed by the Panel;
 - (c) the cost of maintaining adequate reserves.

958 Levy

- (1) For the purpose of meeting any part of the expenses of the Panel, the Secretary of State may by regulations provide for a levy to be payable to the Panel—
 - (a) by specified persons or bodies, or persons or bodies of a specified description, or
 - (b) on transactions, of a specified description, in securities on specified markets.

In this subsection “specified” means specified in the regulations.

- (2) The power to specify (or to specify descriptions of) persons or bodies must be exercised in such a way that the levy is payable only by persons or bodies that appear to the Secretary of State—
 - (a) to be capable of being directly affected by the exercise of any of the functions of the Panel, or
 - (b) otherwise to have a substantial interest in the exercise of any of those functions.
- (3) Regulations under this section may in particular—
 - (a) specify the rate of the levy and the period in respect of which it is payable at that rate;
 - (b) make provision as to the times when, and the manner in which, payments are to be made in respect of the levy.
- (4) In determining the rate of the levy payable in respect of a particular period, the Secretary of State—
 - (a) must take into account any other income received or expected by the Panel in respect of that period;
 - (b) may take into account estimated as well as actual expenses of the Panel in respect of that period.
- (5) The Panel must—
 - (a) keep proper accounts in respect of any amounts of levy received by virtue of this section;
 - (b) prepare, in relation to each period in respect of which any such amounts are received, a statement of account relating to those amounts in such form and manner as is specified in the regulations.

Those accounts must be audited, and the statement certified, by persons appointed by the Secretary of State.

- (6) Regulations under this section—
- (a) are subject to affirmative resolution procedure if subsection (7) applies to them;
 - (b) otherwise, are subject to negative resolution procedure.
- (7) This subsection applies to—
- (a) the first regulations under this section;
 - (b) any other regulations under this section that would result in a change in the persons or bodies by whom, or the transactions on which, the levy is payable.
- (8) If a draft of an instrument containing regulations under this section would, apart from this subsection, be treated for the purposes of the Standing Orders of either House of Parliament as a hybrid instrument, it is to proceed in that House as if it were not such an instrument.

IMPEDIMENTS TO TAKEOVERS

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1321Pt. 28 Ch. 2 applied (6.4.2007) by The Companies Acts \(Unregistered Companies\) Regulations 2007 \(S.I. 2007/318\), reg. 3, Sch. (with reg. 6)

Opting in and opting out

966 Opting in and opting out

- (1) A company may by special resolution (an “opting-in resolution”) opt in for the purposes of this Chapter if the following [^{F1288}five] conditions are met in relation to the company.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) The first condition is that the company has voting shares admitted to trading on a [F1289UK] regulated market.
- F1290 The second condition is that the company's articles of association do not contain any restrictions on the transfer of shares or, if they do contain any such restrictions, provide that they are not to apply to—
- (a) transfers to the offeror, or at the offeror's direction to another person, during the offer period, or
 - (b) transfers to any person at a time during the offer period when the offeror holds shares amounting to not less than 75% in value of all the voting shares in the company.
- (3A) The third condition is that the company's articles of association—
- (a) do not contain any restrictions on rights to vote at a general meeting of the company, or
 - (b) if they do contain any such restrictions, provide that they are not to have effect on rights to vote at a general meeting of the company that—
 - (i) decides whether to take any action which might result in the frustration of the takeover bid, or
 - (ii) is held at a time when the offeror holds shares amounting to not less than 75% in value of all the voting shares in the company,unless the restrictions are compensated for by specific pecuniary advantages.
- (3B) The fourth condition is that the company's articles of association do not contain any other provision which would be incompatible with the requirements of subsection (3C).
- (3C) Those requirements are—
- (a) multiple-vote shares are to carry only one vote each at a general meeting of the company that decides whether to take any action which might result in the frustration of the takeover bid,
 - (b) multiple-vote shares are to carry only one vote each at a general meeting of the company which—
 - (i) is the first such meeting to be held after the end of the offer period,
 - (ii) is held at a time when the offeror holds shares amounting to not less than 75% in value of all the voting shares in the company, and
 - (iii) is called at the offeror's request under section 969 in order to amend the company's articles of association or to appoint or remove members of the board of directors, and
 - (c) at a time during the offer period when the offeror holds shares amounting to not less than 75% in value of all the voting shares in the company, shareholders are not to have any extraordinary rights to appoint or remove members of the board of directors.
- (3D) The references in subsections (3A)(b) and (3C)(a) to voting at a general meeting of the company that decides whether to take any action which might result in the frustration of the takeover bid includes a reference to voting on a written resolution concerned with that question.
- (3E) For the purposes of subsections (3A)(b)(i) and (3C)(a), action which might result in the frustration of the takeover bid is any action of that kind specified in rules under section 943(1) made in accordance with paragraphs 17 or 18 of Schedule 1C.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

(3F) The references in subsections (3), (3A) and (3C) to voting shares in the company do not include—

- (a) debentures, or
- (b) shares that, under the company’s articles of association, do not normally carry rights to vote at its general meetings (for example, shares carrying rights to vote that, under those articles, arise only where specified pecuniary advantages are not provided).

(3G) In subsection (3C), “multiple-vote shares” means shares included in a distinct and separate class and carrying more than one vote each.]

(4) The [^{F1291}fifth] condition is that—

- (a) no shares conferring special rights in the company are held by—
 - (i) a minister,
 - (ii) a nominee of, or any other person acting on behalf of, a minister, or
 - (iii) a company directly or indirectly controlled by a minister,
 and
- (b) no such rights are exercisable by or on behalf of a minister under any enactment.

(5) A company may revoke an opting-in resolution by a further special resolution (an “opting-out resolution”).

^{F1292}(6)

(7) In subsection (4) “minister” means—

- (a) the holder of an office in Her Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom;
- (b) the Scottish Ministers;
- (c) a Minister within the meaning given by section 7(3) of the Northern Ireland Act 1998 (c. 47);

[^{F1293}(d) the Welsh Ministers;]

and for the purposes of that subsection “minister” also includes the Treasury, the Board of Trade [^{F1294}and], the Defence Council ^{F1295}

(8) The Secretary of State may by order subject to negative resolution procedure provide that subsection (4) applies in relation to a specified person or body that exercises functions of a public nature as it applies in relation to a minister.

“Specified” means specified in the order.

967 Further provision about opting-in and opting-out resolutions

- (1) An opting-in resolution or an opting-out resolution must specify the date from which it is to have effect (the “effective date”).
- (2) The effective date of an opting-in resolution may not be earlier than the date on which the resolution is passed.
- (3) The [^{F1296}second, third, fourth and fifth] conditions in section 966 must be met at the time when an opting-in resolution is passed, but the first one does not need to be met until the effective date.
- (4) An opting-in resolution passed before the time when voting shares of the company are admitted to trading on a [^{F1297}UK] regulated market complies with the requirement in subsection (1) if, instead of specifying a particular date, it provides for the resolution to have effect from that time.
- (5) An opting-in resolution passed before the commencement of this section complies with the requirement in subsection (1) if, instead of specifying a particular date, it provides for the resolution to have effect from that commencement.
- (6) The effective date of an opting-out resolution may not be earlier than the first anniversary of the date on which a copy of the opting-in resolution was forwarded to the registrar.
- (7) Where a company has passed an opting-in resolution, any alteration of its articles of association that would prevent the [^{F1298}second, third or fourth condition] in section 966 from being met is of no effect until the effective date of an opting-out resolution passed by the company.

Consequences of opting in

968 Effect on contractual restrictions

- (1) The following provisions have effect where a takeover bid is made for an opted-in company.
- (2) An agreement to which this section applies is invalid in so far as it places any restriction—
 - (a) on the transfer to the offeror, or at his direction to another person, of shares in the company during the offer period;
 - (b) on the transfer to any person of shares in the company at a time during the offer period when the offeror holds shares amounting to not less than 75% in value of all the voting shares in the company;
 - (c) on rights to vote at a general meeting of the company that decides whether to take any action which might result in the frustration of the bid;
 - (d) on rights to vote at a general meeting of the company that—
 - (i) is the first such meeting to be held after the end of the offer period, and
 - (ii) is held at a time when the offeror holds shares amounting to not less than 75% in value of all the voting shares in the company.
- (3) This section applies to an agreement—
 - (a) entered into between a person holding shares in the company and another such person on or after 21st April 2004, or
 - (b) entered into at any time between such a person and the company, and it applies to such an agreement even if the law applicable to the agreement (apart from this section) is not the law of a part of the United Kingdom.
- (4) The reference in subsection (2)(c) to rights to vote at a general meeting of the company that decides whether to take any action which might result in the frustration of the bid includes a reference to rights to vote on a written resolution concerned with that question.
- (5) For the purposes of subsection (2)(c), action which might result in the frustration of a bid is any action of that kind specified in rules under section 943(1) [^{F1299}made in accordance with paragraph 17 or 18 of Schedule 1C].
- (6) If a person suffers loss as a result of any act or omission that would (but for this section) be a breach of an agreement to which this section applies, he is entitled to compensation, of such amount as the court considers just and equitable, from any person who would (but for this section) be liable to him for committing or inducing the breach.

Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (7) In subsection (6) “the court” means the High Court or, in Scotland, the Court of Session.
- (8) A reference in this section to voting shares in the company does not include—
- (a) debentures, or
 - (b) shares that, under the company's articles of association, do not normally carry rights to vote at its general meetings (for example, shares carrying rights to vote that, under those articles, arise only where specified pecuniary advantages are not provided).

969 Power of offeror to require general meeting to be called

- (1) Where a takeover bid is made for an opted-in company, the offeror may by making a request to the directors of the company require them to call a general meeting of the company if, at the date at which the request is made, he holds shares amounting to not less than 75% in value of all the voting shares in the company.
- (2) The reference in subsection (1) to voting shares in the company does not include—
- (a) debentures, or
 - (b) shares that, under the company's articles of association, do not normally carry rights to vote at its general meetings (for example, shares carrying rights to vote that, under those articles, arise only where specified pecuniary advantages are not provided).
- (3) Sections 303 to 305 (members' power to require general meetings to be called) apply as they would do if subsection (1) above were substituted for subsections (1) to (3) of section 303, and with any other necessary modifications.

Takeover offers

974 Meaning of “takeover offer”

- (1) For the purposes of this Chapter an offer to acquire shares in a company is a “takeover offer” if the following two conditions are satisfied in relation to the offer.
- (2) The first condition is that it is an offer to acquire—
 - (a) all the shares in a company, or
 - (b) where there is more than one class of shares in a company, all the shares of one or more classes,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.
Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

other than shares that at the date of the offer are already held by the offeror.

Section 975 contains provision supplementing this subsection.

- (3) The second condition is that the terms of the offer are the same—
- (a) in relation to all the shares to which the offer relates, or
 - (b) where the shares to which the offer relates include shares of different classes, in relation to all the shares of each class.

Section 976 contains provision treating this condition as satisfied in certain circumstances.

- (4) In subsections (1) to (3) “shares” means shares, other than relevant treasury shares, that have been allotted on the date of the offer (but see subsection (5)).

- (5) A takeover offer may include among the shares to which it relates—
- (a) all or any shares that are allotted after the date of the offer but before a specified date;
 - (b) all or any relevant treasury shares that cease to be held as treasury shares before a specified date;
 - (c) all or any other relevant treasury shares.

- (6) In this section—
- “relevant treasury shares” means shares that—
- (a) are held by the company as treasury shares on the date of the offer, or
 - (b) become shares held by the company as treasury shares after that date but before a specified date;
- “specified date” means a date specified in or determined in accordance with the terms of the offer.

- (7) Where the terms of an offer make provision for their revision and for acceptances on the previous terms to be treated as acceptances on the revised terms, then, if the terms of the offer are revised in accordance with that provision—
- (a) the revision is not to be regarded for the purposes of this Chapter as the making of a fresh offer, and
 - (b) references in this Chapter to the date of the offer are accordingly to be read as references to the date of the original offer.

975 Shares already held by the offeror etc

- (1) The reference in section 974(2) to shares already held by the offeror includes a reference to shares that he has contracted to acquire, whether unconditionally or subject to conditions being met.

This is subject to subsection (2).

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) The reference in section 974(2) to shares already held by the offeror does not include a reference to shares that are the subject of a contract—
- (a) intended to secure that the holder of the shares will accept the offer when it is made, and
 - (b) entered into—
 - (i) by deed and for no consideration,
 - (ii) for consideration of negligible value, or
 - (iii) for consideration consisting of a promise by the offeror to make the offer.
- (3) In relation to Scotland, this section applies as if the words “by deed and” in subsection (2)(b)(i) were omitted.
- (4) The condition in section 974(2) is treated as satisfied where—
- (a) the offer does not extend to shares that associates of the offeror hold or have contracted to acquire (whether unconditionally or subject to conditions being met), and
 - (b) the condition would be satisfied if the offer did extend to those shares.
- (For further provision about such shares, see section 977(2)).

976 Cases where offer treated as being on same terms

- (1) The condition in section 974(3) (terms of offer to be the same for all shares or all shares of particular classes) is treated as satisfied where subsection (2) or (3) below applies.
- (2) This subsection applies where—
- (a) shares carry an entitlement to a particular dividend which other shares of the same class, by reason of being allotted later, do not carry,
 - (b) there is a difference in the value of consideration offered for the shares allotted earlier as against that offered for those allotted later,
 - (c) that difference merely reflects the difference in entitlement to the dividend, and
 - (d) the condition in section 974(3) would be satisfied but for that difference.
- (3) This subsection applies where—
- (a) the law of a country or territory outside the United Kingdom—
 - (i) precludes an offer of consideration in the form, or any of the forms, specified in the terms of the offer (“the specified form”), or
 - (ii) precludes it except after compliance by the offeror with conditions with which he is unable to comply or which he regards as unduly onerous,

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) the persons to whom an offer of consideration in the specified form is precluded are able to receive consideration in another form that is of substantially equivalent value, and
- (c) the condition in section 974(3) would be satisfied but for the fact that an offer of consideration in the specified form to those persons is precluded.

977 Shares to which an offer relates

- (1) Where a takeover offer is made and, during the period beginning with the date of the offer and ending when the offer can no longer be accepted, the offeror—
 - (a) acquires or unconditionally contracts to acquire any of the shares to which the offer relates, but
 - (b) does not do so by virtue of acceptances of the offer,those shares are treated for the purposes of this Chapter as excluded from those to which the offer relates.

- (2) For the purposes of this Chapter shares that an associate of the offeror holds or has contracted to acquire, whether at the date of the offer or subsequently, are not treated as shares to which the offer relates, even if the offer extends to such shares.

In this subsection “contracted” means contracted unconditionally or subject to conditions being met.

- (3) This section is subject to section 979(8) and (9).

978 Effect of impossibility etc of communicating or accepting offer

- (1) Where there are holders of shares in a company to whom an offer to acquire shares in the company is not communicated, that does not prevent the offer from being a takeover offer for the purposes of this Chapter if—
 - (a) those shareholders have no registered address in the United Kingdom,
 - (b) the offer was not communicated to those shareholders in order not to contravene the law of a country or territory outside the United Kingdom, and
 - (c) either—
 - (i) the offer is published in the Gazette, or
 - (ii) the offer can be inspected, or a copy of it obtained, at a place in ^{F1307}the United Kingdom] or on a website, and a notice is published in the Gazette specifying the address of that place or website.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) Where an offer is made to acquire shares in a company and there are persons for whom, by reason of the law of a country or territory outside the United Kingdom, it is impossible to accept the offer, or more difficult to do so, that does not prevent the offer from being a takeover offer for the purposes of this Chapter.
- (3) It is not to be inferred—
- (a) that an offer which is not communicated to every holder of shares in the company cannot be a takeover offer for the purposes of this Chapter unless the requirements of paragraphs (a) to (c) of subsection (1) are met, or
 - (b) that an offer which is impossible, or more difficult, for certain persons to accept cannot be a takeover offer for those purposes unless the reason for the impossibility or difficulty is the one mentioned in subsection (2).

979 Right of offeror to buy out minority shareholder

- (1) Subsection (2) applies in a case where a takeover offer does not relate to shares of different classes.
- (2) If the offeror has, by virtue of acceptances of the offer, acquired or unconditionally contracted to acquire—
- (a) not less than 90% in value of the shares to which the offer relates, and
 - (b) in a case where the shares to which the offer relates are voting shares, not less than 90% of the voting rights carried by those shares,
- he may give notice to the holder of any shares to which the offer relates which the offeror has not acquired or unconditionally contracted to acquire that he desires to acquire those shares.
- (3) Subsection (4) applies in a case where a takeover offer relates to shares of different classes.
- (4) If the offeror has, by virtue of acceptances of the offer, acquired or unconditionally contracted to acquire—
- (a) not less than 90% in value of the shares of any class to which the offer relates, and
 - (b) in a case where the shares of that class are voting shares, not less than 90% of the voting rights carried by those shares, he may give notice to the holder of any shares of that class to which the offer relates which the offeror has not acquired or unconditionally contracted to acquire that he desires to acquire those shares.

- (5) In the case of a takeover offer which includes among the shares to which it relates—
- (a) shares that are allotted after the date of the offer, or
 - (b) relevant treasury shares (within the meaning of section 974) that cease to be held as treasury shares after the date of the offer, the offeror's entitlement to give a notice under subsection (2) or (4) on any particular date shall be determined as if the shares to which the offer relates did not include any allotted, or ceasing to be held as treasury shares, on or after that date.

- (6) Subsection (7) applies where—
- (a) the requirements for the giving of a notice under subsection (2) or (4) are satisfied, and
 - (b) there are shares in the company which the offeror, or an associate of his, has contracted to acquire subject to conditions being met, and in relation to which the contract has not become unconditional.

- (7) The offeror's entitlement to give a notice under subsection (2) or (4) shall be determined as if—
- (a) the shares to which the offer relates included shares falling within paragraph (b) of subsection (6), and
 - (b) in relation to shares falling within that paragraph, the words “by virtue of acceptances of the offer” in subsection (2) or (4) were omitted.

- (8) Where—
- (a) a takeover offer is made,
 - (b) during the period beginning with the date of the offer and ending when the offer can no longer be accepted, the offeror—
 - (i) acquires or unconditionally contracts to acquire any of the shares to which the offer relates, but
 - (ii) does not do so by virtue of acceptances of the offer, and
 - (c) subsection (10) applies,

then for the purposes of this section those shares are not excluded by section 977(1) from those to which the offer relates, and the offeror is treated as having acquired or contracted to acquire them by virtue of acceptances of the offer.

- (9) Where—
- (a) a takeover offer is made,
 - (b) during the period beginning with the date of the offer and ending when the offer can no longer be accepted, an associate of the offeror acquires or unconditionally contracts to acquire any of the shares to which the offer relates, and
 - (c) subsection (10) applies,

then for the purposes of this section those shares are not excluded by section 977(2) from those to which the offer relates.

- (10) This subsection applies if—
- (a) at the time the shares are acquired or contracted to be acquired as mentioned in subsection (8) or (9) (as the case may be), the value of the consideration

980 Further provision about notices given under section 979

- (1) A notice under section 979 must be given in the prescribed manner.
- (2) No notice may be given under section 979(2) or (4) after the end of—
 - (a) the period of three months beginning with the day after the last day on which the offer can be accepted, or
 - (b) the period of six months beginning with the date of the offer, where that period ends earlier and the offer is one to which subsection (3) below applies.
- (3) This subsection applies to an offer if the time allowed for acceptance of the offer is not governed by rules under section 943(1) [^{F1308}made in accordance with paragraph 13 or 14 of Schedule 1C].
- (4) At the time when the offeror first gives a notice under section 979 in relation to an offer, he must send to the company—
 - (a) a copy of the notice, and
 - (b) a statutory declaration by him in the prescribed form, stating that the conditions for the giving of the notice are satisfied.
- (5) Where the offeror is a company (whether or not a company within the meaning of this Act) the statutory declaration must be signed by a director.
- (6) A person commits an offence if—
 - (a) he fails to send a copy of a notice or a statutory declaration as required by subsection (4), or
 - (b) he makes such a declaration for the purposes of that subsection knowing it to be false or without having reasonable grounds for believing it to be true.
- (7) It is a defence for a person charged with an offence for failing to send a copy of a notice as required by subsection (4) to prove that he took reasonable steps for securing compliance with that subsection.
- (8) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable—
 - (a) on conviction on indictment, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or a fine (or both);
 - (b) on summary conviction—

981 Effect of notice under section 979

- (1) Subject to section 986 (applications to the court), this section applies where the offeror gives a shareholder a notice under section 979.
- (2) The offeror is entitled and bound to acquire the shares to which the notice relates on the terms of the offer.
- (3) Where the terms of an offer are such as to give the shareholder a choice of consideration, the notice must give particulars of the choice and state—
 - (a) that the shareholder may, within six weeks from the date of the notice, indicate his choice by a written communication sent to the offeror at an address specified in the notice, and
 - (b) which consideration specified in the offer will apply if he does not indicate a choice.

The reference in subsection (2) to the terms of the offer is to be read accordingly.

- (4) Subsection (3) applies whether or not any time-limit or other conditions applicable to the choice under the terms of the offer can still be complied with.
- (5) If the consideration offered to or (as the case may be) chosen by the shareholder—
 - (a) is not cash and the offeror is no longer able to provide it, or

(b) was to have been provided by a third party who is no longer bound or able to provide it, the consideration is to be taken to consist of an amount of cash, payable by the offeror, which at the date of the notice is equivalent to the consideration offered or (as the case may be) chosen.

- (6) At the end of six weeks from the date of the notice the offeror must immediately—
- (a) send a copy of the notice to the company, and
 - (b) pay or transfer to the company the consideration for the shares to which the notice relates.

Where the consideration consists of shares or securities to be allotted by the offeror, the reference in paragraph (b) to the transfer of the consideration is to be read as a reference to the allotment of the shares or securities to the company.

- (7) If the shares to which the notice relates are registered, the copy of the notice sent to the company under subsection (6)(a) must be accompanied by an instrument of transfer executed on behalf of the holder of the shares by a person appointed by the offeror.

On receipt of that instrument the company must register the offeror as the holder of those shares.

- (8) If the shares to which the notice relates are transferable by the delivery of warrants or other instruments, the copy of the notice sent to the company under subsection (6)(a) must be accompanied by a statement to that effect.

On receipt of that statement the company must issue the offeror with warrants or other instruments in respect of the shares, and those already in issue in respect of the shares become void.

- (9) The company must hold any money or other consideration received by it under subsection (6)(b) on trust for the person who, before the offeror acquired them, was entitled to the shares in respect of which the money or other consideration was received.

Section 982 contains further provision about how the company should deal with such money or other consideration.

“Sell-out”

983 Right of minority shareholder to be bought out by offeror

- (1) Subsections (2) and (3) apply in a case where a takeover offer relates to all the shares in a company.

For this purpose a takeover offer relates to all the shares in a company if it is an offer to acquire all the shares in the company within the meaning of section 974.

- (2) The holder of any voting shares to which the offer relates who has not accepted the offer may require the offeror to acquire those shares if, at any time before the end of the period within which the offer can be accepted—
- (a) the offeror has by virtue of acceptances of the offer acquired or unconditionally contracted to acquire some (but not all) of the shares to which the offer relates, and
 - (b) those shares, with or without any other shares in the company which he has acquired or contracted to acquire (whether unconditionally or subject to conditions being met)—
 - (i) amount to not less than 90% in value of all the voting shares in the company (or would do so but for section 990(1)), and
 - (ii) carry not less than 90% of the voting rights in the company (or would do so but for section 990(1)).
- (3) The holder of any non-voting shares to which the offer relates who has not accepted the offer may require the offeror to acquire those shares if, at any time before the end of the period within which the offer can be accepted—
- (a) the offeror has by virtue of acceptances of the offer acquired or unconditionally contracted to acquire some (but not all) of the shares to which the offer relates, and
 - (b) those shares, with or without any other shares in the company which he has acquired or contracted to acquire (whether unconditionally or subject to conditions being met), amount to not less than 90% in value of all the shares in the company (or would do so but for section 990(1)).
- (4) If a takeover offer relates to shares of one or more classes and at any time before the end of the period within which the offer can be accepted—
- (a) the offeror has by virtue of acceptances of the offer acquired or unconditionally contracted to acquire some (but not all) of the shares of any class to which the offer relates, and
 - (b) those shares, with or without any other shares of that class which he has acquired or contracted to acquire (whether unconditionally or subject to conditions being met)—
 - (i) amount to not less than 90% in value of all the shares of that class, and
 - (ii) in a case where the shares of that class are voting shares, carry not less than 90% of the voting rights carried by the shares of that class, the holder of any shares of that class to which the offer relates who has not accepted the offer may require the offeror to acquire those shares.

- (5) For the purposes of subsections (2) to (4), in calculating 90% of the value of any shares, shares held by the company as treasury shares are to be treated as having been acquired by the offeror.
- (6) Subsection (7) applies where—
 - (a) a shareholder exercises rights conferred on him by subsection (2), (3) or (4),
 - (b) at the time when he does so, there are shares in the company which the offeror has contracted to acquire subject to conditions being met, and in relation to which the contract has not become unconditional, and
 - (c) the requirement imposed by subsection (2)(b), (3)(b) or (4)(b) (as the case may be) would not be satisfied if those shares were not taken into account.
- (7) The shareholder is treated for the purposes of section 985 as not having exercised his rights under this section unless the requirement imposed by paragraph (b) of subsection (2), (3) or (4) (as the case may be) would be satisfied if—
 - (a) the reference in that paragraph to other shares in the company which the offeror has contracted to acquire unconditionally or subject to conditions being met were a reference to such shares which he has unconditionally contracted to acquire, and
 - (b) the reference in that subsection to the period within which the offer can be accepted were a reference to the period referred to in section 984(2).
- (8) A reference in subsection (2)(b), (3)(b), (4)(b), (6) or (7) to shares which the offeror has acquired or contracted to acquire includes a reference to shares which an associate of his has acquired or contracted to acquire.

984 Further provision about rights conferred by section 983

- (1) Rights conferred on a shareholder by subsection (2), (3) or (4) of section 983 are exercisable by a written communication addressed to the offeror.
- (2) Rights conferred on a shareholder by subsection (2), (3) or (4) of that section are not exercisable after the end of the period of three months from—
 - (a) the end of the period within which the offer can be accepted, or
 - (b) if later, the date of the notice that must be given under subsection (3) below.
- (3) Within one month of the time specified in subsection (2), (3) or (4) (as the case may be) of that section, the offeror must give any shareholder who has not accepted the offer notice in the prescribed manner of—
 - (a) the rights that are exercisable by the shareholder under that subsection, and
 - (b) the period within which the rights are exercisable.

If the notice is given before the end of the period within which the offer can be accepted, it must state that the offer is still open for acceptance.

- (4) Subsection (3) does not apply if the offeror has given the shareholder a notice in respect of the shares in question under section 979.
- (5) An offeror who fails to comply with subsection (3) commits an offence.

If the offeror is a company, every officer of that company who is in default or to whose neglect the failure is attributable also commits an offence.

- (6) If an offeror other than a company is charged with an offence for failing to comply with subsection (3), it is a defence for him to prove that he took all reasonable steps for securing compliance with that subsection.
- (7) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable—
- (a) on conviction on indictment, to a fine;
 - (b) on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding [^{F1312}one-fiftieth of the statutory maximum][^{F1312}one-fiftieth of the greater of £5,000 or the amount corresponding to level 4 on the standard scale for summary offences].

985 Effect of requirement under section 983

- (1) Subject to section 986, this section applies where a shareholder exercises his rights under section 983 in respect of any shares held by him.
- (2) The offeror is entitled and bound to acquire those shares on the terms of the offer or on such other terms as may be agreed.
- (3) Where the terms of an offer are such as to give the shareholder a choice of consideration—
- (a) the shareholder may indicate his choice when requiring the offeror to acquire the shares, and
 - (b) the notice given to the shareholder under section 984(3)—

- (i) must give particulars of the choice and of the rights conferred by this subsection, and
- (ii) may state which consideration specified in the offer will apply if he does not indicate a choice.

The reference in subsection (2) to the terms of the offer is to be read accordingly.

- (4) Subsection (3) applies whether or not any time-limit or other conditions applicable to the choice under the terms of the offer can still be complied with.
- (5) If the consideration offered to or (as the case may be) chosen by the shareholder—
 - (a) is not cash and the offeror is no longer able to provide it, or
 - (b) was to have been provided by a third party who is no longer bound or able to provide it,

the consideration is to be taken to consist of an amount of cash, payable by the offeror, which at the date when the shareholder requires the offeror to acquire the shares is equivalent to the consideration offered or (as the case may be) chosen.

Supplementary

986 Applications to the court

- (1) Where a notice is given under section 979 to a shareholder the court may, on an application made by him, order—
 - (a) that the offeror is not entitled and bound to acquire the shares to which the notice relates, or
 - (b) that the terms on which the offeror is entitled and bound to acquire the shares shall be such as the court thinks fit.

- (2) An application under subsection (1) must be made within six weeks from the date on which the notice referred to in that subsection was given.

If an application to the court under subsection (1) is pending at the end of that period, section 981(6) does not have effect until the application has been disposed of.

- (3) Where a shareholder exercises his rights under section 983 in respect of any shares held by him, the court may, on an application made by him or the offeror, order that the terms on which the offeror is entitled and bound to acquire the shares shall be such as the court thinks fit.

- (4) On an application under subsection (1) or (3)—
 - (a) the court may not require consideration of a higher value than that specified in the terms of the offer (“the offer value”) to be given for the shares to which the application relates unless the holder of the shares shows that the offer value would be unfair;

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) the court may not require consideration of a lower value than the offer value to be given for the shares.
- (5) No order for costs or expenses may be made against a shareholder making an application under subsection (1) or (3) unless the court considers that—
- (a) the application was unnecessary, improper or vexatious,
 - (b) there has been unreasonable delay in making the application, or
 - (c) there has been unreasonable conduct on the shareholder's part in conducting the proceedings on the application.
- (6) A shareholder who has made an application under subsection (1) or (3) must give notice of the application to the offeror.
- (7) An offeror who is given notice of an application under subsection (1) or (3) must give a copy of the notice to—
- (a) any person (other than the applicant) to whom a notice has been given under section 979;
 - (b) any person who has exercised his rights under section 983.
- (8) An offeror who makes an application under subsection (3) must give notice of the application to—
- (a) any person to whom a notice has been given under section 979;
 - (b) any person who has exercised his rights under section 983.
- (9) Where a takeover offer has not been accepted to the extent necessary for entitling the offeror to give notices under subsection (2) or (4) of section 979 the court may, on an application made by him, make an order authorising him to give notices under that subsection if it is satisfied that—
- (a) the offeror has after reasonable enquiry been unable to trace one or more of the persons holding shares to which the offer relates,
 - (b) the requirements of that subsection would have been met if the person, or all the persons, mentioned in paragraph (a) above had accepted the offer, and
 - (c) the consideration offered is fair and reasonable.
- This is subject to subsection (10).
- (10) The court may not make an order under subsection (9) unless it considers that it is just and equitable to do so having regard, in particular, to the number of shareholders who have been traced but who have not accepted the offer.

- (a) in the case of acquisitions by virtue of acceptances of the offer, by the joint offerors acquiring or unconditionally contracting to acquire the necessary shares jointly;
 - (b) in other cases, by the joint offerors acquiring or unconditionally contracting to acquire the necessary shares either jointly or separately.
- (3) The conditions for the exercise of the rights conferred by section 983 are satisfied—
 - (a) in the case of acquisitions by virtue of acceptances of the offer, by the joint offerors acquiring or unconditionally contracting to acquire the necessary shares jointly;
 - (b) in other cases, by the joint offerors acquiring or contracting (whether unconditionally or subject to conditions being met) to acquire the necessary shares either jointly or separately.
- (4) Subject to the following provisions, the rights and obligations of the offeror under sections 979 to 985 are respectively joint rights and joint and several obligations of the joint offerors.
- (5) A provision of sections 979 to 986 that requires or authorises a notice or other document to be given or sent by or to the joint offerors is complied with if the notice or document is given or sent by or to any of them (but see subsection (6)).
- (6) The statutory declaration required by section 980(4) must be made by all of the joint offerors and, where one or more of them is a company, signed by a director of that company.
- (7) In sections 974 to 977, 979(9), 981(6), 983(8) and 988 references to the offeror are to be read as references to the joint offerors or any of them.
- (8) In section 981(7) and (8) references to the offeror are to be read as references to the joint offerors or such of them as they may determine.
- (9) In sections 981(5)(a) and 985(5)(a) references to the offeror being no longer able to provide the relevant consideration are to be read as references to none of the joint offerors being able to do so.
- (10) In section 986 references to the offeror are to be read as references to the joint offerors, except that—
 - (a) an application under subsection (3) or (9) may be made by any of them, and
 - (b) the reference in subsection (9)(a) to the offeror having been unable to trace one or more of the persons holding shares is to be read as a reference to none of the offerors having been able to do so.

Interpretation

988 Associates

- (1) In this Chapter “associate”, in relation to an offeror, means—
- (a) a nominee of the offeror,
 - (b) a holding company, subsidiary or fellow subsidiary of the offeror or a nominee of such a holding company, subsidiary or fellow subsidiary,
 - (c) a body corporate in which the offeror is substantially interested,
 - (d) a person who is, or is a nominee of, a party to a share acquisition agreement with the offeror, or
 - (e) (where the offeror is an individual) his spouse or civil partner and any minor child or step-child of his.

- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1)(b) a company is a fellow subsidiary of another body corporate if both are subsidiaries of the same body corporate but neither is a subsidiary of the other.

- (3) For the purposes of subsection (1)(c) an offeror has a substantial interest in a body corporate if—
- (a) the body or its directors are accustomed to act in accordance with his directions or instructions, or
 - (b) he is entitled to exercise or control the exercise of one-third or more of the voting power at general meetings of the body.

Subsections (2) and (3) of section 823 (which contain provision about when a person is treated as entitled to exercise or control the exercise of voting power) apply for the purposes of this subsection as they apply for the purposes of that section.

- (4) For the purposes of subsection (1)(d) an agreement is a share acquisition agreement if—
- (a) it is an agreement for the acquisition of, or of an interest in, shares to which the offer relates,
 - (b) it includes provisions imposing obligations or restrictions on any one or more of the parties to it with respect to their use, retention or disposal of such shares, or their interests in such shares, acquired in pursuance of the agreement (whether or not together with any other shares to which the offer relates or any other interests of theirs in such shares), and
 - (c) it is not an excluded agreement (see subsection (5)).

- (5) An agreement is an “excluded agreement”—
- (a) if it is not legally binding, unless it involves mutuality in the undertakings, expectations or understandings of the parties to it, or
 - (b) if it is an agreement to underwrite or sub-underwrite an offer of shares in a company, provided the agreement is confined to that purpose and any matters incidental to it.

- (6) The reference in subsection (4)(b) to the use of interests in shares is to the exercise of any rights or of any control or influence arising from those interests (including the right to enter into an agreement for the exercise, or for control of the exercise, of any of those rights by another person).

- (7) In this section—

- (a) “agreement” includes any agreement or arrangement;
- (b) references to provisions of an agreement include—
 - (i) undertakings, expectations or understandings operative under an arrangement, and
 - (ii) any provision whether express or implied and whether absolute or not.

989 Convertible securities

- (1) For the purposes of this Chapter securities of a company are treated as shares in the company if they are convertible into or entitle the holder to subscribe for such shares.

References to the holder of shares or a shareholder are to be read accordingly.

- (2) Subsection (1) is not to be read as requiring any securities to be treated—
- (a) as shares of the same class as those into which they are convertible or for which the holder is entitled to subscribe, or
 - (b) as shares of the same class as other securities by reason only that the shares into which they are convertible or for which the holder is entitled to subscribe are of the same class.

990 Debentures carrying voting rights

- (1) For the purposes of this Chapter debentures issued by a company to which subsection (2) applies are treated as shares in the company if they carry voting rights.

- (2) This subsection applies to a company that has voting shares, or debentures carrying voting rights, which are admitted to trading on a regulated market.

- (3) In this Chapter, in relation to debentures treated as shares by virtue of subsection (1)—
- (a) references to the holder of shares or a shareholder are to be read accordingly;
 - (b) references to shares being allotted are to be read as references to debentures being issued.

991 Interpretation

(1) In this Chapter—

“the company” means the company whose shares are the subject of a takeover offer;

“date of the offer” means—

- (a) where the offer is published, the date of publication;
- (b) where the offer is not published, or where any notices of the offer are given before the date of publication, the date when notices of the offer (or the first such notices) are given;

and references to the date of the offer are to be read in accordance with section 974(7) (revision of offer terms) where that applies;

“non-voting shares” means shares that are not voting shares;

“offeror” means (subject to section 987) the person making a takeover offer;

“voting rights” means rights to vote at general meetings of the company, including rights that arise only in certain circumstances;

“voting shares” means shares carrying voting rights.

(2) For the purposes of this Chapter a person contracts unconditionally to acquire shares if his entitlement under the contract to acquire them is not (or is no longer) subject to conditions or if all conditions to which it was subject have been met.

A reference to a contract becoming unconditional is to be read accordingly.

- (2) The report shall contain detailed information, by reference to the end of that year, on the following matters—
- (a) the structure of the company's capital, including in particular—
 - (i) the rights and obligations attaching to the shares or, as the case may be, to each class of shares in the company, and
 - (ii) where there are two or more such classes, the percentage of the total share capital represented by each class;
 - (b) any restrictions on the transfer of securities in the company, including in particular—
 - (i) limitations on the holding of securities, and
 - (ii) requirements to obtain the approval of the company, or of other holders of securities in the company, for a transfer of securities;
 - (c) in the case of each person with a significant direct or indirect holding of securities in the company, such details as are known to the company of—
 - (i) the identity of the person,
 - (ii) the size of the holding, and
 - (iii) the nature of the holding;
 - (d) in the case of each person who holds securities carrying special rights with regard to control of the company—
 - (i) the identity of the person, and
 - (ii) the nature of the rights;
 - (e) where—
 - (i) the company has an employees' share scheme, and
 - (ii) shares to which the scheme relates have rights with regard to control of the company that are not exercisable directly by the employees,how those rights are exercisable;
 - (f) any restrictions on voting rights, including in particular—
 - (i) limitations on voting rights of holders of a given percentage or number of votes,
 - (ii) deadlines for exercising voting rights, and
 - (iii) arrangements by which, with the company's co-operation, financial rights carried by securities are held by a person other than the holder of the securities;
 - (g) any agreements between holders of securities that are known to the company and may result in restrictions on the transfer of securities or on voting rights;
 - (h) any rules that the company has about—
 - (i) appointment and replacement of directors, or
 - (ii) amendment of the company's articles of association;
 - (i) the powers of the company's directors, including in particular any powers in relation to the issuing or buying back by the company of its shares;
 - (j) any significant agreements to which the company is a party that take effect, alter or terminate upon a change of control of the

Main provisions

994 Petition by company member

- (1) A member of a company may apply to the court by petition for an order under this Part on the ground—
- (a) that the company's affairs are being or have been conducted in a manner that is unfairly prejudicial to the interests of members generally or of some part of its members (including at least himself), or
 - (b) that an actual or proposed act or omission of the company (including an act or omission on its behalf) is or would be so prejudicial.
- [^{F1313}(1A) For the purposes of subsection (1)(a), a removal of the company's auditor from office—
- (a) on grounds of divergence of opinions on accounting treatments or audit procedures, or
 - (b) on any other improper grounds,
- shall be treated as being unfairly prejudicial to the interests of some part of the company's members.]
- (2) The provisions of this Part apply to a person who is not a member of a company but to whom shares in the company have been transferred or transmitted by operation of law as they apply to a member of a company.
- (3) In this section, and so far as applicable for the purposes of this section in the other provisions of this Part, “company” means—
- (a) a company within the meaning of this Act, or
 - ^{F1314}(b)

[^{F1333}Registrar’s power to strike off company registered on false basis

Textual Amendments

- F1333 S. 1002A and cross-heading inserted (26.10.2023 but only so far as it confers a power to make regulations or relates to the exercise of the power, otherwise prosp.) by Economic Crime and Corporate Transparency Act 2023 \(c. 56\), ss. 70(2), 219(1)(2)(b)

1002A Power to strike off company registered on false basis

- (1) The registrar may strike a company’s name off the register if the registrar has reasonable cause to believe that—
- any information contained in the application for the registration of the company, or in any application for restoration of the company to the register, is misleading, false or deceptive in a material particular, or
 - any statement made to the registrar in connection with such an application is misleading, false or deceptive in a material particular.

- (2) In subsection (1) the reference to an application includes any documents delivered to the registrar in connection with the application.
- (3) The registrar may not exercise the power in subsection (1) unless—
 - (a) the registrar has published a notice in the Gazette that, at the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the date of the notice, the name of the company mentioned in the notice will, unless cause is shown to the contrary, be struck off the register and the company will be dissolved, and
 - (b) the period mentioned in paragraph (a) has expired.
- (4) If the registrar exercises the power in subsection (1), the registrar must publish a notice in the Gazette of the company's name having been struck off the register.
- (5) On the publication of the notice in the Gazette the company is dissolved.
- (6) However—
 - (a) the liability (if any) of every director, managing officer or member of the company continues and may be enforced as if the company had not been dissolved, and
 - (b) nothing in this section affects the power of the court to wind up a company the name of which has been struck off the register.]

Voluntary striking off

1003 Striking off on application by company

- (1) On application by a company, the registrar of companies may strike the company's name off the register.
- (2) The application—
 - (a) must be made on the company's behalf by its directors or by a majority of them, and
 - (b) must contain the prescribed information.
- (3) The registrar may not strike a company off under this section until after the expiration of [^{F1334}2 months] from the publication by the registrar in the Gazette of a notice—
 - (a) stating that the registrar may exercise the power under this section in relation to the company, and
 - (b) inviting any person to show cause why that should not be done.
- (4) The registrar must publish notice in the Gazette of the company's name having been struck off.
- (5) On the publication of the notice in the Gazette the company is dissolved.
- (6) However—
 - (a) the liability (if any) of every director, managing officer and member of the company continues and may be enforced as if the company had not been dissolved, and

1009 Circumstances in which application to be withdrawn

- (1) This section applies where, at any time on or after the day on which a company makes an application under section 1003 (application for voluntary striking off) and before the day on which the application is finally dealt with or withdrawn—
- (a) the company—
 - (i) changes its name,
 - (ii) trades or otherwise carries on business,
 - (iii) makes a disposal for value of any property or rights other than those which it was necessary or expedient for it to hold for the purpose of making, or proceeding with, an application under that section, or
 - (iv) engages in any activity, except one to which subsection (4) applies;
 - (b) an application is made to the court under Part 26 [^{F1336}or 26A] on behalf of the company for the sanctioning of a compromise or arrangement;
 - (c) a voluntary arrangement in relation to the company is proposed under Part 1 of the Insolvency Act 1986 (c. 45) or Part 2 of the Insolvency (Northern Ireland) Order 1989 (S.I. 1989/2405 (N.I. 19));
 - (d) an application to the court for an administration order in respect of the company is made under paragraph 12 of Schedule B1 to that Act or paragraph 13 of Schedule B1 to that Order;
 - (e) an administrator is appointed in respect of the company under paragraph 14 or 22 of Schedule B1 to that Act or paragraph 15 or 23 of Schedule B1 to that Order, or a copy of notice of intention to appoint an administrator of the company under any of those provisions is filed with the court;
 - (f) there arise any of the circumstances in which, under section 84(1) of that Act or Article 70 of that Order, the company may be voluntarily wound up;
 - (g) a petition is presented for the winding up of the company by the court under Part 4 of that Act or Part 5 of that Order;
 - (h) a receiver or manager of the company's property is appointed; or
 - (i) a judicial factor is appointed to administer the company's estate.

- (2) A person who, at the end of a day on which any of the events mentioned in subsection (1) occurs, is a director of the company must secure that the company's application is withdrawn forthwith.
- (3) For the purposes of subsection (1)(a), a company is not treated as trading or otherwise carrying on business by virtue only of the fact that it makes a payment in respect of a liability incurred in the course of trading or otherwise carrying on business.
- (4) The excepted activities referred to in subsection (1)(a)(iv) are—
- (a) any activity necessary or expedient for the purposes of—
 - (i) making, or proceeding with, an application under section 1003 (application for voluntary striking off),
 - (ii) concluding affairs of the company that are outstanding because of what has been necessary or expedient for the purpose of making, or proceeding with, such an application, or
 - (iii) complying with any statutory requirement;
 - (b) any activity specified by the Secretary of State by order for the purposes of this subsection.
- An order under paragraph (b) is subject to negative resolution procedure.
- (5) A person who fails to perform the duty imposed on him by this section commits an offence.
- (6) In proceedings for an offence under this section it is a defence for the accused to prove—
- (a) that at the time of the failure he was not aware of the fact that the company had made an application under section 1003, or
 - (b) that he took all reasonable steps to perform the duty.
- (7) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable—
- (a) on conviction on indictment, to a fine;
 - (b) on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum.

CHAPTER 2

PROPERTY OF DISSOLVED COMPANY

Property vesting as bona vacantia

1012 Property of dissolved company to be bona vacantia

- (1) When a company is dissolved, all property and rights whatsoever vested in or held on trust for the company immediately before its dissolution (including leasehold property, but not including property held by the company on trust for another person) are deemed to be bona vacantia and—
 - (a) accordingly belong to the Crown, or to the Duchy of Lancaster or to the Duke of Cornwall for the time being (as the case may be), and

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. 1013 Crown disclaimer of property vesting as bona vacantia

- (1) Where property vests in the Crown under section 1012, the Crown's title to it under that section may be disclaimed by a notice signed by the Crown representative, that is to say the Treasury Solicitor, or, in relation to property in Scotland, the Queen's and Lord Treasurer's Remembrancer.
- (2) The right to execute a notice of disclaimer under this section may be waived by or on behalf of the Crown either expressly or by taking possession.
- (3) A notice of disclaimer must be executed within three years after—
- (a) the date on which the fact that the property may have vested in the Crown under section 1012 first comes to the notice of the Crown representative, or
 - (b) if ownership of the property is not established at that date, the end of the period reasonably necessary for the Crown representative to establish the ownership of the property.
- (4) If an application in writing is made to the Crown representative by a person interested in the property requiring him to decide whether he will or will not disclaim, any notice of disclaimer must be executed within twelve months after the making of the application or such further period as may be allowed by the court.
- (5) A notice of disclaimer under this section is of no effect if it is shown to have been executed after the end of the period specified by subsection (3) or (4).
- (6) A notice of disclaimer under this section must be delivered to the registrar and retained and registered by him.
- (7) Copies of it must be published in the Gazette and sent to any persons who have given the Crown representative notice that they claim to be interested in the property.
- (8) This section applies to property vested in the Duchy of Lancaster or the Duke of Cornwall under section 1012 as if for references to the Crown and the Crown representative there were respectively substituted references to the Duchy of Lancaster

Effect of Crown disclaimer: England and Wales and Northern Ireland

1015 General effect of disclaimer

- (1) The Crown's disclaimer operates so as to terminate, as from the date of the disclaimer, the rights, interests and liabilities of the company in or in respect of the property disclaimed.
- (2) It does not, except so far as is necessary for the purpose of releasing the company from any liability, affect the rights or liabilities of any other person.

1016 Disclaimer of leaseholds

- (1) The disclaimer of any property of a leasehold character does not take effect unless a copy of the disclaimer has been served (so far as the Crown representative is aware of their addresses) on every person claiming under the company as underlessee or mortgagee, and either—
- (a) no application under section 1017 (power of court to make vesting order) is made with respect to that property before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the last notice under this paragraph was served, or
 - (b) where such an application has been made, the court directs that the disclaimer shall take effect.
- (2) Where the court gives a direction under subsection (1)(b) it may also, instead of or in addition to any order it makes under section 1017, make such order as it thinks fit with respect to fixtures, tenant's improvements and other matters arising out of the lease.
- (3) In this section the “Crown representative” means—
- (a) in relation to property vested in the Duchy of Lancaster, the Solicitor to that Duchy;
 - (b) in relation to property vested in the Duke of Cornwall, the Solicitor to the Duchy of Cornwall;
 - (c) in relation to property in Scotland, the Queen's and Lord Treasurer's Remembrancer;
 - (d) in relation to other property, the Treasury Solicitor.

1017 Power of court to make vesting order

- (1) The court may on application by a person who—
 - (a) claims an interest in the disclaimed property, or
 - (b) is under a liability in respect of the disclaimed property that is not discharged by the disclaimer,make an order under this section in respect of the property.
- (2) An order under this section is an order for the vesting of the disclaimed property in, or its delivery to—
 - (a) a person entitled to it (or a trustee for such a person), or
 - (b) a person subject to such a liability as is mentioned in subsection (1)(b) (or a trustee for such a person).
- (3) An order under subsection (2)(b) may only be made where it appears to the court that it would be just to do so for the purpose of compensating the person subject to the liability in respect of the disclaimer.
- (4) An order under this section may be made on such terms as the court thinks fit.
- (5) On a vesting order being made under this section, the property comprised in it vests in the person named in that behalf in the order without conveyance, assignment or transfer.

1018 Protection of persons holding under a lease

- (1) The court must not make an order under section 1017 vesting property of a leasehold nature in a person claiming under the company as underlessee or mortgagee except on terms making that person—
 - (a) subject to the same liabilities and obligations as those to which the company was subject under the lease, or
 - (b) if the court thinks fit, subject to the same liabilities and obligations as if the lease had been assigned to him.

Effect of Crown disclaimer: Scotland

1020 General effect of disclaimer

- (1) The Crown's disclaimer operates to determine, as from the date of the disclaimer, the rights, interests and liabilities of the company, and the property of the company, in or in respect of the property disclaimed.
- (2) It does not (except so far as is necessary for the purpose of releasing the company and its property from liability) affect the rights or liabilities of any other person.

1021 Power of court to make vesting order

- (1) The court may—
 - (a) on application by a person who either claims an interest in disclaimed property or is under a liability not discharged by this Act in respect of disclaimed property, and
 - (b) on hearing such persons as it thinks fit,make an order for the vesting of the property in or its delivery to any persons entitled to it, or to whom it may seem just that the property should be delivered by way of compensation for such liability, or a trustee for him.
- (2) The order may be made on such terms as the court thinks fit.

1022 Protection of persons holding under a lease

- (1) Where the property disclaimed is held under a lease the court must not make a vesting order in favour of a person claiming under the company, whether—
 - (a) as sub-lessee, or
 - (b) as creditor in a duly registered or (as the case may be) recorded heritable security over a lease, except on the following terms.
- (2) The person must by the order be made subject—
 - (a) to the same liabilities and obligations as those to which the company was subject under the lease in respect of the property, or
 - (b) if the court thinks fit, only to the same liabilities and obligations as if the lease had been assigned to him.

In either event (if the case so requires) the liabilities and obligations must be as if the lease had comprised only the property comprised in the vesting order.
- (3) A sub-lessee or creditor declining to accept a vesting order on such terms is excluded from all interest in and security over the property.
- (4) If there is no person claiming under the company who is willing to accept an order on such terms, the court has power to vest the company's estate and interest in the property in any person liable (either personally or in a representative character, and either alone or jointly with the company) to perform the lessee's obligations under the lease.
- (5) The court may vest that estate and interest in such a person freed and discharged from all interests, rights and obligations created by the company in the lease or in relation to the lease.
- (6) For the purposes of this section a heritable security—
 - (a) is duly recorded if it is recorded in the Register of Sasines, and
 - (b) is duly registered if registered in accordance with the ^{F1337}Land Registration etc. (Scotland) Act 2012 (asp 5)].

1028 Effect of administrative restoration

- (1) The general effect of administrative restoration to the register is that the company is deemed to have continued in existence as if it had not been dissolved or struck off the register.
- (2) The company is not liable to a penalty under section 453 or any corresponding earlier provision (civil penalty for failure to deliver accounts) for a financial year in relation to which the period for filing accounts and reports ended—
 - (a) after the date of dissolution or striking off, and
 - (b) before the restoration of the company to the register.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (3) The court may give such directions and make such provision as seems just for placing the company and all other persons in the same position (as nearly as may be) as if the company had not been dissolved or struck off the register.
- (4) An application to the court for such directions or provision may be made any time within three years after the date of restoration of the company to the register.

[^{F1341}1028A] Administrative restoration of company with share warrants

- (1) This section applies in relation to a company which has been struck off the register under section 1000 [^{F1342}or 1001]^{F1342}, 1001 or 1002A] and which, at the time it was struck off, had any share warrant in issue.
- (2) If the registrar restores the company to the register under section 1025, the share warrant and the shares specified in it are cancelled with effect from the date the restoration takes effect.
- (3) If as a result of subsection (2) the company has no issued share capital, the company must, before the end of the period of one month beginning with the date the restoration takes effect, allot at least one share in the company; and section 549(1) does not apply to such an allotment.
- (4) The company must, before the end of the period of 15 days beginning with the date the restoration takes effect, deliver a statement of capital to the registrar.
- (5) Subsection (4) does not apply in a case where the company is required under subsection (3) to make an allotment (because in such a case section 555 will apply).
- (6) The statement of capital must state with respect to the company's share capital as reduced by the cancellation of the share warrant and the shares specified in it—
 - (a) the total number of shares of the company,
 - (b) the aggregate nominal value of those shares,
 - (c) the aggregate amount (if any) unpaid on those shares (whether on account of their nominal value or by way of premium), and
 - (d) for each class of shares—
 - (i) prescribed particulars of the rights attached to the shares,
 - (ii) the total number of shares of that class, and
 - (iii) the aggregate nominal value of shares of that class.
- (7) Where a share warrant is cancelled in accordance with subsection (2), the company must, as soon as reasonably practicable—
 - (a) enter the date the cancellation takes effect in its register of members, [^{F1343}or]
 - [^{F1343}(b) where an election is in force under section 128B of the Companies Act 2006 (option to keep membership information on central register) in respect of the company, deliver that information to the registrar as if it were information required to be delivered under section 128E of that Act.]

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (8) Subsection (9) applies where—
- (a) any property or right previously vested in or held on trust for the company in respect of any share specified in a share warrant has vested as bona vacantia (see section 1012), and
 - (b) the warrant and the share are cancelled on the restoration of the company in accordance with this section.
- (9) On restoration of the company, that property or right—
- (a) may not be returned to the company, and
 - (b) accordingly, remains vested as bona vacantia .
- (10) If default is made in complying with subsection (3) or (4), an offence is committed by—
- (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.

For this purpose a shadow director is treated as an officer of the company.

- (11) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable—
- (a) on conviction on indictment, to a fine;
 - (b) on summary conviction—
 - (i) in England and Wales, to a fine;
 - (ii) in Scotland or Northern Ireland, to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum.]

Supplementary provisions

1033 Company's name on restoration

- (1) A company is restored to the register with the name it had before it was dissolved or struck off the register, subject to the following provisions.
- (2) If at the date of restoration the company could not be registered under its former name without contravening section 66 (name not to be the same as another in the registrar's index of company names), it must be restored to the register—
- (a) under another name specified—
 - (i) in the case of administrative restoration, in the application to the registrar, or
 - (ii) in the case of restoration under a court order, in the court's order, or
 - (b) as if its registered number was also its name.

References to a company's being registered in a name, and to registration in that context, shall be read as including the company's being restored to the register.

- (3) If a company is restored to the register under a name specified in the application to the registrar, the provisions of—
- section 80 (change of name: registration and issue of new certificate of incorporation), and
 - section 81 (change of name: effect),
- apply as if the application to the registrar were notice of a change of name.
- (4) If a company is restored to the register under a name specified in the court's order, the provisions of—
- section 80 (change of name: registration and issue of new certificate of incorporation), and
 - section 81 (change of name: effect),
- apply as if the copy of the court order delivered to the registrar were notice of a change a name.

Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (5) If the company is restored to the register as if its registered number was also its name—
 - (a) the company must change its name within 14 days after the date of the restoration,
 - (b) the change may be made by resolution of the directors (without prejudice to any other method of changing the company's name),
 - (c) the company must give notice to the registrar of the change, and
 - (d) sections 80 and 81 apply as regards the registration and effect of the change.
- (6) If the company fails to comply with subsection (5)(a) or (c) an offence is committed by—
 - (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- (7) A person guilty of an offence under subsection (6) is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding [^{F1354}one-tenth of level 5 on the standard scale][^{F1354}one-tenth of the greater of £5,000 or level 4 on the standard scale].

1034 Effect of restoration to the register where property has vested as bona vacantia

- (1) The person in whom any property or right is vested by section 1012 (property of dissolved company to be bona vacantia) may dispose of, or of an interest in, that property or right despite the fact that the company may be restored to the register under this Chapter.
- (2) If the company is restored to the register—
 - (a) the restoration does not affect the disposition (but without prejudice to its effect in relation to any other property or right previously vested in or held on trust for the company), and
 - (b) the Crown or, as the case may be, the Duke of Cornwall shall pay to the company an amount equal to—
 - (i) the amount of any consideration received for the property or right or, as the case may be, the interest in it, or
 - (ii) the value of any such consideration at the time of the disposition,or, if no consideration was received an amount equal to the value of the property, right or interest disposed of, as at the date of the disposition.

- (3) There may be deducted from the amount payable under subsection (2)(b) the reasonable costs of the Crown representative in connection with the disposition (to the extent that they have not been paid as a condition of administrative restoration or pursuant to a court order for restoration).
- (4) Where a liability accrues under subsection (2) in respect of any property or right which before the restoration of the company to the register had accrued as bona vacantia to the Duchy of Lancaster, the Attorney General of that Duchy shall represent Her Majesty in any proceedings arising in connection with that liability.
- (5) Where a liability accrues under subsection (2) in respect of any property or right which before the restoration of the company to the register had accrued as bona vacantia to the Duchy of Cornwall, such persons as the Duke of Cornwall (or other possessor for the time being of the Duchy) may appoint shall represent the Duke (or other possessor) in any proceedings arising out of that liability.
- (6) In this section the “Crown representative” means—
- (a) in relation to property vested in the Duchy of Lancaster, the Solicitor to that Duchy;
 - (b) in relation to property vested in the Duke of Cornwall, the Solicitor to the Duchy of Cornwall;
 - (c) in relation to property in Scotland, the Queen's and Lord Treasurer's Remembrancer;

1035 Powers of Secretary of State to give directions to inspectors

- (1) In Part 14 of the Companies Act 1985 (c. 6) (investigation of companies and their affairs), after section 446 insert—

“Powers of Secretary of State to give directions to inspectors

446A General powers to give directions

- (1) In exercising his functions an inspector shall comply with any direction given to him by the Secretary of State under this section.
- (2) The Secretary of State may give an inspector appointed under section 431, 432(2) or 442(1) a direction—
- (a) as to the subject matter of his investigation (whether by reference to a specified area of a company's operation, a specified transaction, a period of time or otherwise), or
 - (b) which requires the inspector to take or not to take a specified step in his investigation.
- (3) The Secretary of State may give an inspector appointed under any provision of this Part a direction requiring him to secure that a specified report under section 437—
- (a) includes the inspector's views on a specified matter,
 - (b) does not include any reference to a specified matter,
 - (c) is made in a specified form or manner, or
 - (d) is made by a specified date.
- (4) A direction under this section—
- (a) may be given on an inspector's appointment,
 - (b) may vary or revoke a direction previously given, and
 - (c) may be given at the request of an inspector.
- (5) In this section—
- (a) a reference to an inspector's investigation includes any investigation he undertakes, or could undertake, under section 433(1) (power to investigate affairs of holding company or subsidiary);
 - (b) “specified” means specified in a direction under this section.

446B Direction to terminate investigation

- (1) The Secretary of State may direct an inspector to take no further steps in his investigation.
- (2) The Secretary of State may give a direction under this section to an inspector appointed under section 432(1) or 442(3) only on the grounds that it appears to him that—
- (a) matters have come to light in the course of the inspector's investigation which suggest that a criminal offence has been committed, and
 - (b) those matters have been referred to the appropriate prosecuting authority.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (3) Where the Secretary of State gives a direction under this section, any direction already given to the inspector under section 437(1) to produce an interim report, and any direction given to him under section 446A(3) in relation to such a report, shall cease to have effect.
- (4) Where the Secretary of State gives a direction under this section, the inspector shall not make a final report to the Secretary of State unless—
 - (a) the direction was made on the grounds mentioned in subsection (2) and the Secretary of State directs the inspector to make a final report to him, or
 - (b) the inspector was appointed under section 432(1) (appointment in pursuance of order of the court).
- (5) An inspector shall comply with any direction given to him under this section.
- (6) In this section, a reference to an inspector's investigation includes any investigation he undertakes, or could undertake, under section 433(1) (power to investigate affairs of holding company or subsidiary)."
- (2) In section 431 of that Act (inspectors' powers during investigation) in subsection (1) for "report on them in such manner as he may direct" substitute "report the result of their investigations to him".
- (3) In section 432 of that Act (other company investigations) in subsection (1) for "report on them in such manner as he directs" substitute "report the result of their investigations to him".
- (4) In section 437 of that Act (inspectors' reports)—
 - (a) in subsection (1) omit the second sentence, and
 - (b) subsections (1B) and (1C) shall cease to have effect.
- (5) In section 442 of that Act (power to investigate company ownership), omit subsection (2).

1036 Resignation, removal and replacement of inspectors

After section 446B of the Companies Act 1985 (c. 6) (inserted by section 1035 above) insert—

“Resignation, removal and replacement of inspectors

446C Resignation and revocation of appointment

- (1) An inspector may resign by notice in writing to the Secretary of State.
- (2) The Secretary of State may revoke the appointment of an inspector by notice in writing to the inspector.

446D Appointment of replacement inspectors

- (1) Where—
 - (a) an inspector resigns,

- (c) an inspector dies,
the Secretary of State may appoint one or more competent inspectors to continue the investigation.
- (2) An appointment under subsection (1) shall be treated for the purposes of this Part (apart from this section) as an appointment under the provision of this Part under which the former inspector was appointed.
- (3) The Secretary of State must exercise his power under subsection (1) so as to secure that at least one inspector continues the investigation.
- (4) Subsection (3) does not apply if—
 - (a) the Secretary of State could give any replacement inspector a direction under section 446B (termination of investigation), and
 - (b) such a direction would (under subsection (4) of that section) result in a final report not being made.
- (5) In this section, references to an investigation include any investigation the former inspector conducted under section 433(1) (power to investigate affairs of holding company or subsidiary).”

1037 Power to obtain information from former inspectors etc

- (1) After section 446D of the Companies Act 1985 (c. 6) (inserted by section 1036 above) insert—

“Power to obtain information from former inspectors etc

446E Obtaining information from former inspectors etc

- (1) This section applies to a person who was appointed as an inspector under this Part—
 - (a) who has resigned, or
 - (b) whose appointment has been revoked.
- (2) This section also applies to an inspector to whom the Secretary of State has given a direction under section 446B (termination of investigation).

Introductory

1044 Overseas companies

In the Companies Acts an “overseas company” means a company incorporated outside the United Kingdom.

1045 Company contracts and execution of documents by companies

- (1) The Secretary of State may make provision by regulations applying sections 43 to 52 (formalities of doing business and other matters) to overseas companies, subject to such exceptions, adaptations or modifications as may be specified in the regulations.
- (2) Regulations under this section are subject to negative resolution procedure.

Commencement Information

I350 S. 1045 wholly in force at 1.10.2009; s. 1045 not in force at Royal Assent, see s. 1300; s. 1045 in force for specified purposes at 20.1.2007 by S.I. 2006/3428, art. 3\(3\) (subject to art. 5, Sch. 1 and with arts. 6, 8, Sch. 5); s. 1045 otherwise in force at 1.10.2009 by S.I. 2008/2860, art. 3\(q\) (with arts. 5, 7, 8, Sch. 2) (as amended by S.I. 2009/1802, art. 18)

Registration of particulars

1046 Duty to register particulars

- (1) The Secretary of State may make provision by regulations requiring an overseas company—
 - (a) to deliver to the registrar for registration a return containing specified particulars, and
 - (b) to deliver to the registrar with the return specified documents.
- (2) The regulations—
 - (a) must, in the case of a company other than a Gibraltar company, require the company to register particulars if the company opens a branch in the United Kingdom, and
 - (b) may, in the case of a Gibraltar company, require the company to register particulars if the company opens a branch in the United Kingdom, and
 - (c) may, in any case, require the registration of particulars in such other circumstances as may be specified.
- (3) In subsection (2)—

“branch” means a branch within the meaning of the Eleventh Company Law Directive (89/666/EEC);

“Gibraltar company” means a company incorporated in Gibraltar.
- (4) The regulations may provide that where a company has registered particulars under this section and any alteration is made—
 - (a) in the specified particulars, or
 - (b) in any document delivered with the return,

the company must deliver to the registrar for registration a return containing specified particulars of the alteration.

- (5) The regulations may make provision—
- (a) requiring the return under this section to be delivered for registration to the registrar for a specified part of the United Kingdom, and
 - (b) requiring it to be so delivered before the end of a specified period.
- (6) The regulations may make different provision according to—
- (a) the place where the company is incorporated, and
 - (b) the activities carried on (or proposed to be carried on) by it.

This is without prejudice to the general power to make different provision for different cases.

[^{F1358}(6A) Where regulations under this section require an overseas company to deliver to the registrar for registration—

- (a) a service address for an officer of the company, or
- (b) the address of the principal office of an officer of the company,

the regulations may make provision corresponding or similar to any provision made by section 1097B or 1097C (rectification of register relating to service addresses or principal office addresses) or to provision that may be made by regulations made under that section.]

[^{F1359}(6B) Regulations under this section may include provision for information delivered to the registrar under the regulations to be withheld from public inspection.

(6C) The provision that may be made by regulations under this section includes provision conferring a discretion on the registrar.]

(7) In this section “specified” means specified in the regulations.

(8) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.

- (5) Any legal proceedings that might have been continued or commenced against the company by its corporate name, or any name previously registered under this section, may be continued or commenced against it by its name for the time being so registered.

[^{F1373}1048A] Registered addresses of an overseas company

- (1) The Secretary of State may by regulations make provision requiring an overseas company that is required to register particulars under section 1046 to deliver to the registrar for registration—
- (a) a statement specifying an address in the United Kingdom that is an appropriate address for the company;
 - (b) a statement specifying an appropriate email address for the company.
- (2) The regulations may include provision—
- (a) allowing an overseas company to change the address or email address for the time being registered for it under the regulations;
 - (b) requiring an overseas company to ensure that the address or email address for the time being registered for it under the regulations is an appropriate address or appropriate email address.
- (3) The regulations may include—
- (a) provision for information contained in a statement specifying an appropriate email address to be withheld from public inspection;
 - (b) provision corresponding or similar to any provision made by section 1097A (rectification of register relating to a company’s registered office) or to provision that may be made by regulations made under that section.
- (4) In this section—
- “appropriate address” has the meaning given by section 86(2);
- “appropriate email address” has the meaning given by section 88A(2).

1074 Documents containing unnecessary material

- (1) This section applies where a document delivered to the registrar contains unnecessary material.
- (2) “Unnecessary material” means material that—
- (a) is not necessary in order to comply with an obligation under any enactment, and
 - (b) is not specifically authorised to be delivered to the registrar.
- (3) For this purpose an obligation to deliver a document of a particular description, or conforming to certain requirements, is regarded as not extending to anything that is not needed for a document of that description or, as the case may be, conforming to those requirements.
- (4) If the unnecessary material cannot readily be separated from the rest of the document, the document is treated as not meeting the requirements for proper delivery.
- (5) If the unnecessary material can readily be separated from the rest of the document, the registrar may register the document either—
- (a) with the omission of the unnecessary material, or
 - (b) as delivered.

^{F1434}~~1075~~ Informal correction of document

- (1) A document delivered to the registrar may be corrected by the registrar if it appears to the registrar to be incomplete or internally inconsistent.
- (2) This power is exercisable only—
- (a) on instructions, and
 - (b) if [^{F1435}the company (or other body) to which the document relates] has given (and has not withdrawn) its consent to instructions being given under this section.

- (3) The following requirements must be met as regards the instructions—
- (a) the instructions must be given in response to an enquiry by the registrar;
 - (b) the registrar must be satisfied that the person giving the instructions is authorised to do so—
 - (i) by the person by whom the document was delivered, or
 - (ii) by the company [^{F1436}(or other body)] to which the document relates;
 - (c) the instructions must meet any requirements of registrar's rules as to—
 - (i) the form and manner in which they are given, and
 - (ii) authentication.
- (4) [^{F1437}The consent of the company (or other body)] to instructions being given under this section (and any withdrawal of such consent)—

1081 Annotation of the register

- (1) The registrar must place a note in the register recording—
- (a) the date on which a document is delivered to the registrar;
 - ^F1463 if a document is corrected under section 1075, the nature and date of the correction;]
 - (c) if a document is replaced (whether or not material derived from it is removed), the fact that it has been replaced and the date of delivery of the replacement;
 - (d) if material is removed—
 - (i) what was removed (giving a general description of its contents),
 - (ii) under what power, and
 - (iii) the date on which that was done.
 - ^F1464 if a document is rectified under section 859M, the nature and date of rectification;
 - (f) if a document is replaced under section 859N, the fact that it has been replaced and the date of delivery of the replacement.]
- ^[F1465]^F1466 If the registrar registers a document delivered by a company under section 128E that, by virtue of subsection (3)(a), (b) or (c) of that section, does not specify the relevant date, the registrar must place a note in the register recording as that date the date on which the document was registered by the registrar.]]
- (2) The Secretary of State may make provision by regulations—
- (a) authorising or requiring the registrar to annotate the register in such other circumstances as may be specified in the regulations, and
 - (b) as to the contents of any such annotation.
- (3) No annotation is required in the case of a document that by virtue of section 1072(2) (documents not meeting requirements for proper delivery) is treated as not having been delivered.
- (4) A note may be removed if it no longer serves any useful purpose.
- (5) Any duty or power of the registrar with respect to annotation of the register is subject to the court's power under section 1097 (powers of court on ordering removal of material from the register) to direct—
- (a) that a note be removed from the register, or
 - (b) that no note shall be made of the removal of material that is the subject of the court's order.
- (6) Notes placed in the register in accordance with subsection (1) ^[F1467]^[F1468]or (1A)], or in pursuance of regulations under subsection (2) ^[F1469]or of any other enactment], are part of the register for all purposes of the Companies Acts.
- (7) Regulations under this section are subject to negative resolution procedure.

^{F1470}1081 Registrar's objectives to promote integrity of registers etc

- (1) The registrar must, in performing the registrar's functions, seek to promote the following objectives.

Objective 1

Objective 1 is to ensure that any person who is required to deliver a document to the registrar does so (and that the requirements for proper delivery are complied with).

Objective 2

Objective 2 is to ensure that information contained in the register is accurate and that the register contains everything it ought to contain.

Objective 3

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

Objective 3 is to ensure that records kept by the registrar do not create a false or misleading impression to members of the public.

Objective 4

Objective 4 is to prevent companies and others from—

- (a) carrying out unlawful activities, or
- (b) facilitating the carrying out by others of unlawful activities.

- (2) In Objective 2 the reference to “the register” includes any records kept by the registrar under any enactment.]

1082 Allocation of unique identifiers

- (1) The Secretary of State may [^{F1471}by regulations] make provision for the use, in connection with the register [^{F1472}or dealings with the registrar], of reference numbers (“unique identifiers”) to identify each person who—
- (a) is a director of a company,
 - (b) is secretary (or a joint secretary) of a company,
 - [^{F1473}(ba) is an authorised corporate service provider;
 - (bb) is an individual whose identity is verified,] or
 - (c) in the case of an overseas company whose particulars are registered under section 1046, holds any such position as may be specified for the purposes of this section by regulations under that section.
- (2) The regulations may—
- (a) provide that a unique identifier may be in such form, consisting of one or more sequences of letters or numbers, as the registrar may from time to time determine;
 - (b) make provision for the allocation of unique identifiers by the registrar;
 - (c) require there to be included, in any specified description of documents delivered to the registrar, as well as [^{F1474}a statement of the person's name][^{F1474}any statement by or referring to the person]—
 - (i) a statement of the person's unique identifier, or
 - (ii) a statement that the person has not been allocated a unique identifier;
 - [^{F1475}(d) confer power on the registrar—
 - (i) to give a person a new unique identifier;
 - (ii) to discontinue the use of a unique identifier for a person who is allocated a new identifier or who has more than one.]
- (3) The regulations may contain provision for the application of the scheme in relation to persons appointed, and documents registered, before the commencement of this Act.
- (4) The regulations may make different provision for different descriptions of person and different descriptions of document.

[^{F1485}1084A] Recording of optional information on register

- (1) The Secretary of State may make provision by regulations authorising a company or other body to deliver optional information of a prescribed description to the registrar.
- (2) In this section “ optional information ”, in relation to a company or other body, means information about the company or body which, but for the regulations, the company or body would not be obliged or authorised under any enactment to deliver to the registrar.
- (3) The regulations may, in particular, include provision—
 - (a) imposing requirements on a company or other body in relation to keeping any of its optional information recorded on the register up to date;
 - (b) about the consequences of a company or other body failing to do so.
- (4) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.]

Inspection etc of the register

1085 Inspection of the register

- (1) Any person may inspect the register.
- (2) The right of inspection extends to the originals of documents delivered to the registrar in hard copy form if, and only if, the record kept by the registrar of the contents of the document is illegible or unavailable.

The period for which such originals are to be kept is limited by section 1083(1).

- [^{F1486}(3) This section has effect subject to—
- sections 64(6A), 67(1A), 73(7), 75(4A), 76(5B), 76A(9) and 76B(9) (which confer powers to suppress a company’s name that it has been directed or ordered to change);
 - section 1084(1A) (records relating to dissolved companies etc);
 - section 1087 (material not available for public inspection).]

1092A Power to require information

- (1) The registrar may by notice in writing require a person to provide information to the registrar for the purposes of enabling the registrar to determine—
 - (a) whether a person has complied with any obligation imposed by an enactment to deliver a document to the registrar,
 - (b) whether any information contained in a document received by the registrar falls within section 1080(1)(a).
- (2) A requirement under this section may specify—
 - (a) the form and manner in which the information is to be provided;
 - (b) the period within which it is to be provided.
- (3) The registrar may by notice in writing extend a period specified in a requirement under this section.

1092B Offence relating to provision of information

- (1) A person who, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with a requirement under section 1092A commits an offence.
- (2) Where an offence under this section is committed by a firm, an offence is also committed by every officer of the firm who is in default.
- (3) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable—
 - (a) on conviction on indictment, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or a fine (or both);
 - (b) on summary conviction—
 - (i) in England and Wales, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding the general limit in a magistrates' court or a fine (or both);
 - (ii) in Scotland, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding 12 months or a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum (or both) and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-fifth of the statutory maximum;

1093 Registrar's notice to resolve inconsistency [^{F1532}on the register]

- [^{F1533}(1) Where it appears to the registrar that the information contained in a document delivered to the registrar in relation to a company is inconsistent with other information contained in records kept by the registrar under section 1080, the registrar may give notice to the company to which the document relates—
- (a) stating in what respects the information contained in it appears to be inconsistent with other information in records kept by the registrar under section 1080, and
 - (b) requiring the company, within the period of 14 days beginning with the date on which the notice is issued, to take all such steps as are reasonably open to it to resolve the inconsistency by delivering replacement or additional documents or in any other way.
- (2) The notice must state the date on which it is issued.]
- (3) If the necessary documents are not delivered within the period specified, an offence is committed by—
- (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- (4) A person guilty of an offence under subsection (3) is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding [^{F1534}one-tenth of level 5 on the standard scale][^{F1534}one-tenth of the greater of £5,000 or level 4 on the standard scale].

- (1) The Secretary of State must by regulations make provision for notice to be given in accordance with the regulations where material is removed from the register under section 1094 otherwise than on an application.
- (2) The Secretary of State must by regulations make provision in connection with the making and determination of applications for the removal of material from the register under section 1094.
- (3) The provision that may be made under subsection (2) includes provision as to—
 - (a) who may make an application,
 - (b) the information to be included in and documents to accompany an application,
 - (c) the notice to be given of an application and of its outcome,
 - (d) a period in which objections to an application may be made, and
 - (e) how an application is to be determined, including provision as to evidence that may be relied upon by the registrar for the purposes of satisfying the test in section 1094(1).

 - (ii) in a notice given by a company under section 167 or 167D as a person who has become a director of the company, and
 - (b) the application is made by or on behalf of the person named and is accompanied by a statement that the person did not consent to act as director of the company.
- (4B) If the company provides the registrar with the necessary evidence within the time required by the regulations, the registrar must not remove the material from the register.
- (4C) If the company does not provide the registrar with the necessary evidence within that time—
- (a) the material is conclusively presumed for the purposes of this section to be derived from something that is factually inaccurate, and
 - (b) the registrar must accept the applicant's statement as sufficient evidence that the material should be removed from the register.
- (4D) “The necessary evidence” is—
- (a) evidence sufficient to satisfy the registrar that the person did consent to act as director of the company, plus
 - (b) a statement by the company that the evidence provided by it is true and is not misleading or deceptive in any material particular.]

(5) Where anything is removed from the register under this section the registration of which had legal consequences as mentioned in section 1094(3), any person appearing to the court to have a sufficient interest may apply to the court for such consequential orders as appear just with respect to the legal effect (if any) to be accorded to the material by virtue of its having appeared on the register.

[^{F1551} Rectification of register relating to company registered office

1097A

[The Secretary of State may by regulations make provision authorising or requiring the ^{F1552}(1) registrar to change the address of a company's registered office if satisfied that it is not an appropriate address within the meaning given by section 86(2).

(1A) The regulations may authorise or require the address to be changed on the registrar's own motion or on an application by another person.]

[^{F1553}(2) The applicant and the company must provide such information as the registrar may require for the purposes of determining such an application.]

(3) The regulations may make provision as to—

- (a) who may make an application,
- (b) the information to be included in and documents to accompany an application,

[^{F1554}(ba) the registrar requiring the company or an applicant to provide information for the purposes of determining anything under the regulations,]

- (c) the notice to be given of an application [^{F1555}and of its outcome][^{F1555}or that the registrar is considering the exercise of powers under the regulations],

[^{F1556}(ca) the notice to be given of any decision under the regulations,]

- (d) the period in which objections to an application may be made,

[^{F1557}(e) how the registrar is to determine whether a company's registered office is at an appropriate address within the meaning given by section 86(2), including in particular the evidence, or descriptions of evidence, which the registrar may without further enquiry rely on to be satisfied that an address is an appropriate address,]

[^{F1558}(f) the referral by the registrar of any question for determination by the court,]

Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (g) the registrar requiring a company to provide an address to be the company's registered office,
 - (h) the nomination by the registrar of an address (a “default address”) to be the company's registered office [^{F1559}(which need not be an appropriate address within the meaning given by section 86(2))],
 - [^{F1560}(ha) the period for which a company is permitted to have the default address as its registered office,]
 - [^{F1561}(i) when the change of address takes effect and the consequences of registration of the change (including provision similar or corresponding to section 87(2)).]
- [^{F1562}(4) Subject to further provision which may be made by virtue of subsection (3)(i), the change takes effect upon it being registered by the registrar, but until the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the date on which it is registered a person may validly serve any document on the company at the address previously registered.]
- [Provision made by virtue of subsection (3)(ha) may in particular include—
- ^{F1563}(4A) (a) provision creating summary offences punishable with a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale;
- (b) provision—
- (i) for the registrar to strike a company's name off the register if the company does not change the address of its registered office from the default address, and
 - (ii) for the restoration of a company to the register, in such circumstances as may be prescribed, on an application made to the registrar or in pursuance of a court order.
- (4B) The provision that may be made by virtue of subsection (4A) includes provision applying or writing out, in either case with or without modifications, any provision made by section 1000 or Chapter 3 of Part 31.
- (4C) Regulations under this section may in particular confer a discretion on the registrar.]
- (5) Provision made by virtue of subsection (3)(i) may in particular include provision, in relation to the registration of a default address—
- (a) for the suspension, for up to 28 days beginning with the date on which it is registered, of duties of the company under this Act relating to the inspection of company records or to the provision, disclosure or display of information,
 - (b) that the default address may not be used for the purpose of keeping the company's registers, indexes or other documents,
 - (c) for there to be no requirement that documents delivered to the default address for the company must be opened,
 - (d) for the collection of such documents by the company, or the forwarding of such documents to the company,
 - (e) for the circumstances in which, and the period of time after which, such documents may be destroyed,
 - (f) about evidence, or descriptions of evidence, that the registrar may require a company to provide if giving notice to the registrar to change the address of its registered office from a default address.
- [The regulations must confer a right on a company to appeal to the court against any
- ^{F1564}(6) decision to change the address of its registered office under the regulations.

- (6A) If the regulations enable a person to apply for a company's registered office to be changed, they must also confer a right on the applicant to appeal to the court against a refusal of the application.]
- (7) On an appeal, the court must direct the registrar to register such address as the registered office of the company as the court considers appropriate in all the circumstances of the case.
- (8) The regulations may make further provision about an appeal and in particular—
- (a) provision about the time within which an appeal must be brought and the grounds on which an appeal may be brought,
 - (b) provision for the suspension, pending the outcome of an appeal, of duties of the company under this Act relating to the inspection of company records or to the provision, disclosure or display of information,
 - (c) further provision about directions by virtue of subsection (7).
- (9) The regulations may include such provision applying (including applying with modifications), amending or repealing an enactment contained in this Act as the Secretary of State considers necessary or expedient in consequence of any provision made by the regulations.
- (10) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.]

[^{F1565}1097B] Rectification of register: service addresses

- (1) The Secretary of State may by regulations make provision authorising or requiring the registrar to change a registered service address of a relevant person if satisfied that the address does not meet the requirements of section 1141(1) and (2).
- (2) In this section—
 - “registered service address”, in relation to a relevant person, means the address for the time being shown in the register as the person’s current service address;
 - “relevant person” means—
 - (a) a director of a company that is not an overseas company,
 - (b) a secretary or one of the joint secretaries of a company that is not an overseas company, or
 - (c) a registrable person or registrable relevant legal entity in relation to a company (within the meanings given by section 790C).
- (3) The regulations may authorise or require the address to be changed on the registrar’s own motion or on an application by another person.
- (4) The regulations must provide for the change in the address to be effected by the registrar proceeding as if the company had given notice under section 167H, 279H or 790LD of the change.
- (5) The regulations may make provision as to—
 - (a) who may make an application,
 - (b) the information to be included in and documents to accompany an application,

- (c) the registrar requiring the company or an applicant to provide information for the purposes of determining anything under the regulations,
 - (d) the notice to be given of an application or that the registrar is considering the exercise of powers under the regulations,
 - (e) the notice to be given of any decision under the regulations,
 - (f) the period in which objections to an application may be made,
 - (g) how the registrar is to determine whether a registered service address meets the requirements of section 1141(1) and (2), including in particular the evidence, or descriptions of evidence, which the registrar may without further enquiry rely on to be satisfied that the address meets those requirements,
 - (h) the referral by the registrar of any question for determination by the court,
 - (i) the registrar requiring the company to provide an address to be registered as the relevant person's service address,
 - (j) the nomination by the registrar of an address (a "default address") to be registered as the relevant person's service address (which need not meet the requirements of section 1141(1) and (2)),
 - (k) the period for which the default address is permitted to be the relevant person's registered service address, and
 - (l) when the change of address takes effect and the consequences of registration of the change (including provision similar or corresponding to section 1140(5)).

- (7) The regulations must confer a right on the company to appeal to the court against any decision to change the relevant person's registered service address under the regulations.
- (8) If the regulations enable a person to apply for a registered service address to be changed, they must also confer a right on the applicant to appeal to the court against a refusal of the application.
- (9) On an appeal, the court must direct the registrar to register such address as the relevant person's registered service address as the court considers appropriate in all the circumstances of the case.
- (10) The regulations may make further provision about an appeal and in particular—
- (a) provision about the time within which an appeal must be brought and the grounds on which an appeal may be brought;
 - (b) further provision about directions by virtue of subsection (9).
- (11) The regulations may include such provision applying (including applying with modifications), amending or repealing an enactment contained in this Act as the Secretary of State considers necessary or expedient in consequence of any provision made by the regulations.
- (12) Regulations under this section may in particular confer a discretion on the registrar.
- (13) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.]

^{F1566}1097B Rectification of register: principal office addresses

- (1) The Secretary of State may by regulations make provision authorising or requiring the registrar to change the address registered as the principal office of a relevant person if satisfied that the address is not in fact their principal office.
- (2) In this section—
 - “address registered as the principal office”, in relation to a relevant person, means the address for the time being shown in the register as the address of the person’s current principal office;
 - “relevant person” means—
 - (a) a director of a company that is not an overseas company,
 - (b) a secretary or one of the joint secretaries of a company that is not an overseas company,
 - (c) a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to a company (within the meaning given by section 790C), or
 - (d) a registrable person in relation to a company (within the meaning given by section 790C) who falls within section 790C(12).
- (3) The regulations may authorise or require the address to be changed on the registrar’s own motion or on an application by another person.
- (4) The regulations must provide for the change in the address to be effected by the registrar proceeding as if the company had given notice under section 167H, 279H or 790LD of the change.
- (5) The regulations may make provision as to—
 - (a) who may make an application,
 - (b) the information to be included in and documents to accompany an application,
 - (c) the registrar requiring the company or an applicant to provide information for the purposes of determining anything under the regulations,
 - (d) the notice to be given of an application or that the registrar is considering the exercise of powers under the regulations,
 - (e) the notice to be given of any decision under the regulations,
 - (f) the period in which objections to an application may be made,
 - (g) how the registrar is to determine whether an address registered as the principal office of a relevant person is in fact the person’s principal office, including in particular the evidence, or descriptions of evidence, which the registrar may without further enquiry rely on to be satisfied that the address meets those requirements,
 - (h) the referral by the registrar of any question for determination by the court,
 - (i) the registrar requiring the company to provide an address to be registered as the principal office of the relevant person,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. - (j) the nomination by the registrar of an address (a “default address”) to be registered as the principal office of the relevant person (which need not be the relevant person’s actual principal office),
 - (k) the period for which the default address is permitted to be the address registered as the principal office of the relevant person, and
 - (l) when the change of address takes effect and the consequences of registration of the change.
- (6) The provision made by virtue of subsection (5)(k) may in particular include provision creating summary offences punishable with a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale.
- (7) The regulations must confer a right on the company to appeal to the court against any decision to change the address registered as the principal office of the relevant person under the regulations.
- (8) If the regulations enable a person to apply for the address registered as the principal office of a relevant person to be changed, the regulations must also confer a right on the applicant to appeal to the court against a refusal of the application.
- (9) On an appeal, the court must direct the registrar to register such address as the principal office of the relevant person as the court considers appropriate in all the circumstances of the case.
- (10) The regulations may make further provision about an appeal and in particular—
- (a) provision about the time within which an appeal must be brought and the grounds on which an appeal may be brought;
 - (b) further provision about directions by virtue of subsection (9).
- (11) The regulations may include such provision applying (including applying with modifications), amending or repealing an enactment contained in this Act as the Secretary of State considers necessary or expedient in consequence of any provision made by the regulations.
- (12) Regulations under this section may in particular confer a discretion on the registrar.
- (13) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.]

^{F1568} Authorised corporate service providers

Textual Amendments

F1568 Ss. 1098A-1098H and cross-heading inserted (26.10.2023 but only so far as it confers a power to make regulations or relates to the exercise of the power, otherwise prosp.) by Economic Crime and Corporate Transparency Act 2023 (c. 56), ss. 66(4), 219(1)(2)(b)

1098A Meaning of “authorised corporate service provider”

In this Act “authorised corporate service provider” means a person—

- (a) whose application to the registrar to become an authorised corporate service provider for the purposes of this Act has been granted (see section 1098B),
- (b) who has not since ceased to be an authorised corporate service provider by virtue of section 1098F, and
- (c) whose status as an authorised corporate service provider is not for the time being suspended by virtue of section 1098F.

1098B Application to become authorised corporate service provider

- (1) A person may apply to the registrar to become an authorised corporate service provider for the purposes of this Act if—

- (a) the person is a relevant person as defined by regulation 8(1) of the Money Laundering Regulations,
- (b) in the case of an individual, their identity is verified (see section 1110A), and

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (c) the person meets any other requirements imposed by regulations made by the Secretary of State for the purposes of this paragraph.
- (2) An application under this section must contain—
- (a) the name of the applicant’s supervisory authority or authorities for the purposes of the Money Laundering Regulations,
 - (b) the required information about the applicant (see section 1098C), and
 - (c) in the case of an application by an individual, a statement that the individual’s identity is verified (see section 1110A).
- (See also section 1098D, which imposes restrictions on who may deliver an application under this section on behalf of a firm.)
- (3) Where an application is made under this section, the registrar must check with the supervisory authority, or at least one of the supervisory authorities, specified in the application, to find out whether the applicant is known to and supervised by that authority.
- (4) Having carried out that check, the registrar must grant the application if—
- (a) the supervisory authority, or at least one of the supervisory authorities, specified in the application has confirmed that the applicant is known to and supervised by that authority,
 - (b) where the applicant is an individual, the registrar is satisfied that their identity is verified (see section 1110A),
 - (c) any other conditions that may be specified by regulations made by the Secretary of State for the purposes of this paragraph are met, and
 - (d) the registrar is not required by subsection (5) to refuse the application.
- (5) The registrar must refuse the application if it appears to the registrar that the applicant is not a fit and proper person to carry out the functions of an authorised corporate service provider.
- (6) The provision that can be made in regulations under subsection (4)(c) includes provision conferring a discretion on the registrar.
- (7) Regulations under subsection (1)(c) or (4)(c) are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.
- (8) For the purposes of this section—

“Money Laundering Regulations” means the Money Laundering, Terrorist Financing and Transfer of Funds (Information on the Payer) Regulations 2017 (S.I. 2017/692);

“supervised”: a person is supervised by a supervisory authority if regulation 7(1) of the Money Laundering Regulations provides that it is a supervisory authority for that person;

“supervisory authority” means an authority that is a supervisory authority under the Money Laundering Regulations (see regulation 7 of those Regulations).

1098C The required information about an applicant

- (1) The “required information” about the applicant, in the case of a firm that is applying to become an authorised corporate service provider, means—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) firm name,
 - (b) principal office,
 - (c) a service address,
 - (d) an email address,
 - (e) the legal form of the firm and the law by which it is governed, and
 - (f) if applicable, the register in which it is entered (including details of the state) and its registration number in that register.
- (2) The “required information” about the applicant, in the case of an individual who is applying to become an authorised corporate service provider, means—
- (a) name, nationality and date of birth,
 - (b) a service address,
 - (c) an email address, and
 - (d) the part of the United Kingdom in which the person is usually resident or, if the person is usually resident in a country or state outside the United Kingdom, that country or state.
- (3) In subsection (2)(a) “name” means forename and surname.
- (4) Where the applicant is a peer or an individual usually known by a title, the requirement for the application to contain their name may be satisfied by providing that title instead of the individual’s forename and surname.
- (5) The Secretary of State may by regulations—
- (a) amend this section so as to change the required information about the applicant in the case of a firm or individual applying to become an authorised corporate service provider;
 - (b) repeal subsection (4).
- (6) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.

1098D Delivery of applications under section 1098B on behalf of a firm

An application under section 1098B by a firm mentioned in the first column of the table—

- (a) must be delivered to the registrar on its behalf by a relevant officer mentioned in the second column who is an individual (see also section 1067A(2)), and
- (b) must be accompanied by a statement by the individual confirming their status as a relevant officer of the firm.

Firm	Relevant officer

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

Firm	Relevant officer
unincorporated body other than a partnership	(b) in relation to any other partnership, a member of the partnership (a) where the body’s affairs are managed by its members, a member of the body; (b) in any other case, a member of the governing body.

1098E Updating duties of authorised corporate service providers

- (1) A person who is an authorised corporate service provider must notify the registrar of any change in its supervisory authority or authorities for the purposes of the Money Laundering Regulations within the period of 14 days beginning with the date on which the change occurs.
- (2) Where the change is the result of an agreement under regulation 7(2) of the Money Laundering Regulations, for the purposes of this section the change is not to be treated as having occurred until the authority that has agreed to act notifies the person or publishes the agreement under regulation 7(3).
- (3) A person who, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with this section commits an offence.
- (4) Where the offence is committed by a firm, every officer of the firm who is in default also commits the offence.
- (5) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction—
 - (a) in England and Wales, to a fine;
 - (b) in Scotland or Northern Ireland, to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 5 on the standard scale.
- (6) In this section “Money Laundering Regulations” and “supervisory authority” have the meanings given by section 1098B(8).

1098F Ceasing to be an authorised corporate service provider

- (1) A person ceases to be an authorised corporate service provider if the person ceases to be a relevant person as defined by regulation 8(1) of the Money Laundering Regulations.
- (2) The Secretary of State may by regulations—
 - (a) provide for other circumstances in which a person ceases to be an authorised corporate service provider, whether automatically or as a result of a decision taken by the registrar;
 - (b) provide for circumstances in which the registrar may suspend a person’s status as an authorised corporate service provider pending a decision by the registrar under regulations made by virtue of paragraph (a).
- (3) The provision that can be made under subsection (2) includes provision as to—
 - (a) procedure;
 - (b) the period of a suspension;

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. - (c) the revocation of a suspension.
- (4) The provision that can be made in regulations under subsection (2) includes provision conferring a discretion on the registrar.
- (5) Regulations under subsection (2) are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.
- (6) In this section “Money Laundering Regulations” has the meaning given by section 1098B(8).

1098G Power to impose duties to provide information

- (1) The Secretary of State may by regulations require a person who is or has been an authorised corporate service provider to provide information to the registrar in accordance with the regulations (including information for the purpose of monitoring compliance with the requirements of this Act).
- (2) The provision that may be made by regulations under subsection (1) includes provision requiring information to be provided on request, on the occurrence of an event or at regular intervals.
- (3) The circumstances that may be specified under section 1098F(2) include failure to comply with a requirement under subsection (1).
- (4) Regulations under this section may create offences in relation to failures to comply with requirements imposed by the regulations.
- (5) The regulations must provide for any such offence to be punishable on summary conviction—
 - (a) in England and Wales with a fine;
 - (b) in Scotland or Northern Ireland, with a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 5 on the standard scale.
- (6) The provision that can be made in regulations under this section includes provision conferring a discretion on the registrar.
- (7) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.

1098H Power to enable authorisation of foreign corporate service providers

- (1) The Secretary of State may by regulations make provision for the purposes of enabling a person who is subject to a relevant regulatory regime under the law of a territory outside the United Kingdom to become an authorised corporate service provider, even if the person is not a relevant person as defined by regulation 8(1) of the Money Laundering Regulations.
- (2) In subsection (1) “relevant regulatory regime” means a regulatory regime that, in the opinion of the Secretary of State, has similar objectives to the regulatory regime under the Money Laundering Regulations for relevant persons and is likely to be no less effective in achieving those objectives.
- (3) Regulations under this section—
 - (a) may amend any of sections 1098B to 1098G or insert new sections into this Act;

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. 1104 Documents relating to Welsh companies

- (1) Documents relating to a Welsh company may be drawn up and delivered to the registrar in Welsh.
- (2) On delivery to the registrar any such document must be accompanied by a certified translation into English, unless it is—
 - (a) of a description excepted from that requirement by regulations made by the Secretary of State, or
 - (b) in a form prescribed in Welsh (or partly in Welsh and partly in English) by virtue of section 26 of the Welsh Language Act 1993 (c. 38).
- (3) Where a document is properly delivered to the registrar in Welsh without a certified translation into English, the registrar must obtain such a translation if the document is to be available for public inspection.

The translation is treated as if delivered to the registrar in accordance with the same provision as the original.

- (4) A Welsh company may deliver to the registrar a certified translation into Welsh of any document in English that relates to the company and is or has been delivered to the registrar.
- (5) Section 1105 (which requires certified translations into English of documents delivered to the registrar in another language) does not apply to a document relating to a Welsh company that is drawn up and delivered in Welsh.

Textual Amendments

F1576Ss. 1110A, 1110B and cross-heading inserted (26.10.2023 but only so far as it confers a power to make regulations or relates to the exercise of the power, otherwise prosp.) by Economic Crime and Corporate Transparency Act 2023 \(c. 56\), ss. 65(4), 219(1)(2)(b)

1110A Meaning of “identity is verified”

- (1) For the purposes of this Act an individual’s “identity is verified” if—
 - (a) the individual’s identity has been verified by the registrar in accordance with regulations under section 1110B, or
 - (b) a verification statement in respect of the individual has been delivered to the registrar,and the individual has not, since then, ceased to be an individual whose identity is verified by virtue of regulations under subsection (6).
- (2) A verification statement is a statement by an authorised corporate service provider confirming that it has verified an individual’s identity in accordance with regulations under section 1110B.
- (3) A verification statement must also specify the authorised corporate service provider’s supervisory authority or authorities for the purposes of the Money Laundering Regulations.
- (4) The Secretary of State may by regulations make further provision about the contents of verification statements (including provision amending this section).
- (5) Where a person is required or authorised by any other provision to deliver a statement to the registrar that an individual’s identity is verified, that statement may be delivered at the same time as the verification statement by virtue of which the individual becomes someone whose identity is verified under subsection (1)(b).
- (6) The Secretary of State may by regulations provide for circumstances in which someone ceases to be an individual whose identity is verified.
- (7) The provision that can be made under subsection (6) includes—
 - (a) provision to confer a discretion on the registrar;
 - (b) provision that someone ceases to be an individual whose identity is verified unless, within a specified period of time—

- (i) their identity is reverified by the registrar in accordance with regulations under section 1110B, or
 - (ii) an authorised corporate service provider delivers to the registrar a statement: (A) confirming that it has reverified the individual's identity in accordance with regulations under section 1110B, (B) specifying the authorised corporate service provider's supervisory authority or authorities for the purposes of the Money Laundering Regulations, and (C) containing anything else required by the regulations.
- (8) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.
- (9) In this section—
- “Money Laundering Regulations” means the Money Laundering, Terrorist Financing and Transfer of Funds (Information on the Payer) Regulations 2017 (S.I. 2017/692);
- “supervisory authority” means an authority that is a supervisory authority under the Money Laundering Regulations (see regulation 7 of those Regulations).

1110B Verification requirements

- (1) The Secretary of State may by regulations make provision for and in connection with verification or reverification of an individual's identity for the purposes of this Act by the registrar or by an authorised corporate service provider.
- (2) The regulations may, in particular, make provision about—
 - (a) the procedure for verifying or reverifying an individual's identity, including the evidence required;
 - (b) the records that a person who is or has been an authorised corporate service provider is required to keep in connection with the verification or reverification of an individual's identity.
- (3) The regulations may create offences in relation to failures to comply with requirements imposed by virtue of subsection (2)(b).
- (4) The regulations must provide for any such offence to be punishable—
 - (a) on conviction on indictment, by imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or a fine (or both);
 - (b) on summary conviction—
 - (i) in England and Wales, by imprisonment for a term not exceeding the general limit in a magistrates' court or a fine (or both);
 - (ii) in Scotland, by imprisonment for a term not exceeding 12 months or a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum (or both) and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-fifth of the statutory maximum;
 - (iii) in Northern Ireland, by imprisonment for a term not exceeding 6 months or a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum (or both) and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-fifth of the statutory maximum.

[^{F1577} 1110C Identity verification: exemption on national security grounds etc

- (1) The Secretary of State may, by written notice given to a person, provide for one or more of the effects listed in subsection (2) to apply in relation to the person, if satisfied that to do so is necessary—
 - (a) in the interests of national security, or
 - (b) for the purposes of preventing or detecting serious crime.
- (2) The effects for which the notice may provide are that—
 - (a) where a statement of proposed officers names the person as a director, section 12(2A) does not require a statement under that subsection to be made in relation to the person;
 - (b) section 167G(3)(c) does not apply in relation to a notice of the person having become a director;
 - (c) section 167M(1) does not apply in relation to the person and section 167M(2) does not impose any obligation on a company in relation to the person;
 - (d) section 167N(1) does not apply in relation to the person;
 - (e) section 1067A does not apply in relation to the delivery of documents to the registrar by the person on their own behalf or on behalf of another;
 - (f) section 1098B(2)(c) does not apply in relation to the person.
- (3) For the purposes of subsection (1)(b)—
 - (a) “crime” means conduct which—
 - (i) constitutes a criminal offence, or
 - (ii) is, or corresponds to, any conduct which, if it all took place in any one part of the United Kingdom, would constitute a criminal offence, and
 - (b) crime is “serious” if—
 - (i) the offence which is or would be constituted by the conduct is an offence for which the maximum sentence (in any part of the United Kingdom) is imprisonment for 3 years or more, or
 - (ii) the conduct involves the use of violence, results in substantial financial gain or is conduct by a large number of persons in pursuit of a common purpose.]

1110E Disclosure to the registrar

Any person may disclose information to the registrar for the purposes of the exercise of any of the registrar’s functions.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.
Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

1110F Disclosure by the registrar

- (1) The registrar may disclose information—
 - (a) to any person for purposes connected with the exercise of any of the registrar’s functions;
 - (b) to a public authority for purposes connected with the exercise of any of that public authority’s functions;
 - (c) to a person of a description, and for a purpose, specified in regulations made by the Secretary of State for the purposes of this paragraph.
- (2) Regulations under subsection (1)(c) are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.
- (3) In this section “public authority” includes any person or body having functions of a public nature.

1110G Disclosure: supplementary

- (1) Except as provided by subsection (2), the disclosure of information under section 1110E or 1110F does not breach—
 - (a) any obligation of confidence owed by the person making the disclosure, or
 - (b) any other restriction on the disclosure of information (however imposed).
- (2) Sections 1110E and 1110F do not authorise a disclosure of information if the disclosure would contravene the data protection legislation (but in determining whether a disclosure would do so, take into account the powers conferred by those sections).
- (3) HMRC information may not be disclosed by the registrar under section 1110F without authorisation from HMRC.
- (4) If the registrar discloses HMRC information under section 1110F, the information must not be disclosed by the recipient, or by any person obtaining the information directly or indirectly from them, without authorisation from HMRC.
- (5) It is an offence for a person to disclose, in contravention of subsection (3) or (4), any revenue and customs information relating to a person whose identity—
 - (a) is specified in the disclosure, or
 - (b) can be deduced from it.
- (6) It is a defence for a person charged with an offence under subsection (5) to prove that the person reasonably believed—
 - (a) that the disclosure was lawful, or
 - (b) that the information had already lawfully been made available to the public.
- (7) Subsections (4) to (7) of section 19 of the Commissioners for Revenue and Customs Act 2005 apply to an offence under subsection (5) as they apply to an offence under that section.
- (8) In this section—

“the data protection legislation” has the same meaning as in the Data Protection Act 2018 (see section 3 of that Act);

“HMRC” means the Commissioners for His Majesty’s Revenue and Customs;

“HMRC information” means information disclosed to the registrar under section 1110E by HMRC or a person acting on behalf of HMRC;

“revenue and customs information relating to a person” has the meaning given by section 19(2) of the Commissioners for Revenue and Customs Act 2005.]

Supplementary provisions

1111 Registrar's requirements as to certification or verification

- (1) Where a document required or authorised to be delivered to the registrar under any enactment is required—
 - (a) to be certified as an accurate translation or transliteration, or
 - (b) to be certified as a correct copy or verified, the registrar may impose requirements as to the person, or description of person, by whom the certificate or verification is to be given.
- (2) The power conferred by section 1068 (registrar's requirements as to form, authentication and manner of delivery) is exercisable in relation to the certificate or verification as if it were a separate document.
- (3) Requirements imposed under this section must not be inconsistent with requirements imposed by any enactment with respect to the certification or verification of the document concerned.

1117 Registrar's rules

- (1) Where any provision of this Part enables the registrar to make provision, or impose requirements, as to any matter, the registrar may make such provision or impose such requirements by means of rules under this section.

This is without prejudice to the making of such provision or the imposing of such requirements by other means.

- (2) Registrar's rules—
- (a) may make different provision for different cases, and
 - (b) may allow the registrar to disapply or modify any of the rules.
- (3) The registrar must—
- (a) publicise the rules in a manner appropriate to bring them to the notice of persons affected by them, and
 - (b) make copies of the rules available to the public (in hard copy or electronic form).

General provisions

1125 Meaning of “daily default fine”

- (1) This section defines what is meant in the Companies Acts where it is provided that a person guilty of an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding a specified amount “and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine” not exceeding a specified amount.
- (2) This means that the person is liable on a second or subsequent summary conviction of the offence to a fine not exceeding the latter amount for each day on which the contravention is continued (instead of being liable to a fine not exceeding the former amount).

1128 Summary proceedings: time limit for proceedings

- (1) An information relating to an offence under the Companies Acts that is triable by a magistrates' court in England and Wales may be so tried if it is laid—
 - (a) at any time within three years after the commission of the offence, and
 - (b) within twelve months after the date on which evidence sufficient in the opinion of the Director of Public Prosecutions or the Secretary of State (as the case may be) to justify the proceedings comes to his knowledge.
- (2) Summary proceedings in Scotland for an offence under the Companies Acts—
 - (a) must not be commenced after the expiration of three years from the commission of the offence;
 - (b) subject to that, may be commenced at any time—
 - (i) within twelve months after the date on which evidence sufficient in the Lord Advocate's opinion to justify the proceedings came to his knowledge, or
 - (ii) where such evidence was reported to him by the Secretary of State, within twelve months after the date on which it came to the knowledge of the latter.

Section 136(3) of the Criminal Procedure (Scotland) Act 1995 (c. 46) (date when proceedings deemed to be commenced) applies for the purposes of this subsection as for the purposes of that section.
- (3) A magistrates' court in Northern Ireland has jurisdiction to hear and determine a complaint charging the commission of a summary offence under the Companies Acts provided that the complaint is made—
 - (a) within three years from the time when the offence was committed, and
 - (b) within twelve months from the date on which evidence sufficient in the opinion of the Director of Public Prosecutions for Northern Ireland or the Secretary of State (as the case may be) to justify the proceedings comes to his knowledge.
- (4) For the purposes of this section a certificate of the Director of Public Prosecutions, the Lord Advocate, the Director of Public Prosecutions for Northern Ireland or the Secretary of State (as the case may be) as to the date on which such evidence as is referred to above came to his notice is conclusive evidence.

Production and inspection of documents

1132 Production and inspection of documents where offence suspected

- (1) An application under this section may be made—
- (a) in England and Wales, to a judge of the High Court by the Director of Public Prosecutions, the Secretary of State or a chief officer of police;
 - (b) in Scotland, to one of the Lords Commissioners of Justiciary by the Lord Advocate;
 - (c) in Northern Ireland, to the High Court by the Director of Public Prosecutions for Northern Ireland, the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment or a chief superintendent of the Police Service of Northern Ireland.
- (2) If on an application under this section there is shown to be reasonable cause to believe—
- (a) that any person has, while an officer of a company, committed an offence in connection with the management of the company's affairs, and
 - (b) that evidence of the commission of the offence is to be found in any documents in the possession or control of the company,
- an order under this section may be made.
- (3) The order may—
- (a) authorise any person named in it to inspect the documents in question, or any of them, for the purpose of investigating and obtaining evidence of the offence, or
 - (b) require the secretary of the company, or such other officer of it as may be named in the order, to produce the documents (or any of them) to a person named in the order at a place so named.

1132A Power to make provision for financial penalties

- (1) The Secretary of State may by regulations make provision conferring power on the registrar to impose a financial penalty on a person if satisfied, beyond reasonable doubt, that the person has engaged in conduct amounting to a relevant offence under this Act.
- (2) “Relevant offence under this Act” means any offence under this Act other than an offence under a provision contained in—
 - (a) Part 12 (company secretaries);
 - (b) Part 13 (resolutions and meetings);
 - (c) Part 16 (audit).
- (3) The regulations may include provision—
 - (a) about the procedure to be followed in imposing penalties;
 - (b) about the amount of penalties;
 - (c) for the imposition of interest or additional penalties for late payment;
 - (d) conferring rights of appeal against penalties;
 - (e) about the enforcement of penalties.
- (4) Provision made under subsection (3)(b) must ensure that the maximum financial penalty that may be imposed does not exceed £10,000.
- (5) The regulations must provide that—
 - (a) no financial penalty may be imposed under the regulations on a person in respect of conduct amounting to an offence if—
 - (i) proceedings have been brought against the person for that offence in respect of that conduct and the proceedings are ongoing, or
 - (ii) the person has been convicted of that offence in respect of that conduct, and
 - (b) no proceedings may be brought against a person in respect of conduct amounting to an offence if the person has been given a financial penalty under the regulations in respect of that conduct.
- (6) Amounts recovered by the registrar under the regulations are to be paid into the Consolidated Fund.
- (7) Regulations under this section are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.
- (8) In this section “conduct” means an act or omission.]

 - (a) to keep available for inspection any company records, or
 - (b) to provide copies of any company records.
- (2) A company that fails to comply with the regulations is treated as having refused inspection or, as the case may be, having failed to provide a copy.
- (3) The regulations may—
 - (a) make provision as to the time, duration and manner of inspection, including the circumstances in which and extent to which the copying of information is permitted in the course of inspection, and
 - (b) define what may be required of the company as regards the nature, extent and manner of extracting or presenting any information for the purposes of inspection or the provision of copies.
- (4) Where there is power to charge a fee, the regulations may make provision as to the amount of the fee and the basis of its calculation.
- (5) Nothing in any provision of this Act or in the regulations shall be read as preventing a company—
 - (a) from affording more extensive facilities than are required by the regulations, or
 - (b) where a fee may be charged, from charging a lesser fee than that prescribed or none at all.

CHAPTER 1

RESTRICTED OR PROHIBITED NAMES

Introductory

1192 Application of this Chapter

- (1) [^{F1642}Subject to any express provision to the contrary,] This Chapter applies to any person carrying on business in the United Kingdom.
- (2) The provisions of this Chapter do not prevent—
 - (a) an individual carrying on business under a name consisting of his surname without any addition other than a permitted addition, or
 - (b) individuals carrying on business in partnership under a name consisting of the surnames of all the partners without any addition other than a permitted addition.
- (3) The following are the permitted additions—
 - (a) in the case of an individual, his forename or initial;
 - (b) in the case of a partnership—
 - (i) the forenames of individual partners or the initials of those forenames, or
 - (ii) where two or more individual partners have the same surname, the addition of “s” at the end of that surname;
 - (c) in either case, an addition merely indicating that the business is carried on in succession to a former owner of the business.

1199 Savings for existing lawful business names

- (1) This section has effect in relation to—
- sections 1192 to 1196 (sensitive words or expressions), and
- section 1197 (inappropriate indication of company type or legal form).
- (2) Those sections do not apply to the carrying on of a business by a person who—
- (a) carried on the business immediately before the date on which this Chapter came into force, and
- (b) continues to carry it on under the name that immediately before that date was its lawful business name.
- (3) Where—
- (a) a business is transferred to a person on or after the date on which this Chapter came into force, and
- (b) that person carries on the business under the name that was its lawful business name immediately before the transfer,
- those sections do not apply in relation to the carrying on of the business under that name during the period of twelve months beginning with the date of the transfer.
- (4) In this section “lawful business name”, in relation to a business, means a name under which the business was carried on without contravening—
- (a) section 2(1) of the Business Names Act 1985 (c. 7) or Article 4(1) of the Business Names (Northern Ireland) Order 1986 (S.I. 1986/1033 N.I. 7)), or

CHAPTER 2

DISCLOSURE REQUIRED IN CASE OF INDIVIDUAL OR PARTNERSHIP

Introductory

1200 Application of this Chapter

(1) This Chapter applies to an individual or partnership carrying on business in the United Kingdom under a business name.

References in this Chapter to “a person to whom this Chapter applies” are to such an individual or partnership.

(2) For the purposes of this Chapter a “business name” means a name other than—

- (a) in the case of an individual, his surname without any addition other than a permitted addition;
- (b) in the case of a partnership—
 - (i) the surnames of all partners who are individuals, and
 - (ii) the corporate names of all partners who are bodies corporate, without any addition other than a permitted addition.

(3) The following are the permitted additions—

- (a) in the case of an individual, his forename or initial;
- (b) in the case of a partnership—

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (i) the forenames of individual partners or the initials of those forenames, or
- (ii) where two or more individual partners have the same surname, the addition of “s” at the end of that surname;
- (c) in either case, an addition merely indicating that the business is carried on in succession to a former owner of the business.

^[F1649] 1201 Information required to be disclosed

- (1) The “information required by this Chapter” is—
 - (a) in the case of an individual, the individual's name;
 - (b) in the case of a partnership, the name of each member of the partnership; and, in relation to each person so named, an address at which service of any document relating in any way to the business will be effective.
- (2) If the individual or partnership has a place of business in the United Kingdom, the address must be in the United Kingdom.
- (3) If the individual or partnership does not have a place of business in the United Kingdom, the address must be an address at which service of documents can be effected by physical delivery and the delivery of documents is capable of being recorded by the obtaining of an acknowledgement of delivery.]

1203 Exemption for large partnerships if certain conditions met

- (1) Section 1202(1) (disclosure required in business documents) does not apply in relation to a document issued by a partnership of more than 20 persons if the following conditions are met.
- (2) The conditions are that—
 - (a) the partnership maintains at its principal place of business a list of the names of all the partners,
 - (b) no partner's name appears in the document, except in the text or as a signatory, and
 - (c) the document states in legible characters the address of the partnership's principal place of business and that the list of the partners' names is open to inspection there.
- (3) Where a partnership maintains a list of the partners' names for the purposes of this section, any person may inspect the list during office hours.
- (4) Where an inspection required by a person in accordance with this section is refused, an offence is committed by any member of the partnership concerned who without reasonable excuse refused the inspection or permitted it to be refused.
- (5) A person guilty of an offence under subsection (4) is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale.

1204 Disclosure required: business premises

- (1) A person to whom this Chapter applies must, in any premises—
 - (a) where the business is carried on, and
 - (b) to which customers of the business or suppliers of goods or services to the business have access,display in a prominent position, so that it may easily be read by such customers or suppliers, a notice containing the information required by this Chapter.
- (2) The Secretary of State may by regulations require that such notices be displayed in a specified form.

Consequences of failure to make required disclosure

1205 Criminal consequences of failure to make required disclosure

- (1) A person who without reasonable excuse fails to comply with the requirements of—section 1202 (disclosure required: business documents etc), or section 1204 (disclosure required: business premises),
commits an offence.
- (2) Where an offence under this section is committed by a body corporate, an offence is also committed by every officer of the body who is in default.
- (3) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale and, for continued contravention, a daily default fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale.
- (4) References in this section to the requirements of section 1202 or 1204 include the requirements of regulations under that section.

1206 Civil consequences of failure to make required disclosure

- (1) This section applies to any legal proceedings brought by a person to whom this Chapter applies to enforce a right arising out of a contract made in the course of a business in respect of which he was, at the time the contract was made, in breach of section 1202(1) or (2) (disclosure in business documents etc) or section 1204(1) (disclosure at business premises).
- (2) The proceedings shall be dismissed if the defendant (in Scotland, the defender) to the proceedings shows—
 - (a) that he has a claim against the claimant (pursuer) arising out of the contract that he has been unable to pursue by reason of the latter's breach of the requirements of this Chapter, or
 - (b) that he has suffered some financial loss in connection with the contract by reason of the claimant's (pursuer's) breach of those requirements,unless the court before which the proceedings are brought is satisfied that it is just and equitable to permit the proceedings to continue.
- (3) References in this section to the requirements of this Chapter include the requirements of regulations under this Chapter.
- (4) This section does not affect the right of any person to enforce such rights as he may have against another person in any proceedings brought by that person.

CHAPTER 1

INTRODUCTORY

1209 Main purposes of Part

The main purposes of this Part are—

- (a) to secure that only persons who are properly supervised and appropriately qualified are appointed as statutory auditors, and
- (b) to secure that audits by persons so appointed are carried out properly, with integrity and with a proper degree of independence.

1210 Meaning of “statutory auditor” etc

(1) In this Part “statutory auditor” means—

- (a) a person appointed as auditor under Part 16 of this Act,
- (b) a person appointed as auditor under section 77 of or Schedule 11 to the Building Societies Act 1986 (c. 53),
- [^{F1650}(c) a person appointed as auditor of a friendly society under section 72 of or Schedule 14 to the Friendly Societies Act 1992, where that society is—
 - (i) an insurer, or
 - (ii) an issuer whose transferable securities are admitted to trading on a [^{F1651}UK regulated market];]
- (d) ^{F1652}
- [^{F1653}(e) a person appointed as auditor for the purposes of regulation 5 of the Insurance Accounts Directive (Lloyd’s Syndicate and Aggregate Accounts) Regulations 2008 or appointed to report on the “aggregate accounts” within the meaning of those Regulations,]
- [^{F1654}(f) a person appointed as auditor of an insurance undertaking for the purposes of the Insurance Accounts Directive (Miscellaneous Insurance Undertakings) Regulations 2008,]
- ^{F1655}(g)
- (h) a person appointed as auditor of a prescribed person under a prescribed enactment authorising or requiring the appointment; and the expressions “statutory audit” and “statutory audit work” are to be construed accordingly.

(2) In this Part “audited person” means the person in respect of whom a statutory audit is conducted.

(3) In subsection (1)—

^{F1656} ...

“friendly society” means a friendly society within the meaning of the Friendly Societies Act 1992 (c. 40);

^{F1657}

[^{F1658}“insurer” means a person who would be an insurance undertaking, as defined in Article 2(1) of Council Directive 91/674/EEC of 19 December 1991 of the European Parliament and of the Council on the annual accounts and consolidated accounts of insurance undertakings as that Article had effect

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. 1211 Eligibility for appointment as a statutory auditor: overview

A person is eligible for appointment as a statutory auditor only if the person is so eligible—

- (a) by virtue of Chapter 2 (individuals and firms), or
- (b) by virtue of Chapter 3 (Comptroller and Auditor General, etc).

CHAPTER 2

INDIVIDUALS AND FIRMS

Eligibility for appointment

1212 Individuals and firms: eligibility for appointment as a statutory auditor

- (1) An individual or firm is eligible for appointment as a statutory auditor if the individual or firm—
 - (a) is a member of a recognised supervisory body, and
 - (b) is eligible for appointment under the rules of that body.
- (2) In the cases to which section 1222 applies (individuals retaining only 1967 Act authorisation) a person's eligibility for appointment as a statutory auditor is restricted as mentioned in that section.

1213 Effect of ineligibility

- (1) No person may act as statutory auditor of an audited person if he is ineligible for appointment as a statutory auditor.
- (2) If at any time during his term of office a statutory auditor becomes ineligible for appointment as a statutory auditor, he must immediately—
 - (a) resign his office (with immediate effect), and
 - (b) give notice in writing to the audited person that he has resigned by reason of his becoming ineligible for appointment.
- (3) A person is guilty of an offence if—
 - (a) he acts as a statutory auditor in contravention of subsection (1), or
 - (b) he fails to give the notice mentioned in paragraph (b) of subsection (2) in accordance with that subsection.
- (4) A person guilty of an offence under subsection (3) is liable—
 - (a) on conviction on indictment, to a fine;
 - (b) on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum.
- (5) A person is guilty of an offence if—
 - (a) he has been convicted of an offence under subsection (3)(a) or this subsection, and
 - (b) he continues to act as a statutory auditor in contravention of subsection (1) after the conviction.
- (6) A person is guilty of an offence if—

- (a) he has been convicted of an offence under subsection (3)(b) or this subsection, and
 - (b) he continues, after the conviction, to fail to give the notice mentioned in subsection (2)(b).
- (7) A person guilty of an offence under subsection (5) or (6) is liable—
- (a) on conviction on indictment, to a fine;
 - (b) on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding [^{F1661}one-tenth of the statutory maximum][^{F1661}one-tenth of the greater of £5,000 or the amount corresponding to level 4 on the standard scale for summary offences] for each day on which the act or the failure continues.
- (8) In proceedings against a person for an offence under this section it is a defence for him to show that he did not know and had no reason to believe that he was, or had become, ineligible for appointment as a statutory auditor.

Textual Amendments

F1661 Words in s. 1213(7)(b) substituted (E.W.) (12.3.2015) by The Legal Aid, Sentencing and Punishment of Offenders Act 2012 \(Fines on Summary Conviction\) Regulations 2015 \(S.I. 2015/664\), reg. 1(1), Sch. 3 para. 9\(24\) (with reg. 5(1))

Independence requirement

1214 Independence requirement

- (1) A person may not act as statutory auditor of an audited person if one or more of subsections (2), (3) and (4) apply to him.
- (2) This subsection applies if the person is—
- (a) an officer or employee of the audited person, or
 - (b) a partner or employee of such a person, or a partnership of which such a person is a partner.
- (3) This subsection applies if the person is—
- (a) an officer or employee of an associated undertaking of the audited person, or
 - (b) a partner or employee of such a person, or a partnership of which such a person is a partner.
- (4) This subsection applies if there exists, between—
- (a) the person or an associate of his, and
 - (b) the audited person or an associated undertaking of the audited person,
- a connection of any such description as may be specified by regulations made by the Secretary of State.
- (5) An auditor of an audited person is not to be regarded as an officer or employee of the person for the purposes of subsections (2) and (3).
- (6) In this section “associated undertaking”, in relation to an audited person, means—
- (a) a parent undertaking or subsidiary undertaking of the audited person, or
 - (b) a subsidiary undertaking of a parent undertaking of the audited person.

1215 Effect of lack of independence

- (1) If at any time during his term of office a statutory auditor becomes prohibited from acting by section 1214(1), he must immediately—
- resign his office (with immediate effect), and
 - give notice in writing to the audited person that he has resigned by reason of his lack of independence.
- (2) A person is guilty of an offence if—
- he acts as a statutory auditor in contravention of section 1214(1), or
 - he fails to give the notice mentioned in paragraph (b) of subsection (1) in accordance with that subsection.
- (3) A person guilty of an offence under subsection (2) is liable—
- on conviction on indictment, to a fine;
 - on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum.
- (4) A person is guilty of an offence if—
- he has been convicted of an offence under subsection (2)(a) or this subsection, and
 - he continues to act as a statutory auditor in contravention of section 1214(1) after the conviction.
- (5) A person is guilty of an offence if—
- he has been convicted of an offence under subsection (2)(b) or this subsection, and
 - after the conviction, he continues to fail to give the notice mentioned in subsection (1)(b).
- (6) A person guilty of an offence under subsection (4) or (5) is liable—
- on conviction on indictment, to a fine;
 - on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding [^{F1662}one-tenth of the statutory maximum][^{F1662}one-tenth of the greater of £5,000 or the amount corresponding to level 4 on the standard scale for summary offences] for each day on which the act or the failure continues.

Effect of appointment of a partnership

1216 Effect of appointment of a partnership

- (1) This section applies where a partnership constituted under the law of—
- England and Wales,
 - Northern Ireland, or
 - any other country or territory in which a partnership is not a legal person, is by virtue of this Chapter appointed as statutory auditor of an audited person.
- (2) Unless a contrary intention appears, the appointment is an appointment of the partnership as such and not of the partners.
- (3) Where the partnership ceases, the appointment is to be treated as extending to—
- any appropriate partnership which succeeds to the practice of that partnership, or
 - any other appropriate person who succeeds to that practice having previously carried it on in partnership.
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (3)—
- a partnership is to be regarded as succeeding to the practice of another partnership only if the members of the successor partnership are substantially the same as those of the former partnership, and
 - a partnership or other person is to be regarded as succeeding to the practice of a partnership only if it or he succeeds to the whole or substantially the whole of the business of the former partnership.
- (5) Where the partnership ceases and the appointment is not treated under subsection (3) as extending to any partnership or other person, the appointment may with the consent of the audited person be treated as extending to an appropriate partnership, or other appropriate person, who succeeds to—
- the business of the former partnership, or
 - such part of it as is agreed by the audited person is to be treated as comprising the appointment.
- (6) For the purposes of this section, a partnership or other person is “appropriate” if it or he—
- is eligible for appointment as a statutory auditor by virtue of this Chapter, and
 - is not prohibited by section 1214(1) from acting as statutory auditor of the audited person.

Supervisory bodies

1217 Supervisory bodies

- (1) In this Part a “supervisory body” means a body established in the United Kingdom (whether a body corporate or an unincorporated association) which maintains and enforces rules as to—
- the eligibility of persons for appointment as a statutory auditor, and
 - the conduct of statutory audit work,
- which are binding on persons seeking appointment or acting as a statutory auditor^{F1663} . . . because they are members of that body^{F1663}

- have sought appointment or acted as a statutory auditor, and
 - have been members of the body at any time after the commencement of this Part.]
- (2) In this Part references to the members of a supervisory body are to the persons who, whether or not members of the body, are subject to its rules in seeking appointment or acting as a statutory auditor.
- (3) In this Part references to the rules of a supervisory body are to the rules (whether or not laid down by the body itself) which the body [^{F1668}or the competent authority] has power to enforce and which are relevant for the purposes of this Part.
- This includes rules relating to the admission or expulsion of members of the body, so far as relevant for the purposes of this Part.
- (4) Schedule 10 has effect with respect to the recognition of supervisory bodies for the purposes of this Part.

1220 Qualifying bodies and recognised professional qualifications

- (1) In this Part a “qualifying body” means a body established in the United Kingdom (whether a body corporate or an unincorporated association) which offers a professional qualification in accountancy.
- (2) In this Part references to the rules of a qualifying body are to the rules (whether or not laid down by the body itself) which the body has power to enforce and which are relevant for the purposes of this Part.

This includes, so far as so relevant, rules relating to—

- (a) admission to or expulsion from a course of study leading to a qualification,
 - (b) the award or deprivation of a qualification, or
 - (c) the approval of a person for the purposes of giving practical training or the withdrawal of such approval.
- (3) Schedule 11 has effect with respect to the recognition for the purposes of this Part of a professional qualification offered by a qualifying body.

1221 Approval of ^{F1678}third country qualifications

- (1) The Secretary of State may declare that the following are to be regarded for the purposes of this Chapter as holding an approved ^{F1678}third country qualification—
 - (a) persons who are qualified to audit accounts under the law of a specified ^{F1679}third country, or
 - (b) persons who hold a specified professional qualification in accountancy obtained in a specified ^{F1679}third country.

^{F1680}(1A) A declaration under subsection (1)(a) or (b) must contain provision to the effect that a person is not to be regarded as holding an approved third country qualification for the purposes of this Chapter unless the person—

- (a) already holds a professional qualification which covers all the subjects which are covered by a recognised professional qualification and which are subjects of which knowledge is essential for the pursuit of the profession of statutory auditor, or
- (b) holds a professional qualification which does not cover all those subjects and has met whichever of the requirements of subsection (1B) is specified in the declaration.

- (1B) The declaration must specify that the condition in subsection (1A)(b) is satisfied in one of the following ways—
- (a) only by passing an aptitude test in accordance with subsection (7A),
 - (b) only by completing an adaptation period in accordance with subsections (7C) and (7D), or
 - (c) either by passing an aptitude test in accordance with subsection (7A) or by completing an adaptation period in accordance with subsections (7C) and (7D), according to the choice of the person.]
- (2) A declaration under subsection (1)(b) may be expressed to be subject to the satisfaction of any specified requirement or requirements.
- (3) The Secretary of State may make a declaration under subsection (1) only if he is satisfied that—
- (a) in the case of a declaration under subsection (1)(a), the fact that the persons in question are qualified to audit accounts under the law of the specified third country, [^{F1681}taken with any requirement or requirements to be specified under subsection (1A),] or
 - (b) in the case of a declaration under subsection (1)(b), the specified professional qualification taken with any requirement or requirements to be specified under [^{F1682}subsections (1A) or (2)] ,
- affords an assurance of professional competence equivalent to that afforded by a recognised professional qualification.
- (4) The Secretary of State may make a declaration under subsection (1) only if he is satisfied that the treatment that the persons who are the subject of the declaration will receive as a result of it is comparable to the treatment which is, or is likely to be, afforded in the specified [^{F1679}third country] or a part of it to—
- (a) in the case of a declaration under subsection (1)(a), some or all persons who are eligible to be appointed as a statutory auditor, and
 - (b) in the case of a declaration under subsection (1)(b), some or all persons who hold a corresponding recognised professional qualification.
- (5) The Secretary of State may direct that persons holding an approved [^{F1678}third country] qualification are not to be treated as holding an appropriate qualification for the purposes of this Chapter unless they hold such additional educational qualifications as the Secretary of State may specify for the purpose of ensuring that such persons have an adequate knowledge of the law and practice in the United Kingdom relevant to the audit of accounts.
- (6) The Secretary of State may give different directions in relation to different approved [^{F1678}third country] qualifications.
- (7) The Secretary of State may, if he thinks fit, having regard to the considerations mentioned in subsections (3) and (4), withdraw a declaration under subsection (1) in relation to—
- (a) persons becoming qualified to audit accounts under the law of the specified [^{F1679}third country] after such date as he may specify, or
 - (b) persons obtaining the specified professional qualification after such date as he may specify.
- ^{F1683}(7A) An aptitude test required for the purposes of subsection [^{F1684}(1B)] —
- (a) must test the person's knowledge of subjects—

- (i) that are covered by a recognised professional qualification,
 - (ii) that are not covered by the professional qualification already held by the person, and
 - (iii) the knowledge of which is essential for the pursuit of the profession of statutory auditor;
- (b) may test the person's knowledge of rules of professional conduct;
 - (c) must not test the person's knowledge of any other matters.
- ^{F1685}(7B)]
- [^{F1686}(7C) An adaptation period is a period, not exceeding three years, in which the person (“the applicant”) pursues the profession of statutory auditor under the supervision of another person who holds an appropriate qualification, subject to an assessment (“the ability assessment”) of the applicant’s ability to pursue the profession of statutory auditor in the United Kingdom.
- (7D) The adaptation period must be completed, and the ability assessment must be carried out, in accordance with the rules and practices of a recognised supervisory body (see paragraph 7A of Schedule 10).]

1225B Directions: supplementary

- (1) Before giving a direction to a body under section 1225A, the Secretary of State must give the body a notice (a “notice of proposed direction”) accompanied by a copy of the proposed direction.
- (2) A notice of proposed direction must—
 - (a) state that the Secretary of State proposes to give the body a direction in the form of the accompanying draft,
 - (b) identify the requirement or obligation in question and state why it appears to the Secretary of State that the requirement is not satisfied or the obligation has not been complied with,
 - (c) specify a period within which the body may make written representations with respect to the proposal.
- (3) The period specified under subsection (2)(c)—
 - (a) must begin with the date on which the notice of proposed direction is given to the body, and
 - (b) must not be less than 14 days.
- (4) Written representations made by the body within the period specified under subsection (2)(c) must be considered by the Secretary of State.
- (5) After considering any such representations or, in their absence, on the expiry of the period specified under subsection (2)(c), the Secretary of State must decide whether to give the body the proposed direction.
- (6) The Secretary of State must give notice of the decision (a “direction decision notice”) to the body.
- (7) Where the Secretary of State decides to give the proposed direction, the direction decision notice must—
 - (a) contain the direction,
 - (b) state the time at which the direction is to take effect, and

 - (b) must not be less than 21 days.
- (3) Written representations made by the body before the end of the period specified under subsection (1)(c) must be considered by the Secretary of State.
- (4) After considering any such representations or, in their absence, on the expiry of the period specified under subsection (1)(c), the Secretary of State must decide—
- (a) whether to impose a penalty, and
 - (b) where the Secretary of State decides to do so, whether to reduce the proposed amount of the penalty.
- (5) The Secretary of State must give notice of the decision (a “penalty decision notice”) to the body.
- (6) Where the Secretary of State decides to impose a penalty, the penalty decision notice must—
- (a) state that the Secretary of State has imposed a penalty on the body and its amount,
 - (b) identify the requirement or obligation in question and state—
 - (i) why it appears to the Secretary of State that the requirement is not satisfied or the obligation has not been complied with, or
 - (ii) where, by that time, the requirement is satisfied or the obligation has been complied with, why it appeared to the Secretary of State when giving the notice of proposed penalty that the requirement was not satisfied or the obligation had not been complied with, and
 - (c) specify a time by which the penalty is required to be paid.

1225F Appeals against financial penalties

- (1) A body on which a penalty is imposed may appeal to the court on one or more of the appeal grounds.
- (2) The appeal grounds are—
 - (a) that, before the giving of the notice under section 1225E(1), the requirement in respect of which the penalty was imposed was satisfied or the obligation in respect of which the penalty was imposed had been complied with;
 - (b) that, where the penalty was imposed in respect of a failure to comply with a direction under section 1225A, before the giving of the notice under section 1225B(6), the requirement in respect of which the direction was given was satisfied or the obligation in respect of which the direction was given had been complied with;
 - (c) that any of the requirements of section 1225E have not been complied with in relation to the imposition of the penalty and the interests of the body have been substantially prejudiced by the non-compliance;
 - (d) that the amount of the penalty is unreasonable;
 - (e) that it was unreasonable of the Secretary of State to require the penalty imposed to be paid by the time specified in the notice under section 1225E(5).
- (3) An appeal under subsection (1) must be made within the period of 3 months beginning with the day on which the notice under section 1225E(5) is given to the body in respect of the penalty.
- (4) On any such appeal, where the court considers it appropriate to do so in all the circumstances of the case and is satisfied of one or more of the appeal grounds, the court may—
 - (a) quash the penalty,
 - (b) substitute a penalty of such lesser amount as the court considers appropriate, or

- (c) in the case of the appeal ground in subsection (2)(e), substitute a later time for the time specified in the notice under section 1225E(5).
- (5) Where the court substitutes a penalty of a lesser amount, it may require the payment of interest on the substituted penalty, accruing from the time specified in the notice under section 1225E(5) or such later time as the court considers just and equitable.
- (6) Where the court substitutes a later time for the time specified in the notice under section 1225E(5), it may require the payment of interest on the penalty, accruing from the substituted time or such later time as the court considers just and equitable.
- (7) Where the court dismisses the appeal, it may require the payment of interest on the penalty, accruing from the time specified in the notice under section 1225E(5).
- (8) Where the court requires the payment of interest under this section, the interest is payable at such rate as the court considers just and equitable.
- (9) Except as provided by this section, the validity of a penalty is not to be questioned by any legal proceedings whatever.
- (10) In this section “ the court ” means the High Court or, in Scotland, the Court of Session.

1225G Recovery of financial penalties

- (1) If the whole or any part of a penalty is not paid by the time by which it is required to be paid, the unpaid balance from time to time carries interest at the rate for the time being specified in section 17 of the Judgments Act 1838 (c 110) (unless a different rate is specified by the court under section 1225F(8)).
- (2) If an appeal is made under section 1225F in relation to a penalty, the penalty is not required to be paid until the appeal has been determined or withdrawn.
- (3) Subsection (2) does not prevent the court from specifying that interest is to accrue from an earlier date under section 1225F.
- (4) Where a penalty, or any portion of it, has not been paid by the time when it is required to be paid and—
 - (a) no appeal relating to the penalty has been made under section 1225F during the period within which such an appeal can be made, or
 - (b) an appeal has been made under that section and has been determined or withdrawn,the Secretary of State may recover from the body, as a debt due to the Secretary of State, any of the penalty and any interest which has not been paid.]

CHAPTER 3

AUDITORS GENERAL

Eligibility for appointment

1226 Auditors General: eligibility for appointment as a statutory auditor

- (1) In this Part “Auditor General” means—
 - (a) the Comptroller and Auditor General,
 - (b) the Auditor General for Scotland,
 - (c) the Auditor General for Wales, or
 - (d) the Comptroller and Auditor General for Northern Ireland.
- (2) An Auditor General is eligible for appointment as a statutory auditor.
- (3) Subsection (2) is subject to any suspension notice having effect under section 1234 (notices suspending eligibility for appointment as a statutory auditor).

Conduct of audits

1227 Individuals responsible for audit work on behalf of Auditors General

An Auditor General must secure that each individual responsible for statutory audit work on behalf of that Auditor General is eligible for appointment as a statutory auditor by virtue of Chapter 2.

The Independent Supervisor

1228 Appointment of the Independent Supervisor

- (1) The Secretary of State must appoint a body (“the Independent Supervisor”) to discharge the function mentioned in section 1229(1) (“the supervision function”).
- (2) An appointment under this section must be made by order.
- (3) The order has the effect of making the body appointed under subsection (1) designated under section 5 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (c. 36) (further powers to designate public authorities).
- (4) A body may be appointed under this section only if it is a body corporate or an unincorporated association which appears to the Secretary of State—
 - (a) to be willing and able to discharge the supervision function, and
 - (b) to have arrangements in place relating to the discharge of that function which are such as to be likely to ensure that the conditions in subsection (5) are met.
- (5) The conditions are—
 - (a) that the supervision function will be exercised effectively, and
 - (b) where the order is to contain any requirements or other provisions specified under subsection (6), that that function will be exercised in accordance with any such requirements or provisions.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.
Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (6) An order under this section may contain such requirements or other provisions relating to the exercise of the supervision function by the Independent Supervisor as appear to the Secretary of State to be appropriate.
- (7) An order under this section is subject to negative resolution procedure.

Supervision of Auditors General

1229 Supervision of Auditors General by the Independent Supervisor

- (1) The Independent Supervisor must supervise the performance by each Auditor General of his functions as a statutory auditor.
- [^{F1707}(2) The Independent Supervisor must discharge that duty by—
 - (a) establishing supervision arrangements itself, or
 - (b) entering into supervision arrangements with one or more [^{F1708}recognised supervisory bodies].
- (2A) If the Independent Supervisor enters into supervision arrangements with one or more bodies, it must oversee the effective operation of those supervision arrangements.]
- (3) For this purpose “supervision arrangements” are arrangements [^{F1709}established by the Independent Supervisor or] entered into by the Independent Supervisor with a body, for the purposes of this section, in accordance with which [^{F1710}the Independent Supervisor or] the body does ^{F1711} . . . the following—
 - (a) determines standards relating to professional integrity and independence which must be applied by an Auditor General in statutory audit work;
 - (b) determines technical standards which must be applied by an Auditor General in statutory audit work and the manner in which those standards are to be applied in practice;
 - (c) monitors the performance of statutory audits carried out by an Auditor General;
 - (d) investigates any matter arising from the performance by an Auditor General of a statutory audit;
 - (e) holds disciplinary hearings in respect of an Auditor General which appear to be desirable following the conclusion of such investigations;
 - (f) decides whether (and, if so, what) disciplinary action should be taken against an Auditor General to whom such a hearing related.
- [^{F1712}(3A) The requirements of [^{F1713}paragraphs 9 to 10C and 12 to 16] of Schedule 10 (requirements for recognition of a supervisory body) apply in relation to supervision arrangements as they apply in relation to the rules, practices and arrangements of supervisory bodies.]

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (4) The Independent Supervisor may enter into supervision arrangements with a body despite any relationship that may exist between the Independent Supervisor and that body.
- (5) The Independent Supervisor must notify each Auditor General in writing of any supervision arrangements that it [^{F1714}establishes or] enters into under this section.
- [^{F1715}(5A) The Independent Supervisor must, at least once in every calendar year, deliver to the Secretary of State a summary of the results of any inspections conducted for the purposes of subsection (3)(c).]
- (6) Supervision arrangements within subsection (3)(f) may, in particular, provide for the payment by an Auditor General of a fine to any person [^{F1716}or, in the case of the Auditor General for Wales, for payment by the Wales Audit Office of such a fine].
- (7) Any fine received by the Independent Supervisor under supervision arrangements is to be paid into the Consolidated Fund.

Information

1232 Matters to be notified to the Independent Supervisor

- (1) The Independent Supervisor may require an Auditor General—
 - (a) to notify the Independent Supervisor immediately of the occurrence of such events as it may specify in writing and to give it such information in respect of those events as is so specified;
 - (b) to give the Independent Supervisor, at such times or in respect of such periods as it may specify in writing, such information as is so specified.
- (2) The notices and information required to be given must be such as the Independent Supervisor may reasonably require for the exercise of the functions conferred on it by or by virtue of this Part.
- (3) The Independent Supervisor may require information given under this section to be given in a specified form or verified in a specified manner.
- (4) Any notice or information required to be given under this section must be given in writing unless the Independent Supervisor specifies or approves some other manner.

1233 The Independent Supervisor's power to call for information

- (1) The Independent Supervisor may by notice in writing require an Auditor General to give it such information as it may reasonably require for the exercise of the functions conferred on it by or by virtue of this Part.
- (2) The Independent Supervisor may require that any information which it requires under this section is to be given within such reasonable time and verified in such manner as it may specify.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.
Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

Enforcement

1234 Suspension notices

- (1) The Independent Supervisor may issue—
 - (a) a notice (a “suspension notice”) suspending an Auditor General's eligibility for appointment as a statutory auditor in relation to all persons, or any specified person or persons, indefinitely or until a date specified in the notice;
 - (b) a notice amending or revoking a suspension notice previously issued to an Auditor General.
- (2) In determining whether it is appropriate to issue a notice under subsection (1), the Independent Supervisor must have regard to—
 - (a) the Auditor General's performance of the obligations imposed on him by or by virtue of this Part, and
 - (b) the Auditor General's performance of his functions as a statutory auditor.
- (3) A notice under subsection (1) must—
 - (a) be in writing, and
 - (b) state the date on which it takes effect (which must be after the period of three months beginning with the date on which it is issued).
- (4) Before issuing a notice under subsection (1), the Independent Supervisor must—
 - (a) give written notice of its intention to do so to the Auditor General, and
 - (b) publish the notice mentioned in paragraph (a) in such manner as it thinks appropriate for bringing it to the attention of any other persons who are likely to be affected.
- (5) A notice under subsection (4) must—
 - (a) state the reasons for which the Independent Supervisor proposes to act, and
 - (b) give particulars of the rights conferred by subsection (6).
- (6) A person within subsection (7) may, within the period of three months beginning with the date of service or publication of the notice under subsection (4) or such longer period as the Independent Supervisor may allow, make written representations to the Independent Supervisor and, if desired, oral representations to a person appointed for that purpose by the Independent Supervisor.
- (7) The persons within this subsection are—
 - (a) the Auditor General, and
 - (b) any other person who appears to the Independent Supervisor to be affected.
- (8) The Independent Supervisor must have regard to any representations made in accordance with subsection (6) in determining—
 - (a) whether to issue a notice under subsection (1), and
 - (b) the terms of any such notice.
- (9) If in any case the Independent Supervisor considers it appropriate to do so in the public interest it may issue a notice under subsection (1), without regard to the restriction in subsection (3)(b), even if—
 - (a) no notice has been given or published under subsection (4), or
 - (b) the period of time for making representations in pursuance of such a notice has not expired.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (10) On issuing a notice under subsection (1), the Independent Supervisor must—
 - (a) give a copy of the notice to the Auditor General, and
 - (b) publish the notice in such manner as it thinks appropriate for bringing it to the attention of persons likely to be affected.
- (11) In this section “specified” means specified in, or of a description specified in, the suspension notice in question.

1235 Effect of suspension notices

- (1) An Auditor General must not act as a statutory auditor at any time when a suspension notice issued to him in respect of the audited person has effect.
- (2) If at any time during an Auditor General's term of office as a statutory auditor a suspension notice issued to him in respect of the audited person takes effect, he must immediately—
 - (a) resign his office (with immediate effect), and
 - (b) give notice in writing to the audited person that he has resigned by reason of his becoming ineligible for appointment.
- (3) A suspension notice does not make an Auditor General ineligible for appointment as a statutory auditor for the purposes of section 1213 (effect of ineligibility: criminal offences).

1236 Compliance orders

- (1) If at any time it appears to the Independent Supervisor that an Auditor General has failed to comply with an obligation imposed on him by or by virtue of this Part, the Independent Supervisor may make an application to the court under this section.
- (2) If on an application under this section the court decides that the Auditor General has failed to comply with the obligation in question, it may order the Auditor General to take such steps as the court directs for securing that the obligation is complied with.
- (3) In this section “the court” means the High Court or, in Scotland, the Court of Session.

Proceedings

1237 Proceedings involving the Independent Supervisor

- (1) If the Independent Supervisor is an unincorporated association, any relevant proceedings may be brought by or against it in the name of any body corporate whose constitution provides for the establishment of the body.
- (2) For this purpose “relevant proceedings” means proceedings brought in or in connection with the exercise of any function by the body as the Independent Supervisor.
- (3) Where an appointment under section 1228 is revoked, the revoking order may make such provision as the Secretary of State thinks fit with respect to pending proceedings.

Information

1243 Matters to be notified to the Secretary of State

- (1) The Secretary of State may require a registered third country auditor—
 - (a) to notify him immediately of the occurrence of such events as he may specify in writing and to give him such information in respect of those events as is so specified;
 - (b) to give him, at such times or in respect of such periods as he may specify in writing, such information as is so specified.
- (2) The notices and information required to be given must be such as the Secretary of State may reasonably require for the exercise of his functions under this Part.
- (3) The Secretary of State may require information given under this section to be given in a specified form or verified in a specified manner.
- (4) Any notice or information required to be given under this section must be given in writing unless the Secretary of State specifies or approves some other manner.

1244 The Secretary of State's power to call for information

- (1) The Secretary of State may by notice in writing require a registered third country auditor to give him such information as he may reasonably require for the exercise of his functions under this Part.
- (2) The Secretary of State may require that any information which he requires under this section is to be given within such reasonable time and verified in such manner as he may specify.

Enforcement

1245 Compliance orders

- (1) If at any time it appears to the Secretary of State that a registered third country auditor has failed to comply with an obligation imposed on him by or by virtue of this Part, the Secretary of State may make an application to the court under this section.
- (2) If on an application under this section the court decides that the auditor has failed to comply with the obligation in question, it may order the auditor to take such steps as the court directs for securing that the obligation is complied with.
- (3) In this section “the court” means the High Court or, in Scotland, the Court of Session.

1246 Removal of third country auditors from the register of auditors

- (1) The Secretary of State may, by regulations, confer on the person keeping the register in accordance with regulations under section 1239(1) power to remove a third country auditor from the register.
- (2) Regulations under this section must require the person keeping the register, in determining whether to remove a third country auditor from the register, to have regard to the auditor's compliance with obligations imposed on him by or by virtue of this Part.

CHAPTER 6

SUPPLEMENTARY AND GENERAL

Power to require second company audit

1248 Secretary of State's power to require second audit of a company

- (1) This section applies where a person appointed as statutory auditor of a company was not an appropriate person for any part of the period during which the audit was conducted.
- (2) The Secretary of State may direct the company concerned to retain an appropriate person—
 - (a) to conduct a second audit of the relevant accounts, or
 - (b) to review the first audit and to report (giving his reasons) whether a second audit is needed.
- (3) For the purposes of subsections (1) and (2) a person is “appropriate” if he—
 - (a) is eligible for appointment as a statutory auditor or, if the person is an Auditor General, for appointment as statutory auditor of the company, and
 - (b) is not prohibited by section 1214(1) (independence requirement) from acting as statutory auditor of the company.
- (4) The Secretary of State must send a copy of a direction under subsection (2) to the registrar of companies.
- (5) The company is guilty of an offence if—

- (a) it fails to comply with a direction under subsection (2) within the period of 21 days beginning with the date on which it is given, or
 - (b) it has been convicted of a previous offence under this subsection and the failure to comply with the direction which led to the conviction continues after the conviction.
- (6) The company must—
- (a) send a copy of a report under subsection (2)(b) to the registrar of companies, and
 - (b) if the report states that a second audit is needed, take such steps as are necessary for the carrying out of that audit.
- (7) The company is guilty of an offence if—
- (a) it fails to send a copy of a report under subsection (2)(b) to the registrar within the period of 21 days beginning with the date on which it receives it,
 - (b) in a case within subsection (6)(b), it fails to take the steps mentioned immediately it receives the report, or
 - (c) it has been convicted of a previous offence under this subsection and the failure to send a copy of the report, or take the steps, which led to the conviction continues after the conviction.
- (8) A company guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction—
- (a) in a case within subsection (5)(a) or (7)(a) or (b), to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale, and
 - (b) in a case within subsection (5)(b) or (7)(c), to a fine not exceeding [^{F1751}one-tenth of level 5 on the standard scale][^{F1751}one-tenth of the greater of £5,000 or level 4 on the standard scale] for each day on which the failure continues.
- (9) In this section “registrar of companies” has the meaning given by section 1060.

1257 Jurisdiction and procedure in respect of offences

- (1) Summary proceedings for an offence under this Part may, without prejudice to any jurisdiction exercisable apart from this section, be taken—
 - (a) against a body corporate or unincorporated association at any place at which it has a place of business, and
 - (b) against an individual at any place where he is for the time being.
- (2) Proceedings for an offence alleged to have been committed under this Part by an unincorporated association must be brought in the name of the association (and not in that of any of its members), and for the purposes of any such proceedings any rules of court relating to the service of documents apply as in relation to a body corporate.
- (3) Section 33 of the Criminal Justice Act 1925 (c. 86) and Schedule 3 to the Magistrates' Courts Act 1980 (c. 43) (procedure on charge of offence against a corporation) apply in a case in which an unincorporated association is charged in England and Wales with an offence under this Part as they apply in the case of a corporation.
- (4) Section 18 of the Criminal Justice Act (Northern Ireland) 1945 (c. 15 (N.I.)) and Article 166 and Schedule 4 to the Magistrates' Courts (Northern Ireland) Order 1981 (S.I. 1981/1675 (N.I. 26)) (procedure on charge of offence against a corporation) apply in a case in which an unincorporated association is charged in Northern Ireland with an offence under this Part as they apply in the case of a corporation.
- (5) In relation to proceedings on indictment in Scotland for an offence alleged to have been committed under this Part by an unincorporated association, section 70 of the Criminal Procedure (Scotland) Act 1995 (proceedings on indictment against bodies corporate) applies as if the association were a body corporate.
- (6) A fine imposed on an unincorporated association on its conviction of such an offence must be paid out of the funds of the association.

Notices etc

1258 Service of notices

- (1) This section has effect in relation to any notice, direction or other document required or authorised by or by virtue of this Part to be given to or served on any person other than the Secretary of State.
- (2) Any such document may be given to or served on the person in question—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. - (a) by delivering it to him,
 - (b) by leaving it at his proper address, or
 - (c) by sending it by post to him at that address.
- (3) Any such document may—
- (a) in the case of a body corporate, be given to or served on an officer of that body;
 - (b) in the case of a partnership, be given to or served on any partner;
 - (c) in the case of an unincorporated association other than a partnership, be given to or served on any member of the governing body of that association.
- (4) For the purposes of this section and section 7 of the Interpretation Act 1978 (c. 30) (service of documents by post) in its application to this section, the proper address of any person is his last known address (whether of his residence or of a place where he carries on business or is employed) and also—
- (a) in the case of a person who is eligible under the rules of a recognised supervisory body for appointment as a statutory auditor and who does not have a place of business in the United Kingdom, the address of that body;
 - (b) in the case of a body corporate or an officer of that body, the address of the registered or principal office of that body in the United Kingdom;
 - (c) in the case of an unincorporated association other than a partnership or a member of its governing body, its principal office in the United Kingdom.

1259 Documents in electronic form

- (1) This section applies where—
- (a) section 1258 authorises the giving or sending of a notice, direction or other document by its delivery to a particular person (“the recipient”), and
 - (b) the notice, direction or other document is transmitted to the recipient—
 - (i) by means of an electronic communications network, or
 - (ii) by other means but in a form that requires the use of apparatus by the recipient to render it intelligible.
- (2) The transmission has effect for the purposes of this Part as a delivery of the notice, direction or other document to the recipient, but only if the recipient has indicated to the person making the transmission his willingness to receive the notice, direction or other document in the form and manner used.
- (3) An indication to a person for the purposes of subsection (2)—
- (a) must be given to the person in such manner as he may require,
 - (b) may be a general indication or an indication that is limited to notices, directions or other documents of a particular description,
 - (c) must state the address to be used,
 - (d) must be accompanied by such other information as the person requires for the making of the transmission, and
 - (e) may be modified or withdrawn at any time by a notice given to the person in such manner as he may require.
- (4) In this section “electronic communications network” has the same meaning as in the Communications Act 2003 (c. 21).

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.
Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. PART 43

TRANSPARENCY OBLIGATIONS AND RELATED MATTERS

Introductory

1265 The transparency obligations directive

In Part 6 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (c. 8) (which makes provision about official listing, prospectus requirements for transferable securities, etc), in section 103(1) (interpretation), at the appropriate place insert—

““the transparency obligations directive” means Directive 2004/109/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council relating to the harmonisation of transparency requirements in relation to information about issuers whose securities are admitted to trading on a regulated market;”.

Transparency obligations

1266 Transparency rules

(1) After section 89 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 insert—

“Transparency obligations

89A Transparency rules

- (1) The competent authority may make rules for the purposes of the transparency obligations directive.
- (2) The rules may include provision for dealing with any matters arising out of or related to any provision of the transparency obligations directive.
- (3) The competent authority may also make rules—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) for the purpose of ensuring that voteholder information in respect of voting shares traded on a UK market other than a regulated market is made public or notified to the competent authority;
 - (b) providing for persons who hold comparable instruments (see section 89F(1)(c)) in respect of voting shares to be treated, in the circumstances specified in the rules, as holding some or all of the voting rights in respect of those shares.
- (4) Rules under this section may, in particular, make provision—
- (a) specifying how the proportion of—
 - (i) the total voting rights in respect of shares in an issuer, or
 - (ii) the total voting rights in respect of a particular class of shares in an issuer, held by a person is to be determined;
 - (b) specifying the circumstances in which, for the purposes of any determination of the voting rights held by a person (“P”) in respect of voting shares in an issuer, any voting rights held, or treated by virtue of subsection (3)(b) as held, by another person in respect of voting shares in the issuer are to be regarded as held by P;
 - (c) specifying the nature of the information which must be included in any notification;
 - (d) about the form of any notification;
 - (e) requiring any notification to be given within a specified period;
 - (f) specifying the manner in which any information is to be made public and the period within which it must be made public;
 - (g) specifying circumstances in which any of the requirements imposed by rules under this section does not apply.
- (5) Rules under this section are referred to in this Part as “transparency rules”.
- (6) Nothing in sections 89B to 89G affects the generality of the power to make rules under this section.

89B Provision of voteholder information

- (1) Transparency rules may make provision for voteholder information in respect of voting shares to be notified, in circumstances specified in the rules—
 - (a) to the issuer, or
 - (b) to the public,
 or to both.
- (2) Transparency rules may make provision for voteholder information notified to the issuer to be notified at the same time to the competent authority.
- (3) In this Part “voteholder information” in respect of voting shares means information relating to the proportion of voting rights held by a person in respect of the shares.
- (4) Transparency rules may require notification of voteholder information relating to a person—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) initially, not later than such date as may be specified in the rules for the purposes of the first indent of Article 30.2 of the transparency obligations directive, and
 - (b) subsequently, in accordance with the following provisions.
- (5) Transparency rules under subsection (4)(b) may require notification of voteholder information relating to a person only where there is a notifiable change in the proportion of—
 - (a) the total voting rights in respect of shares in the issuer, or
 - (b) the total voting rights in respect of a particular class of share in the issuer,held by the person.
- (6) For this purpose there is a “notifiable change” in the proportion of voting rights held by a person when the proportion changes—
 - (a) from being a proportion less than a designated proportion to a proportion equal to or greater than that designated proportion,
 - (b) from being a proportion equal to a designated proportion to a proportion greater or less than that designated proportion, or
 - (c) from being a proportion greater than a designated proportion to a proportion equal to or less than that designated proportion.
- (7) In subsection (6) “designated” means designated by the rules.

89C Provision of information by issuers of transferable securities

- (1) Transparency rules may make provision requiring the issuer of transferable securities, in circumstances specified in the rules—
 - (a) to make public information to which this section applies, or
 - (b) to notify to the competent authority information to which this section applies,or to do both.
- (2) In the case of every issuer, this section applies to—
 - (a) information required by Article 4 of the transparency obligations directive;
 - (b) information relating to the rights attached to the transferable securities, including information about the terms and conditions of those securities which could indirectly affect those rights; and
 - (c) information about new loan issues and about any guarantee or security in connection with any such issue.
- (3) In the case of an issuer of debt securities, this section also applies to information required by Article 5 of the transparency obligations directive.
- (4) In the case of an issuer of shares, this section also applies to—
 - (a) information required by Article 5 of the transparency obligations directive;
 - (b) information required by Article 6 of that directive;
 - (c) voteholder information—
 - (i) notified to the issuer, or

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (ii) relating to the proportion of voting rights held by the issuer in respect of shares in the issuer;
- (d) information relating to the issuer's capital; and
- (e) information relating to the total number of voting rights in respect of shares or shares of a particular class.

89D Notification of voting rights held by issuer

- (1) Transparency rules may require notification of voteholder information relating to the proportion of voting rights held by an issuer in respect of voting shares in the issuer—
 - (a) initially, not later than such date as may be specified in the rules for the purposes of the second indent of Article 30.2 of the transparency obligations directive, and
 - (b) subsequently, in accordance with the following provisions.
- (2) Transparency rules under subsection (1)(b) may require notification of voteholder information relating to the proportion of voting rights held by an issuer in respect of voting shares in the issuer only where there is a notifiable change in the proportion of—
 - (a) the total voting rights in respect of shares in the issuer, or
 - (b) the total voting rights in respect of a particular class of share in the issuer, held by the issuer.
- (3) For this purpose there is a “notifiable change” in the proportion of voting rights held by a person when the proportion changes—
 - (a) from being a proportion less than a designated proportion to a proportion equal to or greater than that designated proportion,
 - (b) from being a proportion equal to a designated proportion to a proportion greater or less than that designated proportion, or
 - (c) from being a proportion greater than a designated proportion to a proportion equal to or less than that designated proportion.
- (4) In subsection (3) “designated” means designated by the rules.

89E Notification of proposed amendment of issuer's constitution

Transparency rules may make provision requiring an issuer of transferable securities that are admitted to trading on a regulated market to notify a proposed amendment to its constitution—

- (a) to the competent authority, and
 - (b) to the market on which the issuer's securities are admitted,
- at times and in circumstances specified in the rules.

89F Transparency rules: interpretation etc

- (1) For the purposes of sections 89A to 89G—
 - (a) the voting rights in respect of any voting shares are the voting rights attached to those shares,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) a person is to be regarded as holding the voting rights in respect of the shares—
 - (i) if, by virtue of those shares, he is a shareholder within the meaning of Article 2.1(e) of the transparency obligations directive;
 - (ii) if, and to the extent that, he is entitled to acquire, dispose of or exercise those voting rights in one or more of the cases mentioned in Article 10(a) to (h) of the transparency obligations directive;
 - (iii) if he holds, directly or indirectly, a financial instrument which results in an entitlement to acquire the shares and is an Article 13 instrument, and
 - (c) a person holds a “comparable instrument” in respect of voting shares if he holds, directly or indirectly, a financial instrument in relation to the shares which has similar economic effects to an Article 13 instrument (whether or not the financial instrument results in an entitlement to acquire the shares).
- (2) Transparency rules under section 89A(3)(b) may make different provision for different descriptions of comparable instrument.
 - (3) For the purposes of sections 89A to 89G two or more persons may, at the same time, each be regarded as holding the same voting rights.
 - (4) In those sections—
 - “Article 13 instrument” means a financial instrument of a type determined by the European Commission under Article 13.2 of the transparency obligations directive;
 - “UK market” means a market that is situated or operating in the United Kingdom;
 - “voting shares” means shares of an issuer to which voting rights are attached.

89G Transparency rules: other supplementary provisions

- (1) Transparency rules may impose the same obligations on a person who has applied for the admission of transferable securities to trading on a regulated market without the issuer's consent as they impose on an issuer of transferable securities.
- (2) Transparency rules that require a person to make information public may include provision authorising the competent authority to make the information public in the event that the person fails to do so.
- (3) The competent authority may make public any information notified to the authority in accordance with transparency rules.
- (4) Transparency rules may make provision by reference to any provision of any rules made by the Panel on Takeovers and Mergers under Part 28 of the Companies Act 2006.
- (5) Sections 89A to 89F and this section are without prejudice to any other power conferred by this Part to make Part 6 rules.”.

- (3) The issuer of securities to which this section applies is liable to pay compensation to a person who has—
 - (a) acquired such securities issued by it, and
 - (b) suffered loss in respect of them as a result of—
 - (i) any untrue or misleading statement in a publication to which this section applies, or
 - (ii) the omission from any such publication of any matter required to be included in it.
- (4) The issuer is so liable only if a person discharging managerial responsibilities within the issuer in relation to the publication—
 - (a) knew the statement to be untrue or misleading or was reckless as to whether it was untrue or misleading, or
 - (b) knew the omission to be dishonest concealment of a material fact.
- (5) A loss is not regarded as suffered as a result of the statement or omission in the publication unless the person suffering it acquired the relevant securities—
 - (a) in reliance on the information in the publication, and
 - (b) at a time when, and in circumstances in which, it was reasonable for him to rely on that information.
- (6) Except as mentioned in subsection (8)—
 - (a) the issuer is not subject to any other liability than that provided for by this section in respect of loss suffered as a result of reliance by any person on—
 - (i) an untrue or misleading statement in a publication to which this section applies, or
 - (ii) the omission from any such publication of any matter required to be included in it, and
 - (b) a person other than the issuer is not subject to any liability, other than to the issuer, in respect of any such loss.
- (7) Any reference in subsection (6) to a person being subject to a liability includes a reference to another person being entitled as against him to be granted any civil remedy or to rescind or repudiate an agreement.
- (8) This section does not affect—
 - (a) the powers conferred by section 382 and 384 (powers of the court to make a restitution order and of the Authority to require restitution);
 - (b) liability for a civil penalty;
 - (c) liability for a criminal offence.
- (9) For the purposes of this section—
 - (a) the following are persons “discharging managerial responsibilities” in relation to a publication—
 - (i) any director of the issuer (or person occupying the position of director, by whatever name called),
 - (ii) in the case of an issuer whose affairs are managed by its members, any member of the issuer,

- (iii) in the case of an issuer that has no persons within sub-paragraph (i) or (ii), any senior executive of the issuer having responsibilities in relation to the publication;
- (b) references to the acquisition by a person of securities include his contracting to acquire them or any interest in them.

90B Power to make further provision about liability for published information

- (1) The Treasury may by regulations make provision about the liability of issuers of securities traded on a regulated market, and other persons, in respect of information published to holders of securities, to the market or to the public generally.
- (2) Regulations under this section may amend any primary or subordinate legislation, including any provision of, or made under, this Act.”.

1271 Exercise of powers where UK is host member State

In Part 6 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (c. 8), after section 100 insert—

“100A Exercise of powers where UK is host member state

- (1) This section applies to the exercise by the competent authority of any power under this Part exercisable in case of infringement of—
 - (a) a provision of prospectus rules or any other provision made in accordance with the prospectus directive, or
 - (b) a provision of transparency rules or any other provision made in accordance with the transparency obligations directive,in relation to an issuer whose home State is a member State other than the United Kingdom.
- (2) The competent authority may act in such a case only in respect of the infringement of a provision required by the relevant directive.
Any reference to an applicable provision or applicable transparency obligation shall be read accordingly.
- (3) If the authority finds that there has been such an infringement, it must give a notice to that effect to the competent authority of the person's home State requesting it—
 - (a) to take all appropriate measures for the purpose of ensuring that the person remedies the situation that has given rise to the notice, and
 - (b) to inform the authority of the measures it proposes to take or has taken or the reasons for not taking such measures.
- (4) The authority may not act further unless satisfied—
 - (a) that the competent authority of the person's home State has failed or refused to take measures for the purpose mentioned in subsection (3) (a), or

- (b) that the measures taken by that authority have proved inadequate for that purpose.

This does not affect exercise of the powers under section 87K(2), 87L(2) or (3) or 89L(2) or (3) (powers to protect market).

- (5) If the authority is so satisfied, it must, after informing the competent authority of the person's home State, take all appropriate measures to protect investors.
- (6) In such a case the authority must inform the Commission of the measures at the earliest opportunity.”.

1272 Transparency obligations and related matters: minor and consequential amendments

- (1) Schedule 15 to this Act makes minor and consequential amendments in connection with the provision made by this Part.
- (2) In that Schedule—
- Part 1 contains amendments of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (c. 8);
- Part 2 contains amendments of the Companies (Audit, Investigations and Community Enterprise) Act 2004 (c. 27).

1280 Obligations with respect to provision of information

- (1) Regulations under section 1277 may require the provision of specified information about—
 - (a) the exercise or non-exercise of voting rights by the institution or any person acting on its behalf,
 - (b) any instructions given by the institution or any person acting on its behalf as to the exercise or non-exercise of voting rights, and
 - (c) any delegation by the institution or any person acting on its behalf of any functions in relation to the exercise or non-exercise of voting rights or the giving of such instructions.
- (2) The regulations may require information to be provided in respect of specified occasions or specified periods.
- (3) Where instructions are given to act on the recommendations or advice of another person, the regulations may require the provision of information about what recommendations or advice were given.
- (4) The regulations may require information to be provided—
 - (a) in such manner as may be specified, and
 - (b) to such persons as may be specified, or to the public, or both.
- (5) The regulations may provide—
 - (a) that an institution may discharge its obligations under the regulations by referring to information disclosed by a person acting on its behalf, and
 - (b) that in such a case it is sufficient, where that other person acts on behalf of more than one institution, that the reference is to information given in aggregated form, that is—
 - (i) relating to the exercise or non-exercise by that person of voting rights on behalf of more than one institution, or
 - (ii) relating to the instructions given by that person in respect of the exercise or non-exercise of voting rights on behalf of more than one institution, or
 - (iii) relating to the delegation by that person of functions in relation to the exercise or non-exercise of voting rights, or the giving of instructions in respect of the exercise or non-exercise of voting rights, on behalf of more than one institution.

Expenses of winding up

1282 Payment of expenses of winding up

- (1) In Chapter 8 of Part 4 of the Insolvency Act 1986 (c. 45) (winding up of companies: provisions of general application), before section 176A (under the heading “Property subject to floating charge”) insert—

“176ZA Payment of expenses of winding up (England and Wales)

- (1) The expenses of winding up in England and Wales, so far as the assets of the company available for payment of general creditors are insufficient to meet them, have priority over any claims to property comprised in or subject to any floating charge created by the company and shall be paid out of any such property accordingly.
- (2) In subsection (1)—
- (a) the reference to assets of the company available for payment of general creditors does not include any amount made available under section 176A(2)(a);
 - (b) the reference to claims to property comprised in or subject to a floating charge is to the claims of—
 - (i) the holders of debentures secured by, or holders of, the floating charge, and
 - (ii) any preferential creditors entitled to be paid out of that property in priority to them.
- (3) Provision may be made by rules restricting the application of subsection (1), in such circumstances as may be prescribed, to expenses authorised or approved—
- (a) by the holders of debentures secured by, or holders of, the floating charge and by any preferential creditors entitled to be paid in priority to them, or
 - (b) by the court.
- (4) References in this section to the expenses of the winding up are to all expenses properly incurred in the winding up, including the remuneration of the liquidator.”.

SCHEDULES

SCHEDULE 1

Sections 254 and 255

CONNECTED PERSONS: REFERENCES TO AN INTEREST IN SHARES OR DEBENTURES

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1823Sch. 1 applied (N.I.) (18.2.2011 for certain purposes, otherwise prosp.) by Charities Act \(Northern Ireland\) 2008 \(c. 12\), ss. 57(2), 185, Sch. 5 para. 4(2); S.R. 2011/11, art. 2, Sch.

C1824Sch. 1 applied (E.W.) (14.3.2012) by Charities Act 2011 \(c. 25\), ss. 352(2), 355 (with s. 20(2), Sch. 8)

Introduction

- 1 (1) The provisions of this Schedule have effect for the interpretation of references in sections 254 and 255 (directors connected with or controlling a body corporate) to an interest in shares or debentures.
- (2) The provisions are expressed in relation to shares but apply to debentures as they apply to shares.

General provisions

- 2 (1) A reference to an interest in shares includes any interest of any kind whatsoever in shares.
- (2) Any restraints or restrictions to which the exercise of any right attached to the interest is or may be subject shall be disregarded.
- (3) It is immaterial that the shares in which a person has an interest are not identifiable.
- (4) Persons having a joint interest in shares are deemed each of them to have that interest.

Rights to acquire shares

- 3 (1) A person is taken to have an interest in shares if he enters into a contract to acquire them.
- (2) A person is taken to have an interest in shares if—
 - (a) he has a right to call for delivery of the shares to himself or to his order, or
 - (b) he has a right to acquire an interest in shares or is under an obligation to take an interest in shares, whether the right or obligation is conditional or absolute.
- (3) Rights or obligations to subscribe for shares are not to be taken for the purposes of sub-paragraph (2) to be rights to acquire or obligations to take an interest in shares.
- (4) A person ceases to have an interest in shares by virtue of this paragraph—
 - (a) on the shares being delivered to another person at his order—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (i) in fulfilment of a contract for their acquisition by him, or
- (ii) in satisfaction of a right of his to call for their delivery;
- (b) on a failure to deliver the shares in accordance with the terms of such a contract or on which such a right falls to be satisfied;
- (c) on the lapse of his right to call for the delivery of shares.

Right to exercise or control exercise of rights

- 4 (1) A person is taken to have an interest in shares if, not being the registered holder, he is entitled—
- (a) to exercise any right conferred by the holding of the shares, or
 - (b) to control the exercise of any such right.
- (2) For this purpose a person is taken to be entitled to exercise or control the exercise of a right conferred by the holding of shares if he—
- (a) has a right (whether subject to conditions or not) the exercise of which would make him so entitled, or
 - (b) is under an obligation (whether or not so subject) the fulfilment of which would make him so entitled.
- (3) A person is not by virtue of this paragraph taken to be interested in shares by reason only that—
- (a) he has been appointed a proxy to exercise any of the rights attached to the shares, or
 - (b) he has been appointed by a body corporate to act as its representative at any meeting of a company or of any class of its members.

Bodies corporate

- 5 (1) A person is taken to be interested in shares if a body corporate is interested in them and—
- (a) the body corporate or its directors are accustomed to act in accordance with his directions or instructions, or
 - (b) he is entitled to exercise or control the exercise of more than one-half of the voting power at general meetings of the body corporate.
- (2) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(b) where—
- (a) a person is entitled to exercise or control the exercise of more than one-half of the voting power at general meetings of a body corporate, and
 - (b) that body corporate is entitled to exercise or control the exercise of any of the voting power at general meetings of another body corporate,
- the voting power mentioned in paragraph (b) above is taken to be exercisable by that person.

Trusts

- 6 (1) Where an interest in shares is comprised in property held on trust, every beneficiary of the trust is taken to have an interest in shares, subject as follows.
- (2) So long as a person is entitled to receive, during the lifetime of himself or another, income from trust property comprising shares, an interest in the shares in reversion or remainder or (as regards Scotland) in fee shall be disregarded.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (3) A person is treated as not interested in shares if and so long as he holds them—
- (a) under the law in force in any part of the United Kingdom, as a bare trustee or as a custodian trustee, or
 - (b) under the law in force in Scotland, as a simple trustee.
- (4) There shall be disregarded any interest of a person subsisting by virtue of—
- (a) an authorised unit trust scheme (within the meaning of section 237 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (c. 8));
 - (b) a scheme made under section 22 or 22A of the Charities Act 1960 (c. 58), section 25 of the Charities Act (Northern Ireland) 1964 (c. 33 (N.I.)) [^{F1860}, section 24 or 25 of the Charities Act 1993 or section 96 or 100 of the Charities Act 2011,] section 11 of the Trustee Investments Act 1961 (c. 62) or section 42 of the Administration of Justice Act 1982 (c. 53); or
 - (c) the scheme set out in the Schedule to the Church Funds Investment Measure 1958 (1958 No. 1).
- (5) There shall be disregarded any interest—
- (a) of the Church of Scotland General Trustees or of the Church of Scotland Trust in shares held by them;
 - (b) of any other person in shares held by those Trustees or that Trust otherwise than as simple trustees.

“The Church of Scotland General Trustees” are the body incorporated by the order confirmed by the Church of Scotland (General Trustees) Order Confirmation Act 1921 (1921 c. xxv), and “the Church of Scotland Trust” is the body incorporated by the order confirmed by the Church of Scotland Trust Order Confirmation Act 1932 (1932 c. xxi).

^{F1861}PART 2

HOLDING AN INTEREST IN A COMPANY ETC

Introduction

- 7 This Part of this Schedule specifies the circumstances in which, for the purposes of section 790C(4) or (8)—
- (a) a person (“V”) is to be regarded as holding an interest in a company (“company W”);
 - (b) an interest held by V in company W is to be regarded as held through a legal entity.

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1826Sch. 1A paras. 1-24 applied (with modifications) by S.I. 2009/1804 reg. 31M (as inserted (6.4.2016) by The Limited Liability Partnerships \(Register of People with Significant Control\) Regulations 2016 \(S.I. 2016/340\), regs. 1(3), 3, Sch. 1)

Holding an interest

- 8 (1) V holds an interest in company W if—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) V holds shares in company W, directly or indirectly,
 - (b) V holds, directly or indirectly, voting rights in company W,
 - (c) V holds, directly or indirectly, the right to appoint or remove any member of the board of directors of company W,
 - (d) V has the right to exercise, or actually exercises, significant influence or control over company W, or
 - (e) sub-paragraph (2) is satisfied.
- (2) This sub-paragraph is satisfied where—
- (a) the trustees of a trust or the members of a firm that, under the law by which it is governed, is not a legal person hold an interest in company W in a way mentioned in sub-paragraph (1)(a) to (d), and
 - (b) V has the right to exercise, or actually exercises, significant influence or control over the activities of that trust or firm.

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1826Sch. 1A paras. 1-24 applied (with modifications) by S.I. 2009/1804 reg. 31M (as inserted (6.4.2016) by The Limited Liability Partnerships \(Register of People with Significant Control\) Regulations 2016 \(S.I. 2016/340\), regs. 1(3), 3, Sch. 1)

Interests held through a legal entity

- 9 (1) This paragraph applies where V—
- (a) holds an interest in company W by virtue of indirectly holding shares or a right, and
 - (b) does so by virtue of having a majority stake (see paragraph 18) in—
 - (i) a legal entity (“L”) which holds the shares or right directly, or
 - (ii) a legal entity that is part of a chain of legal entities such as is described in paragraph 18(1)(b) or (2)(b) that includes L.
- (2) Where this paragraph applies, V holds the interest in company W—
- (a) through L, and
 - (b) through each other legal entity in the chain mentioned in sub-paragraph (1)(b)(ii).

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1826Sch. 1A paras. 1-24 applied (with modifications) by S.I. 2009/1804 reg. 31M (as inserted (6.4.2016) by The Limited Liability Partnerships \(Register of People with Significant Control\) Regulations 2016 \(S.I. 2016/340\), regs. 1(3), 3, Sch. 1)

^{F1861}PART 3

SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISION

Introduction

- 10 This Part sets out rules for the interpretation of this Schedule.

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1826Sch. 1A paras. 1-24 applied (with modifications) by S.I. 2009/1804 reg. 31M (as inserted (6.4.2016) by The Limited Liability Partnerships \(Register of People with Significant Control\) Regulations 2016 \(S.I. 2016/340\), regs. 1(3), 3, Sch. 1)

Joint interests

- 11 If two or more persons each hold a share or right jointly, each of them is treated for the purposes of this Schedule as holding that share or right.

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1826Sch. 1A paras. 1-24 applied (with modifications) by S.I. 2009/1804 reg. 31M (as inserted (6.4.2016) by The Limited Liability Partnerships \(Register of People with Significant Control\) Regulations 2016 \(S.I. 2016/340\), regs. 1(3), 3, Sch. 1)

Joint arrangements

- 12 (1) If shares or rights held by a person and shares or rights held by another person are the subject of a joint arrangement between those persons, each of them is treated for the purposes of this Schedule as holding the combined shares or rights of both of them.
- (2) A “joint arrangement” is an arrangement between the holders of shares (or rights) that they will exercise all or substantially all the rights conferred by their respective shares (or rights) jointly in a way that is pre-determined by the arrangement.
- (3) “Arrangement” has the meaning given by paragraph 21.

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1826Sch. 1A paras. 1-24 applied (with modifications) by S.I. 2009/1804 reg. 31M (as inserted (6.4.2016) by The Limited Liability Partnerships \(Register of People with Significant Control\) Regulations 2016 \(S.I. 2016/340\), regs. 1(3), 3, Sch. 1)

Calculating shareholdings

- 13 (1) In relation to a legal entity that has a share capital, a reference to holding “more than 25% of the shares” in that entity is to holding shares comprised in the issued share capital of that entity of a nominal value exceeding (in aggregate) 25% of that share capital.
- (2) In relation to a legal entity that does not have a share capital—

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) a reference to holding shares in that entity is to holding a right to share in the capital or, as the case may be, profits of that entity;
- (b) a reference to holding “more than 25% of the shares” in that entity is to holding a right or rights to share in more than 25% of the capital or, as the case may be, profits of that entity.

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1826Sch. 1A paras. 1-24 applied (with modifications) by S.I. 2009/1804 reg. 31M (as inserted (6.4.2016) by The Limited Liability Partnerships \(Register of People with Significant Control\) Regulations 2016 \(S.I. 2016/340\), regs. 1(3), 3, Sch. 1)

Voting rights

- 14 (1) A reference to the voting rights in a legal entity is to the rights conferred on shareholders in respect of their shares (or, in the case of an entity not having a share capital, on members) to vote at general meetings of the entity on all or substantially all matters.
- (2) In relation to a legal entity that does not have general meetings at which matters are decided by the exercise of voting rights—
- (a) a reference to exercising voting rights in the entity is to be read as a reference to exercising rights in relation to the entity that are equivalent to those of a person entitled to exercise voting rights in a company;
 - (b) a reference to exercising more than 25% of the voting rights in the entity is to be read as a reference to exercising the right under the constitution of the entity to block changes to the overall policy of the entity or to the terms of its constitution.

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

Shares or rights held “indirectly”

- 18 (1) A person holds a share “indirectly” if the person has a majority stake in a legal entity and that entity—
- (a) holds the share in question, or
 - (b) is part of a chain of legal entities—
 - (i) each of which (other than the last) has a majority stake in the entity immediately below it in the chain, and
 - (ii) the last of which holds the share.
- (2) A person holds a right “indirectly” if the person has a majority stake in a legal entity and that entity—
- (a) holds that right, or
 - (b) is part of a chain of legal entities—
 - (i) each of which (other than the last) has a majority stake in the entity immediately below it in the chain, and
 - (ii) the last of which holds that right.
- (3) For these purposes, A has a “majority stake” in B if—
- (a) A holds a majority of the voting rights in B,
 - (b) A is a member of B and has the right to appoint or remove a majority of the board of directors of B,
 - (c) A is a member of B and controls alone, pursuant to an agreement with other shareholders or members, a majority of the voting rights in B, or
 - (d) A has the right to exercise, or actually exercises, dominant influence or control over B.
- (4) In the application of this paragraph to the right to appoint or remove a majority of the board of directors, a legal entity is to be treated as having the right to appoint a director if—
- (a) a person's appointment as director follows necessarily from that person's appointment as director of the legal entity, or
 - (b) the directorship is held by the legal entity itself.

Rights treated as held by person who controls their exercise

- 20 (1) Where a person controls a right, the right is to be treated for the purposes of this Schedule as held by that person (and not by the person who in fact holds the right, unless that person also controls it).
- (2) A person “controls” a right if, by virtue of any arrangement between that person and others, the right is exercisable only—
- by that person,
 - in accordance with that person's directions or instructions, or
 - with that person's consent or concurrence.

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

Rights exercisable only in certain circumstances etc

- 22 (1) Rights that are exercisable only in certain circumstances are to be taken into account only—
- (a) when the circumstances have arisen, and for so long as they continue to obtain, or
 - (b) when the circumstances are within the control of the person having the rights.
- (2) But rights that are exercisable by an administrator or by creditors while a legal entity is in relevant insolvency proceedings are not to be taken into account even while the entity is in those proceedings.
- (3) “Relevant insolvency proceedings” means—
- (a) administration within the meaning of the Insolvency Act 1986,
 - (b) administration within the meaning of the Insolvency (Northern Ireland) Order 1989 (S.I. 1989/2405 (N.I. 19)), or
 - (c) proceedings under the insolvency law of another country or territory during which an entity's assets and affairs are subject to the control or supervision of a third party or creditor.
- (4) Rights that are normally exercisable but are temporarily incapable of exercise are to continue to be taken into account.

Rights attached to shares held by way of security

- 23 Rights attached to shares held by way of security provided by a person are to be treated for the purposes of this Schedule as held by that person—
- (a) where apart from the right to exercise them for the purpose of preserving the value of the security, or of realising it, the rights are exercisable only in accordance with that person's instructions, and
 - (b) where the shares are held in connection with the granting of loans as part of normal business activities and apart from the right to exercise them for the purpose of preserving the value of the security, or of realising it, the rights are exercisable only in that person's interests.

Significant influence or control

- 24 (1) The Secretary of State must issue guidance about the meaning of “significant influence or control” for the purposes of this Schedule.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) Regard must be had to that guidance in interpreting references in this Schedule to “significant influence or control”.
- (3) Before issuing guidance under this paragraph the Secretary of State must lay a draft of it before Parliament.
- (4) If, within the 40-day period, either House of Parliament resolves not to approve the draft guidance, the Secretary of State must take no further steps in relation to it.
- (5) If no such resolution is made within that period, the Secretary of State must issue and publish the guidance in the form of the draft.
- (6) Sub-paragraph (4) does not prevent a new draft of proposed guidance from being laid before Parliament.
- (7) In this section “the 40-day period”, in relation to draft guidance, means the period of 40 days beginning with the day on which the draft is laid before Parliament (or, if it is not laid before each House on the same day, the later of the days on which it is laid).
- (8) In calculating the 40-day period, no account is to be taken of any period during which—
 - (a) Parliament is dissolved or prorogued, or
 - (b) both Houses are adjourned for more than 4 days.
- (9) The Secretary of State may revise guidance issued under this paragraph, and a reference in this paragraph to guidance includes a reference to revised guidance.

Limited partnerships

- 25
- (1) An individual does not meet the specified condition in paragraph 2, 3 or 4 in relation to a company by virtue only of being a limited partner.
 - (2) An individual does not meet the specified condition in paragraph 2, 3 or 4 in relation to a company by virtue only of, directly or indirectly—
 - (a) holding shares, or
 - (b) holding a right,in or in relation to a limited partner which (in its capacity as such) would meet the condition if it were an individual.
 - (3) Sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) do not apply for the purposes of determining whether the requirement set out in paragraph (a) of the specified condition in paragraph 6 is met.
 - (4) In this paragraph “limited partner” means—
 - (a) a limited partner in a limited partnership registered under the Limited Partnerships Act 1907 (other than one who takes part in the management of the partnership business), or
 - (b) a foreign limited partner.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. - (5) In this paragraph “ foreign limited partner ” means an individual who—
- (a) participates in arrangements established under the law of a country or territory outside the United Kingdom, and
 - (b) has the characteristics prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State.
- (6) Regulations under this paragraph may, in particular, prescribe characteristics by reference to—
- (a) the nature of arrangements;
 - (b) the nature of an individual's participation in the arrangements.
- (7) Regulations under this paragraph are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.

PART 4

POWER TO AMEND THRESHOLDS ETC

- 26 (1) The Secretary of State may by regulations amend this Schedule for a permitted purpose.
- (2) The permitted purposes are—
- (a) to replace any or all references in this Schedule to a percentage figure with references to some other (larger or smaller) percentage figure;
 - (b) to change or supplement the specified conditions in Part 1 of this Schedule so as to include circumstances (for example, circumstances involving more complex structures) that give individuals a level of control over company Y broadly similar to the level of control given by the other specified conditions;
 - (c) in consequence of any provision made by virtue of paragraph (b), to change or supplement Part 2 of this Schedule so that circumstances specified in that Part in which a person is to be regarded as holding an interest in a company correspond to any of the specified conditions, or would do so but for the extent of the interest.
- (3) Regulations under this paragraph are subject to affirmative resolution procedure.

Right to issue restrictions notice

- 1 (1) This paragraph applies if—
 - (a) a notice under section 790D [^{F1862}or 790E][^{F1862}, 790DA, 790E or 790EA] is served by a company on a person who has a relevant interest in the company, and
 - (b) the person fails to comply with that notice within the time specified in it.
- (2) The company may give the person a notice under this paragraph (a “warning notice”) informing the person that it is proposing to issue the person with a notice (a “restrictions notice”) with respect to the relevant interest.
- (3) The company may issue the restrictions notice if, by the end of the period of one month beginning with the date on which the warning notice was given—
 - (a) the person has not complied with the notice served under section 790D [^{F1863}or 790E][^{F1863}, 790DA, 790E or 790EA], and
 - (b) the company has not been provided with a valid reason sufficient to justify the person's failure to comply with the notice served under that section.
- (4) A restrictions notice is issued on a person by sending the notice to the person.
- (5) The effect of a restrictions notice is set out in paragraph 3.
- (6) In deciding whether to issue a restrictions notice, the company must have regard to the effect of the notice on the rights of third parties in respect of the relevant interest.

Relevant interests

- 2 (1) For the purposes of this Schedule, a person has a relevant interest in a company if the person—
 - (a) holds any shares in the company,
 - (b) holds any voting rights in the company, or
 - (c) holds the right to appoint or remove any member of the board of directors of the company.
- (2) References to “the relevant interest” are to the shares or right in question.
- (3) Part 3 of Schedule 1A applies for the interpretation of sub-paragraph (1) save that, where the relevant interest is by virtue of paragraph 19 or 20 of that Schedule treated for the purposes of that Schedule as held by a person other than the person who in fact holds the interest, both the holder and the other person are to be regarded for the purposes of this Schedule as having the relevant interest.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Effect of restrictions notice

- 3 (1) The effect of a restrictions notice issued under paragraph 1 with respect to a relevant interest is as follows—
- (a) any transfer of the interest is void,
 - (b) no rights are exercisable in respect of the interest,
 - (c) no shares may be issued in right of the interest or in pursuance of an offer made to the interest-holder,
 - (d) except in a liquidation, no payment may be made of sums due from the company in respect of the interest, whether in respect of capital or otherwise.
- (2) An agreement to transfer an interest that is subject to the restriction in sub-paragraph (1)(a) is void.
- (3) Sub-paragraph (2) does not apply to an agreement to transfer the interest on the making of an order under paragraph 8 made by virtue of sub-paragraph (3)(b) of that paragraph (removal of restrictions in case of court-approved transfer).
- (4) An agreement to transfer any associated right (otherwise than in a liquidation) is void.
- (5) Sub-paragraph (4) does not apply to an agreement to transfer any such right on the making of an order under paragraph 8 made by virtue of sub-paragraph (3)(b) of that paragraph (removal of restrictions in case of court-approved transfer).
- (6) An “ associated right ”, in relation to a relevant interest, is—
- (a) a right to be issued with any shares issued in right of the relevant interest, or
 - (b) a right to receive payment of any sums due from the company in respect of the relevant interest.
- (7) The provisions of this section are subject to any directions given under paragraph 4.

Protection of third party rights

- 4 (1) The court may give a direction under this paragraph if, on application by any person aggrieved, the court is satisfied that a restrictions notice issued by the company under paragraph 1 unfairly affects the rights of third parties in respect of the relevant interest.
- (2) The direction is given for the purpose of protecting those third party rights.
- (3) The direction is a direction that certain acts will not constitute a breach of the restrictions placed on the relevant interest by the restrictions notice.
- (4) An order containing a direction under this paragraph—
- (a) must specify the acts that will not constitute a breach of the restrictions, and
 - (b) may confine the direction to cases where those acts are done by persons, or for purposes, described in the order.
- (5) The direction may be given subject to such terms as the court thinks fit.

Breach of restrictions

- 5 (1) A person commits an offence if the person does anything listed in sub-paragraph (2) knowing that the interest is subject to restrictions.
- (2) The things are—

- (a) exercising or purporting to exercise any right to dispose of a relevant interest,
 - (b) exercising or purporting to exercise any right to dispose of any right to be issued with a relevant interest, or
 - (c) voting in respect of a relevant interest (whether as holder of the interest or as proxy) or appointing a proxy to vote in respect of a relevant interest.
- (3) A person who has a relevant interest that the person knows to be subject to restrictions commits an offence if the person—
- (a) knows a person to be entitled (apart from the restrictions) to vote in respect of the interest, whether as holder or as proxy,
 - (b) does not know the person to be aware of the fact that the interest is subject to restrictions, and
 - (c) fails to notify the person of that fact.
- (4) A person commits an offence if the person—
- (a) either has a relevant interest that the person knows to be subject to restrictions or is entitled to an associated right, and
 - (b) enters in that capacity into an agreement that is void by virtue of paragraph 3(2) or (4).
- (5) References in this Schedule to an interest being “subject to restrictions” are to an interest being subject to restrictions by virtue of a restrictions notice under paragraph 1.
- 6 If shares in a company are issued in contravention of a restriction imposed by virtue of a restrictions notice under paragraph 1, an offence is committed by—
- (a) the company, and
 - (b) every officer of the company who is in default.
- 7 (1) A person guilty of an offence under paragraph 5 or 6 is liable—
- (a) on conviction on indictment, to a fine;
 - (b) on summary conviction—
 - (i) in England and Wales, to a fine,
 - (ii) in Scotland or Northern Ireland, to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum.
- (2) The provisions of those paragraphs are subject to any direction given under paragraph 4 or 8.

Relaxation of restrictions

- 8 (1) An application may be made to the court for an order directing that the relevant interest cease to be subject to restrictions.
- (2) An application for an order under this paragraph may be made by the company in question or by any person aggrieved.
- (3) The court must not make an order under this paragraph unless—
- (a) it is satisfied that the information required by the notice served under section 790D [^{F1864} or 790E][^{F1864}, 790DA, 790E or 790EA] has been disclosed to the company and no unfair advantage has accrued to any person as a result of the earlier failure to make that disclosure, or

- (b) the relevant interest is to be transferred for valuable consideration and the court approves the transfer.
- (4) An order under this paragraph made by virtue of sub-paragraph (3)(b) may continue, in whole or in part, the restrictions mentioned in paragraph 3(1)(c) and (d) so far as they relate to a right acquired or offer made before the transfer.
- (5) Where any restrictions continue in force under sub-paragraph (4)—
 - (a) an application may be made under this paragraph for an order directing that the relevant interest cease to be subject to those restrictions, and
 - (b) sub-paragraph (3) does not apply in relation to the making of such an order.

is entitled to payment of those costs (or expenses) out of the proceeds before any person receives any part of the proceeds under this paragraph.

Company's power to withdraw restrictions notice

- 11 A company that issues a person with a restrictions notice under paragraph 1 must by notice withdraw the restrictions notice if—
- (a) it is satisfied that there is a valid reason sufficient to justify the person's failure to comply with the notice served under section 790D [^{F1865} or 790E][^{F1865}, 790DA, 790E or 790EA],
 - (b) the notice served under section 790D [^{F1866} or 790E][^{F1866}, 790DA, 790E or 790EA] is complied with, or
 - (c) it discovers that the rights of a third party in respect of the relevant interest are being unfairly affected by the restrictions notice.

PART 1

GENERAL PRINCIPLES

1. (1) All holders of the securities of an offeree company of the same class must be afforded equivalent treatment.
- (2) If a person acquires control of a company, the other holders of securities must be protected.
2. (1) The holders of the securities of an offeree company must have sufficient time and information to enable them to reach a properly informed decision on the takeover bid.
- (2) Where it advises the holders of securities, the board of directors of the offeree company must give its views on the effects of implementation of the takeover bid on—
 - (a) employment,
 - (b) conditions of employment, and
 - (c) the locations of the company's places of business.
3. The board of directors of an offeree company must act in the interests of the company as a whole and must not deny the holders of securities the opportunity to decide on the merits of the takeover bid.
4. False markets must not be created in the securities of—
 - (a) the offeree company,
 - (b) if the offeror is a company, that company, or
 - (c) any other company concerned by the takeover bid, in such a way that the rise or fall of the prices of the securities becomes artificial and the normal functioning of the markets is distorted.
5. An offeror must announce a takeover bid only after—
 - (a) ensuring that the offeror can fulfil in full any cash consideration, if such is offered, and
 - (b) taking all reasonable measures to secure the implementation of any other type of consideration.
6. An offeree company must not be hindered in the conduct of its affairs for longer than is reasonable by a takeover bid for its securities.

PART 2

OTHER PROVISION

Protection of minority shareholders, the mandatory takeover bid and the equitable price

7. (1) Rules must ensure that a person (“P”) is required to make a takeover bid (“a mandatory takeover bid”) where—
 - (a) P, or any person acting in concert with P, has acquired securities in a company, and
 - (b) the acquired securities, when added to any existing securities held by P or by persons acting in concert with P, directly or indirectly give P control of that company.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) Rules must ensure that the mandatory takeover bid must be addressed at the earliest opportunity to all of the holders of those securities for all their holdings at the equitable price.
 - (3) Rules must ensure that where control has been acquired following a voluntary takeover bid to all the holders of securities for all their holdings, the obligation referred to in sub-paragraph (1) to make a mandatory takeover bid no longer applies.
 - (1) For the purposes of paragraph 7, “the equitable price” is the highest price paid for the same securities by the offeror, or by persons acting in concert with the offeror, over a period, determined by rules, of not less than 6 and not more than 12 months before the mandatory takeover bid is announced.
 - (2) Rules must ensure that if, after the mandatory takeover bid has been made public and before the offer closes for acceptance, the offeror or any person acting in concert with the offeror purchases securities at a price higher than the offer price, the offeror must increase the offer consideration so that it is not less than the highest price paid for the securities so acquired.
 - (3) Rules may confer power on the Panel to adjust the equitable price in circumstances and in accordance with criteria that are clearly determined.
 - (4) Rules must ensure that any decision by the Panel to adjust the equitable price must be substantiated and made public.
 9.
 - (1) Rules must ensure that the offeror may offer by way of consideration for the securities which are the subject of the mandatory takeover bid—
 - (a) securities,
 - (b) cash, or
 - (c) a combination of both.
 - (2) Rules must ensure that cash must be offered—
 - (a) as an alternative where the consideration offered does not consist of liquid securities admitted to trading on a UK regulated market, and
 - (b) at least as an alternative where the securities purchased for cash over a relevant period by the offeror or by persons acting in concert with the offeror, taken together, carry 5% or more of the voting rights in the offeree company.
 - (3) “A relevant period” is a period—
 - (a) beginning at the same time as the period determined in accordance with paragraph 8(1), and
 - (b) ending when the offer closes for acceptance.
 - (4) Rules may require that cash must be offered, at least as an alternative, in all cases.
 10. Any rules that make provision to protect the interests of the holders of securities that goes beyond the provision referred to in paragraphs 7 to 9 must not hinder the normal course of a takeover bid.
- Information concerning takeover bids
11.
 - (1) Rules must ensure that a decision to make a takeover bid must be made public without delay and the Panel must be informed of the bid.
 - (2) Rules may require that the Panel is informed before such a decision is made public.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (3) Rules must ensure that, as soon as the takeover bid has been made public, the boards of directors of the offeree company and of the offeror must inform—
- (a) the representatives of their respective employees, or
 - (b) where there are no such representatives, the employees themselves.
12. (1) Rules must ensure that an offeror must draw up and make public in good time an offer document containing the information necessary to enable the holders of the offeree company's securities to reach a properly informed decision on the takeover bid.
- (2) Rules must ensure that, before the offer document is made public, the offeror must provide a copy to the Panel.
- (3) Rules must ensure that, when the offer document is made public, the boards of directors of the offeree company and of the offeror must communicate it—
- (a) to the representatives of their respective employees, or
 - (b) where there are no such representatives, to the employees themselves.
- (4) Rules must ensure that the offer document must state at least—
- (a) the terms of the takeover bid,
 - (b) the identity of the offeror and, where the offeror is a company, the company's type, name and registered office,
 - (c) the securities or, where appropriate, the class or classes of securities for which the takeover bid is made,
 - (d) the consideration offered for each security or class of securities and, in the case of a mandatory takeover bid, the method employed in determining it, with particulars of the way in which that consideration is to be paid,
 - (e) the compensation offered for the rights which might be removed as a result of a company's opting-in resolution under Chapter 2, with particulars of the way in which that compensation is to be paid and the method employed in determining it,
 - (f) the maximum and minimum percentages or quantities of securities which the offeror undertakes to acquire,
 - (g) details of any existing holdings of the offeror, and of any person acting in concert with the offeror, in the offeree company,
 - (h) all the conditions to which the takeover bid is subject,
 - (i) the offeror's intentions with regard to the future business of the offeree company,
 - (j) the offeror's intentions with regard to the safeguarding of the jobs of the employees and management of the offeree company, including any material change in the conditions of employment,
 - (k) the offeror's strategic plans for the offeree company, and their likely repercussions on employment and the locations of the company's places of business,
 - (l) if the offeror is a company and in so far as it is affected by the takeover bid—
 - (i) the offeror's intentions with regard to its future business,
 - (ii) the offeror's intentions with regard to the safeguarding of the jobs of its employees and management, including any material change in the conditions of employment, and
 - (iii) the offeror's strategic plans for itself, and their likely repercussions on employment and the locations of its places of business,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (m) the time allowed for acceptance of the takeover bid,
- (n) where the consideration offered includes securities of any kind, information concerning those securities,
- (o) information concerning the financing for the takeover bid,
- (p) the identity of persons acting in concert with the offeror or with the offeree company and, in the case of companies, the types, names, registered offices and relationships with the offeror and, where possible, with the offeree company, and
- (q) the national law which will govern contracts concluded between the offeror and the holders of the offeree company's securities as a result of the takeover bid and the competent courts.

Time allowed for acceptance

13. (1) Rules must ensure that, subject to any provision made in accordance with paragraph 14, the time allowed for the acceptance of a takeover bid must not be less than the period of two weeks nor more than the period of 10 weeks beginning with the day after the date of publication of the offer document.
- (2) Rules may provide that the maximum period allowed for acceptance of a takeover bid may be extended on the condition that the offeror gives at least two weeks' notice of the offeror's intention to close the takeover bid.
14. (1) Rules may contain provision changing the time allowed for the acceptance of a takeover bid in specific cases.
- (2) Rules may confer power on the Panel to grant a derogation from the time allowed for the acceptance of a takeover bid in order to allow the offeree company to call a general meeting of the company to consider the takeover bid.

Disclosure

15. Rules must ensure that a takeover bid must be made public in such a way as to ensure market transparency and integrity for the securities of—
 - (a) the offeree company,
 - (b) if the offeror is a company, that company, or
 - (c) any other company affected by the takeover bid, in particular in order to prevent the publication or dissemination of false or misleading information.

16. Rules must ensure that all information and documents required by provision made in accordance with paragraphs 11 and 12 must be disclosed in such a manner as to ensure that they are both readily and promptly available—
 - (a) to the holders of securities admitted to trading on a UK regulated market who are located in the United Kingdom, and
 - (b) to the representatives of the employees of the offeree company and of the offeror, or where there are no such representatives, to the employees themselves.

Obligations of the board of directors of the offeree company

17. (1) Rules must ensure that, during the relevant period, the board of directors of the offeree company must obtain the prior authorisation of a general meeting of the company given for this purpose—
 - (a) before taking any action, other than seeking alternative takeover bids, which may result in the frustration of the bid, and

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. - (b) in particular, before issuing any shares which may result in a lasting impediment to the offeror’s acquiring control of the offeree company.
- (2) “The relevant period” —
 - (a) begins when the board of directors of the offeree company receives the information that a decision to make a takeover bid has been made public, or at such earlier stage as rules may determine, and
 - (b) ends when the result of the bid is made public or the bid lapses.
- (3) Rules must ensure that, with regard to decisions taken before the beginning of the relevant period and not yet partly or fully implemented, a general meeting of the company must approve or confirm any decision—
 - (a) which does not form part of the normal course of the company’s business, and
 - (b) the implementation of which may result in the frustration of the takeover bid.
- (4) For the purposes of this paragraph, where a company has a two-tier board structure, “board of directors” means both the management board and the supervisory board.
- 18. (1) Rules must ensure that the board of directors of the offeree company must draw up and make public a document setting out its opinion of the takeover bid and the reasons for the opinion, including its views on—
 - (a) the effects of implementation of the takeover bid on all the company’s interests and specifically employment, and
 - (b) the offeror’s strategic plans for the offeree company and their likely repercussions on employment and the locations of the company’s places of business as set out in the offer document in accordance with paragraph 12(4)(k).
- (2) Rules must ensure that the board of directors of the offeree company must at the same time communicate that opinion—
 - (a) to the representatives of its employees, or
 - (b) where there are no such representatives, to the employees themselves.
- (3) Rules must ensure that, where the board of directors of the offeree company receives in good time a separate opinion from the representatives of its employees on the effects of the takeover bid on employment, that opinion must be appended to the document.

Other rules applicable to the conduct of takeover bids

- 19. Rules must make provision governing the conduct of takeover bids which must address at least—
 - (a) the lapsing of takeover bids,
 - (b) the revision of takeover bids,
 - (c) competing takeover bids,
 - (d) the disclosure of the results of takeover bids, and
 - (e) the irrevocability of takeover bids and the conditions permitted.

Interpretation

- 20. (1) In this Schedule—
 - “offer document” means a document required to be published by rules made in accordance with paragraph 12;

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

“offeree company” means a company, the securities of which are the subject of a takeover bid;

“offeror”, in relation to a takeover bid, means the person making the bid;

“rules” means rules made by the Panel under section 943(1);

“securities” means transferable securities carrying voting rights in a company;

“takeover bid” means a public offer made to the holders of the securities of a company to acquire some or all of those securities, whether mandatory or voluntary, which follows or has as its objective the acquisition of control of that company, but does not include cases where the offer is made by the company itself;

“voting rights” means rights to vote at general meetings of the company in question.

- (2) For the purposes of this Schedule, securities are of one class if the rights attached to them are in all respects uniform; and for that purpose the rights attached to securities are not regarded as different from those attached to other securities by reason only that they do not carry the same rights to dividends in the twelve months immediately following their allotment.
- (3) In this Schedule, “persons acting in concert” means persons who co-operate with the offeror or the offeree company on the basis of an agreement or understanding aimed at—
- (a) acquiring control of the offeree company, or
 - (b) frustrating the successful outcome of a takeover bid.
- (4) For the purposes of this Schedule, where a person (“A”) is a subsidiary undertaking of another person (“B”) within the meaning of section 420 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (but disregarding subsections (2)(b) and (3) of that section, and subsections (2)(c) and (4)(b) of section 1162 of the Companies Act 2006)—
- (a) A is deemed to be acting in concert with B and with any other subsidiary undertakings of B, and
 - (b) B and those subsidiary undertakings are deemed to be acting in concert with A.
21. (1) In this Schedule, other than in the listed provisions, “company” means a company that has securities admitted to trading on a UK regulated market.
- (2) The listed provisions are—
- paragraph 4(b) and (c);
 - paragraph 12(4)(b), (l) and (p);
 - paragraph 15(b) and (c).
- (3) Section 1 (meaning of “company”) does not apply for the purposes of the listed provisions.]

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Introduction

- 1 The provisions of this Schedule explain expressions used in section 1162 (parent and subsidiary undertakings) and otherwise supplement that section.

Voting rights in an undertaking

- 2 (1) In section 1162(2)(a) and (d) the references to the voting rights in an undertaking are to the rights conferred on shareholders in respect of their shares or, in the case of an undertaking not having a share capital, on members, to vote at general meetings of the undertaking on all, or substantially all, matters.
- (2) In relation to an undertaking which does not have general meetings at which matters are decided by the exercise of voting rights the references to holding a majority of the voting rights in the undertaking shall be construed as references to having the right under the constitution of the undertaking to direct the overall policy of the undertaking or to alter the terms of its constitution.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

Right to appoint or remove a majority of the directors

- 3 (1) In section 1162(2)(b) the reference to the right to appoint or remove a majority of the board of directors is to the right to appoint or remove directors holding a majority of the voting rights at meetings of the board on all, or substantially all, matters.
- (2) An undertaking shall be treated as having the right to appoint to a directorship if—
- (a) a person's appointment to it follows necessarily from his appointment as director of the undertaking, or
 - (b) the directorship is held by the undertaking itself.
- (3) A right to appoint or remove which is exercisable only with the consent or concurrence of another person shall be left out of account unless no other person has a right to appoint or, as the case may be, remove in relation to that directorship.

Right to exercise dominant influence

- 4 (1) For the purposes of section 1162(2)(c) an undertaking shall not be regarded as having the right to exercise a dominant influence over another undertaking unless it has a right to give directions with respect to the operating and financial policies of that other undertaking which its directors are obliged to comply with whether or not they are for the benefit of that other undertaking.
- (2) A “control contract” means a contract in writing conferring such a right which—
- (a) is of a kind authorised by the articles of the undertaking in relation to which the right is exercisable, and
 - (b) is permitted by the law under which that undertaking is established.
- (3) This paragraph shall not be read as affecting the construction of section 1162(4)(a).

Rights exercisable only in certain circumstances or temporarily incapable of exercise

- 5 (1) Rights which are exercisable only in certain circumstances shall be taken into account only—
- (a) when the circumstances have arisen, and for so long as they continue to obtain, or
 - (b) when the circumstances are within the control of the person having the rights.
- (2) Rights which are normally exercisable but are temporarily incapable of exercise shall continue to be taken into account.

PART 1

GRANT AND REVOCATION OF RECOGNITION OF A SUPERVISORY BODY

Application for recognition of supervisory body

- 1 (1) A supervisory body may apply to the Secretary of State for an order declaring it to be a recognised supervisory body for the purposes of this Part of this Act (“a recognition order”).
- (2) Any such application must be—
- (a) made in such manner as the Secretary of State may direct, and
 - (b) accompanied by such information as the Secretary of State may reasonably require for the purpose of determining the application.
- (3) At any time after receiving an application and before determining it the Secretary of State may require the applicant to furnish additional information.
- (4) The directions and requirements given or imposed under sub-paragraphs (2) and (3) may differ as between different applications.
- (5) The Secretary of State may require any information to be furnished under this paragraph to be in such form or verified in such manner as he may specify.
- (6) Every application must be accompanied by—
- (a) a copy of the applicant's rules, and
 - (b) a copy of any guidance issued by the applicant in writing.
- (7) The reference in sub-paragraph (6)(b) to guidance issued by the applicant is a reference to any guidance or recommendation—
- (a) issued or made by it to all or any class of its members or persons seeking to become members,
 - (b) relevant for the purposes of this Part, and
 - (c) intended to have continuing effect,
- including any guidance or recommendation relating to the admission or expulsion of members of the body, so far as relevant for the purposes of this Part.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

Grant and refusal of recognition

- 2 (1) The Secretary of State may, on an application duly made in accordance with paragraph 1 and after being furnished with all such information as he may require under that paragraph, make or refuse to make a recognition order in respect of the applicant.
- [^{F1965}(2) The Secretary of State may make a recognition order only if it appears to him, from the information furnished by the body and having regard to other information in his possession, that—
- (a) the requirements of Part 2 of this Schedule are satisfied in the case of that body,
 - (b) the body is able to perform all of the tasks which can be delegated by the competent authority under regulation 3 of the Statutory Auditors and Third Country Auditors Regulations 2016, and
 - (c) the body is organised in such a way that conflicts of interest are avoided.]
- (3) The Secretary of State may refuse to make a recognition order in respect of a body if he considers that its recognition is unnecessary having regard to the existence of one or more other bodies which—
- (a) maintain and enforce rules as to the appointment and conduct of statutory auditors, and
 - (b) have been or are likely to be recognised.
- (4) Where the Secretary of State refuses an application for a recognition order he must give the applicant a written notice to that effect—
- (a) specifying which requirements, in the opinion of the Secretary of State, are not satisfied, or
 - (b) stating that the application is refused on the ground mentioned in subparagraph (3).
- (5) A recognition order must state the date on which it takes effect.

Textual Amendments

F1965Sch. 10 para. 2(2) substituted (17.6.2016) by The Statutory Auditors and Third Country Auditors Regulations 2016 \(S.I. 2016/649\), reg. 1(1)(a), Sch. 3 para. 54(2)

Revocation of recognition

- 3 [^{F1966}(1) A recognition order in respect of a body may be revoked by a further order made by the Secretary of State if at any time it appears to him—
- (a) that any requirement of Part 2 or 3 of this Schedule, other than a requirement relating to a task delegated to the body under regulation 3 of the Statutory Auditors and Third Country Auditors Regulations 2016, is not satisfied in the case of the body,
 - (b) that the body has failed to comply with any obligation imposed on it by or by virtue of this Part of this Act, other than an obligation relating to a task delegated to the body under regulation 3 of the Statutory Auditors and Third Country Auditors Regulations 2016, or

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. - (c) that the continued recognition of the body is undesirable having regard to the existence of one or more other bodies which have been or are to be recognised.]
- [^{F1967}(1A) A recognition order in respect of a body may be revoked by a further order made by the Secretary of State if at any time—
- (a) one or more tasks delegated to the body under regulation 3 of the Statutory Auditors and Third Country Auditors Regulations 2016 has been reclaimed by the competent authority, and
 - (b) it appears to the Secretary of State that the continued recognition of the body is undesirable having regard to the circumstances in which the task or tasks were reclaimed.]
- (2) An order revoking a recognition order must state the date on which it takes effect, which must be after the period of three months beginning with the date on which the revocation order is made.
- (3) Before revoking a recognition order the Secretary of State must—
- (a) give written notice of his intention to do so to the recognised body,
 - (b) take such steps as he considers reasonably practicable for bringing the notice to the attention of the members of the body, and
 - (c) publish the notice in such manner as he thinks appropriate for bringing it to the attention of any other persons who are in his opinion likely to be affected.
- (4) A notice under sub-paragraph (3) must—
- (a) state the reasons for which the Secretary of State proposes to act, and
 - (b) give particulars of the rights conferred by sub-paragraph (5).
- (5) A person within sub-paragraph (6) may, within the period of three months beginning with the date of service or publication of the notice under sub-paragraph (3) or such longer period as the Secretary of State may allow, make written representations to the Secretary of State and, if desired, oral representations to a person appointed for that purpose by the Secretary of State.
- (6) The persons within this sub-paragraph are—
- (a) the recognised body on which a notice is served under sub-paragraph (3),
 - (b) any member of the body, and
 - (c) any other person who appears to the Secretary of State to be affected.
- (7) The Secretary of State must have regard to any representations made in accordance with sub-paragraph (5) in determining whether to revoke the recognition order.

- (b) in the case of members of the body who perform any statutory audit functions in respect of audits where functions relating to the monitoring of the audits are not the subject of such a delegation—
 - (i) have arrangements for the monitoring of those audits by the competent authority in accordance with those Regulations and, in respect of public interest entities, Article 26 of the EUAudit Regulation ; and
 - (ii) have rules and practices designed to ensure that a sanction imposed by the competent authority in accordance with those Regulations is to be treated as if it were a sanction which the body had determined under arrangements for enforcement within paragraph 12;
 - (c) in the case of members of the body who perform any third country audit functions—
 - (i) have arrangements for the monitoring of those audits by the competent authority in accordance with the Statutory Auditors and Third Country Auditors Regulations 2016; and
 - (ii) have rules and practices designed to ensure that a sanction imposed by the competent authority in accordance with those Regulations is to be treated as if it were a sanction which the body had determined under arrangements for enforcement within paragraph 12; and
 - (d) have rules designed to ensure that members of the body take such steps as may reasonably be required of them to enable their performance of any statutory audit functions or third country audit functions to be monitored by means of inspections.
- (2) Any monitoring of members of the body under the Statutory Auditors and Third Country Auditors Regulations 2016 or Article 26 of the EUAudit Regulation is to be regarded (so far as their performance of statutory audit functions, or of third country audit functions, is concerned) as monitoring of compliance with the body’s rules for the purposes of paragraph 12(1) and (1A).
- (3) The arrangements referred to in sub-paragraph (1)(a) must—
- (a) make provision for inspections to be conducted by the competent authority or any recognised supervisory body to whom that authority has delegated tasks in accordance with regulation 3 of the Statutory Auditors and Third Country Auditors Regulations 2016; and
 - (b) include an inspection which is conducted in relation to each person eligible for appointment as a statutory auditor—
 - (i) at such frequency as the body considers appropriate given the risks arising from the statutory audit work undertaken by the person eligible for appointment as a statutory auditor; and
 - (ii) at least once every six years in the case of a person who, during any of the previous five years, has carried out a statutory audit of an entity not subject to the small companies regime (see section 381).
- (4) The arrangements must provide that the determination by the body of the frequency of inspections under sub-paragraph (3)(b)(i) is subject to any direction by the competent authority.

Meeting of claims arising out of audit work

- 17 (1) The body must have adequate rules or arrangements designed to ensure that persons eligible under its rules for appointment as a statutory auditor take such steps as may reasonably be expected of them to secure that they are able to meet claims against them arising out of statutory audit work.
- (2) This may be achieved by professional indemnity insurance or other appropriate arrangements.

Register of auditors and other information to be made available

- 18 The body must have rules requiring persons eligible under its rules for appointment as a statutory auditor to comply with any obligations imposed on them by—
- (a) requirements under section 1224 (Secretary of State's power to call for information);
 - (b) regulations under section 1239 (the register of auditors);
 - (c) regulations under section 1240 (information to be made available to the public).

Taking account of costs of compliance

- 19 The body must have satisfactory arrangements for taking account, in framing its rules, of the cost to those to whom the rules would apply of complying with those rules and any other controls to which they are subject.

Promotion and maintenance of standards

- 20 The body must be able and willing—
- (a) to promote and maintain high standards of integrity in the conduct of statutory audit work, and
 - (b) to co-operate, by the sharing of information and otherwise, with the Secretary of State and any other authority, body or person having responsibility in the United Kingdom for the qualification, supervision or regulation of auditors.

SCHEDULE 11

Section 1220

RECOGNISED PROFESSIONAL QUALIFICATIONS

PART 1

GRANT AND REVOCATION OF RECOGNITION OF A PROFESSIONAL QUALIFICATION

Application for recognition of professional qualification

- 1 (1) A qualifying body may apply to the Secretary of State for an order declaring a qualification offered by it to be a recognised professional qualification for the purposes of this Part of this Act (“a recognition order”).
- (2) In this Part of this Act “a recognised qualifying body” means a qualifying body offering a recognised professional qualification.
- (3) Any application must be—
 - (a) made in such manner as the Secretary of State may direct, and
 - (b) accompanied by such information as the Secretary of State may reasonably require for the purpose of determining the application.
- (4) At any time after receiving an application and before determining it the Secretary of State may require the applicant to furnish additional information.
- (5) The directions and requirements given or imposed under sub-paragraphs (3) and (4) may differ as between different applications.
- (6) The Secretary of State may require any information to be furnished under this paragraph to be in such form or verified in such manner as he may specify.
- (7) In the case of examination standards, the verification required may include independent moderation of the examinations over such a period as the Secretary of State considers necessary.
- (8) Every application must be accompanied by—
 - (a) a copy of the applicant's rules, and
 - (b) a copy of any guidance issued by the applicant in writing.
- (9) The reference in sub-paragraph (8)(b) to guidance issued by the applicant is a reference to any guidance or recommendation—
 - (a) issued or made by it to all or any class of persons holding or seeking to hold a qualification, or approved or seeking to be approved by the body for the purposes of giving practical training,
 - (b) relevant for the purposes of this Part of this Act, and
 - (c) intended to have continuing effect,including any guidance or recommendation relating to a matter within sub-paragraph (10).
- (10) The matters within this sub-paragraph are—
 - (a) admission to or expulsion from a course of study leading to a qualification,
 - (b) the award or deprivation of a qualification, and

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (c) the approval of a person for the purposes of giving practical training or the withdrawal of such an approval, so far as relevant for the purposes of this Part of this Act.

Grant and refusal of recognition

- 2 (1) The Secretary of State may, on an application duly made in accordance with paragraph 1 and after being furnished with all such information as he may require under that paragraph, make or refuse to make a recognition order in respect of the qualification in relation to which the application was made.
- (2) The Secretary of State may make a recognition order only if it appears to him, from the information furnished by the applicant and having regard to any other information in his possession, that the requirements of Part 2 of this Schedule are satisfied in relation to the qualification.
- (3) Where the Secretary of State refuses an application for a recognition order he must give the applicant a written notice to that effect specifying which requirements, in his opinion, are not satisfied.
- (4) A recognition order must state the date on which it takes effect.

Revocation of recognition

- 3 (1) A recognition order may be revoked by a further order made by the Secretary of State if at any time it appears to him—
- (a) that any requirement of Part 2 of this Schedule is not satisfied in relation to the qualification to which the recognition order relates, or
- (b) that the qualifying body has failed to comply with any obligation imposed on it by or by virtue of this Part of this Act.
- (2) An order revoking a recognition order must state the date on which it takes effect, which must be after the period of three months beginning with the date on which the revocation order is made.
- (3) Before revoking a recognition order the Secretary of State must—
- (a) give written notice of his intention to do so to the qualifying body,
- (b) take such steps as he considers reasonably practicable for bringing the notice to the attention of persons holding the qualification or in the course of studying for it, and
- (c) publish the notice in such manner as he thinks appropriate for bringing it to the attention of any other persons who are in his opinion likely to be affected.
- (4) A notice under sub-paragraph (3) must—
- (a) state the reasons for which the Secretary of State proposes to act, and
- (b) give particulars of the rights conferred by sub-paragraph (5).
- (5) A person within sub-paragraph (6) may, within the period of three months beginning with the date of service or publication or such longer period as the Secretary of State may allow, make written representations to the Secretary of State and, if desired, oral representations to a person appointed for that purpose by the Secretary of State.
- (6) The persons within this sub-paragraph are—
- (a) the qualifying body on which a notice is served under sub-paragraph (3),

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) any person holding the qualification or in the course of studying for it, and
 - (c) any other person who appears to the Secretary of State to be affected.
- (7) The Secretary of State must have regard to any representations made in accordance with sub-paragraph (5) in determining whether to revoke the recognition order.
- (8) If in any case the Secretary of State considers it essential to do so in the public interest he may revoke a recognition order without regard to the restriction imposed by sub-paragraph (2), even if—
- (a) no notice has been given or published under sub-paragraph (3), or
 - (b) the period of time for making representations in pursuance of such a notice has not expired.
- (9) An order revoking a recognition order may contain such transitional provision as the Secretary of State thinks necessary or expedient.
- (10) A recognition order may be revoked at the request or with the consent of the qualifying body and any such revocation is not subject to—
- (a) the restrictions imposed by sub-paragraphs (1) and (2), or
 - (b) the requirements of sub-paragraphs (3) to (5) and (7).
- (11) On making an order revoking a recognition order the Secretary of State must—
- (a) give written notice of the making of the order to the qualifying body,
 - (b) take such steps as he considers reasonably practicable for bringing the making of the order to the attention of persons holding the qualification or in the course of studying for it, and
 - (c) publish a notice of the making of the order in such manner as he thinks appropriate for bringing it to the attention of any other persons who are in his opinion likely to be affected.

Transitional provision

- 4 A recognition order made and not revoked under—
- (a) paragraph 2(1) of Schedule 12 to the Companies Act 1989 (c. 40), or
 - (b) paragraph 2(1) of Schedule 12 to the Companies (Northern Ireland) Order 1990 (S.I. 1990/593 (N.I. 5)),
- before the commencement of this Chapter of this Part of this Act is to have effect after the commencement of this Chapter as a recognition order made under paragraph 2(1) of this Schedule.

Orders not statutory instruments

- 5 Orders under this Part of this Schedule shall not be made by statutory instrument.

PART 2

REQUIREMENTS FOR RECOGNITION OF A PROFESSIONAL QUALIFICATION

Entry requirements

- 6 (1) The qualification must only be open to persons who—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2023. This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) have attained university entrance level, or
 - (b) have a sufficient period of professional experience.
- (2) In relation to a person who has not been admitted to a university or other similar establishment in the United Kingdom, “attaining university entrance level” means—
- (a) being educated to such a standard as would entitle him to be considered for such admission on the basis of—
 - (i) academic or professional qualifications obtained in the United Kingdom and recognised by the Secretary of State to be of an appropriate standard, or
 - (ii) academic or professional qualifications obtained outside the United Kingdom which the Secretary of State considers to be of an equivalent standard, or
 - (b) being assessed, on the basis of written tests of a kind appearing to the Secretary of State to be adequate for the purpose (with or without oral examination), as of such a standard of ability as would entitle him to be considered for such admission.
- (3) The assessment, tests and oral examination referred to in sub-paragraph (2)(b) may be conducted by—
- (a) the qualifying body, or
 - (b) some other body approved by the Secretary of State.
- (4) The reference in sub-paragraph (1)(b) to “a sufficient period of professional experience” is to not less than seven years' experience in a professional capacity in the fields of finance, law and accountancy.

Requirement for theoretical instruction or professional experience

- 7
- (1) The qualification must be restricted to persons who—
 - (a) have completed a course of theoretical instruction in the subjects prescribed for the purposes of paragraph 8, or
 - (b) have a sufficient period of professional experience.
 - (2) The reference in sub-paragraph (1)(b) to “a sufficient period of professional experience” is to not less than seven years' experience in a professional capacity in the fields of finance, law and accountancy.

Examination

- 8
- (1) The qualification must be restricted to persons who have passed an examination (at least part of which is in writing) testing—
 - (a) theoretical knowledge of the subjects prescribed for the purposes of this paragraph by regulations made by the Secretary of State, and
 - (b) ability to apply that knowledge in practice, and requiring a standard of attainment at least equivalent to that required to obtain a degree from a university or similar establishment in the United Kingdom.
 - (2) The qualification may be awarded to a person without his theoretical knowledge of a subject being tested by examination if he has passed a university or other examination of equivalent standard in that subject or holds a university degree or equivalent qualification in it.

Changes to legislation: Companies Act 2006 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (3) The qualification may be awarded to a person without his ability to apply his theoretical knowledge of a subject in practice being tested by examination if he has received practical training in that subject which is attested by an examination or diploma recognised by the Secretary of State for the purposes of this paragraph.
- (4) Regulations under this paragraph are subject to negative resolution procedure.
