COMMENTARY ON SECTIONS

Part 9: Enforcement

Chapter 3: Employment tribunals

Section 122: References by court to tribunal, etc.

Effect

397. The Act does not prevent the civil courts from considering a claim that a pension scheme operates in a discriminatory manner. This section enables a court to strike out such a claim if it would be more convenient for an employment tribunal to deal with it, or to refer an issue relating to such a claim to an employment tribunal.
