

SCHEDULES

SCHEDULE 31

TRANSFER SCHEMES: FURTHER PROVISION

Supplementary provisions of schemes

- 12 (1) A transfer scheme may include consequential, supplementary, incidental, and transitional provision.
- (2) That includes, in particular, provision—
- (a) saving the effect of things done by or in relation to the transferor,
 - (b) for a transferee to be treated as the same person in law as the transferor,
 - (c) for things done by or in relation to the transferor to be treated as done by or in relation to a transferee,
 - (d) for things (including legal proceedings) being done by or in relation to the transferor to be continued by or in relation to a transferee, and
 - (e) for references in a document (other than in an enactment) to the transferor, or to an employee or office-holder of the transferor, to have effect with modifications specified in the scheme.