1906 CHAPTER 48

PART II

PASSENGER AND EMIGRANT SHIPS

19 Provision as to the time at which a steerage passenger is to be ready to embark

For the purpose of adapting section three hundred and twenty-eight of the principal Act to any hour of sailing, the following paragraph shall be substituted for paragraph (i) of that section:—

- “(i) The steerage passenger is at the place of embarkation " before the hour appointed in his contract, or if no " hour is appointed in the contract, before any hour " fixed for the embarkation of which he has received " not less than twenty-four hours notice ; and ””
