

Public Libraries Consolidation (Scotland) Act 1887

1887 CHAPTER 42 50 and 51 Vict

32 Libraries, &c. to be free.

All libraries, museums, or art galleries established under this Act, or to which this Act applies, shall be open to the public free of charge, and no charge shall be made for the use of books or magazines issued for home reading.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Public Libraries Consolidation (Scotland) Act 1887, Section 32.