EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations.)

These Regulations amend the Police Regulations 1968.

Part II relates to the reckoning of service for pay purposes in the case of a member of a police force with previous service in the Royal Ulster Constabulary. It has effect as from 17th December 1969, the date on which section 2 of the Police Act 1969 came into operation (Regulation 2(a), made in exercise of the power conferred by section 33(4) of the Police Act 1964). The existing provision for the reckoning of service in the Royal Ulster Constabulary by a member of a police force of the rank of constable is restated and provision is made for the reckoning of such service by a member of a police force who has transferred thereto from the Royal Ulster Constabulary in a rank higher than that of constable.

Part III provides for increases in the emoluments of members of police forces below the rank of superintendent. It has effect as from 1st January 1970 (Regulation 2(b)). Regulation 6 increases rates of pay by about 8½ per cent. Regulation 7 provides for corresponding increases in detective duty and supplementary detective allowances.

Part IV relates to a reduction in the normal working week in the case of members of police forces below the rank of superintendent. It has effect as from 1st April 1970 (Regulation 2(c)). Regulation 9(1) provides for the grant of rest days at the rate of two a week instead of seven a month. The other provisions of Part IV make consequential and supplemental changes; in particular, the rates of overtime allowances and of detective duty and supplementary allowances (payable instead of overtime allowances) are adjusted to take account of the shorter normal working week (Regulations 8 and 11) and entitlements to annual leave are restated to take account of the additional rest days (Regulation 10(1)).
