Citation and Commencement

1. This Order may be cited as the Counter-Inflation (Business Rents) Order 1973 and shall come into operation on 29th April 1973.

Interpretation

2.—(1) The Interpretation Act 1889(b) shall apply for the interpretation of this order as it applies for the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

(2) In this order, unless the context otherwise requires—

“agriculture” has the same meaning as in the Agricultural Holdings Act 1948(c) (as respects England and Wales) and the Agricultural Holdings (Scotland) Act 1949(d) (as respects Scotland) ;

“building lease” means a lease of land which the tenant has substantially developed by the erection of a building thereon or which the tenant is required (whether under the terms of the lease or otherwise) so to develop ;

“business” includes a trade, profession or employment and includes any activity carried on by a body of persons, whether corporate or unincorporate ;

“business tenancy” means any tenancy where the property comprised in the tenancy is or includes premises which are occupied by the tenant and are so occupied for the purpose of a business carried on by him or for those and other purposes but does not include a tenancy of or a right to occupy land used for agriculture or a building lease ;

“rent” includes the amount of any premium rateably apportioned over the period of the tenancy, but excludes any sums payable by the tenant in respect of rates, services, repairs, maintenance or insurance ;

“standard rate” has the meaning assigned to that expression in Article 4 ;

(a) 1973 c. 9.

(b) 1889 c. 63.

(c) 1948 c. 63.

(d) 1949 c. 75.

“superior tenancy” means any tenancy (other than a business tenancy) which is an interest in reversion expectant (whether immediately or not) on the termination of the relevant business tenancy and, in relation to Scotland, means any tenancy (other than a business tenancy) where the property comprised in the tenancy consists of or includes any premises occupied by a subtenant under a business tenancy, whether or not there are other subtenancies of that property intervening between the tenancy and the subtenancy which is a business tenancy ; and

“the 1972 Order” means the Counter-Inflation (Business Rents) Order 1972(a).

(3) In this order, unless the context otherwise requires, references to an enactment shall be construed as references to that enactment as amended, extended or applied by or under any other enactment.

(4) Any reference in this order to a numbered article is a reference to the article bearing that number in this order.

Exclusion of certain rent increases and new lettings

3.—(1) Nothing in this order shall apply to—

- (a) any rent increase in respect of a business tenancy or superior tenancy taking place before 29th April 1973, or
- (b) any new lettings.

(2) “New lettings” means, for the purposes of this article, any business tenancy which is granted after 5th November 1972 where the property comprised in the tenancy consists of or includes premises in relation to which there is not a standard rate and any superior tenancy granted after that date.

Standard rate

4.—(1) Subject to paragraph (2) of this article and to articles 6, 7 and 8, the standard rate in relation to any premises means—

- (a) where a business tenancy was subsisting on 5th November 1972, the rate at which rent was payable (whether or not then determined as to amount) under that tenancy at that date ; or
- (b) where there was no business tenancy subsisting on 5th November 1972 but a business tenancy had subsisted in respect of the premises on or after 5th November 1971, the rate at which rent was payable at the date upon which such tenancy or, where there were successive tenancies, the last such tenancy, came to an end ;

with the addition, in either case, of any increase in that rate as a result of an increase of rent permitted by the provisions of the 1972 Order, where those provisions applied.

(2) Where in relation to the premises comprised in a business tenancy granted after the coming into force of this order a standard rate is not ascertainable by the application of paragraph (1) of this article and the premises—

- (a) form part of larger premises in relation to which there is a standard rate, the standard rate in relation to the premises comprised in the business tenancy shall be a just part of the standard rate in relation to the larger premises ;

(a) S.I. 1972/1850 (1972 III, p. 5370).

(b) consist of two or more premises in relation to each of which there is a standard rate (and those premises together make up the whole of the premises comprised in the business tenancy), the standard rate in relation to the premises comprised in the business tenancy shall be a just amount based on the aggregate of the standard rates in relation to the constituent premises.

(3) The just part and the just amount referred to in paragraph (2) of this article shall be such amount as may be agreed in writing between the landlord and the tenant or determined by the court under article 13.

Rate of rent

5. Subject to the provisions of this order, where in relation to any premises there is a standard rate, rent under a business tenancy (whether granted before or after the coming into force of this order) of those premises shall not be payable in respect of any part of the time during which this order is in force at a rate exceeding the standard rate.

Variation in terms and change of use

6. Where in respect of a business tenancy there is any variation in the terms of the tenancy (other than terms as to the duration thereof and or as to the rent payable thereunder) or any substantial change in the use of the premises comprised in the tenancy, such as to affect the amount of rent which it is reasonable to charge, compared with the terms or the use (whether in relation to that tenancy or a previous business tenancy) at the date appropriate for the purpose of establishing the standard rate in relation to those premises, the standard rate shall be increased or decreased by such an appropriate amount as may be agreed in writing between the landlord and the tenant or determined by the court under article 13.

Improvements

7. Nothing in this order shall preclude the recovery by way of increased rent of the cost of improvements to premises comprised in a business tenancy—

(a) in the case of a tenancy which was subsisting on 5th November 1972 the terms of which then provided for such increased rent, in accordance with those terms, or

(b) in all other cases, of an amount equivalent to a yearly increase not exceeding 12.5 per cent. of that cost, and the standard rate in relation to those premises shall be increased accordingly.

Initial concessionary rents

8. In the case of a business tenancy—

(a) which was subsisting on 5th November 1972,

(b) the terms of which then provided for one or more increases of rent up to a specified amount during or on completion of the first 12 months of the tenancy, and

(c) where on 5th November 1972 any such increase had still to take effect, nothing in this order shall preclude the recovery of any such increase and the standard rate in relation to the premises comprised in that tenancy shall be increased accordingly.

Superior tenancies

9. Where article 5 applies to the rent under a business tenancy and that tenancy is subject to one or more superior tenancies which were subsisting on 5th November 1972, rent under the superior tenancy or each of those superior tenancies (as the case may be) shall not be payable in respect of any part of the time during which this order is in force at a rate exceeding the rate at which it was payable immediately before 29th April 1973, except to the extent that any excess is properly attributable to a variation in the terms of the tenancy or to the carrying out by a landlord under a superior tenancy of improvements to the property comprised in the tenancy.

Recovery of excess rent

10.—(1) Subject to paragraph (3) of this article, where a tenant has paid on account of rent any amount which by virtue of this order he is not liable to pay, he shall be entitled to recover that amount from the landlord who received it.

(2) Subject to paragraph (3) of this article, any amount which a tenant is entitled to recover under paragraph (1) of this article may, without prejudice to any other method of recovery, be deducted by the tenant from any rent payable by him to the landlord.

(3) No amount which a tenant is entitled to recover under paragraph (1) of this article shall be recoverable at any time after the expiry of two years from the date of payment.

11. Without prejudice to any other method of recovery, where a person receives any payment in contravention of the provisions of this order and is found guilty of an offence under section 17(1) of the Counter-Inflation Act 1973 the court by or before which such a person is found guilty may order the amount paid in excess to be repaid to the person by whom the payment was made.

Disclosure of information

12. Unless he has a reasonable excuse for not doing so—

(a) the landlord under a business tenancy shall, within 21 days of being so requested in writing by the tenant, supply him with a statement in writing of—

(i) the rent which was payable at the date appropriate for the purpose of establishing the standard rate in relation to the premises comprised in that tenancy ;

(ii) the cost of any improvement in respect of which the landlord is requiring an increase in rent ;

(b) the landlord under a superior tenancy to which article 9 applies shall, within 21 days of being so requested in writing by the tenant, supply him with a statement in writing of the rent payable under the tenancy immediately before 29th April 1973.

13.—(1) In relation to any premises situated in England and Wales—

(a) the court shall have jurisdiction on an application made for the purpose by the landlord or the tenant of the premises, to determine any question arising under this order—

(ii) as to the amount of rent which is payable under any tenancy of those premises by virtue of this order, or

(iii) as to the matters upon which jurisdiction is conferred upon the court by paragraph (3) of article 4 or by article 6, and the jurisdiction conferred by this subparagraph shall be exercised in accordance with section 63 of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1954(a) as if the jurisdiction were conferred by Part II of that Act ;

(b) the court shall have jurisdiction to determine any question referred to in subparagraph (a) above where that question arises in the course of any proceedings relating to the premises.

(a) as to the application of this order to those premises or to any tenancy of those premises or as to any matter which is or may become material for determining any such question, or

(b) as to the amount of rent which is payable under any tenancy of those premises by virtue of this order, or

(c) as to any matter upon which jurisdiction is conferred upon the court by paragraph (3) of article 4 or by article 6, and section 123(1) of the Rent (Scotland) Act 1971(b) shall apply to any application to the sheriff under this paragraph as it applies to any such application as is referred to in that section.

(3) Any determination under paragraphs (1) and (2) of this article—

(a) may be made so as to relate to any time after the date of commencement of this order and before the date of the determination ;

(b) shall, subject to the provisions of this order, have effect with respect to any time after the date of the determination during which this order is in force.

Agreements, etc.

14. Nothing in this order shall render unlawful or invalid any agreement, determination or notice relating to a rent to which this order applies but, subject to the provisions of this order, where any such agreement, determination or notice provides for an increase of rent in respect of any part of the time during which this order is in force, the amount of that increase shall not be payable in respect of that period.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Order.)

This Order continues with certain modifications the standstill on business rents started by the Counter-Inflation (Business Rents) Order 1972 or, in Northern Ireland, Part II of the Counter-Inflation (Northern Ireland) Order 1972. The principal changes are—

- (a) building leases are excluded from the definition of business tenancy in article 2(2) and thereby from the operation of the order ;
- (b) express provision is made for the ascertainment of the standard rate of rent by apportionment of the standard rate of larger premises and the aggregation of standard rates of smaller premises (article 4) ;
- (c) provision is made for the standard rate to be varied to take account of substantial changes in the use of premises (article 6) ;
- (d) under certain tenancies which provide for a higher level of rent during or at the end of the first year of the tenancy the rent is allowed to rise to that level (article 8) ;
- (e) the standstill is extended to rents under superior tenancies in cases where a business tenancy is subject to the standstill (article 9) ; and
- (f) the provision that contravention of the order is an offence is now contained in section 17 of the Counter-Inflation Act 1973 and not in the order itself.
