Laid before Parliament		10th August 1990
Coming into force	- -	1st September 1990

The Secretary of State, in exercise of the powers conferred on him by sections 75A, 105 and 108(1) of the National Health Service (Scotland) Act 1978((1)) and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, hereby makes the following Regulations:

Citation and commencement

1. These Regulations may be cited as the National Health Service (Travelling Expenses and Remission of Charges) (Scotland) Amendment (No.2) Regulations 1990 and shall come into force on 1st September 1990 immediately after the Income-Related Benefits Amendment Regulations 1990((2)).

Amendment of the National Health Service (Travelling Expenses and Remission of Charges) (Scotland) Regulations 1988

2.—(1) The National Health Service (Travelling Expenses and Remission of Charges) (Scotland) Regulations 1988((3)) shall be amended in accordance with the following provisions of this Regulation.

(2) In regulation 2(1) (interpretation)((4)), for the definition of “partner” there shall be substituted the following definition:—

““partner” means, where a claimant—

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations further amend the National Health Service (Travelling Expenses and Remission of Charges) Regulations 1988. They modify the provisions of the Income Support (General) Regulations 1987 which have effect for the purposes of calculating a person's resources and requirements by confining the £10 disregard, in the calculation of income from student loans, to cases where—

- (a) a student is eligible for a premium;
- (b) in certain circumstances, a student suffers from deafness; or
- (c) a claimant, who is not a student, has a partner who is a student.

They delete the modification which precludes 16 and 17 year olds in receipt of the disability premium from receiving the personal allowance applicable to 18 year olds.
