SCHEDULE

Article 2

The part of the Rivers Irvine and Garnock salmon fishery district mentioned in article 2 of this Order comprises the catchment area and estuary of the River Irvine and the adjacent area of sea bounded on the north by a line drawn south west (true) from the north end of Irvine Bar (O.S. Grid Reference 22995 63780) and on the south by the southern boundary of the said district.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

In relation to the annual close time of the Rivers Irvine and Garnock salmon fishery district (10th September to 24th February) this Order prescribes the period from 10th September to 15th November as the period during which fishing for salmon by rod and line is permitted in a specified part of the district. This part comprises the catchment area and estuary of the River Irvine and the adjacent area of sea between Irvine Bar in the north and the southern boundary of the salmon fishery district, in the south.

For the remaining part of the district the period during which such rod and line fishing is permitted in the annual close time continues to be from 10th September to 31st October.

By virtue of section 1(1) of the Salmon Act 1986 the area of the salmon fishery district extends seaward for a distance of 3 miles from mean low water springs of the coastal limits of the district and landward to include the catchment area of each river flowing directly or indirectly into the sea within those coastal limits.
