(4) Without prejudice to regulation 12, where a food is in concentrated or dehydrated form and is intended to be reconstituted by the addition of water, its ingredients may be listed in descending order of their weight in the food when reconstituted as directed if the heading of the list of ingredients includes or is accompanied by the words “ingredients of the reconstituted product” or “ingredients of the ready to use product” or by some other indication to similar effect.

(5) Where a food consists of, or contains, mixed fruit, nuts, vegetables, spices or herbs and no particular fruit, nut, vegetable, spice or herb predominates significantly by weight, those ingredients may be listed otherwise than in descending order of weight if—

(a) in the case of a food which consists entirely of such a mixture, the heading of the list of ingredients includes or is accompanied by the words “in variable proportion” or other words indicating the nature of the order in which the ingredients are listed, and

(b) a flavouring preparation (or flavouring preparations), or

(c) both (a) and (b) above.

(7) If the name of an ingredient being a flavouring refers to the vegetable or animal nature or origin of the material which it incorporates, the word “natural”, or any other word having substantially the same meaning, may not be used for that ingredient unless, in addition to satisfying the requirements of paragraph (6) of this regulation, the flavouring component (or components) of that ingredient has (or have) been isolated by physical, enzymatic or microbiological processes, or by a process normally used in preparing food for human consumption, solely or almost solely from that vegetable or animal source.

(8) In paragraphs (6) and (7) of this regulation—

(a) distillation and solvent extraction shall be regarded as included among types of physical process, and

(b) drying, torrefaction and fermentation shall be treated as included among the types of process normally used in preparing food for human consumption.

(9) An additive which is added to or used in a food to serve the function of one of the categories of additives listed in Schedule 4 shall be identified by the name of that category followed by the additive’s specific name or serial number (if any). An additive which is added to or used in a food to serve more than one such function shall be identified by the name of the category that represents the principal function served by the additive in that food followed by the additive’s specific name or serial number (if any).

(10) An additive which is required to be named in the list of ingredients of a food and which is neither a flavouring nor serves the function of one of the categories of additives listed in Schedule 4 shall be identified by its specific name.

(11) In this regulation “serial number” means the number specified for an additive in any of the additive regulations or in Schedule 3 to the Bread and Flour Regulations.

Compound ingredients

15.—(1) Subject to paragraphs (3) and (4) of this regulation, where a compound ingredient is used in the preparation of a food, the names of the ingredients of the compound ingredient shall be given in the list of ingredients of the food either instead of or in addition to the name of the compound ingredient itself.

(2) If the name of a compound ingredient is given, it shall be immediately followed by the names of its ingredients in such a way as to make it clear that they are ingredients of that compound ingredient.

(3) The names of the ingredients of a compound ingredient need not be given in a case where the compound ingredient would not be required to be marked or labelled with a list of ingredients if it were itself being sold prepacked as a food.

(4) The names of the ingredients of a compound ingredient need not be given in a case where—

(a) the compound ingredient is identified in the list of ingredients by a generic name in accordance with regulation 14(4), or

(b) the compound ingredient constitutes less than 25 per cent of the finished product, except that, subject to regulation 17, any additive which is an ingredient of such a compound ingredient shall be named in the list of ingredients in accordance with paragraph (2) of this regulation.

Added water

16.—(1) Water which is added as an ingredient of a food shall be declared in the list of ingredients of the food unless—

(a) it is used in the preparation of the food solely for the reconstitution or partial reconstitution of an ingredient used in concentrated or dehydrated form; or

(b) it is used as, or as part of, a medium which is not normally consumed; or
(c) it does not exceed 5 per cent of the finished product.

Ingredients which need not be named

17. The following ingredients of a food need not be named in its list of ingredients:

(a) constituents of an ingredient which have become temporarily separated during the manufacturing process and are later re-introduced in their original proportions;

(b) any additive whose presence in the food is due solely to the fact that it was contained in an ingredient of the food, if it serves no significant technological function in the finished product;

(c) any additive which is used solely as a processing aid;

(d) any substance other than water which is used as a solvent or carrier for an additive and is used in an amount that is no more than that which is strictly necessary for that purpose.

Foods which need not bear a list of ingredients

18.—(1) The following foods need not be marked or labelled with a list of ingredients:

(a) fresh fruit and vegetables, including potatoes, which have not been peeled or cut into pieces;

(b) carbonated water, to which no ingredient other than carbon dioxide has been added, and whose name indicates that it has been carbonated;

(c) vinegar which is derived by fermentation exclusively from a single basic product and to which no other ingredient has been added;

(e) any food consisting of a single ingredient, including flour to which no substances have been added other than those which are required to be present in the flour by regulation 4 of the Bread and Flour Regulations;

(f) any drink with an alcoholic strength by volume of more than 1.2 per cent.

(2) Without prejudice to regulation 12, in the case of—

(a) any vinegar which is derived by fermentation exclusively from a single basic product and to which any other ingredient has been added, or

(b) any cheese, butter, fermented milk or fermented cream, to which any ingredient, other than one which is mentioned in paragraph (1)(d) of this regulation, has been added, only those other added ingredients need be named in the list of ingredients, if the heading of the list includes or is accompanied by the words “added ingredients” or other words indicating that the list is not a complete list of ingredients.

(45) OJ No. L143, 7.6.91, p.11.
(3) The labelling of any food that is not required to bear a list of ingredients shall not include a list of ingredients unless the food is marked or labelled with a complete list of ingredients in accordance with regulations 12 to 17 as if it were required to be so marked or labelled.

Ingredients given special emphasis

Indication of minimum or maximum percentage of ingredients

19.—(1) Where a food is characterised by the presence of a particular ingredient, the labelling of the food shall not place special emphasis on the presence of that ingredient, unless it includes a declaration of the minimum percentage of that ingredient in the food, determined as at the time of its use in the preparation of the food.

(2) Where a food is characterised by the low content of a particular ingredient, the labelling of the food shall not place special emphasis on the low content of that ingredient, unless it includes a declaration of the maximum percentage of that ingredient in the food, determined as at the time of its use in the preparation of the food.

(3) Any declaration required by paragraph (1) or (2) of this regulation shall either—

(a) appear next to the name of the food, or

(b) accompany the name of the ingredient in question in the list of ingredients.

(4) A reference in the name of a food to a particular ingredient shall not of itself constitute the placing of special emphasis on the presence or low content of that ingredient.

(5) A reference in the labelling of a food to an ingredient which is used in a small quantity and only as a flavouring shall not of itself constitute the placing of special emphasis on the presence or low content of that ingredient.

Appropriate durability indication

Form of indication of minimum durability

20.—(1) Subject to the following paragraphs of this regulation, the minimum durability of a food shall be indicated by the words “best before” followed by—

(a) the date up to and including which the food can reasonably be expected to retain its specific properties if properly stored, and

(b) any storage conditions which need to be observed if the food is to retain its specific properties until that date.

(2) The date in the indication of minimum durability shall be expressed in terms of a day, month and year (in that order), except that—

(a) in the case of a food which can reasonably be expected to retain its specific properties for three months or less, it may be expressed in terms of a day and month only;

(b) in the case of a food which can reasonably be expected to retain its specific properties for more than three months but not more than 18 months it may be expressed in terms of a month and year only, if the words “best before” are replaced by the words “best before end”, and

(c) in the case of a food which can reasonably be expected to retain its specific properties for more than 18 months it may be expressed either in terms of a month and year only or in terms of a year only, if (in either case) the words “best before” are replaced by the words “best before end”.

(3) Either—
(a) the date up to and including which a food can reasonably be expected to retain its specific properties if properly stored, or
(b) that date and any storage conditions which need to be observed if the food is to retain its specific properties until that date, may appear on the labelling of a food separately from the words “best before” or “best before end”, as the case may be, provided that those words are followed by a reference to the place where the date (or the date and the storage conditions) appears (or appear).

Form of indication of “use by” date

21.—(1) Where a “use by” date is required in respect of a food it shall be indicated by the words “use by” followed by—
(a) the date up to and including which the food, if properly stored, is recommended for use, and
(b) any storage conditions which need to be observed.
(2) The “use by” date shall be expressed in terms either of a day and month (in that order) or of a day, a month and a year (in that order).
(3) Either—
(a) the date up to and including which a food required to bear a “use by” date is recommended for use, or
(b) that date and any storage conditions which need to be observed, may appear separately from the words “use by”, provided that those words are followed by a reference to the place where the date (or the date and the storage conditions) appears (or appear).

Foods which need not bear an appropriate durability indication

22. The following foods need not be marked or labelled with an appropriate durability indication:
(a) fresh fruit and vegetables (including potatoes but not including sprouting seeds, legume sprouts and similar products) which have not been peeled or cut into pieces;

PART I

PRESENTATION OF PRESCRIBED NUTRITION LABELLING

1. Prescribed nutrition labelling shall consist of such of the following items as under Part II of this Schedule are either required or permitted to be given. Subject to paragraphs 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 below, the items and, where applicable, their order and manner of listing, are—energy [x] kJ and [x] kcal protein [x] g

carbohydrate [x] g
of which:
—sugars [x] g
—polyols [x] g
—starch [x] g fat [x] g
of which:
—saturates [x] g
—mono-unsaturates [x] g
—polyunsaturates [x] g
—cholesterol [x] mg fibre [x] g
sodium [x] g
[vitamins] [x units]
[minerals] [x units].

2. In the event that there is also required to be given the name and amount of any substance which belongs to, or is a component of, one of the items already given such substance or component shall be listed immediately after the item to which it relates, and in the following manner—

<thead>
<tr>
<th>[item]</th>
<th>[x] g or mg of which</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>—[substance or component]</td>
<td>[x] g or mg.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

(a) For [vitamins] and [minerals] there shall be substituted, as appropriate, the names of any vitamin or mineral listed in Table A or B in Schedule 6.
(b) For [item] there shall be substituted the name of the relevant item from the list in paragraph 1 above.
(c) For [substance or component] there shall be substituted the name of the substance or component.
(d) For [x] there shall be substituted the appropriate amount in each case and, in respect of vitamins and minerals, such amounts—
   (i) shall be expressed in the units of measurement specified in relation to the respective vitamins and minerals given in Table A or B in Schedule 6, and
   (ii) shall also be expressed as a percentage of the recommended daily allowance specified for such vitamins and minerals in those Tables.

4. All amounts given—
(a) are to be per hundred grams or hundred millilitres of the food, as is appropriate, and, where it is wished to do so, those in either—
   (i) a quantified serving of the food, or
   (ii) provided that the total number of portions contained in that sales unit of the food is stated, in one such portion of the food,
(b) shall be such amounts as are contained in the food as sold to the ultimate consumer or to a catering establishment save that, where sufficiently detailed instructions are given for the preparation for consumption of the food, they may (if expressly said to be so) be such amounts as are contained in the food after the completion of such preparation in accordance with the said instructions, and
(c) shall be averages based, either alone or in any combination, on—
   (i) the manufacturer’s analysis of the food,
   (ii) a calculation from the actual average values of the ingredients used in the preparation of the food,
   (iii) a calculation from generally established and accepted data, and “averages” for the purposes of this sub-paragraph means the figures which best represent the respective amounts of the nutrients which a given food contains, there having been taken into account seasonal variability, patterns of consumption and any other factor which may cause the actual amount to vary.

5. In the calculation of the energy value the following conversion factors shall be employed—
   (a) 1 gram of carbohydrate (excluding polyols) shall be deemed to contribute 17 kJ (4 kcal);
   (b) 1 gram of polyols shall be deemed to contribute 10 kJ (2.4 kcal);
   (c) 1 gram of protein shall be deemed to contribute 17 kJ (4 kcal);
   (d) 1 gram of fat shall be deemed to contribute 37 kJ (9 kcal);
   (e) 1 gram of ethanol shall be deemed to contribute 29 kJ (7 kcal);
   (f) 1 gram of organic acid shall be deemed to contribute 13 kJ (3 kcal).

6. Any prescribed nutrition labelling shall be presented together in one conspicuous place—
   (a) in tabular form with any numbers aligned, or
   (b) if there is insufficient space to permit tabular listing, in linear form.

PART II

CONTENTS OF PRESCRIBED NUTRITION LABELLING

1. In respect of any food other than one to which paragraph 2 below applies, prescribed nutrition labelling shall be given as follows—
   (a) it shall include either—
      (i) energy and the amounts of protein, carbohydrate and fat, or
      (ii) energy and the amounts of protein, carbohydrate, sugars, fat, saturates, fibre and sodium, provided that, where sugars, saturates, fibre or sodium is, or are, the subject of a nutrition claim, it shall be given in accordance with paragraph (ii);
   (b) where such is the subject of a nutrition claim, it shall also include the amounts of any polyols, starch, mono-unsaturates, polyunsaturates, cholesterol, vitamins or minerals, and in the absence of such a claim it may include any of these, provided that in either case only those vitamins or minerals present in a significant amount as described in the Note to Tables A and B in Schedule 6 above shall, or may, be so included;
   (c) where labelling is given in accordance with sub-paragraph (a)(i) above and, further to sub-paragraph (b) above the amount of any of mono-unsaturates, polyunsaturates or cholesterol has been included, it shall also include the amount of saturates, and
   (d) where such is the subject of a nutrition claim, it shall also include the name and amount of any substance which belongs to, or is a component of, one of the nutrients already required or permitted to be included.

2.—(1) In respect of any food which is not prepacked and which is sold—
   (a) to the ultimate consumer other than at a catering establishment,
   (b) to the ultimate consumer from a vending machine, whether or not such machine is located at a catering establishment, or
   (c) to a catering establishment,

(14) provide a defence in relation to exports, in accordance with Articles 2 and 3 of Council Directive 89/397/EEC (OJ No. L186, 30.6.89, p.23) on the official control of foodstuffs, as read with the ninth recital to that Directive (regulation 47);

(15) incorporate specified provisions of the Food Safety Act 1990 (regulation 48);
(16) revoke the Regulations specified in Schedule 9 to the extent specified in that Schedule, and make consequential amendments (regulation 49).

The Regulations do not apply—

(a) to food imported from an EEA State in which it was lawfully produced and sold, to food imported from a Member State of the European Community in which it was lawfully sold, or to food produced outside the European Community which is imported from a Member State of the European Community, and which in all such cases, is suitably labelled (regulation 3(1));

(b) except insofar as they relate to advertising, to food which is not intended for sale for human consumption or to food prepared and labelled for sale before 16th November 1992 for consumption by Her Majesty’s forces or visiting forces (regulation 3(3));

(c) apart from the provisions relating to packaging in certain gases, nutrition labelling, claims and misleading descriptions, to—

(i) products the labelling of which is controlled, in England and Wales, by the Specified Sugar Products Regulations 1976, the Cocoa and Chocolate Products Regulations 1976, the Honey Regulations 1976, the Condensed and Dried Milk Regulations 1977 (other than such products specially prepared for and clearly specified to be intended to be consumed by infants) or, in relation to any coffee etc. which is ready for delivery to a catering establishment, by the Coffee and Coffee Products Regulations 1978 and, in Scotland, by the sets of Scottish Regulations analogous thereto;

(iii) additives sold as such the labelling of which is controlled by other Regulations (regulation 4(2)); and

(d) apart from the provisions relating to nutrition labelling, claims and misleading descriptions, to—

(i) in certain circumstances alcoholic drinks bottled before 1st January 1983, and

(ii) certain food prepared on domestic premises, or food prepared otherwise than in the course of a business (regulation 4(3)).

In certain circumstances the provisions relating to nutrition labelling, claims and misleading descriptions do not apply to natural mineral waters (regulations 3(4) and (5)).

The Regulations come into force on 1st July 1996 (regulation 1), but there is a transitional provision which makes it a defence to prove that the act was committed before 1st July 1997 or that it was committed in relation to a food that was prepacked before that date (except in the case of either the use of a generic name, or of an additive name, for an ingredient, when the date before which the act was committed or the food was prepacked, shall be 1st July 1996, and in the case of food packaged in packaging gases when that data shall be 1st January 1997); and that the matters constituting the offence would not have been an offence under the Food Labelling Regulations 1984, the Food Labelling (Scotland) Regulations 1984 or the Milk Labelling (Scotland) Regulations 1983 (regulation 49).
A compliance cost assessment of the effect that these Regulations would have on the cost of business is available from the Food Labelling and Standards Division of the Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food, Ergon House, c/o Nobel House, 17 Smith Square, London SW1P 3JR.
