Transitional arrangements for provisional approvals

3. In so far as they extend to England and Wales, the Plant Protection Products Regulations 1995 shall be modified so that where there is an approval granted under regulation 7(1) (provisional approvals), or extended pursuant to regulation 7(5)—

- (a) the inclusion of the active substances acibenzolar-s-methyl and pymetrozine in Annex I to the Directive does not revoke any such approval in respect of any plant protection product containing either active substance, and that approval shall continue in effect until an approval is granted under regulation 5(1) (standard approvals), or 31st March 2003, whichever is the earlier;
- (b) the inclusion of the active substance flupyr-sulfuron-methyl in Annex I to the Directive does not revoke any such approval in respect of any plant protection product containing that active substance, and that approval shall continue in effect until an approval is granted under regulation 5(1), or 30th November 2002, whichever is the earlier; and
- (c) if the plant protection product contains any of the active substances mentioned in (a) or (b), together with another active substance not yet placed in Annex I to the Directive, such approval shall continue in effect unless revoked by the Secretary of State under regulation 13(5) (applications, reviews, revocations and modifications).

Revocation

4. The Plant Protection Products (Amendment) Regulations 2002 ^{F24} are revoked.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations, which extend to England and Wales, further amend the Plant Protection Products Regulations 1995 (S.I. 1995/887) which implement in Great Britain Council Directive 91/414/EEC concerning the placing of plant protection products on the market (OJ No. L230, 19.8.91 p.1).

Regulation 2 amends the definition of “the Directive” in S.I. 1995/887 so as to implement Commission Directive 2001/99/EC (which adds the active substances glyphosate and thifensulfuron-methyl to Annex I of the Directive on 1st July 2002).

It amends the definition again on 1st October 2002 so as to add Commission Directive 2001/103/EC (2,4-dichlorophenoxy acetic acid) to the definition of “the Directive” in the Regulations.

It further amends the definition on 1st January 2003 so as to add Commission Directive 2002/18/EC (isoproturon) to the definition of “the Directive” in the Regulations.

Transitional arrangements are included in regulation 3 to implement relevant saving provisions included in implementing Directives (2001/87/EC for acibenzolar-s-methyl or pymetrozine, and 2001/49/EC for flupyrsulfuron-methyl) for the purpose of disapplying regulation 13(5)(a)(i) of the 1995 Regulations. These arrangements provide that provisional approvals granted under the 1995 Regulations are not revoked following the inclusion of these active substances in Annex I to the Directive.

These Regulations revoke the Plant Protection Products (Amendment) Regulations 2002, S.I. 2002/526.

No Regulatory Impact Assessment has been produced for these Regulations.
