Keith Hill
Minister of State,
Office of the Deputy Prime Minister

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order, which applies in England only, amends the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995 (“the 1995 Order”). The main changes are—

(1) The introduction of a requirement to consult, in England, the Regional Development Agency before the grant of planning permission for certain categories of development (article 3).

(2) The introduction of an additional exception to the requirement to consult before the grant of planning permission, for development which is not EIA development where a local planning authority considers that the development proposed is subject to any up to date standing advice issued by the relevant consultee in respect of a category of development. (article 4).

(3) The introduction of a requirement for the local planning authority to provide a summary of the reasons for a grant of planning permission and a summary of the policies and proposals in the development plan which are relevant to the decision. (article 5).

(4) An amendment altering the time limit for appeals from six to three months. (article 6).

(5) There are other minor changes and transitional provisions.

A Regulatory Impact Appraisal has been prepared in relation to the Order. It has been placed in the Library of each House of Parliament and copies may be obtained from PD3B, Office of the Deputy Prime Minister, Eland House, Bressenden Place, London SW1E 5DU (Telephone 020-944-3945).
