14A.—(1) For the purposes of paragraphs (2)(a), (3)(a) and (4)(a) of regulation 14, the rights of members must be valued daily, weekly or monthly, but the frequency with which the rights of established members are valued may be different from that with which the rights of new members are valued.

(2) For the purposes of paragraphs (2)(b), (3)(b) and (4)(b) of regulation 14, the funds of the scheme must be valued daily.

must be specified in writing by the trustees or manager of the scheme; and the specification may not be amended during the period of 12 months after the date on which it is made.

(4) When calculating the value of a member’s rights for the purposes of paragraphs (2)(a), (3)(a) or (4)(a) of regulation 14, where it has been specified under paragraph (3) above that such rights are to be valued weekly or monthly—

- (a) where the rights are to be valued weekly, they are to be valued on such day of the week (“the specified day”) as has been so specified by the trustees or manager (except that, where that day is not a working day, the rights are to be valued on the next working day), and the value of the rights on each subsequent day prior to the next specified day is to be taken to be the value of the rights on the previous specified day, and
- (b) where the rights are to be valued monthly, they are to be valued on such date in each month (“the specified date”) as has been so specified by the trustees or manager (except that, where that date is not a working day, the rights are to be valued on the next working day), and the value of the rights on each subsequent day prior to the next specified date is to be taken to be the value of the rights on the previous specified date.

Charges etc.—permitted reductions in funds

- (a) not attributable to the rights of a member under the scheme, or
- (b) attributable to such rights but the subject of an election by the trustees or manager to recover charges or expenses by way of a reduction of the value of the fund rather than by way of a reduction of the value of the member’s rights, by the amount of those charges or expenses.

(2) Where the value of a fund is reduced by reference to an amount referred to in paragraph (1), then, for the purposes of calculating any reduction in the member’s rights under paragraph (2), (3) or (4) of regulation 14, the value of those rights is to be calculated after the deduction of that amount.

Rounding of fractional amounts

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations amend the Stakeholder Pension Schemes Regulations 2000 (S.I.2000/1403) (“the Principal Regulations”).

The principal change is the insertion, by regulation 5, of provisions for the rights of a member of a stakeholder pension scheme who has made no choice as to how his contributions should be invested to be subject to “lifestyling”, from at least five years before his retirement date. “Lifestyling” is defined in new regulation 10A(5) of the Principal Regulations as a process aimed at reducing the potential for variations in the value of a member’s rights caused by market conditions. New regulation 10B excludes the obligation to provide for lifestyling in the case of a scheme which is closed to new members, and new regulation 10E allows individual members to opt out of the lifestyling process before it has begun. Lifestyling is to be provided automatically in the case of eligible members joining a scheme after these Regulations come into force, but only on request (following a notification procedure provided for in new regulation 10D) in the case of existing members.

Other changes to the Principal Regulations are largely technical. Regulation 2 amends the definition of “securities”, a term used in regulation 12 of the Principal Regulations, so as to include shares in an investment trust; it also amends the definition of the “dilution levy” by reference to the FSA Handbook. The provision in regulation 1(4) of the Principal Regulations for references to notice in writing to be taken to include notice sent to a member of a scheme electronically is replaced by a provision for all of the communications to members provided for in the Regulations to be sent electronically.

Regulation 3 amends regulation 6 of the Principal Regulations, which provides for the trustees or manager of a scheme which is in the course of winding up to transfer the rights of members to another scheme. The effect of the amendments is that a member who withdraws an application for a transfer to a scheme of his choice must be given a month’s notice before the trustees or manager of the scheme may transfer his rights to a scheme of their choice.

Regulation 4 amends provisions in regulation 8 of the Principal Regulations which prohibit the trustees or manager of a scheme from holding units or shares in a collective investment scheme or an insurance-linked fund which are not “single-priced”. The amendment is intended to make it clear that this prohibition only applies in relation to investments held directly by the trustees or manager; not to investments held by the collective investment scheme or fund.

Regulations 6 and 7 concern the deductions that the trustees or manager of a scheme may make to sums attributable to the rights of members. Regulation 13(2) of the Principal Regulations, which provides for deductions to be made in order to comply with orders made in matrimonial proceedings, is extended to cover compliance with court orders generally. Regulation 14 of the Principal Regulations is replaced by new regulations 14 – 14C, which incorporate a number of changes. The cap on charges deducted from the value of a member’s rights is raised, in respect of the first 10 years of membership for individuals joining a scheme after 6th April 2005, from 1% to 1.5% per year; the cap is also expressly applied in relation to indirect as well as direct management costs. The range of permitted deductions is extended to include costs incurred in complying with a court order, indirect as well as direct dealing costs, charges connected with property holdings and market value adjustments. New regulation 14B gives the trustees or manager of a scheme the option of deducting dealing costs and charges connected with property holdings from the value of funds held for the purposes of the scheme rather than the value of members’ rights.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

Regulation 8 amends provisions in regulation 15 of the Principal Regulations under which the trustees or manager of a scheme invested in a with-profits fund must obtain actuarial certificates from the insurer maintaining the fund. The effect of the amendments is that certificates relating to the insurer's supervisory systems and controls and certificates needed in order to allow the trustees or manager to make declarations about systems and controls relating to the scheme may be given by the same person. The amendments are made to take account of changes to rules of the Financial Services Authority concerning actuarial functions.

An assessment of the impact of these Regulations on business, charities and the voluntary sector has been made. Copies of this Regulatory Impact Assessment have been placed in the libraries of both Houses of Parliament. Additional copies can be obtained from the Department for Work and Pensions, Regulatory Impact Unit, Adelphi, 1-11 John Adam Street, London WC2N 6HT.
