DEFENCE

The Youth Justice and Criminal Evidence Act 1999 (Application to Courts-Martial) Order 2006

Made	- - - -	30th October 2006
Laid before Parliament		6th November 2006
Coming into force	- -	6th December 2006

The Secretary of State, in exercise of the powers conferred upon him by section 61(1) and (2) of the Youth Justice and Criminal Evidence Act 1999(a), makes the following Order:

Citation, commencement and interpretation

1.—(1) This Order may be cited as the Youth Justice and Criminal Evidence Act 1999 (Application to Courts-Martial) Order 2006 and shall come into force on 6th December 2006.

(2) In this Order—

“the Act” means the Youth Justice and Criminal Evidence Act 1999;

“continuing proceedings” means proceedings instituted before the date on which this Order comes into force;

“existing special measures power” means any existing power of the judge advocate to make an order or give leave for the taking of measures in relation to a witness which are similar to those which could be provided for by a special measures direction;

“judge advocate” has the same meaning as in section 84B of the Army Act 1955(b);

“special measures direction” means a direction under section 19 of the Act.

(3) For the purposes of this Order, proceedings before a court-martial are to be taken to be instituted when the prosecuting authority referred to in subsection (4) of section 83B of the Army Act 1955(c), section 83B of the Air Force Act 1955(d) or section 52I of the Naval Discipline Act 1957(e) (as the case may be) prefers a charge under that subsection.

Application of the Act

2.—(1) The provisions of the Act which are specified in column 1 of Schedule 1 to this Order shall apply to the proceedings to which this Order applies, subject to the modifications specified in column 2 of that Schedule.

(a) 1999 c. 23.

(b) 1955 c. 18. Section 84B was inserted by the Armed Forces Act 1996 (c. 46).

(c) 1955 c. 18. Section 83B was inserted by the Armed Forces Act 1996 (c. 46).

(d) 1955 c. 19. Section 83B was inserted by the Armed Forces Act 1996 (c. 46).

(e) 1957 c. 53. Section 52I was inserted by the Armed Forces Act 1996 (c. 46).

(2) The provisions of the Act which are specified in column 1 of Schedule 2 to this Order (in so far as they are in force) shall have effect for the purpose of proceedings to which this Order applies subject to the modifications specified in column 2 of that Schedule.

(3) This Order applies to any proceedings before a court-martial constituted under the Army Act 1955, the Air Force Act 1955 or the Naval Discipline Act 1957.

Transitional provisions

3.—(1) A special measures direction may be given in relation to a witness in continuing proceedings unless the judge advocate has before the date this Order comes into force—

- (a) given leave in relation to the witness in connection with those proceedings under section 32 (evidence through television links) or section 32A (video recordings of testimony of child witnesses) of the Criminal Justice Act 1988(a); or
- (b) exercised any existing special measures power in relation to the witness in connection with those proceedings.

(2) Nothing in—

- (a) Chapter 2,
- (b) Chapter 3, and
- (c) Chapter 5,

of Part 2 of the Act applies in relation to continuing proceedings.

30th October 2006

Derek Twigg
Parliamentary Under Secretary of State
Ministry of Defence

(a) 1988 c. 33. Sections 32(1) to (3), 32A and 34A applied to proceedings before service courts by virtue of the Criminal Justice Act 1988 (Application to Service Courts) (Evidence) Order 1996 (S.I. 1996/2592) subject to the modifications specified in that Order. That Order has now been revoked by the Criminal Justice Act 1988 (Application to Service Courts) (Evidence) Order 2006 (S.I. 2006/2890) with a saving for section 32(1)(a) and (3) which continues to have effect in relation to proceedings before service courts subject to the modifications specified in that Order.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order applies, with modifications, Chapters 1 to 3 and 5 of Part 2 of the Youth Justice and Criminal Evidence Act 1999 (c. 23) (“the Act”) to courts-martial. These Chapters contain a range of measures designed to help young, disabled, vulnerable or intimidated witnesses give evidence in criminal proceedings. The Order also contains modifications to certain provisions of Chapter 4 dealing with reporting restrictions.

The Order applies to all courts-martial, whether convened under the Army Act 1955 (c. 18), the Air Force Act 1955 (c. 19) or the Naval Discipline Act 1957 (c. 53). Article 3 contains transitional provisions in respect of proceedings commenced prior to the date this Order comes into force.

Schedule 1 to the Order applies to courts-martial, with modifications, the provisions of Chapter 1. This Chapter sets out which witnesses are eligible for assistance and the special measures available to assist them (including the use of screens, live television links and video-recorded evidence). The modifications provide that the judge advocate shall have the power to make special measures directions.

Schedule 1 also applies, with modifications, the provisions of Chapter 2, which provide protection for vulnerable witnesses from cross-examination by an accused in person, and the provisions of Chapter 3, which provide further protection to complainants in proceedings for sexual offences by restricting evidence or questioning about the complainant’s sexual history.

Schedule 1 also applies, with modifications, the provisions of Chapter 5, which deal with competence of witnesses and capacity to be sworn.

Schedule 2 of the Order contains modifications to certain provisions of Chapter 4 made under section 61(2) of the Act. Chapter 4 already has effect for the purposes of proceedings before a service court (in so far as it has been brought into force) and contains provisions allowing a court to impose reporting restrictions in certain proceedings involving vulnerable persons. The modifications in Schedule 2 provide that, in the case of a court-martial, it is the judge advocate who has the power to give, or revoke, a reporting direction. As at the date of this Order, sections 44 and 45 in Chapter 4 have not yet been commenced but Schedule 2 contains modifications to section 45 which will take effect automatically in relation to proceedings before courts-martial when section 45 is commenced under section 68(3) of the Act. This Order does not operate to commence sections 44 or 45.
