

Trial and sentence in a magistrates' court

Provision of documents for the court

37.12.—(1) This rule applies where a party—

- (a) introduces in evidence any document; or
- (b) relies on any other document in the presentation of that party's case.

(2) Unless the court otherwise directs, that party must supply sufficient copies of such a document for—

- (a) each other party;
- (b) the court; and
- (c) the justices' legal adviser.
