Where the individual owns an interest in a resource of a capital nature jointly or in common with any other person (other than the individual's partner), the assessing authority shall treat that resource as being owned in equal shares or, where there is evidence that the resource is not so owned, in such proportion as appears to it to be equitable in the light of that evidence.

Duty to report change in financial circumstances

27.—(1) An individual who has been granted a representation order in proceedings to which this Part applies must immediately inform the assessing authority of any change in financial circumstances of which the individual is aware, which has occurred since the application for a representation order and which might affect the individual's liability to a contribution order or the amount of such an order.

the assessing authority must re-calculate the income or capital, as the case may be, and, if the individual becomes liable or is no longer liable to make payments under a contribution order or is liable to make increased or reduced payment, must make, revoke or vary the order as the case may be.

(2) Where the assessing authority—

- (a) revokes a contribution order and the individual has already made a payment under the order, or
- (b) varies a contribution order so as to require a lower payment, and the individual has already made a payment above the amount as varied,
