(1) 2010 c. 8.

(2) S.I. 2009/3001, amended by S.I. 2011/1211; there are other amending instruments but none is relevant.

Application for entry into reporting fund regime

3. In regulation 53 (contents of application), in paragraph (1)(3)—
- (a) in sub-paragraphs (k)(i) and (l)(ii), for “reported income” substitute “reportable income” in each place,
  - (b) in sub-paragraph (k)(i), for “regulation 92A” substitute “regulation 72A”,

  - (d) in sub-paragraph (k)(ii), for “regulation 92C” substitute “regulation 72C”, and

Adjustments to reportable income

5. In regulation 63 (computation of reportable income: general), in paragraph (2) for sub-paragraph (c) substitute—
- “(c) any arrangements to adjust income based on the number of units in issue (see regulations 72 to 72B).”.
6. In Chapter 5 of Part 3, after regulation 72 insert—

“Adjustments where funds do not operate equalisation arrangements

Reporting Funds not operating equalisation: income adjustments based on reportable income for computation periods

72A.—(1) This regulation applies if a reporting fund does not operate equalisation arrangements and—

- (a) the fund has given a statement under regulation 53(1)(k) that it intends to make income adjustments in a reporting period on the basis of reportable income, or
- (b) regulation 72B(7) applies.

(2) The reportable income of the fund for a reporting period is the sum of the reportable income per unit for all the computation periods in the reporting period multiplied by the number of units in the fund in issue at the end of the reporting period.

(3) But if the sum results in a negative amount, the reportable income for that period is nil.

(4) Where a period of account consists of two reporting periods, the reportable income for the period of account is the sum of the reportable income for both those reporting periods.

(5) The reportable income per unit for a computation period is calculated by dividing the reportable income of the fund for the computation period by the average number of units in the fund in issue during the computation period.

(3) Regulation 53(1) was amended by S.I. 2011/1211.

(4) Paragraph (3A) of regulation 55 was inserted by S.I. 2011/1211.

(6) For the purposes of paragraph (5), the reportable income of the fund for a computation period means the reportable income of the fund for that period computed in accordance with this Chapter (ignoring regulation 63(5) and this regulation) and Chapter 6 of this Part.

(7) In the computation referred to in paragraph (6), this Chapter and Chapter 6 of this Part apply as if references to a period of account of the fund were references to a computation period.

Reporting Funds not operating equalisation: income adjustments based on accounting income for computation periods

72B.—(1) This regulation applies if a reporting fund does not operate equalisation arrangements and the fund has given a statement under regulation 53(1)(k) that it intends to make income adjustments in a reporting period on the basis of accounting income.

(2) The reportable income of the fund for a reporting period is calculated as follows—

$$(AIU \times RI / AI) \times U$$

where—

AIU is the sum of the accounting income per unit for all the computation periods in the reporting period,

RI is the reportable income of the fund for the reporting period computed in accordance with this Chapter (ignoring this regulation), Chapter 6 of this Part and regulation 93,

AI is the sum of accounting income for all the computation periods in the reporting period, and

U is the number of units in the fund in issue at the end of the reporting period.

This is subject to paragraphs (6) and (7).

(3) Where a period of account consists of two reporting periods, the reportable income for the period of account is the sum of the reportable income for both those reporting periods.

(4) But if the sum results in a negative amount, the reportable income for that period is nil.

(5) The accounting income per unit for a computation period is calculated by dividing accounting income for the computation period by the average number of units in the fund in issue during the computation period.

(6) Where RI is zero the reportable income per unit of the fund for a reporting period is zero.

(7) Where the difference in the amount of reportable income per unit for any reporting period in a period of account calculated using this method and the amount of reportable income per unit for that reporting period calculated on the basis of reportable income is or is likely to be more than 10% of the latter of those amounts—

(a) the fund must make income adjustments in that and future periods of account on the basis of reportable income, and

(b) the manager must give notice to HMRC of the change in the method of income adjustment with the information provided to HMRC in relation to that period under regulation 106 (reporting requirements).

(8) In this Part “accounting income” means an amount proportionally related to the reportable income of the fund determined from the interim or management accounts of the fund, but this amount must not be less than zero.

Supplementary provisions: average number of units and computation period

72C.—(1) For the purposes of regulations 72A(5) and 72B(5), the average number of units in the fund in issue during the computation period is the sum of the units in the fund in issue during the period after each unit has been multiplied by the fraction of the period for which it is held.

(2) In this Part a “computation period” means a period determined by a fund in accordance with the following rules.

Rule 1

A new computation period must start—

- (a) at the beginning of a reporting period, and
- (b) immediately after the end of a previous computation period.

8. Omit regulations 92A, 92B and 92C(5).

Equalisation amounts not treated as distributions

Option 1

Under this option—

- (a) the amount of any actual distributions to the participant in respect of the reporting period is reduced by the equalisation amount, and

- (b) the amount of any excess treated as additional distributions made to the participant is reduced by the amount, if any, by which the equalisation amount exceeds the amount of any actual distributions to the participant in respect of the reporting period.

Option 2

Under this option—

- (a) the amount of any excess treated as additional distributions made to the participant is reduced by the equalisation amount, and
- (b) the amount of any actual distributions to the participant in respect of the reporting period is reduced by the amount, if any, by which the equalisation amount exceeds the excess.”.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations amend the Offshore Funds (Tax) Regulations 2009 (S.I. 2009/3001, “the principal Regulations”) which make provision for the tax treatment of participants in offshore funds and make other miscellaneous amendments.

Regulation 1 deals with citation, commencement and effect. Provision is made to allow a manager of an offshore fund to elect that the amendments made by regulations 3 to 8 and 12 should not apply in relation to a reporting period of the fund which has ended before the Regulations come into force.

Regulation 2 introduces the amendments to the principal Regulations.

Regulations 3 to 5 make consequential amendments.

Regulation 6 inserts regulations 72A, 72B and 72C which provide how the reportable income of a fund for a reporting period is to be calculated in the case of funds which do not operate equalisation arrangements.

Regulation 7 amends regulation 92 in relation to the information to be provided in the report to participants in respect of the amount of any excess treated as additional distributions made to participants in the fund and makes provision as to how those amounts to be reported are to be determined.

Regulation 8 makes consequential amendments omitting regulations 92A, 92B and 92C. Equivalent provision is now made in regulations 72A, 72B and 72C.

Regulation 9 amends regulation 94A to reverse the order in which equalisation amounts reduce actual distributions and amounts treated as additional distributions.

Regulation 10 makes a consequential amendment to regulation 99.

Regulation 11 makes a minor amendment for clarification to regulation 106 (reporting requirements).

Regulation 12 makes a consequential amendment to the index of defined expressions.

Regulations 13 to 15 make miscellaneous minor amendments relating to offshore funds. Regulations 13 and 14 update the reference to “material interest” to “an interest” which is now the appropriate term and up-date cross-references to other statutory provisions. Regulation 15 makes a minor amendment for clarification to the Offshore Funds (Tax) (Amendment) Regulations 2011 (S.I. 2001/1211).

A Tax Information and Impact Note covering this instrument was published on 20 March 2013 alongside Budget 2013 and can be found on the HMRC website at <http://www.hmrc.gov.uk/budget2013/tiins.htm#2>. It remains an accurate summary of the impacts that apply to this instrument.
