6.2 Under Article 11(1) of the Act, the then Council of the European Communities determined the electoral period for the first elections. Article 11(2) of the Act requires all future elections to be held in the corresponding period starting on a Thursday and ending on a Sunday in the last year of a five-year European Parliament session; this is subject to the election period being moved by the Council of the European Union (“the Council”) acting unanimously.

- 6.5 Section 4 of the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 states that the poll at each general election of members of the European Parliament is to be held on a day appointed by order of the Secretary of State. ## 7. Policy background

What is being done and why?

- 7.1 European Parliamentary elections are held every five years. European Parliamentary elections take place over a four-day period, from Thursday to Sunday, to accommodate electoral practice across the European Union. This flexible approach across Europe allows the UK to vote on a Thursday in line with usual practice at UK statutory elections, whilst other countries vote on other days, albeit in the same poll.
- 7.2 In May 2018, the Council, after consulting the European Parliament, decided in Council Decision (EU, Euratom) 2018/767 that the next European Parliamentary elections would take place from 23rd to 26th May 2019.
- 7.3 In line with the United Kingdom's obligations under EU law, this Order appoints 23rd May 2019 as the day of the poll for the next European Parliamentary elections in the UK and Gibraltar.
- 7.4 It remains the Government's intention to leave the EU with a deal and pass the necessary legislation before 22nd May, so that we do not need to participate in European Parliamentary elections.
- 7.5 This Order appoints the date of the European Parliamentary elections, but it does not make these elections inevitable as leaving the EU before the date of election automatically removes our obligation to take part.

8. European Union (Withdrawal) Act/Withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union

- 8.1 This instrument does not relate to withdrawal from the European Union / trigger the statement requirements under the European Union (Withdrawal) Act.

9. Consolidation

- 9.1 No consolidation is required.

- 11.1 The Electoral Commission will continue to issue guidance relating to the administration and conduct of elections.

12. Impact

- 12.2 There is no, or no significant, impact on the public sector.
- 12.3 An Impact Assessment has not been prepared for this instrument because there is no impact on business.

13. Regulating small business

- 13.1 The legislation does not apply to activities that are undertaken by small businesses.

14. Monitoring & review

- 14.1 The Electoral Commission will produce reports on the administration and conduct of elections, and the Cabinet Office will consider any findings or recommendations made by the Electoral Commission.
