6. Legislative Context

- 6.1 The LASPO Act 2012 permits the Secretary of State, by regulations, to make provisions about the recovery of the costs of a child being remanded to youth detention accommodation and associated transport costs from a local authority that has been designated by the court. The Recovery of Costs (Remand to Youth Detention Accommodation) Regulations 2013 (as amended) provide for cost recovery to be undertaken by the Secretary of State.

- 6.2 This instrument sets the amount local authorities are charged where a child is detained on remand to a YOI, STC or SCH on or after 1 April 2020. This price is being changed to reflect the changes in the amount these services cost.

7. Policy background

What is being done and why?

- 7.1 A 32 per cent decline in the youth custody population occurred between 2008/9 and 2011/12. A similar decline did not, however, occur in the level of children being remanded securely. Furthermore 60 per cent of children remanded securely in 2011/12 were acquitted or did not go on to receive a custodial sentence. As a result of this disparity, it was determined that a better approach to secure remand for children was needed.
- 7.2 From 1 April 2013 local authorities were given greater financial responsibility for the secure remand of children. Section 103(2) of the LASPO Act 2012 allows the Secretary of State to make provision for recovery of the costs from local authorities for all 12 to 17-year olds remanded to youth detention accommodation. The Recovery of Costs (Remand to Youth Detention Accommodation) Regulations 2013 came into force on 1 April 2013 and makes provision for such cost recovery. Youth detention accommodation comprises of YOIs, STCs and SCHs.
- 7.3 To coincide with the beginning of the new financial year on 1 April 2020 we are updating the applicable amount in respect of YOIs, STCs and SCHs to reflect changes in the cost to remand children at these establishments.
- 7.4 The new sector price for children on remand in a SCH is £762 as at 1 April 2020. This is an increase of £62 per place per night from £699 as at 1 April 2019. The change is driven by a steady increase in unit costs across all SCHs.
- 7.5 The new sector price for children on remand in a STC is £453 as at 1 April 2020. This is a decrease of £159 per place per night from £612 as at 1 April 2019. The change is driven by bed closures at Medway.
- 7.6 The new sector price (excluding education and additional charges) for children on remand in an under-18 YOI is £321 as at 1 April 2020. This is an increase of £82 per place per night from £240 as at 1 April 2019. The change is driven by an increase in average bed night costs for the four public sector YOIs (most notably Feltham, which has seen a large reduction in capacity) and a slight decrease in the bed night cost for Parc.

8. European Union (Withdrawal) Act/Withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union

- 8.1 This instrument does not relate to withdrawal from the European Union / trigger the statement requirements under the European Union (Withdrawal) Act.

9. Consolidation

- 9.1 No consolidation of the relevant legislation is planned.

10. Consultation outcome

- 10.1 The Ministry of Justice and the Youth Justice Board for England and Wales consulted publicly on proposals to alter level of costs recovered from local authorities from April 2013 onwards. An eight-week consultation was undertaken through the paper “The new remand framework for children: allocation of new burdens funding to local authorities”. The consultation closed on 16 November 2012. 107 responses were received from a range of stakeholders, including youth offending teams and local authorities. The Ministry of Justice and Youth Justice Board’s response to the consultation was published on 25 February 2013. Both the consultation paper and the response are available via the following link: <https://consult.justice.gov.uk/digital-communications/remand-funding/>.

- 10.2 The vast majority of respondents to the consultation paper felt that using per bed per night applicable amounts was a fair and reasonable way to recover costs and would help with financial planning. Respondents asked for transparency in the calculation of costs and a clear indication of the circumstances in which costs can and will be recovered. As with previous statutory instruments, this instrument implements the same methodology outlined in the consultation paper in relation to determining the applicable amounts for STCs, SCHs and YOIs.¹ As the same methodology is being used to update the relevant figures, the consultation process remains relevant.
