Communication during the operator's spaceflight activities

96.—(1) During an operator's spaceflight activities, the spaceflight operator must, where necessary, ensure that there is a reliable means of communication for sharing information between the mission management facility or ground control at the spaceport or other place and—

- (a) the range control service provider,
- (b) any site or other place used in connection with range control services,
- (c) the spaceport licensee,
- (d) relevant meteorological service providers,
- (e) relevant air navigation service providers, and
- (f) relevant emergency services.

(2) During an operator's spaceflight activities, the spaceflight operator must, where necessary, provide a reliable means of communication for sharing information between the launch vehicle, carrier aircraft and any other aircraft taking part in the operator's spaceflight activities and the mission management facility or ground control at the spaceport or other place.
