The Parliamentary Constituencies Order 2023

Made - - - - 15th November 2023

Coming into force - - 29th November 2023

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 15th day of November 2023

Present,

The King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council

In accordance with sections 4(1) and (4B) and 4A(6) of the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 (“the Act”)(1), the Secretary of State has submitted to His Majesty in Council a draft of this Order which gives effect to—

- (a) the recommendations of each Boundary Commission, contained in the four reports(2) submitted in accordance with section 3(1) of the Act(3) and laid before Parliament by the Speaker of the House of Commons in accordance with section 3(2ZB) of the Act(4), as to the constituencies into which each part of the United Kingdom should be divided in order to give effect to the rules set out in Schedule 2 to the Act(5), and
- (b) a statement of modifications dated 4th September 2023(6), submitted by the Boundary Commission for Scotland in accordance with section 4A(2) and laid before Parliament by the Speaker of the House of Commons in accordance with section 4A(4) of the Act, modifying the recommendations in that Boundary Commission’s report.

- (1) 1986 c. 56. Section 4 was amended by paragraph 17 of the Schedule to the Fixed-term Parliaments Act 2011 (c. 14), by section 2 of the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 2020 (c. 25) and by S.I. 2021/1265. ## EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order gives effect to—

- the report of the Boundary Commission for England published 28th June 2023, which contains the Commission’s recommendations for parliamentary constituencies in England,
- the report of the Boundary Commission for Northern Ireland published 28th June 2023, which contains the Commission’s recommendations for parliamentary constituencies in Northern Ireland,
- the report of the Boundary Commission for Scotland published 28th June 2023 and the statement of modifications dated 4th September 2023 and published 14th September 2023, which contains the Commission’s recommendations for parliamentary constituencies in Scotland, and
- the report of the Boundary Commission for Wales published 28th June 2023, which contains the Commission’s recommendations for parliamentary constituencies in Wales.

The recommendations in each report were created following a review by the relevant Boundary Commission of the representation of their respective part of the United Kingdom in the House of Commons.

Articles 2 to 5 of, and Schedules 1 to 4 to, this Order set out and describe the constituencies into which England, Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales respectively are divided.

Article 6 requires each electoral registration officer to re-arrange or adapt the registers of parliamentary electors as necessary to give effect to this Order.

Article 7 amends the Parliamentary Constituencies and Assembly Electoral Regions (Wales) Order 2006 (S.I. 2006/1041) to remove references to parliamentary constituencies from that Order which are redundant as a result of this Order. Article 8 contains consequential revocations.

By virtue of section 4(6) of the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 (c. 50), the coming into force of this Order does not affect any parliamentary election until a proclamation is issued by His Majesty summoning a new Parliament or affect the constitution of the House of Commons until the dissolution of the Parliament then in being.

A full impact assessment has not been produced for this instrument as no, or no significant, impact on the private, voluntary or public sector is foreseen.

Changes to legislation:

There are outstanding changes not yet made by the legislation.gov.uk editorial team to The Parliamentary Constituencies Order 2023. Any changes that have already been made by the team appear in the content and are referenced with annotations.
