The Central Counterparties (Transitional Provision) (Extension and Amendment) Regulations 2023

Made	- - - -	13th September 2023
Laid before Parliament		14th September 2023
Coming into force	- -	1st November 2023

The Treasury make these Regulations in exercise of the powers conferred by Article 497(3) of Regulation (EU) 575/2013 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 26 June 2013 on prudential requirements for credit institutions and investment firms and amending Regulation No 648/2012(a) (the “Capital Requirements Regulation”), and by regulation 18(2) of the Central Counterparties (Amendment, etc., and Transitional Provisions) (EU Exit) Regulations 2018(b) (the “CCP Regulations”).

The Treasury are satisfied that it is necessary and proportionate to extend the transitional provisions in paragraph 1 of Article 497 of the Capital Requirements Regulation in order to avoid disruption to international financial markets, and that it is necessary and proportionate to extend the temporary recognition period in regulation 18(1) of the CCP Regulations in order to avoid disruption to the financial stability of the United Kingdom.

Citation, commencement and extent

1.—(1) These Regulations may be cited as the Central Counterparties (Transitional Provision) (Extension and Amendment) Regulations 2023.

(2) These Regulations come into force on 1st November 2023.

(3) These Regulations extend to England and Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland.

Extension of the transitional period for third-country central counterparties under Article 497 of Regulation (EU) 575/2013 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 26 June 2013 on prudential requirements for credit institutions and investment firms and amending Regulation No. 648/2012

2. In Article 497 (own funds requirements for exposures to CCPs) of Regulation (EU) 575/2013(c), the transitional period referred to in paragraph 1(b)(ii)(d) is extended by 12 months so that it ends four years after the date of the submission of the application.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations extend transitional provisions provided for in Regulation (EU) 575/2013 of the European Parliament and of the Council on prudential requirements for credit institutions and amending Regulation (EU) No 648/2012 (the “Capital Requirements Regulation”) and the Central Counterparties (Amendment, etc., and Transitional Provision) (EU Exit) Regulations 2018 (the “CCP Regulations”) as extended by the Central Counterparties (Transitional Provision) (Extension and Amendment) Regulations 2022.

These Regulations extend the transitional provisions in relation to central counterparties which are established outside of the United Kingdom.

Regulation 2 provides that the transitional period provided for in Article 497(1)(b)(ii) of the Capital Requirements Regulation is extended by 12 months. Article 497(1)(b)(ii) sets out this transitional period for overseas central counterparties which have applied to be recognised by the Bank of England after 27 June 2019.

Regulation 3 amends regulation 18(1) of the CCP Regulations, which provides the temporary recognition period for overseas central counterparties within the temporary recognition regime established by those Regulations. It extends this temporary recognition period by 12 months.
