7. Policy background

What is being done and why?

- 7.1 The 2023 Act, among other things, reforms the role and powers of the Registrar of companies by making changes to the Companies Act 2006. These changes include giving the Registrar new powers to enable her to query, remove or change information on the UK company register.
- 7.2 This instrument will ensure company law applies coherently, by making amendments to other primary and secondary legislation, and ensuring the law operates effectively for all registrable business entities.

8. European Union Withdrawal and Future Relationship

- 8.1 This instrument does not relate to withdrawal from the European Union or trigger the statement requirements under the European Union (Withdrawal) Act.

9. Consolidation

- 9.1 This instrument introduced consequential, supplementary and incidental provisions resulting from commencement of some provisions of the 2023 Act to two Acts and eight statutory instruments listed in paragraph 6.3 above.
- 9.2 The Department will revisit the need for consolidation of some of these instruments once further amendments to these instruments have been made via further instruments resulting from the 2023 Act's reforms.

10. Consultation outcome

- 10.1 In 2019, the Government consulted on a range of options to enhance the role of Companies House and increase the transparency of companies and other legal entities, including Limited Liability Partnerships. The consultation received 1,320 responses, and respondents broadly supported the proposals. A copy of the consultation and Government response can be found here: <https://www.gov.uk/government/consultations/corporate-transparency-and-register-reform>.
- 10.2 The initial consultation was followed by three further consultations. These focused on the powers of the Registrar; improving the quality and value of financial information on the UK companies register; and implementing the ban on corporate directors.

These three consultations opened in December 2020 and closed in February 2021. Respondents were broadly supportive of all the measures proposed.

- 10.3 A copy of the latter three consultations, a summary of the responses and the Government's position on reforming Companies House as a whole can be found in the Corporate Transparency and Register Reform White Paper:
